Doors will open at 8 o'clock and performance commence at 8:45. Remember Thursday night and reserve your seats early.

Put Them to Hustling.

Mr. W. H. Allen, of this county, who is now giving instructions to several farmers of Cumberland county about growing and curing tobacco, recently wrote a letter to the Fayetteville Observer setting forth the advantages of a tobacco market. That letter so stirred the business men of Fayetteville that they set to work and in a few hours enough money had been subscribed to build a tobacco warehouse.

Here's Evidence.

Sometime ago Mr. Silas Lucas, of Wilson, placed a small advertisement about his brick yard in THE REFLECTOR. He writes us that he can trace the sale of 100,000 brick to that advertisement. We want the man, who thinks advertising don't pay to read this twice.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

Six tornadoes are reported since Friday in Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Illinois. A dozen lives have been lost and hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to property.

The Cincinnati Retail Merchants' Protective Association has issued a call to all retail merchants of Ohio to meet in Columbus June 1 to organize for the purpose of fighting the trusts.

In addition to other gifts to Washington University, at St. Louis, Samuel Cupples has promised to establish and endow a school of civil engineering and architecture, at a cost of $250,000. Mrs. John E. Liggert will give the college a $100,000 dormitory.

A severe hail storm in Northwestern Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota Saturday night did much damage to grain, fruit and garden truck.

In a railroad wreck near Waterloo, Ia., Sunday morning, nine people were killed and a large number injured. The wreck was caused by a washout.

Howard Kretz, a 22 year old crank, made a leap from Brooklyn bridge Sunday evening, and came out without injury.

Rabbi Jonas Hechi, 95 years old, one of the original ten men who founded the now powerful Hebrew order of B'nai B'rith died in Norfolk Saturday.

High Lights.

The contented man is often a man with whom all his kinfolks are discontented.

When a man is henpecked even the women who would treat him in the same way feel sorry for him.

The woman who tells you a secret knows in her heart that you can't keep it any better than she could.

Cynicism is an indiscreet acknowledgment that life's worries have got the better of your cheer and courage.

Man is known by the company he keeps; woman is known by the companies she has when she entertains.

There is a current prejudice against house-cleaning, but every real woman likes to tie her head in a towel and stir things up from garret to cellar.

It is more blessed to give than to receive; especially when your cook makes better strawberry shortcake than that sent over by the woman next door.—Chicago Record.

You Must Hustle for Trade.

There might have been a time when a man could sit in his place of business and trade would come to him. It certainly is not that way today. If a man wants to do business now he must hustle after it. The best class of people—the people who work and earn money—is reached by the newspaper. If you want their patronage you must hustle after it, and the best medium is THE REFLECTOR. Nearly every one hereabouts takes THE REFLECTOR, and those who do not generally borrow it.

TUESDAY, MAY 30, 1899.

Not many days ago the news that came from the Philippines was that our soldiers had the insurgents on the run and the war would soon be over. Now the cry comes that more troops are needed to hold what little ground they have captured. This government is not going to come out of that war with much honor to itself.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., May 29, '99

There is something decidedly suspicious in the news from the Philippines. Not a line of press news can be cabled from Manila until it has been approved by the United States Military Censor, and it is not likely that he would approve anything the administration did not wish public. Hence, the publication of the statement that it would be impossible for Gen. Otis to conquer even the entire island of Luzon, not to mention the remainder of the group, so that it would stay conquered, without a large increase in his army, was allowed to pass the Censor for a purpose. Not being in the confidence of the administration,—few persons, even among the most prominent republicans, are—it cannot be positively stated what that purpose is, but the inference is that it is intended to pave the way for one of two things; a call for volunteers to re-inforce Otis, or to make the people of this country satisfied with some dicker that is about to be made with the Filipinos, and which they would naturally be inclined to be dissatisfied with. The preponderance of opinion in Washington is that it means more volunteers. Orders have been sent to the civilian members of the Philippine Commission that they must do nothing to interfere with the military plans of Gen. Otis, which is confirmation of the reported wrangles in the Commission.

After holding it back for many months, Mr. McKinley has issued his much advertised order modifying the civil service rules. It doesn't appear to please anybody overmuch. It excepts a total of somewhere in the neighborhood of four thousand places from the operation of the civil service rule, but as most of those places are already filled by republicans, it will make comparatively little new patronage for the republican leaders. It doesn't touch the Government Printing office, which so many republicans have been trying so hard to get thrown open to them. So far as the party workers are concerned, the order is likely to do more harm than good to the republican party.

Representative Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, who stands about as much show as Payne, the New York anti-Platt candidate, dropped into Washington a day or two ago and announced that he was a candidate for Speaker. He could not control three votes in the Pennsylvania delegation, counting his own, to save his neck. Bingham is the dummy candidate of the Pennsylvania delegation, and will remain such until Quay decides who shall get these votes.

No surprise was caused in Washington by Senator Platt's flat-footed declaration that McKinley and Hobart would be re-nominated. So far as McKinley is concerned, Platt has been mortgaged since early in the present administration; his endorsement of Hobart means that if he ever had any idea of helping to get Roosevelt second place on the ticket, it has been abandoned, but whether because he wasn't pleased with Roosevelt or whether the latter wasn't pleased with the idea of second place, is a matter of conjecture, but the former is more likely to be true. The declaration of Senator Penrose, who is Boss Quay's man and mouth-piece, in favor of McKinley's renomination is nothing more than a bid for administration help for Quay in his contest to get his seat in the Senate. This was doubtless pleasing to Mr. McKinley, whether he means to help Quay or not, as he found Quay decidedly "uppish" towards the administration while he was in the Senate.

The administration was very particular to have the widest circulation given to the report of the Beef Court of Inquiry, but it has now discovered that all of the $200,000 set aside to pay for the Inquiry has been used up, and has ordered work stopped on the printing of the testimony, upon which that report was supposed to be based, after it had all been put in type. It has all along been contended by many that the administration never intended to make the testimony public, and this action makes it look as though that contention was correct.

Secretary Alger has been putting his foot in it again. Several days ago he caused an order to be issued by the War Department, instructing the military authorities in Cuba to give clearances to Cuban vessels under the Cuban flag, and at the same time stating that the vessels flying the Cuban flag would not be under American protection. As there is no Cuban government, there can be no recognized Cuban flag; hence the order strikes the average man as ludicrous. Somebody called Mr. McKinley's attention to the order and he directed that it be referred to the Attorney-General for an opinion. This opinion, it is expected, will knock the order out. It might answer for Cuban vessels to go from one Cuban port to another, under such a clearance, but in any port outside of Cuba, the masters of such vessels be at anybody's mercy; they would have no Consul to appeal to in case of unjust treatment of any sort, and no standing in any court of Admiralty. Alger's specialty appears to be doing the wrong thing.

The Dewey Home fund isn't growing as fast as it might. It did not reach a total of $5,000 until today. Unless it get a move on, it will not be big enough to buy a Washington House by the time Dewey gets home.

How Charlotte Became a Manufacturing Town.

Charlotte, N. C., is now one of the most important and prosperous manufacturing towns in the south, and a contemporary, speaking on the subject, argues that, "the cotton mills did it," which is only half the truth. Cotton mills did not pick themselves up and plant themselves in Charlotte. There were no ready-made factories carried there, as one might carry a tree to his yard and set it out. There were no tramp mills wandering over the land looking for a favorable locality to anchor themselves and go to work, nor did the mills come in as invited immigrants.

Not at all. The making of Charlotte was a reciprocal affair. Fifteen years ago, or thereabouts, some men with enterprise and forethought got together capital and built a mill. After some years others followed their example and another mill was the result. Then the co-operative plan was tried and found to be successful, and so the improvement went on until Charlotte is a thriving, busy manufacturing town. But the mills did not make the town any more than the town made the mills. Home capital and enterprise and determination brought the mills, and in return the mills brought population, thrift and prosperity. It was a kind of reciprocity which benefited in each direction, "going and coming."—Montgomery Advertiser.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets. Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

If you want your town to prosper, keep your money at home. If the manufacturers, lawyers, capitalists and the public in general could realize how much it meant to the prosperity of their town, to buy always of their home merchants, and use, so far as lay in their power, the goods made by their home manufacturers, and would put the idea in practice they would soon see a prosperous town. We should strive to keep every dollar here that we can. Money that is left at home has a chance to get back to you again, but when it is sent off you will never see it any more.—Kinston Free Press.

No-To-Bac For Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c, $1. All druggists.

Messrs. J. G. Williams and C. F. Koonce returned from Snow Hill last night. When they reached the Briery, about four miles from Kinston, a big negro emerged from the bushes and walked quickly toward the horse, as if to grasp the bridle. Mr. Williams quickly reached for his revolver, and the negro observing the act, wheeled suddenly to the right and disappeared in the bushes. The occupants of the buggy fully expected an old-fashioned "hold-up."

Taylorsville Letter in Statesville Mascot.

A meeting of the citizens and tax payers with the mayor and town commissioners Monday night voted to employ a mayor and pay him $50 per year and a policeman $150 per year, and combine with the duties of policeman that of street and sanitary work, making it his duty to carry with him, besides his gun and billy, a wheel barrow, shovel and pick, so that when he was not after violators of the ordinance that he could be working on the streets. If a man can't be found inside the corporate limits that is willing to take this job one will have to be ordered.

THE POMPONS OLD GENTLEMAN.

But it was not until the time

A man who had been in the church for a very long time, and who had changed his mind, finally had the persuasion of his wife and decided to go to the family of the old man and they started early. Arriving at the church there were very few people in it and no pew opened at the time he had left his family with a smile and took possession of a pew.

Just as the old man was about to begin a sermon, the old man came in, walked to the front of the church and stood there a while, evidently surprised that it was so quiet. The organs moved over and the old man sat down, but he did not seem to be at all. Finally the old man took a card and wrote upon it with a pencil:

"I pay for this pew."

"He gave the card to the organist, who had been in the most people, would have stood up and left. But the organist suggested his glasses and with a smile read the card. Then he calmly wrote beneath it:

"How much do you pay a year?"

To this inquiry the pompous old gentleman, still standing, wrote abruptly: "Ten pounds."

The stranger smiled as though he were pleased, looked around to compare the pew with others, admired its nice cushions and furnishings and wrote back:

"I don't blame you. It is well worth it."

The pompous old gentleman at that stage collapsed into his seat.

No Deadheads There.

I heard a good story that comes from a little town in the northern part of the state: Among the members of the Methodist church at that place is an old railroad conductor who has been retired from the business for ten years or more. During the morning service at his church not many Sundays ago the old railroader was called upon by the minister to assist in taking up the collection—one of the stewards who usually helped in that work being absent.

The retired railroader started down the aisle with the contribution basket and passed it around like an old hand at the business. Everything passed off smoothly until he came to a good old brother who had nodded himself fast asleep, and just as he was about to pass by him he was suddenly overcome by the force of habit acquired in his railroad days. Giving the sleeping brother a dig on the shoulder with the basket, he blurted out:

"Ticket, please!"—Ohio State Journal.

The Stranger's Husband Is Worthless.

Helen White is a lady who believes that the husband who can be managed is not worth managing, and there is a better proof of this in the Ladies' Home Journal. Her husband and wife, to be sure, are the best of friends, but she says in the journal that she had thought to be a good wife, but she had found out that she was not. She says that she had been doing the square thing by him and many a man understands and practices doing the square thing by other men who would be ashamed if he were to find that, judged by his own last year's standards, he had really dealt unfairly with his own wife.

There is on exhibition at our store a full nickel plated

BUCK'S JUNIOR RANGE

Every little girl wants it, and one little girl shall have it. On the 15th of July we will present it to the little girl under fourteen years of age, who cuts out the greatest number of Buck's Trade Marks in the advertisement below and brings them to our store. They must be done up in neat packages and the number and name written plainly on each package. Now girls get your friends to help you, save every Trade Mark and see who can win the prize.

The purpose of this contest is to make this Trade Mark known in every household so that it may never be forgotten. It will be printed in all our advertisements. It is prominently displayed upon every one of Buck's Stoves and Ranges and carries with it the broadest guarantee of excellence. No stove can possibly be made which is better than any one of The Great White Enamel Line. We sell them in preference to all others, and carry a full line of all kinds and sizes.
