WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
 Washington, D. C., Aug. 25, '99
 Indications point to a new and daring act of imperialism on the part of the administration in the near future. The army of sixty-odd thousand men, which is being so hurriedly prepared for the Philippines may be intended for use elsewhere. There is talk-only whispers as yet—in inside administration circles about arrangements to buy off Aguinaldo and his principal officers, and thus bring about an early peace in the Philippines; and members of the diplomatic corps have received from more than one foreign government hints of an understanding between Great Britain and the United States, by which the American army in the Philippines and the strong British naval force in Asiatic waters may be used to back up a joint demand made by the United States and Great Britain concerning the future government of China. This matter has not gone far enough to be publicly discussed and it may not do so at all, but there are numerous indications, not the least of which is the sudden confidence in administration circles that the Philippine war is almost over, pointing to its probable correctness. Such a move would be imperialism, indeed.

The republicans are evidently weakening on their attempt to make it appear that Col. Bryan is losing strength and prestige in the West. The evidence the other way is too overwhelming for them. Hon. Marcus A. Smith, long a delegate in Congress from Arizona, and who may return to public life as a Senator, after Arizona becomes a State, says of the political outlook: "Col. Bryan's name will be the only one before the National Convention. He is even stronger in the West than he was in '96. The Chicago platform will be reaffirmed with additional planks dealing with present issues. There has been a revival of faith in the ability of the democrats to win in 1900, and men who thought two months ago that the party had no chance are now declaring that Bryan can carry the country next year. My own opinion is that he will be our next President."

The whole power of the Post Office Department and of the entire administration will be used to prevent the fourth-class postmasters securing any legislation from Congress that will result in increasing their pay. At the last session of Congress one postmaster—Mr. William H. Thomas, of La Grange, Mo.,—was discharged for appearing in Washington in the interest of the fourth-class postmasters and for sending out circulars urging them to organize for the purpose of securing an increase of pay; and others are being notified of the existence of a rule prohibiting any postal employe, under penalty of dismissal, appearing in Washington to advocate Congressional legislation of any sort. The report that the 70,000 fourth-class postmasters in the country are chipping in to employ lobbyists to work for them before Congress is worrying Postmaster General Smith, because he cannot prevent their doing so. He says, however, that he can block any legislation by showing Congress what a large sum of money it would cost to even slightly raise the pay of fourth-class postmasters but he admits that if this class of Federal employes act together and bring all their friends influence to bear upon Senators and Representatives it will be hard to beat them. He really relies more upon bluffing many of them out of joining the National League of Fourth-Class Postmasters than upon any other method of defeating them.

Although there has been no doubt on the subject for sometime, members of the administration felt greatly relieved when they knew that Ex-Czar Reed's resignation as a member of the House had been received and accepted by the Gov. of Maine. The administration is expecting some hard sledding in Congress this winter, and upon several important matters Mr. Reed is known to oppose Mr. McKinley's policy; hence the relief to know that it is beyond Mr. Reed's power to head a republican revolt in the House. His retirement makes it certain that the House will do whatever Mr. McKinley wishes it to do, but there will be trouble and a heap of it in the Senate, notwithstanding the efforts which have been made to placate certain republican Senators with commissions in the volunteer service and other patronage.

Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, must be credited with having the courage of his convictions, since he says in a type-written interview prepared in his own office: "I believe that the legal enactment of the single gold standard will be of practical and permanent advantage to the agricultural interests of the United States." Later in the same interview he puts his foot into it by admitting that it is the creditor class which is most anxious for the legal enactment of the single gold standard. Wonder how many farmers Mr. Wilson knows who belong to the creditor class?

Secretary Root says, and he ought to know, that Gen. Otis will not be removed from command of the Philippine army.

Ex-Speaker Reeds resignation as a member of the Fifty-sixth Congress, to take effect September 4 has been forwarded to Governor Powers at Augusta and promptly accepted. The six months salary which Mr. Reed will draw from the Federal Treasury may be regarded as an honorarium for past services and a quasi recognition of the right of Congressmen to a long vacation. This shrewd and masterful man, who has dominated Federal legislation by sheer will power ever since he attained the Speakers chair, is soon to engage, if common report be true, in the sharper and more grinding contest appointed for the leaders of the New York Bar. He should be as successful in his chosen field of new enterprise as he has been in controlling the House of Representatives nor will his great public services be forgotten by the American people during the period of his self-imposed retirement from public life.—Philadelphia Record.

Money Found in The Mail Bags.

"It seems almost incredible that in the neighborhood of $40,000 in actual cash should have been confided to letters during the last year, and harder still to credit that the most exhaustive efforts failed to find the owners of one-fourth of that amount," writes Patti Lyle Collins in The Ladies' Home Journal for September. "The envelopes which are addressed are kept on file for four years, blank ones not so long, but in either case a liberal margin of time is allowed for claimants to appear before the money is finally turned into the Treasury to the credit of the Post-Office Department. In addition to the money contained in letters during the same period, something like $10,000 was found loose in the mails. It is officially styled 'loose money.'"

A Rattlesnake Story.

Last week Mr. Ballie McKethan who lives at the Sam Christian gold mine in Montgomery county, saw the head of a big rattlesnake appearing on the side of his chicken coop. He quickly got a noe, and going up near his snakeship with one blow severed the head from the body. Strange to tell the head of the snake bit a pig near by, and the animal died in about five minutes. The snake was one of the largest ever killed in that section, and had 16 rattles. This is a true bill.—Concord Times.

Shot by a Burglar Gun.

Capt. W. H. High, who lives on the Southern edge of town, has been troubled with midnight marauders on his melon patch. To both intimidate and catch the rogues he placed a burglar gun therein. Yesterday morning his wife went out to gather some peas taking care to keep away from the wires fastened to the gun. A dog whose presence she did not notice came in contact with the arrangements for throwing the trigger and fired it the contents striking Mrs. High in the ankle. It was loaded with small shot and the wounds are not of a serious nature though painful.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

From 1890 to 1898 North Carolina's population has increased 197,000. In this length of time the increase in the number of bushels of corn raised is 9,000,000 bushels, while in oats it is 2,000,000, and in wheat 1,000,000. In the manufacturing line North Carolina had made a commendable advance. The increase in the number of manufacturing enterprises is 3667; capital invested, $32,000,000, number of employes, 86,214; wages paid, $7,090,000; raw material consumed $22,000,000; finished product, 40,000,000.

Gets a Sun-Stroke Too.

The Wilson News is in a state of perturbation over a paragraph that appeared in the editorial columns of the Greenville REFLECTOR, and then the Sun. To prevent the editorial mind of the News from working itself into a frenzy—and a law suit—we will state that when the News has been in business long enough, and deals with syndicate writers in Washington City, it will have a great deal more information than it now seems to possess, and will be able to rest more quietly, at night.—Durham Sun.

He Had a Claim.

Sometime ago Register of Deeds T. R. Moore received a letter from a man in another town that read as follows, except we do not give the names:

DEAR SIR:

I have a license to marry Miss _____ and forbid you issuing a license to marry her to anybody else.

The letter was so unusual that the Register put it away to keep as a souvenir.

Arrived Safe.

A nice little puppy passed through here this morning going by express from Fort Mitchell, Va., to Greenville, N. C. It was addressed to Miss Mary H. Boyd. Upon the box was written the following words: "Right warm today. Please give me some water."—Durham Sun.

The puppy reached here all right Friday evening.
