FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1899.

The Democratic State Convention of Ohio which was held on Wednesday, nominated John R. McLean for Governor on the first ballot.

Ex-Congressman Thomas Settle is said to be in favor of the proposed Constitutional Amendment and says it will be one of the wisest solutions of the most difficult problem now confronting the people of North Carolina.

At an election held on Tuesday in the eighth Missouri district to fill the unexpired term in Congress of R. P. Bland, deceased, D. W. Shackelford, Democrat, was elected over W. J. Vorsholl, Republican, by 2,200 plurality.

The Pittsboro Record is twenty-one years old. It was founded by its present editor, Maj. H. A. London, and in all these years there has been no change in the paper. It has always been staunchly Democratic, and few papers have rendered such able service to the party as has the Record. May it become more than twice old enough to vote before editor London shall lay aside his pen.

Money at Big Interest.

A prominent merchant declares that "the money expended for advertising is the same as if placed on interest." This is the proper view to be taken of advertisements placed in a popular newspaper. Not only is there a valuable return resulting from the profits in wares which may be specified in a merchant's business announcement, but the additional sales made extend and more firmly establish the advertiser's trade. Thus this great medium of communication with the public enables the tradesman to enlarge his sphere of operations and as a consequence to assume a more important standing in the commercial world. The returns for the merchant's outlay in advertising far exceed in value the interest that would be received on the amount of money so expended.—Philadelphia Record.

The prospects for better prices for beef cattle than have prevailed for some years are certainly good, and should stimulate our farmers in returning to this source of revenue. Every little helps on the farm, and a few good bullocks for the market should be among the results of every farmer's year's labor.—Raleigh Post.

LIKE ROUNDLAP BALES.

Opinions of Cotton Farmers and Ginners after a Season's Experience.

The attitude of cotton ginners and farmers towards the Roundlap cotton bale of the American Cotton Company, after a season's test of the machine, is illustrated by a letter received recently by the editor of the Manufacturers' Record, Baltimore, as follows:

Editor Manufacturers' Record: Some time ago you requested us to give you our opinion of the American Cotton Co.'s cylindrical press. At that time we were unable to give our views correctly, owing to the short time we had operated the press. Now that the ginning season has closed, we can unquestionably say that the press is a success in every particular, not only from a ginner's standpoint but as practical farmers. The results from sale of our cotton have been eminently satisfactory and much beyond what we had anticipated. The advantages to planter and operator are so many that it would take up too much space to enumerate them. It is sufficient to say that no one who has baled their cotton on this press would now or hereafter patronize any other. And why should they? Their ginning charges are less than the square-press people charge, and they receive from one-quarter to one-half cent per pound more than they could get in the square bale. There is no question about the round bale being here to stay, and we would advise the ginmen, especially those who are near a railroad, to get in the swim at once and exemplify the old adage of the early bird getting the worm. They will not only benefit themselves, but their friends, the farmers, will get the cream that the middlemen, the commission merchants, have been enjoying and getting rich upon. In conclusion, to condense the advantages, will say that the bale is fireproof, waterproof, dustproof, and proof that it is a labor-saving and money-making bale to the farmer. — MORRIS & MOREN, Keo, Ark., June 7th.

Mills as Town Builders.

Mr. H. M. Barrow, of Concord, who is connected with the Odell Manufacturing Company, one of the largest cotton mills in the South, and who has been spending several weeks with his relatives here, left for his home last Monday. Mr. Barrow is enthusiastic over cotton factories as town builders, and expressed himself as very desirous of having Louisburg invest in an enterprise of this kind. We inquired of him why it was that our moneyed men were so slow in uniting and erecting a factory knowing as they do the great benefits to be derived?

He answered by saying it is because they were not able to see immediate and satisfactory results, along financial as well as other lines, which arises from a lack of information, accurate knowledge as to many advantages for future development as well as many helps always following in the wake of these enterprises.

Answering questions as to development of the community and surrounding country, in which cotton factories are established, he said:

1. It gives employment to numbers of people, who increase largely the consumption of merchandise and materials along different lines.
2. It opens a market, and a permanent one, too, and gives evidences of lasting benefits to the farmers, and here he remarked that the farmers of Cabarrus county could not, for hardly any consideration, be induced to surrender or remove their manufacturing interests from the county.

3. They open up and bring with them machine shops, repair shops and various adjunct incident only to manufacturing interests, and with these come intelligent citizens who add, not only to the material strength of a town, but to its strength in many ways.

4. Speaking as to the Odell Manufacturing Company, he said the social and moral status of cotton mill operatives can be largely improved by contact with them in their daily life, the establishment of churches and Sunday schools and then giving these the personal help advice and moral strength as is the case with the mill referred to.

In reference to profits and benefits accruing to stockholders, he replied by saying that cotton factories establish and make permanent the value of all other property. They secure a permanent investment of from eight to twenty-five per cent and open the field for outside capital to invest, for capitalists are not afraid to make investments where there are cotton factories to insure their safety. In regard to building cotton mills he replied that in the Piedmont section, whenever competent parties wanted to erect a cotton mill, they only had to make it known, when they at once found a unanimity of effort, and a necessary combination of capital to complete the plan. However much they may differ along other lines, they are always united and come together on the subject of a cotton mill for they know what it means to a town, county and State. He further replied that he had in mind some citizens, who if he could only have with him in Concord for 24 hours no argument would be necessary to convince them.—Louisburg Times.

Every indication points to the fact that the Eastern Democrats who left the party in 1896 are coming to feel that duty demands that they reunite with the party in consideration of newer issues that they consider of greater importance.

It is the things we do not do that make us weary of life.

Hardly anybody is as sure of himself as he would have people believe.

A sanguine disposition is one that can continue to hope for something which it knows won't happen.

An Item for Consolation.

The advertiser must not look for the returns too quickly. He has, if he is a new advertiser, to build up the public confidence, and it takes time to do this. ### Joke On a Judge.

The latest joke that is told on one of our State Judges (and it is all true) is at the expense of Judge Robinson, who himself is as fond of a joke as anybody. And, in order that our readers may appreciate and understand the joke, we would state that the Latin phrase "damnum absque injuria" is a term in law that is used to designate damage without violation of any legal right, and gives no cause of action.

At a recent court, in the trial of a suit, the defendant's attorney asked the Judge to dismiss it because there was no legal cause of action. The Judge did so, and in doing so said it was a 'damnum absque injuria' case. An old preacher in the court-house, who heard these words and did not understand Latin, was greatly shocked, and going out on the street declared that "that old Roman Catholic Judge ought to be impeached for cussin in court!"—Pittsboro Record.

The Jewish New Year.

On Monday next will begin one of the most important of the religious celebrations of the Hebrew people, the beginning of the Jewish new year. The festival, which is of very ancient origin, commences in reality Tuesday, but, owing to the custom of the Jews in dating their days from sunset to sunset, it will be ushered in Monday night.
