WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Sept. 16, '99
Mr. Jenkins is going to Bethel again today, thinking to come back tonight. They have succeeded in getting another good well in that part of town beyond the church.

It is no mistake,
That our "3 for's" take,
With those who make
A little effort, for the sake
Of home enterprise.

WINTERVILLE CIGAR COMPANY.
Dixon & Stokes handle several beeves a week now, and will be glad of regular customers both in town and out in the country.

It seems like old times to have Mrs. J. D. Cox with us again. She returned from the Springs Wednesday, and has been busy ever since fixing up her new house for boarding students.

Rev. R. W. Brown (col) a Free Will Baptist minister of this place has received a call from a church of like faith and order in Washington, N. C. for next year. If he accepts, he has our best wishes for his success.

Those preferring having their cart wheels tarred instead of painted, will find that "Spiritine" an improved mixture used by A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., is exactly what they want. Have you seen a pair coated with it?

Miss Mary Hardy has just returned from Baltimore, and you may expect to hear from Mary F. Hardy & Co. from time to time concerning their new stock of millinery. It is the largest and prettiest stock ever opened here.

New Barber Shop

Mr. S. J. Seammell, of Rocky Mount, has located here to conduct a strictly white barber shop. He is in one of the new Harrington brick stores and has only white workmen. He is fitting up a neat shop.

The Thirty-fifth Volunteer Infantry has been ordered to sail for Manila from Portland, Ore.

Miss Lizzie Foley Dead.

There were many sad hearts in Greenville Friday evening when it was announced that Miss Lizzie Foley was dead. She passed away about 5 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Foley, on Greene street. Miss Lizzie had been in feeble health for some months, and while of late her condition had grown more serious none were prepared to realize that the end was so near. She was a member of the Catholic church and also of Helena Lodge Daughters of Rebekah. Besides her mother mentioned above, deceased leaves three sisters, Mrs. T. B. Cherry and Misses Julia and Annie Foley, and one brother, Mr. Edward Foley. She also leaves a host of friends who join them in their sorrow.

The burial took place at 5 o'clock this afternoon in Cherry Hill cemetery, services being conducted by Father Quinn. The pall bearers were Dr. D. L. James and Messrs. R. Hyman, W. B. Wilson, D. E. House, N. H. Whitfield and J. M. Reuss.

The Great Wallace Shows Coming.

In point of equipment The Great Wallace Shows, which visits us shortly, is absolutely without a peer. No money is spared, no expense considered to great to obtain the best that art and ingenuity have devised in this department of industry.

All the latest improvements, [all the costly inventions and innovations in equipment are placed under contribution, and as a result Mr. Wallace can boast of three trains of cars that surpass anything in America or Europe.

The trains, owing to the new safety and labor-saving devices with which they are equipped, are a never-failing source of interest and admiration to railroad men, and they may be seen gathered around them examining and discussing the parts for hours at a time whenever the show visits an important railroad center.

It is said that Mr. Wallace's railroad equipment alone cost more than any other big show in its entirety, at Greenville on Friday Sept. 29th.

Gen. Joe Wheeler

Is now taking in the situation around Manila. Now let Uncle Sam relieve Otis and give the Old Buttermilk Ranger a half chance and you'll very soon hear the insurgents calling for the calf rope. The name Buttermilk Ranger was given to our cavalry during the '60s. An army to be victorious must have confidence in their leader. Take the record of General Jackson. Why the soldiers under him knew no such thing as defeat, and to just say that Jackson's in the rear was enough to throw consternation in the camp of the enemy. Confidence is just as important in the commercial world, and the mere mention of the name

FRANK WILSON

creates a panic in the mercantile arena. We cannot understand how we can always get in the rear of their prites, but this is easily explained. For we have a leader that knows every hog path that leads to the different manufacturing plants of this country, and keeps posted. In this way you see we only buy from first hands, thereby saving the middle man's profit. Our buyer will soon arrived in Greenville and then—

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15, '99
 The capitalists who were trying to get Mr. McKinley to mix this government up in the affairs of Santo Domingo have withdrawn the pressure, because they now believe that their man, Jiminez, who is already at the head of the provisional government, will be peacefully elected President by the people of Santo Domingo, and their business interests over there will be taken care of by him, without the direct assistance of this government. Private advices from Santo Domingo say that U. S. consular officials are quietly aiding Jiminez all they can. If that be true, they have received a tip from Washington, as otherwise they would not dare to do such a thing.

The sudden discovery, by the administration, that Porto Rico needs a civil government and the announcement that it is to be given one in advance of Congressional action, is intended more to delay the establishment of a permanent government on the island by Congress than for the benefit of the Porto Ricans. Inasmuch as the proposed civil government is to be entirely appointive from the top to the bottom, and that its every act must be approved in Washington before becoming effective, it is a rather wide stretch of the imagination to call it "home rule" for Porto Rico, as the administration shouters are doing. A Republican Senator who is classed as an administration man, although his friends know that he's rather inclined to oppose than to support anything leading towards imperialism, said of this new Porto Rican scheme: "I believe that it is the first step towards influencing Congress to defer establishing a permanent form of government for Porto Rico until after the Presidential election. Once this President-made government is in operation, plausible arguments can be presented to wait a year and see how it works, in order to get the benefit of the experience, before providing for a permanent government."

OVER THE COUNTRY.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad has subscribed $35,000 to the St. Louis, Mo., World's Fair. President McKinley has been re-elected a trustee of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Canton, O. Bishop William C. Doane, of Albany, N. Y., was robbed of $100 by pickpockets in the suburbs of Boston, Mass. Admiral Schley's friends say he may ask to be excused from taking command of the South Atlantic Squadron, as he is entitled to a better command.

The Truckers to Organize

Mr. J. Bryan Grimes, member of the State Board of Agriculture and President of the Washington Farmers' and Truckers' Association, has written to Commissioner Patterson suggesting that a meeting of the fruit and truck growers of the State be held at Raleigh for the purpose of organizing a permanent association. Mr. Grimes says "he has information that the East Carolina Fruit and Truck Growers' Association shows signs of disintegration."

The Charlottesville (Va.) Progress discusses the advertising question as follows: "Another merchant says: 'My business is too large to advertise, everybody knows it anyhow.' Well, sit still and keep quiet and you'll soon learn that people forget you, that strangers who are settling in the community and who have cash to buy with, never heard of you. These are the people who take a daily paper and who expect to find the most reliable and successful merchants advertising in it. If you follow Bre'r Rabbit's plan of action and 'lay low and say nuthin,' your big business will soon be small enough to advertise."

The Cockatoo's Nutcracker Bill.

There is a wonderful cockatoo in one of the islands of the Indian ocean, near New Guinea. It is as large as a full grown pheasant, and it is of a jet black color. The bird is remarkable for its immensely strong bill and the clever manner in which it is used. The bill is as hard as steel, and the upper part has a deep notch.

Now, the favorite food of this cockatoo is the canary nut; but there is wonderful ingenuity required to get at it, for the nut is something like a Brazil nut, but it is ten times as hard. In fact, it requires the blow of a heavy hammer to crack it. It is quite smooth and somewhat triangular in shape.

Nature appears to have given the possessor of the wonderful bill some intelligence to direct its powers, for the cockatoo takes one of the nuts edgewise in its bill and by a carving motion of its sharp lower beak makes a small notch on it. This done, the third takes hold of the nut with its claws, and, biting off a piece of leaf, retains it in the deep notch of the upper part of the bill. Then the nut is seized between the upper and lower parts of the bill and is prevented slipping by the peculiar texture of the leaf. A sharp nip or two breaks off a tiny piece of the shell of the nut. The bird then seizes the nut in its claws and pokes the long sharp point of its bill into the hole and picks out the kernel bit by bit.—Savannah News.

Fearful Tortures.

For many years I was a teacher in Afghanistan, and during my stay in that country I was often an unwilling witness of some horrible exhibitions of torture. Here is one they use in the case of women to extract testimony. It consists in prying off the finger nails by means of a small chisel or bradawl, which is shoved in slowly but firmly from the finger tip downward under the quick of the nail, which is then lifted up and out.

This is another that I once saw used in the case of a small child who would not own up to some petty theft: Sticks were thrust between its fingers and the fingers then squeezed together, so that the sticks crushed into the bones. So much for women and children. Here is a method of eliciting information from an unwilling man: The culprit is stripped to the waist, and they boiling oil is flicked on to his back. This seldom fails to find the man's tongue.

The above are the chief forms of "fahana," or torture, for the purpose of eliciting information, but it must be stated that such inflictions as nipping of noses, tearing out tongues or splitting eyeballs do not come under the heading of "fahana," they being punishments rather than tortures.—London Standard.

A Nice Little Elopement.

"There's a rather funny circumstance connected with the elopement here last week," remarked the loquacious landlord of the tavern in a remote Sussex village, says an English paper, addressing a cyclist who had stopped for refreshment.

"A young man who hadn't known her so very long ran away with the squire's daughter, and a day or two later the old gentleman sent this message by letter to his new son-in-law: 'All is forgiven. Come home.'"

"To this the young fellow telegraphed the reply: 'All won't be forgiven until I have klicked you well for letting me elope with your daughter. You'd better not be at home when I come, that's all!'" irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

Stop Slandering.
The person who stops to listen to every idle rumor, bit of gossip or slanderous tale, will lose half the valuable time of life. It is far better to go right on and pay no attention whatever to the idle people. In most cases they are not believed by people whose good opinion is worth seeking, and the gossip is a dead weight for anyone to carry. A correct life does more to rob slanderers of employment than lawsuits or shot-guns, for if the character is above reproach, the truth may be more damaging than falsehood. The busybody is a moral fiction, for the body busy has no time to engage in a work that brings such small returns. The most heartily despised person on earth is the chronic disturber of human happiness, whether in home, church school or state, and so reprehensible is the calling that no one will own it, and its most persistent followers will deny it with a vehemence worthy of a better cause, and condemn it in all others. Hence the propriety of ignoring all idle tales intended to create strife and destroy happiness and comfort.—Orange, Va., Observer.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by The Orange Va. Observer.

The wisest man is he who follows his own knows.
 The wages of sin are generally about $5 and costs.
 The most successful spark arrester is a healthy bull dog.
 Looking on the bright side of life never injures the eyesight.
 The most currency in circulation is common sense.
 An able bodied mortgage never loses interest in the old homestead.
 Some people are never happy unless they are comfortably uncomfortable.
 The stingiest of all men is he who refuses to enjoy a joke at his own expense.
 Some people get up early in the morning, and that's all they get during the day.
 If the dress reformers succeed in abolishing corsets, the dear girls will have no staying qualities left.

It's True.

That advertising doesn't pay—unless it's followed up properly.
 That an advertisement that costs nothing is usually worth nothing.
 That no advertising man ever was successful who didn't learn from his mistakes.
 That a little fire may start a big blaze—but if you don't keep on feeding it, it'll go out.
 That many a man lays a failure, due to loose business methods, at the door of his advertising department.—Plain Talk, Chicago.
