WINE OF CARDUI

For Mothers!

The discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

PEOPLE INDIGNANT.

Believed to Be Malicious Political Prosecution.

Much excitement was occasioned in Greenville Thursday by the coming here of U. S. Marshal Merritt who proceeded to serve warrants on quite a number of our leading citizens and ordering them to appear before U. S. Commissioner Ormond. The warrant charged that they interfered with the election at Parker's X Roads precinct, this township, last November, and kept some persons from voting.

The case was set for a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning, and those against whom the warrants were issued were on hand. The trial before the Commissioner is proceeding very slowly, and may occupy several days so at this writing no idea can be given as to how it will terminate. But that these arrests have aroused the indignation of almost our entire people is very apparent, for all believe that it is the outgrowth of malice and political spite.

The matter that these citizens are thus brought to trial for, six months after the election, and the effort made to humiliate them, is this: About noon on last election day a telephone message came to Greenville from Parker's X Roads that a riot was threatened and help was needed to quiet it. Several people from town went over there and found a negro creating a disturbance. The crowd made this negro leave and then came back to town, interfering with no one else and creating no disturbance whatever. They simply went upon request to quiet a disturbance, which they did and returned home.

Coming Tuesday Night.

If you wish fun, if you like good singing and lots of it; if you enjoy dancing and a variety of it; if you are delighted with good music and plenty of it, and if you are fond of seeing and hearing the funniest kind of funny characters, don't miss the performance of Mr. John Tompson the renowned comedian in the Opera House on Tuesday night, May 23. He is a natural musician, and plays violon, cornet, piano, clarinet, flute, trombone, bass violin, banjo, Chinese fiddle, harmonica, Lilliputian violin, bagpipes, church chime bells and solo on the horn of a cow.

Health Continues Poor.

The Dispatch and all who are acquainted with Rev. J. H. Lambeth, pastor of the Baptist church, will regret to learn that ill health necessitates his giving up his ministerial work, for the present at least. Mr. Lambeth is a very able minister and has won the confidence and esteem of those whom he came in contact during his stay among us.—Lexington Dispatch.

Terrible Hail Storm.

Thursday afternoon a severe hail storm visited the south-western section of the county. From Farmville out to the creek this side and on by the way of Ballard's X Roads as far as Ayden the storm was terrific. In some places near Farmville the hail stones were piled up six inches deep. Crops suffered immense damage, in some places being reported entirely ruined. Many farmers will have to plant cotton again.

BETHEL DEPARTMENT.

CONDUCTED BY C. H. JAMES.

BETHEL, N. C. May 18, '99.

A sweet young child of Mr. Frank Knight was claimed by death's cold and icy hand last Saturday night. It was buried Sunday evening in Bethel cemetery.

Mr. Elisha Bryant, who was so nearly killed in that awful row here sometime ago, is still alive, but very low.

We are sorry to add to our already exciting list another sorrowful occurrence which has cast a dark shadow over our people. Last night about 2 o'clock Mr. Jackey Bryant, the father of the unfortunate Elisha, who was setting up with his son, was seized with coughing and bursted a blood vessel from which he instantly died. "Uncle Jackey," as he was known here, was one of the hardest workers of the M. E. church and our oldest citizen. He was never known to shrink from any Christian duty, and we feel sure that his crown in heaven will be decked with many brilliant stars and our great loss here will only be heaven's gain.

We were glad to hear that Mr. Lucus Bassett, of Rocky Mount, was in our town this week. Mr. Bassett, who formerly lived here, is now a successful lawyer in Rocky Mount.

The potato crops around here are looking well.

Our town Commissioners passed an ordinance to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drinks of any form in our town. Oh, but what this could have been done before! No more whiskey to be sold in Bethel after July the first, 1899. Amen.

A little rain this evening makes tobacco planters grin.

The High School here will close in two more weeks. Won't the town be dull then!

Mr. M. O. Blount is making great preparation to make brick. We trust he will meet with success as we need more manufacturing of every kind.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

It's easier to make yourself tiresome than agreeable.

Where ignorance isn't bliss it is folly to serve hash.

Time seldom adds to the value of pictures painted by Hope.

All men are born equal—but few are born equal to an emergency.

The man with a 250 pound wife has a large family to support.

Lots of men who have the traces of greatness in their make-up spoil everything by kicking over the traces.

Saying nothing at the wrong time is equally as good as saying the right thing at the right time.—Chicago News.

The bad weather Thursday night cut off some of the audience at the opera house and gave the Emma Warren Company a smaller crowd than on previous nights. But the play was a good one and splendidly acted. Tonight they will give "East Lynne."

A Most Remarkable Case.

Mr. Joel F. Hill, a prominent and highly respected citizen of Stokes county, died a few days ago. He had reached an advanced age, and had spent a life of great usefulness in his county, having been a representative in the General Assembly of North Carolina for several terms and held other positions of public trust.

For some time preceding his death he had been afflicted with a most rare and remarkable disease. Seating himself one day in a chair at his residence, he adjusted his glasses and prepared to read a newspaper. His memory was fair, he was in possession of all his faculties, and apparently in the best of health. Opening the paper, some of the family were attracted by an ejaculation from him, when it was discovered that he was totally unable to read a line. He not only could not read, but the letters were strange characters to his eyes. His sight was good as usual, and his family were moved to send for a doctor. The physician diagnosed the trouble as aphasia, or the obliteration from the mind of the faculty pertaining to letters. Mr. Hill never recovered the lost art to the day of his death.—Ex.

Almost Afraid.

The boy was all right notwithstanding his girly curls and a fond mother who was deathly afraid he was going to become coarse and vulgar, and in other respects masculine.

"Well, my boy," he said, after some time, "what are you going to do when you grow up?"

The boy studied the question a moment "Really," he replied at last, "I don't know I suppose I ought to be a man, but from the way mamma is handling me, I'm almost afraid I'm going to be a lady."—Trained Motherhood.

We have in this State at present what is called a non partisan Supreme Court. This court is so non partisan that it is said to be controlled to a large extent in all it does by politics. For the sake of politics this non partisan Supreme Court seeks to put a new construction on many things and often sets aside well established principles. There was a clamor for a non partisan Supreme Court, and we got it.

Unless all signs fail it will be the first and the last non partisan Supreme Court that will ever be known to the annals of this State.—Lexington Dispatch.

Negro Denounces Rape.

Atlanta, Ga. May 17.—Bishop W. J. Gaines, one of the most highly educated and influential thinkers of the negro race, in a powerful sermon on the race question at Bethel-African Methodist Episcopal church said:

"We must be willing to pay the cost if we move up in the scale of civilization. Fathers, endure hardships that you may educate your children. Mothers, endure hardships that your girls may go to school.

"Perhaps if a man were charged with this crime of assault and I had an X-ray from Heaven turned on him so that I knew he was guilty, I would be willing to turn him over to the mob.

"I want to say today that he who apologizes for the crime or has any sympathy for the inhuman monster who commits this crime, be he black or white, is an enemy to God and a traitor to his race.

"In all the catalogue of crime I can imagine no deed more dastardly, no fiend more foul and infernal than the beast who would take from a good woman the treasure of her honor, brighter and more priceless than any jewel that ever glittered in the crown of a King. I can find no words to express my detestation for such a crime and of such a criminal.

"While I have said this and would emphasize further that with the most loyal and intelligent white men of this country I am opposed to mob law. While Sam Hose deserved death, I believe that the moral effect of his punishment would have been greater had he been speedily and legally convicted and suffered death at the hands of the law. But the danger of mob law is that sometimes innocent men are condemned and executed.

"There is no danger of a race war; all such talk is idle and foolish. With 95 per cent of our race good citizens, what occasion is there for war? The good men of both races will and can get together, and peace and harmony will prevail."

Effect of Reputation on Character.

Reputation helps to make character. To be continually telling a boy that he is a bad boy is more likely to make him worse than better. To give a class the reputation of being the "worst class in school," and to keep noising it abroad, is not likely to raise the moral tone of discipline of the class. A man who has served out a term in prison for crime finds it hard to show himself trustworthy, because nobody trusts him. His reputation as an ex-prisoner clings to him, and, unless he is exceptionally strong of will, reform seems hopeless to him, and he sinks back to the level to which his bad reputation has been depreciating him. As the character of others depends largely upon their reputation, we should be careful how we handle that reputation.—S. S. Times.

Among the latest devices in the economical conduct of business is the scheme alleged to have been hit upon by several Chicago business concerns to ship large quantities of advertising circulars to Mexico in bulk and have them mailed there. The postage is the same there as here, but owing to the depreciated value of Mexican money there is a considerable saving in the amount of American money actually paid out for stamps. It is understood that this performance can be stopped by the postal authorities of the United States and Mexico acting in conjunction, although there appears to be nothing illegal in it.

IT CAN'T BE DONE.

NO ONE CAN REMAIN WELL, NO CHRONIC DISEASE CAN BE CURED UNLESS THE STOMACH IS FIRST MADE STRONG AND VIGOROUS.

This is plain because every organ in the body depends on the stomach for its nourishment. Nerve, bone, sinew, blood are made from the food which the stomach converts to our use.

How useless to treat disease with this, that and the other remedy and neglect the most important of all, the stomach.

The earliest symptoms of indigestion are sour risings, bad taste in the mouth, gas in stomach and bowels, palpitation, all-gone feeling, faintness, headaches, constipation; later comes loss of flesh, consumption, liver and heart troubles, kidney diseases, nervous prostration, all of which are the indirect result of poor nutrition.

Any person suffering from indigestion should make it a practice to take after each meal one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, allowing it to dissolve in the mouth and thus mingle with the saliva and enter the stomach in the most natural way. These Tablets are highly recommended by Dr. Jennison because they are composed of the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which assist the stomach in digesting all wholesome food before it has time to ferment and sour.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists, full sized packages at 50 cents. They are also excellent for invalids and children. A book on stomach diseases and thousands of testimonials of genuine cures sent free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Rheumacide is a thorough, permanent, constitutional cure for rheumatism. The acids in the blood which cause the disease are thoroughly eradicated. Is also the best blood purifier, laxative and tonic.

Buried Business.

A merchant who should carry into effect a decision to cease advertising would soon find his business involved in a mercantile solar eclipse. However extensive his establishment, and however varied and valuable his wares, they might as well be gems hidden in dark and unexplored caverns; for what would the public know of them? He might have costly fabrics from India, the rarest creations of the goldsmith's art and all the multifarious articles of domestic utility within his emporium; but unless the white light of publicity should be shed upon them through the medium of advertisements the goods would remain unsold or even undisturbed. A little reflection will show that while the tradesman must organize his business, he must also intelligently and extensively advertise it.—Philadelphia Record.

TETTER ON THE HANDS.

For several years I was a sufferer from tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well. MRS. M. E. KING. Burlington, N. C., May 27, 1896.

THE PRODIGAL'S BABY.

Medical students attended a surprising lecture at the University of Virginia, said the doctor. The lecturer related an interesting event in his domestic life. One of the professors in a unique way. The news that the lecturer's profession was a happy fact. The students on Thursday morning and that afternoon and evening were considerable. The lecturer held all over the university buildings and many of the students were collected in a room of three of the students who were a sort of finance committee. Friday morning the professor gave a lecture to the students in the amphitheater. The subject for the lecture was "The Relation of the Sympathetic Nervous System to the Nervous Centers of the Brain." and half an hour before the time set for the lecture every man in the class, which numbered about 350, was in his place waiting for the fun to begin and glancing now and then toward the three long operating tables in the center of the room.

Promptly at 10 o'clock the door opened and the favorite professor entered the amphitheater. He carefully closed the door behind him, then with a self-conscious clearing of his throat turned toward the class. At the first glance his jaw fell, while every one of the 350 fiends in the seats above began to yell at the top of his lungs. Spread out upon the three long operating tables were about 150 baby's toys and furnishings of every kind and description. There were rattles by the dozen, Noah's arks, dolls of all sizes, a toy cooking stove, a baby carriage, an embroidered flannel petticoat, a nursing bottle lying in a graduated glass, a pair of little blue kid shoes and other things too numerous to mention. After the first shock of surprise and embarrassment, the professor was game. He thanked us, in a speech peppered with five-syllabled words, for our thoughtfulness in thus providing for the future needs of his offspring, but he observed, after a careful examination of the various instruments of infanticide delight spread out before him, that we had forgotten one thing, a bottle of paregoric. Then he yawned in a way suggestive of midnight vigils and turned his attention to "The Relation of the Sympathetic Nervous System to the Nerve Centers of the Brain."

But he was not allowed to proceed beyond the first sentence or two. His attention was drawn to the blackboard, where some student of artistic tendencies had drawn an elaborately decorated design in red, white and blue chalk. "Is Marriage a Failure?" The poor professor, seeing that there was no possibility of a serious lecture that morning, entertained us for about ten minutes on the text posted on the blackboard; then after inviting us all to visit the new corner in the immediate future, he marched off to the music of 350 voices singing "Go to Sleep, My Little Pick-a-ninny" and "Daddy Wouldn't Buy Me a Bow-wow." — New York Sun

The observant numbers. Milkeny was a man of the habit of pushing his wife, leaving her disgraced, and his wife, but the other day one of his numerous progeny became very unruly, and he was obliged to say:

"Flora, if you don't keep quiet I shall have to whip you."
"Pooh!" retorted the little 3-year-old, with a contemptuous toss of his dainty head, "you isn't the mother."
