TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1899.

Another big Republican of the State, J. C. L. Harris, is credited with saying that it is impossible to defeat the Constitutional Amendment that is to be voted on next year.

Mr. J. P. Caldwell, editor of the Charlotte Observer has gone to Europe to spend a short vacation in rest and recreation. His brethren over the State wish him a pleasant journey and safe return home.

It has been referred to time and time again by the press of the State, that it is to the shame of North Carolina that many of her good and respected citizens who have been so unfortunate as to become demented, are confined in the common jails because there is no room for them in the State hospitals. It has been said that not more than half the State's insane can be provided for in her hospitals. Sunday's Charlotte Observer contains three columns of extracts from letters pleading for admission that have recently been received by Dr. Murphy, Superintendent of the hospital at Morganton. These letters tell pitiable stories of suffering, much of which might be removed if the State made ample provision for taking care of her unfortunate ones. North Carolina should do more along this line.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11, '99
"End the war in the Philippines speedily, or the result will be disastrous to you and to the Republican party." That is the sum and substance of what is being daily dinned into the ears of Mr. McKinley, not by his opponents, but by leading Republicans, who know how unpopular that war is becoming all over the country. Mr. McKinley is gradually becoming convinced that the reaction in public sentiment concerning his Philippine policy, predicted more than a year ago by Col. Bryan, is at hand, and once fully convinced, there is no telling what he may do for this country has never had a President who feared the public sentiment of the country as much as Mr. McKinley does, or who tried so hard to make his official acts meet its approval, regardless of his own opinion.

The most striking thing connected with the hearing on trusts, by the Industrial Commission, was a daring and somewhat scandalous attack upon Vice-Chairman Philips of the Commission, who is connected with an independent oil company Pennsylvania, by officials of the Standard Oil Trust. Mr. Philips denied the charge that he had been mixed up in an offer to dicker with the Standard Oil Trust, but the charge left a bad taste in everybody's mouth, and is not calculated to add anything to the prestige of the Commission, which isn't any too great at best.

Senator Stewart is a fine specimen of stalwart radicalism in all his views. He never trims on any question, and conservatism is unknown to his mind. He has got it in for France for several reasons, the latest of which is the second conviction of Dreyfus, and says that country really has no government at all, and that we should break off diplomatic relations until France gets a government. The Senator threatens to offer a joint resolution to that effect when Congress meets; also a bill repealing all official recognition of the exposition at Paris, next year.

The administration appears to be still determined to leave Gen. Otis in supreme command in the Philippines, although Secretary Root is understood to have recommended a change, and to favor sending Gen. Miles over there. There is politics in this determination, and it isn't the sort of politics that reflects any credit upon Mr. McKinley. The Hanna crowd are afraid of Miles now, and if he should go to the Philippines and do what Otis has so signally failed to do, they would fear him still more. They know that Otis is not likely, under any circumstances, to develop popularity enough to make him a political rival of Mr. McKinley. That is why they wish to keep Otis in command, notwithstanding the overwhelming evidences from all sources, of his unfitness, not to call it by a harsher term. The agent of the nonpartisan Associated Press in a long letter from Manila, just published, after going into details, showing the failure of Otis, sums up by saying: "The secret of the whole trouble here is that the government has left a small man to deal with a most delicate problem, requiring broad statesmanship. Everyone agrees that Otis is honest, and that counts for much in a position affording such chances for dishonesty, but everyone agrees also with the most remarkable unanimity, that he has bungled affairs from the beginning."

It is evident to even the most casual observer of those political currents which are to be found by those who know how, just below the surface of party waters, that the Republican leaders are carefully paving the way to drop Mr. Hobart if they shall consider it expedient to do so. The state of Mr. Hobart's health is made the basis of all these preparatory stories. If it doesn't improve, "his family will have to vote the idea of his remaining in politics" etc. This is all tommyrot. Mr. Hobart has shown upon several occasions, during the last three months, notably by his getting Alger to resign, that his health is good enough to do what other men, not on the sick list, failed to do. His "health" is likely to remain in a precarious condition, until Boss Hanna has fully made up his mind whether it will be best to have him run again with Mr. McKinley, and he isn't likely to fully decide until the National Convention meets. Then Mr. Hobart's health will take a good or bad turn, in accordance with Hanna's decision.

After wobbling around the question for about two weeks, the War Department, under political pressure, issued the order for the enlistment of two negro regiments for the Philippines. They will bring the volunteer army up to the limit set by Congress, which it has been clear from the first that the administration intended to do.

Col. W. J. Bryan was unanimously elected a member of the Council of Administration, of the Spanish War Veterans Association, which has just closed its first encampment, in Washington, although he did not attend the encampment. Ex-Gov. Oates, of Ala., was also elected a member of the Council, as was H. H. Blunt, a Louisiana negro, who was a Lieut in the 9th Immunes. Gen. J. W. Keifer, of Ohio, was elected Commander-in-Chief of the new organization, which hopes ultimately to embrace all the state organizations of Spanish War Veterans which have been formed.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Dr. J. B. Cheshire, of Tarboro, a prominent Episcopal clergyman and father of Bishop Cheshire, died Saturday.

Rev. W. B. Oliver, a former Wilmington pastor and well known in Greenville, has accepted a call to the Baptist church in Florence, S. C.

We hear a movement is on foot to abandon the island of Portsmouth, and the inhabitants will purchase land near Beaufort on Bogue sound. The great storm has so destroyed the beach at Portsmouth, that now the tide rises around the doorsteps of the houses, so that living there is no longer possible.—Washington Messenger.

During the last campaign our barber, Mr. P. A. Cowan, adopted strict "White Government Supremacy" rules in his business, and would not attend a customer who did not recognize the "button" and stand up for the ticket. He is doing business that way yet, and says he runs his shop strictly on the "white principle" idea. He is endorsed and supported by our best citizens for the stand he takes.—Red Springs Citizen.

Frank Stocks and J. C. McGowan were before Mayor Moyer this morning for being disorderly and engaging in an affray. Stocks was assessed $5 and all the costs, and McGowan was fined $5 and no costs, the total for the two amounting to $13.15.

"We'll Do Dewey, Yes We Will," is the name of a new song published by the Groene Music Pub. Co., of Cincinnati. They will send a copy to any one for 20 cents.

We have just received a large lot of sample Gauze for Men, Ladies Vests, summer weight. Cheap. J. C. COBB & SON.

If the sales for the next three days are as large as for the last two, the Greenville market will sell a million pounds of tobacco this week.

At Rest.

The funeral of Mrs. Dr. Brown took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends. Services were held in the Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. I. A. Canfield, and were concluded at the grave.

The pall bearers were Mayor J. G. Moye and Messrs. H. Harding, F. G. James, W. B. Wilson, R. R. Cotten and C. C. Vines.

Coming Eastward.

We hear it intimated that some very prominent capitalists of the State who have money to invest are considering the advisability of building a railroad from Raleigh to penetrate this eastern country. From what we can learn their proposed line is by way of Wilson, Greenville, Washington, Bellhaven and on into Hyde county. Such a road would open an undeveloped section of country that is rich in resources, and it would prove a profitable investment. THE REFLECTOR hopes it will come.

The Charlottesville, Va., Progress, in discussing an old, old subject, brings out the following truths: "The advantages of spending your money at home, of building up local enterprises and of encouraging a public pride in your own community, are too obvious to require enumeration. Local success is contagious and local failures affect a whole community. One cannot withdraw from local circulation the dollars with which to enrich a foreign concern without decreasing his his own chances of success. He cannot encourage foreign enterprises without weakening the foundation upon which rests his own hopes of prosperity. Every dollar which is returned from the channel of local circulation increases the burdens upon those that remain and makes it more difficult for the merchants, professional man or laborer to obtain them."
