

WINE OF CARDUI

For Mothers!

The discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

THE LIAR ABROAD.

A Lynching Reported in this County.

Verily, the liar is again abroad in the land, and is getting off his fake stories on the unsuspecting.

It got all over the State Thursday, and perhaps further, that there had been a big lynching in Pitt county. No doubt the report was started by somebody who wanted to create a sensation. After supper telegrams began pouring in to THE REFLECTOR asking for particulars and for awhile the wires were kept busy letting the enquirers know there had been no lynching in this section.

True there has been crime enough in the county in the last few weeks to very much arouse the people to great excitement but they prefer to let the law take its course and not stain the name of the county with a lynching.

Grand Lodge Officers.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows in session at Raleigh this week elected the following officers for the next year:

Grand Master, John A. Stevens, of Clinton.

Deputy Grand Master, Marcus W. Jacobi, of Wilmington.

Grand Warden, Robt. W. Murray, of Greensboro.

Grand Secretary, B. H. Woodell, of Raleigh.

Grand Treasurer, Richard J. Jones, of Wilmington.

Grand Warden, Plato Collins, of Kinston.

Grand Conductor, Perrin Busbee, of Raleigh.

J. White and F. M. Hodges, of Greenville, were both appointed on important committees.

Make Her Hum.

You can make Greenville hum by talking for the town; using your best efforts for its enterprises; improving your property and lots; use paint and push; plant trees with taste; remove old fences and famished soil. These things help to beautify a town and impress the beholder, whether he be neighbor or stranger. Greenville is on the upward move. Let us keep her going. All can help to do this. Don't be a balky horse in the improvement team!

Hotels.

Mr. W. B. James will open a boarding house in the Leggett building, on Dickinson avenue, at present occupied by Mr. H. L. Coward, about the first of July. The building has fourteen rooms.

Mr. C. C. Vines, who was proprietor of the King House at the time of its destruction, has rented the house of Mrs. A. Hoell, on Third street and will soon open a hotel there. This building was used as a hotel years ago.

Died.

Died at half after twelve today, Walter Harahan, infant son of Walter H. and Alice D. Grimes. The funeral will be held at 5:30 tomorrow (Friday) afternoon from the residence of Mrs. William Grimes, Raleigh Times-Visitor, 11th.

The many friends in Greenville of Mr. and Mrs. Grimes learn with sorrow of this bereavement to them.

THE STAY-AT-HOME.

There's dress an' hood to buy fr' Jane,
A pair o' pants fr' John.
A whole outfit fr' Buster Bill.
An' winter comin' on.
But baby Nan, the stay-at-home,
Jis laughs, an' never knows
That all on earth she has to wear
Is ole made-over clothes.

There's books to buy fr' them at school—
It makes a pore man sick
To hear 'em holler "Joggafy"
An' "mental arithmetic."
But thank the Lord: the stay-at-home
Is mighty cheap to please:
Jis gits the family almanac
An' reads it on her knees.

An' writin'-books an' drawin'-books—
They never seem to think
How much it costs to buy s'ch truck,
An' pencils, pens, an' ink.
But little Nan, the stay-at-home,
She knows her daddy's pore:
Jis gits a charcoal pen an' writes
Her lesson on the floor.

There's boots to buy fr' Buster Bill,
An' boots to buy fr' John,
An' shoes fr' Jane an' ma an' I,
Till all my money's gone.
So Nan, the last, the stay-at-home,
Is left to do without:
Jis wears her home-made moccasins,
An' crows, an' crawls about.

Pears like that all I rake an' scrape
Won't hardly satisfy
The pressin' needs o' Bill an' John
An' Jane an' ma an' I.
But baby Nan, the stay-at-home,
Is full o' sweet content:
Jis cuddles up in daddy's arms
An' never waits a cent.
—George Weymouth, in The Century.

YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS.

Two Children Kill Another.

Mr. E. W. Pace spent a day over in Greene county this week, and on his return tells us of a horrible crime committed by some children on the plantation of Mr. T. E. Barrow. Among the colored tenants living on his place were Hilliard Anderson and Susan Harper. Anderson had a child three years old and the woman had two children aged seven and eight. Upon going out to their work they left the children together. During the absence of the parents the Harper children took sticks and beat the Anderson child to death, crushing its skull with their blows. Those who committed such an awful deed are too young to be dealt with by the law.

OVER THE COUNTRY

The Roosevelt Rough Riders will hold a great reunion at Albuquerque, N. M., on June 24.

The cruiser Raleigh sustained practically no damage in grounding off Charleston.

William Gray, of Boykin, Va., was killed by a train while returning home from a visit to his sweetheart.

Chicago credit men have sent out an appeal for men of their class to unite and get Congress to amend the Bankruptcy law.

James W. Alexander has been elected president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, of New York, to succeed the late Henry B. Hyde.

Differences between the coal operators of Southern Kansas and their miners will probably cause a suspension of work and involve 12,000 men.

Fire Safe.

My friends and customers can now find me in the building on Fourth street near where the post office stood before the fire. All my millinery and fancy goods saved from the fire will be sold at greatly reduced prices, and hats will be sold at cost, some goods even much below cost. It will be to your interest to see these goods and learn the prices.

MRS. M. D. HIGGS.

Seats for Emma Warren Company's opening performance, Monday night, go on sale Saturday morning by Lee at H. M. Hardee's.

I am coming.

I have not yet secured a place in which to open my goods saved from the recent fire but I ask the people to keep me in mind. In a short while I will be ready to serve you and am going to give you

BARGAINS THAT ARE BARGAINS.

Everything I have left will be closed out as rapidly as possible in order that I may begin the fall business with an entirely new stock.

FRANK WILSON,

The King Clothier.

TO MY FRIENDS.

I am not able to personally thank every one who helped move my goods during the fire on the night of the 4th, so I take this method of telling you all how much I appreciate the assistance rendered me.

My store is all torn up at present, but in a few days I will have everything straight and be open again, then I invite one an all to call on me.

JAMES B. WHITE.

NOTICE!

We wish to return sincere thanks to the people who so kindly rendered us assistance during the fire, Thursday night, by helping us remove and care for our goods.

FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1899.

We suspected as much. General Funston who has made such a brilliant record and won his stars in the battles with the Filipinos, though hailing from Kansas, is really a Southerner by blood. It is now announced that he is a cousin of Governor Tyler of Virginia.

"Funston's grandmother and my grandfather were brother and sister," says Governor Tyler. Governor Tyler feels proud of his kinsman, and says that his gallantry in the Philippines does credit to his Virginia blood.

And so it does. Blood will tell, and Southern blood in particular. Hurrah for Funston!

Since the above was put in type we find the following in the Raleigh Christian Advocate of today, which claims the General is a North Carolinian by birth. Dr. Ivey is very apt to be correct in his diagnosis of any case. Says the Advocate:

"North Carolina is a truly wonderful State for furnishing rich manhood for other states. Colonel Funston, who for recent gallantry in the Philippines was promoted to the rank of Brigadier General by President McKinley, is a native of North Carolina. His parents moved to Kansas when he was quite young. General Funston, in leading his regiment across the Rio Grande, near Calumpit, in the face of a murderous fire, displayed a heroism which was remarkable. This charge is one of the events of the century, and will live in history. General Funston weighs less than one hundred pounds, but North Carolina is proud of the manhood that is in him. She adds him to the roll in which Worth Bagley, Blue and Shipp are late heroes."

Hurrah for North Carolina and Funston, too!—Raleigh Post.

The Power of Advertising.

"Properly applied," observed the old advertising man, "advertising is a force which has no peer in strength over the public mind. It is the greatest scientific triumph of the century. It suggests what we shall eat, where-with we shall be clothed, and even what we shall pay for it. It creates a wish for things which the public never knew or imagined it wanted. It offers to supply a demand before the demand is made, while previous to the days of modern advertising methods the supply only followed a manifestation of the desire for its presence.—Profitable Advertising.

Jim Crow Cars.

The Jim crow car law will go in to effect June 1, the date originally fixed by the legislature.

The corporation commission so decided yesterday, and had Clerk Brown serve notice to that effect on all the principal railroads of the State.

This notice orders them, by June 1st, to provide separate but equal accommodations for the white and colored races on all passenger trains except vestibule or through express trains that do not stop at all stations and are not used ordinarily for traveling from station to station.

Following are the systems—including their branches—to which the order applies:

Atlantic Coast Line—All passenger trains with the exception of Nos. 23 and 78 (Florida special).

Southern—All passenger trains except those on the Murphy branch.

Seaboard Air Line—All passenger trains except Nos. 402 and 403 (Atlanta special).

Norfolk & Western—All passenger trains.

Atlantic & North Carolina—All passenger trains.

Norfolk & Southern—All passenger trains.

South Carolina & Georgia—All passenger trains.

Norfolk & Southern (steamboat lines)—Steamers Neuse and Newbern.

Mouse in His Pants.

A Fifth street citizen became somewhat excited last night while sitting in his easy chair at home reading. He felt something rum up one leg of his pantaloons. At first he thought it was a snake or lizard. He squeezed the "thing" until he heard its bones crack. Upon investigation he discovered that he had killed a mouse.—Winston Sentinel.

The Morganton folks are in a "mixtry" about liquor license. The town has been wet for a few years, a majority of the voters having voted for license. At the election on the 1st the vote on this question was a tie. The "wets" contend that this leaves the situation "wet," the "drys" having failed to secure a majority in favor of no license. The "drys" hold that the burden is on the "wets"; that it was necessary for them to get a majority in order to insure the issue of license, and that having failed to do so the situation reverts to the condition which existed before license was issued—which was dry. It is an interesting question and the courts will have to settle it.—Statesville Landmark.

Keeping in the Public Mind.

The rapidity with which events nowadays follow each other in unbroken succession renders it impossible for busy men and women to keep in mind all of even the most important matters which concern them personally. This is a timely idea for the consideration of the merchant who is constantly seeking to extend his list of customers. In the matter of advertising it is necessary for him to realize that the publication of an advertisement only at intervals is not the way to increase his business. It is the constant use of the advertising columns that wins. The public may forget today what was advertised yesterday; but today's advertising is before them, and there are always thousands of buyers who are in need of the particular wares mentioned daily. To advertise at the right moment is to advertise continuously.—Philadelphia Record.

The Work of the Life Saving Service.

The recently issued report of the Superintendent of the United States Life Saving Service during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, is a most interesting document. The total number of disasters during the year to craft of all descriptions within the field of service of the stations was 767; and the vessels had a total value of a little more than $7,000,000. The value of property saved was $6,588,355, and the total value of property lost was less than $800,000. There were 3987 persons involved in these wrecks, and the total number lost was 22. The number of vessels which were "worked off" after having been stranded, piloted out of dangerous places and assisted by the station crews was 577. The number of vessels running into danger and "warned off" by the signals of the patrols was 226. These statistics cover the life saving service over the entire Atlantic, Pacific and Lake coasts.

Since the introduction of the Life Saving Service, in November, 1871, there have been over 81,000 persons involved in disasters to ships, and less than 900 lives have been lost. The property lost in that time was valued at $35,555,162, and the property saved at $125,630,262. Succor was afforded to 13,876 shipwrecked persons for 35,199 days during this time. These figures are certainly impressive; and although the report does not prate of the heroic deeds of the brave men who risked their lives and faced the fierce winter storms on our coasts in order to save life and property, the figures tell the story more strongly, perhaps, than words could do. The Life Saving Service is one of the most magnificent departments of the Government. It is free from the scandals which detract so much from the eclat of many branches of Uncle Sam's service, and all praise is due to Superintendent Kinball and his brave crews.—Philadelphia Record.

Died Under "Christian Science" Treatment.

Chicago, May 11.—Mrs. Adlai T. Ewing, sister-in-law of former Vice-President Stevenson, died here without medical treatment, under Christian Science treatment, refusing to submit to operation which surgeons declare would have prolonged her life. These facts have only been revealed since death and the cremation of her body Saturday. Mrs. Ewing was a devoted member of the Christian Science Circle of this city and had converted several members of her family. She had suffered internal disorder, surgeons said, which would prove fatal unless relieved.

A Queer Examination.

Difficulties of the civil service examinations are multiplied tenfold in the requirements set down by law of applicants for positions in the mail service of China.

In the first place an applicant must have strength and courage. To acquire these he goes through a very queer method of training. He wanders through mountains and valleys, forests and caves. The exact time to be occupied in a trip is fixed by law, and a heavy fine imposed for unnecessary delay. He must repeat these trips at night, and if he listens to the bad spirits and thereby fails to appear at the required time at a certain place he is sure to lose his rights to a position.

This is not all. He is obliged to carry an enormous weight for many miles and return with it within a given time. No allowance is made for his inability to defend himself against thieves and highwaymen, his road usually leading through a district thick with bandits.

In training the candidate eats very little—though he is used to this—and he tries every straining exercise. Then comes his real examination under the direction of government officials. He is taken into a long room, where, suspended from a high beam with strong ropes, are very heavy sacks filled with rocks.

The candidate must give a swinging motion to all these sacks and then run to and fro between them, carefully guarding against a blow by one of the weights.

Curiosities of Journalism.

A paper in India recently published the following explanation: "This is only the beginning of our paper. We were not sure how much matter was required to fill it up, and, thinking we had sufficient, we did not exert ourselves much to get any more. We therefore beg that our readers will excuse us this time for the space left blank, and we promise to do better and get more in the future."

Still more curious was the announcement of a paper which came out for the first time with two columns blank, the editor making the bold announcement that "a large quantity of exceedingly interesting matter has been left out for want of space."

When the native editor wants a holiday, he suspends publication until it is convenient to resume, and, taking his readers into his confidence, informs them plainly why the paper was not issued on the expected dates. "With the consent of our readers, we now propose to take our annual holiday. We are sure none of them will begrudge us our relaxation."

Stale Bread.

All bakers, wholesale and retail, seek to produce at their several bakings through the day only so much as may be required to supply the wants of their trade, but in making sure to provide enough there is likely to be some left over to get stale. There is some demand for stale bread for household uses—for making toast and for cooking purposes—but the demand is limited. Such stale bread as may remain unsold in this manner is never wasted; it is sold to farmers and market gardeners, who drive into the city with produce to sell and who buy more or less supplies here to carry back to feed stock. When finally disposed of thus, it is sold by the barrel, at so much a barrel, the price being very low, but depending somewhat on the surplus stock on hand on the day of sale.—New York Sun.

TETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING. Burlington, N. C., May 27, 1896.

saved by tact. A down town woman, who is known among her friends as a decidedly stylish person, but who is quite indifferent to her toilet when at home, had an experience a short time ago which gave her quite a shock at the time. She had given a dining party one day at which a very distinguished Englishman was entertained. The foreigner was quite captivated by the charming hospitality of his hostess, and when on his way to the station to leave the city the next day he stopped at the house to pay his respects. All the servants were out, and the mistress of the house was by no means dressed for company. She was expecting the arrival of a new gown at the time, and thinking that the ring was that of a messenger boy bringing it she went herself, in very slipshod attire, to the door. To her horror, when she opened the door, she saw the face of the distinguished Englishman. To her joy, however, he asked if her mistress was in. This one was all that was needed. Quick as a flash she replied, "No, sir; she's out riding." Without recognition the visitor left his card and went away with a decided opinion of the untidy appearance of Philadelphia servants.—Philadelphia Record.

A Walter's Dilemma. It was in one of the large down town restaurants that the short little woman and her tall husband went for dinner one night.

"Will you have oysters?" asked the man, glancing over the bill of fare. "Yes," said the short-little woman, as she tried in vain to touch her toes to the floor. "And, John, I want a hassock."

John nodded, and, as he handed his order to the waiter, he said, "Yes, and bring a hassock for the lady."

"One hassock?" asked the waiter, with what John thought more than ordinary interest, as he nodded in the affirmative. Still the waiter did not go, but brushed the tablecloth with a towel and rearranged the articles on it several times, while his face got very red. Then he came around to John's side, and, speaking sotto voce, said: "Say, mister, I haven't been here long, and I'm not on to all these things. Will the lady have the hassock broiled or fried?" —Chicago Chronicle.

Graveyards in China.

The wife of an American naval officer stationed at Tien-tsin writes thus to a friend in Baltimore: "The trip by train from the landing to Tien-tsin takes about an hour and a half. The cars are not palatial, but they are comfortable. When you land, hundreds of coolies besiege you for your baggage. You wonder how it ever reaches its destination in safety. The trip is somewhat interesting, but rather desolate to take alone. You pass through miles of graveyards. There are thousands of mounds without a sign of green grass or green leaf.

"China seems to be one vast graveyard, for they bury their dead anywhere they wish. They bury in large coffins placed on the surface of the ground, covered over with mud and earth. This is blown and washed away, and then the coffins are exposed to view. A few miles from the railroad station on the river you come to trees and vegetation. It reminds you of some of the best land that some of our railroads at home go through."

Tetanus Lockjaw.

Recently a young man in New Jersey was treated successfully for tetanus by the injection of serum into the brain. That is not the method of treating lockjaw out in Missouri. Several years ago a citizen of Liberty, Mo., was suffering from tetanus. Local physicians failed to relieve him, and Dr. Wood of Kansas City, a gruff old gentleman, was called. Arriving at the home of the patient he found the room full of sympathizing neighbors. The physician proceeded toward the sick man and remarked, "Why in don't you shut your mouth?" at the same time giving the man a "black" under the chin. The effect of the blow caused the mouth to close, and the

The One Successful Method.

Costly cards, illuminated circulars, and all the thousand outside methods of advertising do some good in special cases, but in this progressive age, when the daily newspaper is read in every home, the one successful method for legitimate custom is by the wise use of the newspaper columns.—Philadelphia (Pa.) Times.
