An Excellent Combination

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinal laxative, and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

BAND EXCURSION.

Delightful Trip to Washington.

The crowd that went with the Osceola Band on their excursion to Washington, Wednesday, on Steamer Myers was not so large as the enterprise merited, still it was large enough to enable the boys to meet all expenses and have something left to add to the band fund. Those who did go are loud in their praise of the management and the pleasure the trip afforded. Of course Capt. W. A. Parvin did his part in contributing to this pleasure, for he always looks after those who travel with him.

The steamer reached Washington a little before one o'clock, in time for the band to make music for the parade and to lead the column out to the cemetery.

The Memorial Day exercises proper took place in the opera house where an appropriate programme of music and recitations was carried out. The address was delivered by Hon. J. A. Bryan, of New Bern. After these exercises the march was taken up to the cemetery, a mile distant, where the graves of Confederate soldiers were decorated. The order of the parade was Osceola Band, Washington Light Infantry, Trinity School Cadets, Uniform Ranks Knights of Pythias, Confederate veterans, citizens in carriages. Upon returning to town dinner was served to the veterans and band.

Toward the close of the afternoon the band gave an open air concert near the opera house. Hundreds of people gathered around to enjoy this, and it was a pleasure to hear many high compliments paid. The boys made music, too, notwithstanding they were not at their best because of the sickness of one of the principal members and others having lost their notes in the late fire being forced to play from memory, for which reason some of their best selections were not given. But what they did give was good enough, many people saying it was the finest they ever heard. The boys made a great reputation.

The steamer left Washington at 6 o'clock landing all safe in Greenville at 10. On the entire trip there was as perfect order as we ever saw on an excursion, nothing whatever occurring to mar the pleasure of any one.

Leader Old Forbes requests THE REFLECTOR to return the thanks of the boys to the people of Washington for courtesies shown them.

The Coming Attraction.

The Emma Warren Theatre Co., which is booked to appear here in the opera house for three nights, commencing Monday, May 15th is a very good company, composed of ten people. They open here with the thrilling 3 act comedy drama entitled "Married in Haste." Popular prices will prevail—15, 25 and 35. The Company is in Kingston this week. The Free Press says of the performance Monday night: "The Emma Warren company gave a delightful performance in the opera house last night. The play was "Married in Haste," and its rendition was thoroughly enjoyed by the entire audience. Every character was well taken. The living pictures, shown through transparent netting after the play were beautiful.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Opinions in Political Cases Handed Down.

The Supreme Court Tuesday rendered opinions in all five of the pending political cases.

The result of the decisions in these cases is that D. W. Patrick, the president, and the fusion directors of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, remain in control; that Edwards & Broughton continue to act as the public printers; that the new Directors of the Agricultural Department are as much directors as the old members of the board; that Wilson, the Republican, is reinstated clerk of the Western Criminal Court; that C. O. Cherry, Democrat, succeeds Rev. J. L. Burns as keeper of the capitol.

In the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad case all of the members of the court wrote opinions, save Justice Douglass. The opinion of the court was written by Chief Justice Faircloth. Then Justice Furches wrote a concurring opinion. Justices Clark and Montgomery wrote dissenting opinions.

Three of the justices wrote opinions in the Western Criminal Court clerkship case. Justice Furches wrote the opinion of the court, while Justice Douglass wrote a concurring opinion. A dissenting opinion was written by Justice Clark.

The court was unanimous in its decisions in the Burns-Cherry case, the public printing case and the Agricultural Board contest.

In the case of Cherry vs. Burns, the court held that the office of keeper of the capitol was not a Constitutional office, and that the legislature had a right to elect, thus upsetting the contention of counsel for Burns.

In the contest among the Directors of the Agricultural Department it was held that the office of director is not a Constitutional office, and that the legislature had the right to increase the membership of the board. The result of this decision is that the Democrats will take control of the Agricultural Department June 15th.

The court held in the public printing case that Barnes Bros. had no contract in writing, or in fact, and that the contract with Edwards & Broughton continues in effect.—Raleigh Post.

You'll Hear From This.

We know that Charleston's disappointment must be great over the fact that the U. S. cruiser Raleigh was unable to get up to the city without her striking bottom. Charleston might have borrowed enough water from Wilmington to get the ship into the harbor.—Wilmington Messenger.

The Raleigh last week crossed the bar at the mouth of the Cape Fear and entered the Southport harbor. This week in trying to enter the Charleston, S. C. harbor she ran aground and the Messenger wanted to loan Charleston some of the surplus water of the Cape Fear. The Messenger hits 'em hard.

BARGAINS THAT ARE BARGAINS.

Everything I have left will be closed out as rapidly as possible in order that I may begin the fall business with an entirely new stock.

FRANK WILSON,

The King Clothier.

TO MY FRIENDS.

I am not able to personally thank every one who helped move my goods during the fire on the night of the 4th, so I take this method of telling you all how much I appreciate the assistance rendered me.

My store is all torn up at present, but in a few days I will have everything straight and be open again, then I invite one and all to call on me.

JAMES B. WHITE.

NOTICE!

We wish to return sincere thanks to the people who so kindly rendered us assistance during the fire, Thursday night, by helping us remove and care for our goods.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FAILS.

This town has been greatly stirred up to-day by the news that Mrs. Charlotte M. Barguet, who died of dropsy yesterday at her home, 44 South Fifth avenue, was a victim of Christian Science. It is a fact, admitted by the family, that the woman had no medical attention, although she had been seriously ill for three months, and certain relatives, who have no faith in the Christian Science method of curing illnesses, have notified Coroner Banning of the matter and requested him to make an investigation. The coroner says he will make an investigation at once, and that if he finds it true that Mrs. Barguet was allowed to die without the calling in of a physician he will see that whoever is responsible for such a condition of affairs is punished.

The Barguet family, that is, Mr. and Mrs. Barguet, have been ardent Christian Scientists for many years. They have two sons who do not believe in Christian Science, and three months ago, when Mrs. Barguet was taken down with dropsy, these sons urged strongly that a doctor be called in. Mr. Barguet refused to call a doctor, and his wife declared emphatically that she would not see one if he was called in. Instead of a doctor Mr. Barguet called in a Mrs. Fowler, who is one of the leading Christian Scientists in this place. Mrs. Fowler prayed for the patient at frequent intervals for three months, but Mrs. Barguet sank gradually. The neighbors are particularly indignant because they believe that the woman might have been saved at almost any time during her illness if proper medical treatment had been applied.

Coroner Banning said some harsh things to Mr. Barguet yesterday, but Barguet was not in the least disturbed. If Christian Science could not save his wife nothing could, he said. He attributed the failure of this method of cure to the fact that there is a great deal of sin in his family and that the odds against Mrs. Fowler were too much for her. Could his family have been purged of all its sins, he said to the coroner, a cure would have been certain. The coroner was so indignant over the matter that before filing the death certificate with the bureau of vital statistics he wrote "dropsy" across the top of it as the cause of death and under that, as a contributing cause, "Christian Science neglect."

The Christian Scientists want to have Mrs. Barguet's body cremated at once, according to their custom, but the coroner insists upon holding an autopsy and an inquest. He says that if possible he will fix the responsibility for Mrs. Barguet's death on somebody. He has also stated that he is going to make an effort to break up the practice of Christian Science in this place and has asked the public to back him up in the fight.—Mount Vernon, N. Y., Dispatch.

The Revenue Law and the One-Horse Peddlers.

Besides depositing the voters of Goldsboro in the ballot boxes and electing the commissioner of labor tax collector for Bryson City, the General Assembly waxed it on to peddlers who insist on the use of "horse, mule or ox" in their business. The revenue law declares that there shall be imposed in each county on "each peddler on foot a tax of $5; on each peddler with horse, mule or ox, a tax of $15; on each peddler with one or more horses, mule or ox, a tax of $20." As the law makers failed to define the difference between a peddler with a "horse" and a peddler with "one horse," the Auditor, is troubled in mind whether to tax such peddlers $15 or $20. Apparently the one-horse peddler can take his choice.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Michigan Senate passed an income tax bill, which provides for a tax of one-fourth of 1 per cent, on all incomes of $1,000 and upwards. Originally the bill applied only to persons, but an amendment makes it apply to all corporations within the State. It is estimated that if the bill passes the House and receives the Governor's signature it will yield fully $1,000,000 annually.

Advertising Gives Impetus to Business.

Advertising gives an impetus to business. Wide awake firms do not fail to take advantage of this way to advertise their business. Printer's ink is the moving power in any community and if the business men will properly utilize it, it will return to them four fold. The best index of a town's prosperity is to see the columns of the local paper teeming with advertisements.—Winston Journal.

Laughs Better Than Tears.

I bless all the apostolic college of humorists. The man that makes me laugh is my benefactor. I do not thank anybody to make me cry. I can do that without any assistance. We all cry enough and have enough to cry about. God bless all skillful punsters, all reparteeists, all propounders of ingenious conundrums, all these who mirthfully surprise us with unusual juxtaposition of words. Thomas Hood and Charles Dickens and Sydney Smith had a divine mission, and so have their successors in these times. They stir into the acid beverage of life the saccharine. They make the cup of earthly existence, which is sometimes stale, effervesce and bubble. They placate animosities. They foster longevity. They slay follies and absurdities which all the sermons of all the pulpits cannot reach.—T. De Witt Talmage.

Welcome Punishment to Bobby.

A little boy went to church with his mother. The service was somewhat long and utterly incomprehensible to the child. Consequently he fidgeted. His mother reproved him several times. At last she leaned toward him. "Bobby," she whispered, "if you act badly I'll never bring you to church again." A gleam of hope dawned in Bobby's weary eyes. "Mamma," he said eagerly, "how bad will I have to be?"—Exchange.

Forest Reservations.

The 30 forest reservations of the United States embrace an area of 40,000,000 acres in 13 states and territories. Seven are in the state of California—the largest of which, the Sierra forest reserve, includes 4,000,000 acres. Within the past 35 years it is estimated that 11,000,000,000 feet, board measure, of timber on public land have been destroyed by forest fires.

The Kiss.

The olfactory kiss is Mongolian. The nutritive affair is European. The Mongolian kiss is with the nose. The European kiss is with the mouth. The Mongolian kiss indicates that the party sniffed would be an agreeable prey. The European variety indicates that the party embraced would make a delectable meal. They are but the different forms of the same instinct of preservation—the give and take of wild beasts.

TETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING.

A down town woman, who is known among her friends as a decidedly stylish person, but who is quite indifferent to her toilet when at home, had an experience a short time ago which gave her quite a shock at the time. She had given a dinner party one day at which a very distinguished Englishman, was entertained. The foreigner was quite captivated by the charming hospitality of his hostess, and when on his way to the station to leave the city the next day he stopped at the house to pay his respects. All the servants were out, and the mistress of the house was by no means dressed for company. She was expecting the arrival of a new gown at the time, and thinking that the ring was that of a messenger boy bringing it she went herself, in very slipshod attire, to the door.

To her horror, when she opened the door, she saw the face of the distinguished Englishman. To her joy, however, he asked if her mistress was in. This cue was all that was needed. Quick as a flash she replied, "No, sir; she's out riding." Without recognition the visitor left his card and went away with a decided opinion of the untidy appearance of Philadelphia servants.—Philadelphia Record.

A Waiter's Dilemma.

It was in one of the large down town restaurants that the short little woman and her tall husband went for dinner one night.

"Will you have oysters?" asked the man, glancing over the bill of fare.

"Yes," said the short little woman, as she tried in vain to touch her toes to the floor. "And, John, I want a hassock."

John nodded, and, as he handed his order to the waiter, he said, "Yes, and bring a hassock for the lady."

"One hassock?" asked the waiter, with what John thought more than ordinary interest, as he nodded in the affirmative. Still the waiter did not go, but brushed the tablecloth with a towel and rearranged the articles on it several times, while his face got very red. Then he came around to John's side, and, speaking sotto voce, said: "Say, mister, I haven't been here long, and I'm not on to all these things. Will the lady have the hassock broiled or fried?" —Chicago Chronicle.

Graveyards in China.

The wife of an American naval officer stationed at Tien-tsin writes thus to a friend in Baltimore: "The trip by train from the landing to Tien-tsin takes about an hour and a half. The cars are not palatial, but they are comfortable. When you land, hundreds of coolies besiege you for your baggage. You wonder how it ever reaches its destination in safety. The trip is somewhat interesting, but rather desolate to take alone. You pass through miles of graveyards. There are thousands of mounds without a sign of green grass or green leaf.

"China seems to be one vast graveyard, for they bury their dead anywhere they wish. They bury in large coffins placed on the surface of the ground, covered over with mud and earth. This is blown and washed away, and then the coffins are exposed to view. A few miles from the railroad station on the river you come to trees and vegetation. It reminds you of some of the poor land that some of our railroads at home go through."

Treatment by Surgery.

Recently a young man in New Jersey was treated successfully for tetanus by the injection of serum into the brain. That is not the method of treating lockjaw met in Missouri. Several years ago a citizen of Liberty, Mo., was suffering from tetanus. Local physicians failed to relieve him, and Dr. Wood of Kansas City, a gruff old gentleman, was called. Arriving at the home of the patient he found the room full of sympathizing neighbors. The physician proceeded toward the sick man and remarked, "Why in— don't you shut your mouth?" at the same time giving him a severe "chuck" under the chin. The effect of the blow closed the mouth to close, and Don't Keep Waiting.

Why not call the ward nominating conventions? They should be held next week and some days notice in advance be given. Under the new division of the town there are no executive committeemen for all the wards, so the chairman of the town committee might call the meetings for all the wards. At any rate make a start somehow and hold the conventions two weeks before the election.
