STORM TIDINGS.

Nothing From Ocracoke Yet. Damage at Morehead. Enormous Destruction at Wilmington and Southport.

No report has yet reached this city from Ocracoke or Portsmouth. It should come today but no one knows whether it will be good or bad. The effect of the new inlets cut through in the August storm may have been to lessen the height of the tide, to keep it from banking up so high on the change of wind.

The report from Morehead City and Beaufort is of an extraordinary high tide and great velocity of wind, and considerable damage in both places. Small buildings along the water front were demolished and water did considerable damage to goods in the stores.

The dock at Oriental, on the Neuse river has been carried away.

A message to the Journal from Swansboro, Onslow county, received last night, is as follows:

"The severest storm that Swansboro ever witnessed began last night about 12 o'clock by the rising tide and heavy winds from the southeast. The tide was higher than it has been known by the oldest citizens, washed down houses along the water front, blew down trees, etc. The fishermen will bear the heaviest loss, as their boats were washed to pieces and their nets and seines were lost. Mr. Prettyman lost 100 or 200 logs from his mill. Mr. J. A. Pittman's barn blew down damaging his buggies, etc. The loss is pretty heavy.

"A three masted schooner is wrecked on Bogue Inlet. The pilots from Swansboro went down to see after the schooner, but being so rough they could not get to it.

It is supposed that the crew are on her safe. The pilots could not get near enough to tell her name.

They will go to her tomorrow. This is something for the Government to look in to in regards to a life saving station being put on Bogue Inlet. It is doubtful whether the crew will be alive tomorrow morning or not."

In this city yesterday it was a case of "house cleaning." The authorities were busy all day clearing wreckage out of the streets and the wood yard men were carting back their piles of wood. The mill men were looking after the logs that escaped from the pens and righting up the scattered and damaged lumber.

The E. C. Dispatch had a busy time tracing up and reclaimed cotton bales and barrels of flour. About a hundred bales of cotton that went off the dock were found up the Trent river and returned by boatmen who were paid so much a bale for it. Only 15 or 20 bales are now missing. Twenty-five barrels of flour were found and will be brought down. The clearing up seems to confirm the estimate already made that the loss in this city is about $40,000.

The storm was of wide extent, reaching along the coast from Norfolk to Charleston. An enormous amount of damage was done at all the coast resorts. The greatest damage reported is from the vicinity of Wilmington. A mile of railroad trestle of the Wilmington Seacoast road was carried away involving a loss of $50,000. The damage to the cottages at Ocean View is put at $25,000 and at Wrightsville it is $8,000.

At Carolina Beach, 15 miles below Wilmington eighteen cottages were carried away, only half a dozen buildings remaining. At Southport, at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, the wind reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour. The river front was wrecked. Two Conference Will Decide.

The trustees of the Methodist orphanage will leave to the conference of the church, at its meeting next month, the selection of the donation under the provisions of the will of the late A. F. Page.

It will be recalled that Mr. Page gave the orphanage the Academy Music building with the understanding that half of the rents were to go to Mrs. Page during her lifetime. In the event of a declination of this offer Mr. Page provided that the orphanage should receive $5,000 in cash.

There is some opposition to the orphanage accepting the Academy because it is a theatre. The Academy building is worth all of $20,000 and a refusal on the part of the orphanage to accept the gift would mean a loss of $15,000 to the institution.

An Honest Man.

It has been well said that "An honest man is the noblest work of God." We are reminded of this in the hearing of the death of the venerable Wesley Cole, who recently died in his 88th year. One incident in his life illustrates an honesty that is as unusual as it was most commendable. Many years ago, shortly after the war, he sold a wagon-load of wheat at Bynum's Mill, and some weeks thereafter he came back and returned part of the money, saying that he had found out that he had been paid more than the market price of his wheat!

The sons and grandchildren of such a man may well be proud of him. -Pittsboro Record.

Wednesday's Charlotte Observer says: The Asheville Gazette of yesterday devotes two columns of editorial space to the letter of Chairman Simmons, published in today's papers, and to the citations which he made from The Asheville Citizen with reference to the Gazette's suddenly fierce antagonism to the proposed constitutional amendment. The Gazette attacks Mr. Simmons and The Citizen, bringing counter-charges against them, but has very little to say in regard to the charges made. Beyond the statement that it has already called The Citizen a liar on account of the imputations that its paper had put upon it. Its reader will not strike candid words as a sufficient refutation of the accusation that its expressions in regard to the amendment have been bought with money. This has been distinctly alleged. If it is not true The Gazette has been libelled and has its remedy at law. If it is innocent it should not lose a moment in bringing its accusers to book.

A Smile in Each.

Coal is a weighty problem. There's a mix up in hot drinks. Drum music is measured by the pound. A sign of the times is the "shut the door" legend. The catfish is not musical. It doesn't even have scales. No man would like his wife to know exactly what he thinks of himself.

The young father with the baby carriage manages to get in the push. When it comes to a choice of professions the day laborer can always take his pick.

Blobbs—"A man out West traded his wife for a jack knife." Slobb—"Well, you can shut up a jack knife."

Henpeckke—"I never realized before what a sublime hero Dewey is." Oldbach—"What's up?" Henpeckke—"Why, he's going to get married again."

Ye modest maids prepare To douse your glims, For all the trees are bare, With naked limbs!

The man with horse sense nowadays is taking considerable stock in automobiles.

If cold contracts it's funny that one will make a fellow's head feel as big as a house.

Common sense is by no means common.

New Confidence Game.

Our readers are warned against a new confidence game which is being worked by an ingenious gentleman of New England:

He writes to the selected victim that he has been recommended to him as an honest man, and would it be possible for him (the victim) to go on a little journey to Cuba, to dig up from a certain place and bring away a fabulous sum buried there during the Spanish-American war by a rich American now in jail.

The confidence man states that he is too busy himself, hence cannot go, and winds up by modestly asking the victim to send five dollars to pay the expense of some legal expenditures.

Perhaps some of our readers have already received such letters, as they are being circulated in North Carolina.—Ex.

Of course an editor or paper may oppose or advocate the suffrage amendment without being bribed or bought, but it is openly charged and generally believed that the editor of the Asheville Gazette and his paper have been bought to oppose it. This is the only instance that we can recall in North Carolina, where an editor and his paper have been publicly charged with being bought to oppose or advocate any proposition that is to be voted on.

And yet such a paper is being extensively circulated throughout the State for the purpose of influencing honest men!—Pittsboro Record.

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS
THE "NECESSARY" MAGAZINE
The best-informed men and women in the world use the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS to keep well informed, and call it the "necessary" and "indispensable" magazine. In the busy rush of to-day ambitious men and women must know about the important questions of the month, and not only this, they want to know about them at the right time. When the whole country is puzzled over the gigantic combination of trusts, a well-informed article is printed in the AMERICAN MONTHLY, giving the facts, and its editor discusses the theory; when the Dreyfus affair is in everyone's mouth, the best story of Dreyfus and the great case comes out in this magazine.
Every month, in "The Progress of the World," Dr. Albert Shaw gives a comprehensive picture of the world's history during the previous thirty days. In the departments, the valuable articles and books that have been published during the past month are reviewed and quoted from, so that the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY can get the gist of them. In every issue nearly a hundred pictures are printed, including the portraits of the men and women who are making the history of the month.
To be thoroughly well informed helps any man or woman in his or her work. A subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS represents an investment for the best kind of profit, as well as entertainment. ### TOWN MATTERS.

Board of Aldermen Have Another Busy Session.

The Board of Aldermen had their regular monthly meeting Thursday night, the meeting being held in the new hall. From some cause enough members to make a quorum were a little late coming in, so that it was about 9 o'clock when the business proper began. The session continued until midnight.

J. S. Tunstall, who was elected Alderman from the Fifth ward to succeed N. H. Whitfield, resigned, came forward and took the official oath.

The finance committee reported $812.62 in the treasury, but added that they did not think this amount would be sufficient to pay off all the claims to be allowed at this meeting. This proved true, for when all the bills were in the aggregate amounted to $1,119.12. This will occasion no inconvenience, however, as the Tax Collector will get a hustle after the folks and soon turn in enough. The large expenditures this month was due to putting in the tiling near the Presbyterian church, rebuilding the roadway leading to the wharf and paying a note that was due on the fire engine, the latter alone being nearly $400.

The Street Committee made report of the work done under their direction during the past month and recommended the purchase of a car load of assorted tiling to be used in making the drains on the streets better. This recommendation was adopted and the committee was authorized to purchase the tiling.

The Lights and Wells Committee reported everything getting on satisfactory in their department.

The Cemetery Committee reported the work done to the cemetery.

The Market House Committee reported everything in good shape, but not as many tenants as can be accommodated.

The special committee appointed to secure counsel to defend the town in a suit for damages brought by E. C. Williams reported that they had secured Jarvis & Blow and F. G. James, and the memorandum of agreement between the committee and the attorneys was presented to the Board and adopted.

The Tax Collector and Policemen made report of the collections made by each during the past month, and the allowing of accounts and attending to some minor matters constituted the remainder of the business transacted.
