MASONIC PICNIC.

Installation of Officers--Large Crowd--Fine Weather.

The Masons had beautiful weather today for the public installation of the officers of Greenville lodge and their picnic. The members of the lodge and visiting Masons met at the hall at 10 o'clock and held a short session. At 11 o'clock they formed in line and headed by the Osceola Band marched to the Academy grove where the exercises took place. There were seventy-two Masons in line, all "properly clothed" and they presented an imposing appearance as they marched down the street. There were visiting brethren from the sister lodges of the county, and a few from adjoining counties.

At the grove where every arrangement had been made in the way of stand, seats and tables, Past Master A. L. Blow took charge of the ceremonies and installed the following officers for the ensuing term of Greenville Lodge:

W. M.—R. Williams.
S. W.—E. E. Griffin.
J. W.—W. F. Harding.
Treas.—W. B. Wilson.
Sec.—J. M. Reuss.
S. D.—C. B. Whichard proxy for A. L. Blow.
J. D.—T. H. Tyson.
Stewards—R. W. King and J. E. Starkey.

Tiler—Dr. R. L. Carr.
Mr. F. C. Harding then arose and in beautiful words introduced the speaker of the occasion, Hon. L. I. Moore. The address of Mr. Moore was an excellent one, delivered in his usual happy style, and it charmed the large audience who gave their closest attention.

The exercises were interspersed with several selections from the band and the music was generously applauded.

A sumptuous and elegant dinner was served in the grove. The committee in charge of the arrangements performed every duty well and the occasion was a creditable and enjoyable one.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Raleigh has been having trouble with thieves the past week. Several robberies were made.

Three boys of Elizabeth City were out driving, Saturday afternoon, and in crossing a railroad track their buggy was run into by a train. All three of the boys were killed.

The Free Press says that parties at Kinston are building a naphtha launch to run between that town and Seven Springs. The boat will be thirty feet long and capable of carrying forty passengers.

Gen. A. D. Cowles has brought suit in Iredell county Superior court against the Raleigh Electric Company for $20,000. In Raleigh last summer a street car struck the horse upon which Gen. Cowles was riding, knocked the animal down and broke the General's leg.

HORSEWHIPPING CASE.

The Matter Amicably Settled.

The trouble at Washington growing out of the assault made upon Mr. J. F. Woodward with horsewhips, last Wednesday, has been amicably settled and the threatened storm has been followed by a calm. At the time of the assault Mr. Woodward was made to leave the town without being given an opportunity of an explanation or proving his innocence. He wired back to the Mayor of Washington that if protection was guaranteed him he would return and prove his innocence. This protection was guaranteed, Mr. Woodward being also assured that the sympathy of a majority of the people of Washington was with him, as he was believed innocent of the charge of insulting the young lady.

Mr. Woodward returned to Washington Saturday, taking with him as counsel ex-Judge Allen, of Goldsboro, and Mr. H. F. Stephens, of Warsaw, a party of friends accompanying him. The young lady and parties implicated in the assault retained as counsel Hons. C. F. Warren and J. H. Small and Mr. S. C. Bragaw. The parties and their counsel held a long conference together and succeeded in settling the matter without going into a trial.

The young lady acknowledged that she had been mistaken in identifying Mr. Woodward as the man who had insulted her, saying that she did so under the excitement of the moment, but that after reflection and closer examination of him she was satisfied he was the wrong man.

The young men who applied the horsewhips also stated that they had joined in the attack on Mr. Woodward only after he had been identified by the young lady, and that they acted only from the best of motives and in good faith, but now after her acknowledgement of mistaken identity they publicly expressed deep regret at the occurrence and made apology for the assault.

TARBORO BEATS WILSON.

TUESDAY, JUNE 27, 1899.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., June 26, '99

Unless some of the shrewdest politicians in Washington are much mistaken, the death-knell of Algerism was sounded when Gov. Pingree announced his deal with Alger to try to put the latter into Senator McMillan's seat. Secretary Alger, who has just returned to Washington, is said to be as mad as a hornet because Pingree gave out the deal before he was ready to have it made public. He wished to remain in the Cabinet and to make as much use as possible of the many plums at the disposal of the War Department, before the deal got out. Now, friends of Senators McMillan and Burrows say that if Alger doesn't resign voluntarily, they have the means to compel Mr. McKinley to ask for his resignation. Some think that Mr. McKinley will do that without any compulsion, not only because of his friendliness towards Senator McMillan, but because of his dislike for Pingree on account of his free criticisms on several occasions of McKinleyism. At any rate, every body is again hoping that the end of Algerism in the War Department is near.

Hon. R. M. Finley, the popular Comptroller of the State of Texas, is enjoying a visit to Washington. Asked how things were in the lone star state, he said: "Texas is enjoying a fair share of prosperity. The crop prospects are fine, and there is a greater demand for our unimproved land than there has been for a long time. The next Census will show that we have a population largely in excess of three million, which in intelligence morality and thrift will vie with the citizenship of any state in the Union. Gov. Sayres is making a fine record, and his administration is popular with all classes. There is but little going on politically, and we will not have any excitement in that line until next year. The state is overwhelmingly for W. J. Bryan for President, and a solid delegation pledged to him will be sent to the next democratic National Convention.

Judge Nash and Boss Hanna's man Dick, were hobnobbing in Washington, when news of Gov. Bushnell's open attack upon Hanna, Nash and Dick, and his incidental attack upon Mr. McKinley, reached them. They had intended to remain in Washington until Mr. McKinley returned, but all plans were at once abandoned, and they rushed back to Ohio, to ascertain the extent of Bushnell's following in his open revolt against the Hanna machine. Private advices indicate that the revolt will be strong enough to give the state to the democrats, unless they put up a weak ticket, which is not likely.

If there isn't a job concealed in the erection by a private party of a building for the use of the Census Bureau, the signs are all deceptive. From the day of his appointment, director Merriam insisted that only a building large enough to put practically all of the employes of the Bureau on one floor would answer. That shut out every existing building in Washington. Then there was talk of the bureau erecting a temporary building upon government property, but the accounting officers of the Treasury ended that by deciding that no part of the appropriation for the Bureau could be used for such a purpose. Then the shadow of the job became visible. Offers were asked from owners of lots large enough to erect the sort of building required. The only one that suited Director Merriam was submitted by a man who became rich as well as familiar with jobs while holding office under the old Government of the District of Columbia. It was accepted, and a lease made for five years, which is likely to be extended to seven or eight before the Census work is completed, at an annual rental of $25,000. The ground upon which this building is to be erected has been used as a coal yard for years, the rental hardly being enough to pay the taxes, and it is claimed that $100,000 is to be spent in erecting the building. Even if that amount were to be expended, the lease would still be a very profitable one, when it is considered that money is going begging, when the security is as good as this, at 4 per cent., but an expert who has seen the rough plan for the building says, it will not cost much, if any more than $50,000.

Not a little surprise was expressed in Washington, when it was learned that Gen. Wood had for the time, if not absolutely and finally, declined the offer of $30,000 a year made him by the Street Railway and Electric Light Trust which has been buying up nearly all of the electric light companies of Washington, to become its President, and announced his early resumption of his duties as Military Governor of Santiago. Inasmuch as General Wood was fresh from a Conference with Mr. McKinley when he made that announcement, it is inferred that he was received some definite promise of further preferment of some sort, if he will remain in the army. He is now a Brig. Gen. of Volunteers, but that pays less than one-fifth of the salary offered him. His rank in the regular army is what it was when he was made Col. of the Rough Riders—Captain.

The Man Who Succeeds.

Success in business is not to be reached nowadays in the easy-going method that obtained a generation or two ago. Times have changed, and people have changed with them. Push is the only thing that will carry a man ahead, and it is the liveliest pusher that gets there first. As a general rule, the chronic pusher is a chronic advertiser. Printers' ink is the lubricating oil of his business wheels, and he never allows them to lag or creak for the want of it. Hard times and poor business are incentives to increasing his advertising, rather than any argument to him for cutting it down. It will pay the semi-occasional advertiser to ponder over the pusher's success.

An Outing.

Today the editor hied himself away to the woods, he went with some royal good fellows for a day's outing, and he expects to forget the world and its uses while he is gone. He will only take a day off—he has hardly time for that. He is one of the unfortunates of God's people—he has become a dollar chaser. He looks for the dollars which are on wings—not that he would keep them; for he does not; he looks upon them and envies them and catches a few of them that he may buy bread to give him strength to work tomorrow, that he may pay his paper bills and his printer's bills—and that he will be not known to men as a dead-beat. It is strange that one would work so hard, and wonder if he could take one day off from the long tedious task, merely to exist and to pay what debts he may contract and which are necessary to make existence possible.

But he does and they most all do. The outing will be a rest—a little recreation. He will return tonight the editor will, and he will remember that he got a little rest in order that he may work the harder. He will print his paper right along for what? Merely to let people who enjoy it have it for the price. Other men will sit up and curse the paper—say it is a fraud and a fake—while they forget that they are worse frauds and fakes, or at least frauds and fakes just as much as it; and he will let angry subscribers kick to him because the kids did not deliver the paper when if they would but think, they know that it is alone to his advantage to have them delivered.—Fairbrother's Parago, Danville, Va.

Beauty Is Blood Deep.

The Sunshine of Business.

There is some cause for the skepticism of the semi-occasional advertiser as to the good results of advertising. He has spent money for the publication of business announcements, and has had at the most merely a spurt of appreciable returns therefrom, after which his trade again stagnated. For this reason he is prone to jump at the conclusion that advertising does not make business grow. Naturally, in his case it does not. If the sun should shine only about six times a year, Nature's great scheme of development would be checked. It is that marvelous and never ending regularity of the great orb of day which produces the comforts and luxuries of mankind. In like manner persistent advertising stimulates and renders profitable the tradesman's business.—Philadelphia Record.

BLOOD TELLS.

YES, it is the index to health. If you have had blood you are likely to learn that you have Rheumatism, one of the most horrible diseases to which man kind is heir. If this disease has just begun its work, or if you have been afflicted for years, you should at once take the wonderful new cure.

WHO WANTS IT?

SPEAK QUICK.

THE REFLECTOR recently purchased two printing office outfits and has a quantity of surplus material that will be sold cheap. There is a cylinder press large enough to print a nine column paper, in splendid condition, and a quantity of Small Pica, Long Primer, Brevier and Nonpareil body type. We can furnish a complete outfit large enough for a six or seven column paper.

Specimens of the body type are shown in this advertisement, the type being taken from the case just as it runs, so it shows for itself how well it prints. This is the Small Pica size of which there is 1 pair of cases.

Then here is a paragraph set from the Long Primer size. We have 4 pairs of these cases. In buying this type you do not get something that is worn out and cast aside, but a good serviceable type, capable of much wear.

Here is something a little smaller, Brevier size. There are 2 pairs of these and it is a bargain for somebody interested in printing. It may not come but once in a lifetime that an opportunity is given for buying type as cheap as we will sell these lots.

Again we have 1 pair of cases of this Nonpareil size, a very useful type in any printing office. Cases will be sold with the type of all sizes. Any printer who can use any or all of this type can make us a spot cash offer. While we prefer a customer for a whole outfit, press and type, one case of type will be sold if no more is wanted.

WIN A STONE

There is an exhibition at our store a full hickel plated BUCK'S JUNIOR RANGE.

Every little girl wants it, and one little girl shall have it. On the 15th of July we will present it to the little girl under fourteen years of age, who cuts out the greatest number of Buck's Trade Marks in the advertisement below and brings them to our store. They must be done up in neat packages and the number and name written plainly on each package. Now girls get your friends to help you, save every Trade Mark and see who can win the prize.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

ROCHDALE, N. C., June 27, '99. The crops are fine in our neighborhood.

Several cotton blooms have been seen around here lately. Mr. R. A. Willoughby says that he saw a cotton blossom in his field last Tuesday.

We hope that Reddin Smith is improving just a little, though he is very ill of typhoid.

The sad news came to us yesterday about noon that Mr. Ab Clark's only daughter had just died. The little girl had been sick but a short while.

Mrs. Ivy Smith and two little girls went to Kinston yesterday to visit her relatives there.

Those who attended the S. S. picnic at Bethlehem church Friday, report a pleasant time.

The rain was gladly received that fell up this way Monday.

It will soon be time to eat melons around here; but I don't hear the people boasting on them much.

Misses Lucy Dail and Lula Thomas, who had been visiting Misses Ada and Ellen Tyson, returned to their homes near Lizzie Sunday afternoon.

Some of these Redalia folks would like to have these girls visit over this way again.

Mrs. White, from near Salisbury, is visiting her father, Mr. S. P. Erwin.

Due to the Trusts.

The banana trust has slipped up, but the pie trust will probably be able to hold together by its crust. Baltimore Herald.

A brewery trust with a billion of capital suggests a large amount of water, to say nothing of the froth. Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

It will be noticed that when anybody testifies that trusts are good things he manages to say that they are good things—for the trusts. Sioux City Tribune.

Generally speaking, the wages of sin is death, but it must be confessed that now and then the wages of sin has much the appearance of fat dividends on highly watered stock. Cairo Bulletin.

"Is it true," said the cadaverous man, "that there is to be a pie trust?" "There has been one for more than a hundred years," answered the fat man, "and every four years we hold an election to see who shall run it."—Indianapolis Journal.

Work on All New.

Workmen have commenced on the corner stone to be built by J. B. Cherry & Co., and today they started clearing off Mr. W. H. Harrington's site. This covers the entire burned district, there now not being a single site upon which work has not started. When these are completed both sides of Evans street from Fourth to Fifth will be solid brick buildings without a gap or alley between them. Some of them will be fine buildings.

LOST.—Many golden opportunities have been lost by those who suffer from rheumatism. By taking Rheumacide now they will be permanently and positively cured.

"After I was induced to try CASCARETS, I will never be without them in the house. My liver was in a very bad shape, and my head ached and I had stomach trouble. Now, since taking Cascarets, I feel fine. My wife has also used them with beneficial results for sour stomach."
