DREYFUS FOUND GUILTY.

Court Stood 5 to 2--Sentenced 10 Years.

Special to Reflector.

Rennes, Sept. 9.—After a short deliberation by the Judges of the Court Martial today, Dreyfus was again found guilty. Troops are thickly massed about the Lycee and other public places in the city to prevent an uprising.

The court stood five to two for conviction. Dreyfus was sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the military fortress on Devil's Island. He gets credit on the sentence for the four years he has already served.

Dreyfus shows that he is suffering under this further degradation unjustly heaped upon him.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Miss Annie Davidson, a young lady of Chapel Hill, committed suicide Wednesday night, by taking laudanum. Disappointment in love is given as the cause.

Two little girls in Durham were painfully scalded by spilling a bowl of hot soup.

Governor Russell has employed Augustus M. Moore, of Greenville, to assist Solicitor Daniel in the prosecution of James Sears, the overseer formerly under the employ of Lewis Summerell at the Northampton prison farm, and who is charged with the murder of the convict James Lowe.—Raleigh Post.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

A hurricane wrecked the Court House and Winfield, W. Va., Wednesday.

Great damage was done at Bowling Green, Ohio, Tuesday night, by a tornado.

James H. Johnson, late sergeant First New Hampshire Volunteers, has been appointed second lieutenant and assigned to the Forty-sixth Infantry.

The yellow fever at Key West, Fla., grows worse. Several new cases are reported every day. New Orleans also has a few cases.

In Robertson county, Ky., James Campbell was asphyxiated by foul gas while digging a well. His brothers, William and Henry, went into the well to try to save him, and lost their lives in the attempt.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Sept. 9, '99

The sick people in the neighborhood seem to be getting along very well.

J. D. Cox who has been spending several weeks at Seven Springs, is home again.

Brick making is in progress here again, which makes the brick-yard about the liveliest place in town.

Miss Annie Wyatt, of this place, who is acting as organist at the Ayden meeting this week, is stopping with friends over there.

All those who are interested in the Winterville Academy, please remember that the coming session of that school opens Oct. 2nd, and that those who can start at first always have the best showing.

The price of Wire Fence is high now, but it continues to get higher as the price of wire advances. If you want to know the best thing to do about getting some fence, you can't do better than to see G. W. Parker, Gen. M'gr. of Winterville Fence Co.

It seems that A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. can't get any wagons ahead, as people take them as fast as they are made. However, they are laying in a lot of cart-bodies, wheels &c. If you intend to purchase a cart, keep your eyes open and don't let some one else get the one you want.

LOOK HERE.

We mean look here in the store of B. F. Manning & Co. and see what changes they are making. Have just put in some new counters, and are now putting up all kinds of racks to hang goods on, so as to make room for their new lot of beautiful furniture. There will be no harm done if you come and take a peep at those elegant bedroom sets.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by The Orange Va. Observer.

Pride has two seasons—a forward spring and an early fall.

The best religion makes a man pray briefly and give freely.

One half the world doesn't know how the other half lies—but its beginning to find out.

A man may be known by the company he keeps, but he is better known by the amount of money he possesses.

"He was dead in old Kentucky," will be the next song if the present campaign of personalities is kept up in that State.

Art thou lonesome, gentle oyster, in that thing they call a stew, apart from all thy kith and kin, how is it now with you?

From her bonny blue eyes has fled the light, and sad is the heart of the maid, for she went to the circus the other day and drank of the red lemonade.

Some men who sing with great unction "When I can read my title clear to mansions in the skies," had better pay the preacher, for at present they have no title up there.

Two or three good factories would add greatly to the business of Greenville.

ON BOARD TRAIN,

Sept. 7th, 1899,

DEAR BILLIE:

Please tell the good people of Greenville and Pitt county that I am looking after their interest and buying the best line of Fall and Winter Goods ever purchased. Tell Eugene, Ashely and Mayo to let the stock on hand go at almost any price as I do not want to carry them over to my handsome new store. Good luck to you.

FRANK WILSON,

The King Clothier.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1899.

If France makes such a miscarriage of justice as to allow the conviction of Dreyfus, as the late dispatches from the trial seem to indicate will be done, every other country ought to withdraw support or encouragement to the exposition France is expecting to hold next year in Paris. The republic or nation that is guilty of such an outrage is entitled to neither the respect nor the consideration of civilized countries. The Dreyfus trial is the greatest farce of the age and he should be given his liberty.

Since the above was in type THE REFLECTOR received a special this afternoon saying Dreyfus was found guilty. It is a gross outrage, and the civilized nations of the world ought to compel France to release him.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington City, Sept. 8, '99.

Democratic success in the Ohio campaign will spell defeat for the Republicans in the National campaign. That much is already plainly apparent, young as the campaign is. The advantage of this situation are altogether on the side of Democracy. Mr. McKinley knows that his chances for next year will vanish if he fails to hold Ohio this year; also, that carrying Ohio this year will add practically nothing to Republican chances of success next year. That is why the situation is so advantageous to Democrats. If they can carry Ohio it will practically settle the Presidential election a year ahead, and if they fail to carry it, the failure will not injure the party's prospects. It isn't only from Democratic party leaders that good news from Ohio comes. It comes also from long-headed business men, such as Mr. H. Krucken, of Cincinnati, who said, while in Washington: "The Democracy of Ohio has a golden opportunity, in my opinion, to elect its candidates in the coming election. John R. McLean has many elements of strength, but his greatest hope is in the intense dissatisfaction that has grown up against the leaders and policies of the Republicans. The chief hostility is against Senator Hanna, and many and keen are the knives that will be wielded against him. In fact, the discontent is growing stronger each day, and if a political revolution is not brewing, I am greatly deceived."

The Industrial Commission created by the last Congress, is again holding daily sessions in Washington, the particular subject now under investigation being trusts. The Commission has authorized some of its members to attend the conference on trusts, to be held at Chicago next week, under the auspices of the Civic Federation, but the Republicans being in the majority, the Commission took especial pains to instruct its representatives to that conference that they should be merely onlookers, without any authority to do or say anything that will commit the Commission in any way. This is only one of many indications showing the real attitude of the Republican party towards trusts. It seems farcical for the Commission to send representatives to the trust conference, if they are merely to be dummies. But doing farcical things has long been a Republican specialty.

What Right?

If a person is charged with a crime, he or she has a right to a fair, legal trial. The counsel for such person should endeavor to obtain a fair trial for the accused, but should not seek to defeat the ends of justice by screening or harboring the guilty. A lawyer should not seek to brow-beat witnesses, nor deceive juries; nor should a man who is opposed to capital punishment sit on a jury. He should state to the court that he is unfit to set on a jury because he is opposed to the law which says a murderer shall be hung. Such a man has no right to sit on a jury and if he is honest he will tell the court he is opposed to capital punishment.

When one is legally convicted of a crime then his duty is to suffer—to pay the penalty. He has no right to refuse to suffer.

It is the duty of every man to protect the innocent, and equally the duty of every man to see that those guilty of crime should be legally punished. That is the way to protect the innocent.

P. D. GOLD in Wilson Times.

Life a Fading Leaf.

The coming of winter is like the coming of old age. It steals on us unawares. The golden days of autumn linger as though loath to leave, the late flowers bloom on in abundance and brilliancy, until some morning we awaken to the fact that the frost has put its blighting touch upon all the beauty that was with us only the day before. And so it is with old age. There comes a day when something within us fails to respond with joyful eagerness to certain demands. The sparkle of the eye is suddenly dimmed. There is a chill and a heaviness and the life we knew and the pleasures we loved are things of the past. But the change has been so gradual that one is loath to recognize it, and like the "Autocrat" of the Breakfast Table, it is only after painful experiences that the man, or woman, is willing to admit that the downward slope has been reached in the journey of life.—Orange Va. Observer.

It is probable that the coming generation may see the day when the licking and cancelling of war revenue stamps may cease, but if any one hopes that his descendants, near or remote, will live to see the day when the last pensioner is paid off, he is indulging in a hope that is vain. The pension business beats the endless chain. Commenting on the fact that there are still four widows of revolutionary soldiers on the pension rolls of the government at Washington, The Chicago News says: "At this rate the United States will be paying pensions to soldiers of the civil war or their widows well on in the last quarter of the coming century and to soldiers or their widows of the Spanish-American war nearly to the close of the first quarter of the twenty-first century. It takes a long time to close up the expense account of a war."—Charlotte Observer.

Taxes, Taxes!

The tax book for the town has been turned over to me and I am now ready to write receipts for the tax payers. I can be found every afternoon at the store of J. S. Smith. The dog tax is also due and if you want to keep the police from shooting your dog, you had better apply to me at once and get a badge for your dog.

The Fairness of the "Reform" Papers.

The fusion newspapers have been as dumb as an oyster in regard to the exposures made by the legislative committee about the mismanagement of the penitentiary and Agricultural Department. The readers of those papers, unless they heard it from other sources, would never know that any such exposures had been made. They would never know from the fusion papers that one white convict had been murdered—had been brutally beaten to death—and that others had to have their fingers and toes amputated because they were frost-bitten while forced to work in the wheat fields during bitter cold weather. None of these barbarous cruelties were published in the "reform" newspapers. Nor did these "reform" newspapers publish anything about the extravagance, if not corruption, exposed in the fusion mismanagement of the Agricultural Department. Why not?—Chatham Record.

Washington, Sept. 7.—There is more gold in the Treasury today than the government has ever had before in one year. The net inflow of gold during the year ending Sept. 7, 1900, was $251,628,132. The amount never reached $20,000,000 until August last when it was a little more than $217,000,000. The actual amount of gold coin in the Treasury today was $105,812,840, and of gold bullion $128,807,821, making a total of $234,620,661, of which gold certificates to the value of $73,090,629 are outstanding.

A Gross Imposition on the Honest. It was the remark of a well-known Charleston official, in a position to know what he was talking about, that he knew men scrupulously honorable in all the affairs of business and private life who found it impossible to tell the truth in their tax returns. It is lamentable to find that similar conditions obtain in Connecticut, for the New Haven Register, referring to the payment of less than $9,000 income tax in the State of South Carolina, says: "The inference is that a law which must depend for its efficacy on common honesty is doomed to be an abject failure—in South Carolina or anywhere else. It is a gross imposition on the conscientious minority."—Charleston News and Courier.

No need of making any mistakes in styles if you trade at the right place. And if this store was not entitled to that designation, we would not be doing the business we do. You are not supposed to be "up" on every late fashion plate and change, but we are. And we do so keep up to date. It is not enough for us to sell you anything and everything. We are impelled by business honesty and principle to sell you the latest and most stylish goods. This is our duty as progressive merchants and we aim to meet the same on all occasions. Our stock is in style, new style, this season's style. When you buy here, therefore, be assured of one certain basic fact: you are procuring the latest, you are wearing what was made to wear at just this time, and, therefore, the most fashionable to be had.
