COLUMBIA AHEAD

By Telegraph to Reflector. Navesink, N. J. Oct 3.—The course of the yacht race today between the Shamrock, of England, and the Columbia, of the New York Yacht Club, was down the Jersey coast. The wind was north-east and blew twelve miles an hour.

The Shamrock crossed the line at 11:15, fifty seconds ahead, and at 11:38 had increased the lead to two minutes. At 12:10 the wind dropped to seven knots when the Columbia passed the Shamrock and easily increased her lead to ninety seconds.

Later: The Columbia turned the stake boat at 1:38 and the Shamrock at 1:40. The Columbia is still gaining.

Not the Work.

In reality it is not so much the kind of service a man or woman does that entitles him or her to respect, as the spirit and manner in which it is done. Visitors to Boston, for instance, are shown the grave at the corner of Boston Common of the originator of the Julienne soup. Kings have been known to treat with distinguished courtesy a chef who could prepare dishes as a rare art. The essential condition is excellence. Thomas Carlyle might well bare his head as he looked at the massive bridge his mason father built, and doubt whether he had in his own chosen field of work done anything so creditable.

Why should not some philanthropist endow a college of domestic science, a course in which, after completing her studies at Vassar or Wellesley or Smith, should be regarded as necessary to the rounded education of every girl who expects to be "a queen in the kingdom of home?" The first condition of securing excellence is that those seeking it should themselves know wherein true excellence consists. If the Chicago Domestic Science Association succeeds in making known to its members and others that the secret of many of the housekeeper's woes is her own lack of clear, definite knowledge of household economies, its work will not be in vain.—Chicago News.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER, 3 1899.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2, '99
 Admiral Dewey is the guest, during his present stay in Washington, of Mrs. Washington McLean, mother of Hon. John R. McLean, democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio. The ovation given him upon his arrival in Washington, and during the civic parade he reviewed, was greater than was ever given to any other individual. It was enthusiastically participated in by everybody, regardless of politics, race or sex, showing that the people recognized the difference between a real national hero and a man temporarily prominent through partisan politics. The administration would gladly have made this occasion a republican celebration, but the people would not have it that way—they are perfectly willing that the republicans should have the present war in the Philippines for their own, but they know that the war with Spain was not a republican party affair.

On, no! the rear platform speeches which Mr. McKinley is to make in Ohio are not to be political. It is just a mere coincidence that he will make speeches at Cleveland and Toledo, where the republican disaffection is strongest. At least, that is the sort of talk the republicans are handing out. Nobody believes a word of it.

The influence of Mr. McKinley is being openly used to compel the few anti-Hanna Ohio republican Federal office-holders in Washington to speak and work for the Hanna ticket. For instance, Ex-Congressman Watson, who was the source of so much worry to Boss Hanna that he was given a nice position in Washington to keep him out of the state, has gone home to take the stump for Nash, at the personal request of Mr. McKinley, although he hates Boss Hanna as the Old Boy is credited with hating a certain kind of water, and does not hesitate, when no campaign is on, to say so with emphasis.

Local protests were unavailing and that Ohio man, Gen. Thomas H. Anderson, was appointed United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, because of the exigencies of Ohio politics. Naturally enough there is much kicking, especially among the republican members of the Washington bar, who thought the place should have been given to one of their own members. Another Ohio man, Dr. A. B. Richardson, of Massillon—has been appointed Superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane (St. Elizabeth's) at Washington, although the position is in the classified Civil Service and should properly have been filled by the promotion of the Assistant Superintendent.

Quite a number of Tammany men, who came over from New York to continue the Dewey festivities, talked freely of the fight that is being waged inside that organization against Mr. Richard Croker, and some express very positive opinions that Mr. Croker would, before long recognize the inevitable and retire from the leadership to save himself from being forced out of it, and that with his retirement, there would be an end to one-man rule in Tammany.

It is difficult to resist the belief that recent popgun campaigning in the Philippines was directed from Washington for political purposes. Gen. Otis informed the country that as a part of the general forward movement, an army of three divisions, under command of Gens. McArthur, Wheeler and Wheaton advanced upon and captured Porac, which had been garrisoned by about six hundred red Filipinos. The next day it was quietly announced in the regular press dispatches that our troops have abandoned Porac and retreated to Angeles. Gen. Otis has succeeded in getting himself retained in command in the Philippines, if he hasn't succeeded in winning much from the Filipinos. His pull with the administration has proven stronger than the advice of many prominent men who thought he ought to be removed. To give him more show to justify the favors shown him, he has been sent a lot of additional staff officers, including Brigadier General Schwann who has been made his Chief of Staff and principal assistant in the administrative work of the government of so much of the Philippines as are under our flag.

Commissary General Eagan, the man who, as the result of a court-martial, is drawing full pay as a Brigadier General, without doing anything in the line of duty, is again in Washington. He has positively declined to accept the offer of some of the friends of Col. Weston, who is performing the duties of Commissary General, without receiving the proper pay therefor, to pay him the difference in cash between his salary on the retired list and what he now receives, if he would ask to be retired, so that Col. Weston could be promoted. Eagan can block Weston's promotion as long as he remains on the active list and he cannot be retired, except upon his own application, before the expiration of the five years suspension from duty.

The Old North State Forever.

Sometimes we get glimpses of sectionalism closer home than that between the North and the South; and it is always harmful wherever found. Quite a good deal has been written of late years about that part of North Carolina lying beyond the Blue Ridge in terms of the highest praise. This is all right. It is a wonderful country, full of glowing promises. It is hard to imagine what it will become when its almost limitless possibilities are developed. But occasionally an enthusiastic young man lets his zell outrun his judgment and begins to compare the people of that section to those of the East to the great disparagement of the latter. Recently we read an article along this line in which the writer claimed that all the intellectual strength of the State resided among the rugged mountain sides. Of course this is all nonsense and would be amusing if it were not so harmful. To be sure Zep Vance first saw the light among the green hills of Buncombe, but Nathaniel Macon, a stronger and a greater man, was born where the earth is as flat as a bread tray and where there is no trace of "rugged grandeur." The truth is, for every towering genius from the mountains another equally as splendid can be found from the plains of the East, where the ocean sings its unending song. We are all of one family, and it is a royal family at that, and we are at poor business to be turning up our noses at each other. Let us cultivate the spirit of fraternity more and show a brother's love the one for the other. We can not afford to be making odious comparisons on either side and especially to become inflated with the false notion that either is a whit stronger or better than the other. It is good enough to know that we were born in North Carolina at all.—Charity and Children.

Pays to Keep Cotton Clean.

It is a mistaken idea that some farmers have that it does not pay to keep their cotton clean. Mr. Jere Brown, one of our good farmers who has always been careful to keep the cotton as free from dirt and trash as possible, had two bales sold in Norfolk two or three days ago that sold above the market price. Messrs. W. D. Rountree and Company, who sold it wrote that it brought the "highest price we have heard of any cotton selling for up to the present this season."—Patron and Gleaner.

The Thomasville News puts a whole sermon into the following: Away with jealousy. Every other man has as much right to succeed as you have and more, too, provided he puts more brains, wisdom and application into his business.

Up in the north western section of Pennsylvania they have just had a four inch snow.

Fixed the Fire Anyhow.

"The worst kind of a fool in the world is a well meaning fool," said a detective slyly. "I was walking along one night in a neighborhood not necessary to specify, when up rushed a man in his shirt sleeves and grabbed me by the arm. 'Say, officer!' he exclaimed, calling me by name, 'I just saw a fellow do something that he ought to get ten years for at least. He was a big loafer in a checked suit, and I would know him again in China!'"
 "But what did he do?" I interrupted.
 "Why, I was sitting on my porch," replied the man in shirt sleeves, "and saw him go up deliberately to that letter box on the corner and drop in a lighted cigar stump. Just think of the valuable mail the scoundrel might have destroyed!"
 "Are you sure the cigar was lit?" I asked.
 "Well, I'm pretty sure," he said, "but you needn't worry. He hasn't burned up anything!"
 "How the dickens do you know he hasn't?" said I, surprised.
 "Why, I got a pitcher of water and poured it right in," said he. "I walked off. I never did find out what those letters looked like when the carrier got around."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Dies of Hydrophobia.

Asheville, N. C., September 28. —Dollie May Landreth, the 18-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Landreth, died this afternoon from the effects of what is thought by the doctors who attended the sufferer to have been a genuine case of hydrophobia.

About a month ago, while the child was playing in the hall a bull dog ran through the house with Willie Landreth, her nine-year-old brother. Dollie fell down and began to scream. Upon this the dog sprang upon her and lacerated one of her cheeks badly, and bit her severely on the other cheek.

Last Monday the child began to show symptoms similar to those observable in a slight cold and until last evening did nervous and convulsive conditions manifest themselves sufficiently to render the theory of hydrophobia tenable. Since that time, up to the moment of death, convulsions recurred with heart-rending frequency.

Youngest Railway President

Mr. Henry Clark Bridgers, of Tarboro, president of the East Carolina Railway, was in the city yesterday and called at the Railway Commission office.

Mr. Bridgers is the youngest president of a railway on record. Although not more than twenty-five years of age, he is at the head of a railroad that has seven miles of track in operation and has three hundred hands at work on the construction of a twenty-five-mile extension.

The East Carolina is being constructed from Tarboro to Snow Hill, and a large force is now engaged at work on the road. In a few weeks the extension will reach Macesfield, which is twelve miles from Tarboro.

Regular trains will be put on the road today for the first time and a schedule observed. This was President Bridgers' business here yesterday. —Raleigh Post.

Feminine Wisdom.

Men are severe critics of women; therefore, it is well to be on guard. No woman who has supped with experience ever permits a man to feel quite sure of her affection unless she be his sister or wife.

Though men laugh uproariously when the up-to-date girl tells a story not fit for her mother's ears she loses their respect forever.

When a girl has a brother who has "seen the world," as the phrase goes, she can have no better counselor when in a quandary as to propriety.

Respecting the individuality of each other will keep more people out of the Divorce Courts than honeyed protestations galore.

Girls in society write too many letters to men—in fact, those upon the fringe also are similarly foolish. Written words seem twice pertinent; remember, therefore—desist.

HIGGS & TAFT. THE FURNITURE MEN

He Was Excited One of our friends from the country, an old gentleman who seldom comes to town, was here the other day and for the first time saw a street sprinkler at work. His first view of it was when it was coming towards him. Its peculiar shape and make-up was new to him and he kept an eye on it. As it passed him he followed it with his eyes and of course saw the water spurting out. "Say," he yelled out, "you man there, you're losing all your water, the thing's busted."

Don't speak unkindly of your town. Speak a good word for it and its citizens and business men every time an opportunity is offered. You can do this without prevarication. Every town has some good points and of these you can always speak with a clear conscience. Tall is ordinarily considered cheap but the continual repetition of a story will convince the most skeptical of its truthfulness.

Lyman Barves, of Ottawa, Kan., tried to enlist in the army one day last week, but found himself four pounds short in weight. He went away and for twenty-four hours stuffed himself with food, with the result of gaining the four pounds and admission into the service. The local paper says that he ate no less than ten meals in one night and a day.

KINSTON STEAM LAUNDRY.—Hot weather, keep clean, shipment made Wednesday evening. V. J. LEE, AGT.

The frosts have put a flavor on the James grape that is something to smack the lips over. There was much frost this morning, the most that has been seen any morning so far this fall.

A special lot of silverware from Henegen Bates at Mrs. M. D. Higgs'. Beautiful articles for bridal presents. Wednesday and Thursday of this week are the days for Mrs. M. D. Higgs' millinery opening. All the ladies are invited.

Some of these days somebody is going to plant a good hotel in Greenville and make money out of the investment.

January cotton in New York opened today at 7.06 and closed at 7.09. This is nine points below the close of yesterday.

My silver from Henegen Bates has arrived. This lot was specially selected as suitable for bridal presents. MRS. M. D. HIGGS.

Some cotton patches have the appearance of all the cotton they will yield this year being picked out. That is unusual for the first week in October.

If you want to see the very prettiest and newest styles of fashionable millinery attend Mrs. M. D. Higgs' fall opening on Wednesday and Thursday.

I have just received another lot of beautiful silver, from Henegen Bates, suitable for bridal presents. Part of goods can be seen at store of J. B. Cherry & Co., and some at home of Mrs. F. G. James. MRS. J. B. CHERRY.

Don'ts For The Eyes. Don't have colored shades on the lamps. Use white or ground glass. Don't open the eyes under water in bathing, especially in salt water. Don't let any strong light, like that from electricity, shine directly into the eyes.

The State deaf mute institute at Little Rock, Ark., destroyed by fire Saturday morning. The thirty-eight inmates escaped in their night clothes. The loss to the State is estimated at $150,000.
