Dismal Swamp Canal Opened.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 15.—The famous Dismal Swamp Canal was formally opened to navigation this morning. Nearly a million dollars has been spent in reconstructing the canal, which is to meet the demands of modern traffic and is a connecting link furnishing an inland waterway from the Chesapeake Bay to Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds.

Had You Thought of It.

Major Clegg has called The Landmark's attention to two unusual facts in reference to the year 1899. It began on Sunday and ends on Sunday, and there are, therefore, 53 Sundays in the year. The last quarter of the year; October, November and December, has 14 Sundays, two of the three months having five Sundays each—which is something out of the ordinary, as usually only one month in a quarter has five Sundays.—Statesville Landmark.

Under No Obligation.

On returning from the barn early one morning the old man found his wife in tears.

"Wha'ched cryin' about, Melissy?" he inquired.

"'Nother—one—uv our darters—was stole last night," she sobbed.

"The red-headed un?" he asked, loconically.

"Yes—pore Mag—she was the best gal—"

"Bob Scuttles?"

Uv course; hasn't been no other feller waitin' on her. Ain't you goin' to pursue after 'em an' arrest em?"

"Uv course not," he replied sternly. "I'm not under obligations to help Bob Scuttles out uv no difficulty. Let him go ahead and work out his sentence, same's I've been a-doin' fur the last forty years."

Today's Race.

By Telegraph to Reflector.

New York, Oct. 19.—In third race started today Columbia crossed line at 11:00:22 and Shamrock at 11:00:50. Columbia is increasing lead.

12:47—Columbia turned outer mark with Shamrock three-quarters mile behind. It is now almost calm and there is much doubt if the race can be finished.

1:30—Bulletin about turning stake boat was an error. The yachts are now two miles from the stake boat and are almost in a calm.

The State Fair.

As we left Raleigh Wednesday thousands of people were crowding there on every train to attend the fair. In exhibits and attendance this fair is the best the State has yet had. The only exhibit there from Pitt county is that made by Riverside Nurseries, which is a creditable one. So many people attending indicates better times all over the State.

True Kings.

One of the London stationery journals constructed this ingenious play upon words: The most powerful king on earth is wor-king; the meanest king, shir-king; the most popular king, smo-king; and the leanest one, thin-king; and the slyest one, win-king; and the most garrulous one, tal-king; and the thirstiest one, drin-king. And then there is the hac king, whose trade's a perfect mine; the dark-skinned monarch, blac-king, who cuts the greatest shine; not to speak of ran-king, whose title's out of question; or famous ruler ban-king, of good finance digestion.—American Stationer.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER, 19, 1899.

Democratic Editorial Association.

At Raleigh on Tuesday afternoon was organized an association that means much for the Democratic party of the State. It was a Democratic Editorial Association. The purpose of such an organization is not that the Press will be the dictator of men or measures, but that the work all along party lines may be harmonious and concerted.

The following were elected officers:

President—W. C. Dowd, of the Charlotte News.

VICE PRESIDENTS.

- First District—C. L. Alberthy, of the Beaufort Herald.
Second District—Chas. W. Gold, of the Wilson Times.
Third District—E. J. Hale, of the Fayetteville Observer.
Fourth District—J. A. Thomas, of the Louisburg Times.
Fifth District—W. H. Thomson, of the Chapel Hill News.
Sixth District—J. G. Boylin, of the Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer.
Seventh District—A. D. Watts, of the Statesville Mascot.
Eighth District—C. R. Hoey, of the Cleveland Star.
Ninth District—M. L. Shipman, of the Hendersonville Hustler.
Secretary and Treasurer, Jas. A. Robinson, of the Durham Sun.
Orator, R. M. Furman.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

H. A. London, of the Chatham Record; Josephus Daniels, of the Raleigh News and Observer; W. C. Hammer, of the Asheboro Courier; R. M. Furman, of the Raleigh Post, and D. J. Whichard, of the Greenville REFLECTOR.

Delegates to the National Editorial Association—Josephus Daniels, of the News and Observer and J. G. Boylin, of the Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer.

Alternates—Clyde R. Hoey, of the Cleveland Star, and Chas. W. Gold, of the Wilson Times.

THE CONSTITUTION.

The constitution adopted was as follows:

Section 1. The name of this organization shall be the North Carolina Democratic Editorial Association.

Section 2. The object of this association shall be to disseminate true Democratic principles, and to secure the supremacy of the Democratic party.

Section 3. Any editor or publisher of a Democratic paper in the State of North Carolina, supporting adopted Democratic principles, platforms and nominees, may become a member of this association by a vote of a majority of the members present at any meeting, upon the recommendation of the Executive Committee, to whom application must be made.

Section 4. Persons, and not papers, shall constitute the membership of this association, and each member shall have one vote.

Section 5. Democratic editors who have rendered honorable service in the profession, upon retiring from the newspaper business may be elected honorary members of the association by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any meeting. Such members shall be entitled to attend the meetings of the association and exercise all the rights of active members except voting and holding office.

Section 6. Any member who shall violate any of the rules of the association, or who shall be guilty of conduct unbecoming a member of the association, may be expelled by a two-thirds vote of all the members at any meeting.

Section 7. The officers of the association shall consist of a president one vice-president from each Congressional district, a secretary and treasurer, orator and an executive committee of five members, who shall hold their offices for one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Section 8. The president shall preside at all meetings of the association, and shall call special meetings thereof upon the request of a majority of the executive committee. In his absence from meetings the vice-presidents in their order shall preside.

Section 9. The secretary and treasurer shall keep a correct record of the proceedings of the association and shall superintend the publication of the same. He shall keep a minute book containing a record of the association and a correct roll of the members. He shall collect membership fees, annual dues and other funds of the association, and shall pay out moneys only on the order of the executive committee.

Section 10. The executive committee shall meet annually at any place that may be selected by the president, not less than thirty days previous to the annual meeting of the association, to make arrangements for the ensuing meeting, and to transact such other business of the association as may come within the province of the committee.

Section 11. Vacancies occurring in any office, except that of president, during the interval between meetings may be filled by the executive committee for the unexpired term.

Section 12. The association shall meet annually at such time and place as may have been selected at the last preceding meeting. The association may omit to designate the time or place of meeting, in which case the executive committee shall select the same. Such meetings may be held at such time and place as the president may designate, whenever requested so to do by the executive committee.

Section 13. This constitution may be altered or amended at any meeting of the association by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

This constitution was voted upon by sections and adopted.

Dangerous Trading. Upon returning to camp we found that John, the driver, had purchased a load of pumpkins, which the native men and women from the Mazoe valley had brought to the wagon to barter. At first I was pleased, but when I found that John had traded away about 20 pounds of preservative, consisting of alum and arsenic, which he had mistaken for salt, I was filled with dismay! We knew not the villages whence the natives had come, nor could we explain the mistake, as we were ignorant of their language; and before my scared mental vision rose piles of dead Mashonas, pestilence and war on the whites—provided there remained enough live Mashonas to make it.

Hence it was that before daylight the next morning we left for the fort. We made no mention of the matter to any one, but a year later, when visiting the Mazoe valley, I inquired of the natives if there had been any disease among them about the time when the white men arrived in the country. They said there had been an epidemic of stomach aches, but, fortunately, no one had died from it; so my conscience was profoundly relieved.—"On the South African Frontier."

Ingersoll and Delaware.

"The late Colonel Ingersoll had but little use for the state of Delaware," said Mr. E. V. Turner of Wilmington.

"His aversion had its origin in a statement made by Chief Justice Joseph P. Comegys, now deceased. Some years ago Ingersoll delivered in Wilmington one of his most scathing lectures against Christianity. Its delivery stirred up the preachers and the religious people mightily, and the chief justice, who was a man of deep piety, made a public statement that if the great agnostic came there any more he would arrest and try him for blasphemy. The justice also called the attention of the grand jury to the lectures.

"Ingersoll was, of course, ready with his retort when he heard of what the jurist had said. He stigmatized Delaware as a state that had but three counties at low water and only one at high tide; that it was inhabited chiefly by oysters and clams, whose only reason for not migrating was that they had no legs. But, all the same, Colonel Bob didn't come to our town to lecture again."—Washington Post.

Becoming a British Subject.

It is an easy thing to become a British subject. All that an alien has to do is to declare his intention to reside within the British dominions on leaving his own country, and forthwith he takes out his naturalization papers, issued to him by the secretary of state upon his taking the oath of allegiance.

These papers invest him with the rights and privileges of a Britisher, except that he is barred from becoming a privy councillor or a member of parliament and also barred from accepting office under the crown. But if an alien be naturalized by special act of parliament passed for his own benefit then he becomes as much a British subject and has all the rights and privileges as though a native.

Sweet Innocence.

"When I grow up," said Ethel, with a dreamy, imaginative look, "I'm going to be a schoolteacher."

"Well, I'm going to be a mamma and have six children," said Edna.

"Well, when they come to school to me I'm going to whip 'em, whip 'em, whip 'em."

"You mean thing!" explained Edna as the tears came into her eyes. "What have my poor children ever done to you?"

A Sad Discovery.

An old woman from Tasmania, sauntering through the chamber of horrors at Melbourne wax works, in Australia, recognized the figure of a hanged murderer (George Chamberlain) as that of her long lost son. Up to then the poor old woman had been hoping that her offspring would turn up at any time with an affectionate greeting and a big bag of money for mother.

Been Married Nine Times.

Wesley James, an old negro, whose home is in Charlotte, has one of the most remarkable histories we have ever heard of. He has been married nine times. Eight of his wives are dead and he now lives with the ninth. He is 75 years old and is hale and hearty. His oldest children, twins, are 55 years old, and his youngest, twins also, are twelve months old. James says he is the father of 56 children and many of them he has not heard from in years. The old negro lives in Rhyne's alley, between Brevard and Caldwell streets, and he is the authority for these statements.—Charlotte News.

A shirt factory is to be established at Scotland Neck. It will furnish employment, it is said, to 125 people. It is expected to be in operation by the last of December.
