WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Nov. 4, '99

Our school is on a boom, being all that could be expected.

B. F. Manning & Co. have just closed out a lot of 45 bales of cotton. People speak well of our cotton market.

The Wiley Literary Society has revived again with the opening of the school. Meetings every Friday night. Outsiders are put on duty for debate whenever they wish.

A. G. Cox is having a nice pair of three ton scales put up near his office. They will be a great convenience for the place, and are amply sufficient at present.

It has been reported that the cigar factory had shut down. Such is not the case however. Our goods since getting better introduced are taking well, and there is a steady demand to be supplied.

WINTERVILLE CIGAR CO.

Orders for cotton planters are coming in all ready. However it will be two or three months before the rush comes. In the meantime let us have your order for that wagon or cart which you have been needing so long.

A. G. COX MFG. CO.

A dusky damsel of the dark-hued species, with ebony locks and piercing black eyes, from way down in the swamps of old Swift Creek, came the other day sauntering into our town in gala dress, inquiring the whereabouts of Miss Mary Hardy's "Malumpertary Shop," to which she was most politely conducted by "Handsome Harper" of Manning's. After gracefully rendering her "courtesy" she proceeded to interview our popular milliner as to the prices of head gear. Becoming fully satisfied as to price and quality (as all must do who patronize this fashionable emporium) she procured a bonnet with feathers red and blue and ribbons variegated in color. This on her head with her high water homespun dress and cow tan shoes, in parading our streets she was a menagerie all in herself second only to Barnum.

Mr. Nash Edwards' little baby, which has been sick so long, died last night. Burial will be at the old Bryant Hardee grave yard near Red Banks church. The bereaved parents have our sympathy.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The lynching of a negro in Kansas is another indication that sectional lines are gradually being wiped out.

President McKinley seems to think that flagflapping if sufficiently vigorous will cover all kinds of blunders.

An Ohio postmaster died the other day and the pall bearers were selected from among the applicants for the vacant job.

While General Otis may in theory be a rabid expansionist, in practice he has done but little towards expanding beyond Manila.

We fancy there will be a very interesting time when the Civil Service Commissioners call down Mark Hanna for his part in the campaign fund soliciting circular.

If the trust issue can be fairly presented and squarely voted upon next year the politicians of Mr. Hanna's school will find that the people will not elect a monopoly breeder to put down monopolies.

The Civil Service Commission talks of making trouble for the Ohio Republican politicians who sent out the Burdell circular levying contributions on Federal office holders, but no word of condemnation has come from President McKinley.

The Administration organs that are taking sides with the English in the war to crush the South African republics are at least consistent. They would be ridiculous to sympathize with the Boers while approving our own expansion by armed force.

The fact that President McKinley regards himself as the instrument of Providence in assimilating the Filipinos with bullet and bayonet, may have had some weight in leading him to conclude that it is not "expedient" to make an effort to save the little republics in South Africa from similar assimilation by the English monarchy.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3, '99.

Mr. McKinley has played his last card in his effort to prevent Ohio going democratic, and he is by no means confident of its winning. Finding that the Philippine Commission was not likely to get out its preliminary report, on the hints given to its members, in time to influence the voters, he sent for the members to come to the White House, and told them in person to get up a preliminary report at once. The Commissioners had not been out of the White House an hour before the press was furnished semi-officially with a statement saying that this preliminary report would be a thorough endorsement of the administration's Philippine policy from a to z, and that it would recommend the permanent retention of the Philippines by the U. S. In short, the Philippine Commission is going to report what Mr. McKinley wishes them to report—what he and members of his administration have been talking for weeks. Yet, he imagines that this report is going to influence public opinion sufficiently to stop the alarming increase of adverse criticism of his Philippine policy. He will know better by and by. Men who draw big salaries for small work may be willing to have their opinions made for them, but the people at large, who are under no obligations to the administration, have a habit of doing their own thinking.

THE "NECESSARY" MAGAZINE

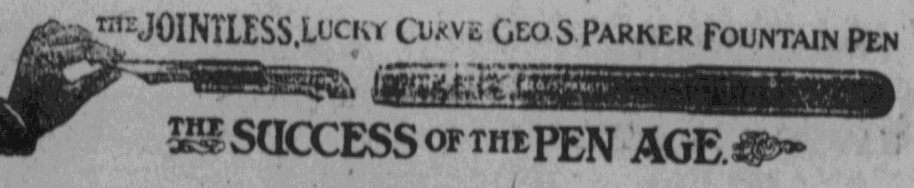

The best-informed men and women in the world use the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS to keep well informed, and call it the "necessary" and "indispensable" magazine. In the busy rush of to-day ambitious men and women must know about the important questions of the month, and not only this, they want to know about them at the right time. When the whole country is puzzled over the gigantic combination of trusts, a well-informed article is printed in the AMERICAN MONTHLY, giving the facts, and its editor discusses the theory; when the Dreyfus affair is in everyone's mouth, the best story of Dreyfus and the great case comes out in this magazine.

Every month, in "The Progress of the World," Dr. Albert Shaw gives a comprehensive picture of the world's history during the previous thirty days. In the departments, the valuable articles and books that have been published during the past month are reviewed and quoted from, so that the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY can get the gist of them. In every issue nearly a hundred pictures are printed, including the portraits of the men and women who are making the history of the month.

To be thoroughly well informed helps any man or woman in his or her work. A subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS represents an investment for the best kind of profit, as well as entertainment. One subscriber has just written: "Count me a life subscriber, and when you send me a number beyond the limit of my subscription and secure no renewal from me, consider it a notice of my death."

Parvin, the clever commander of the steamer Myers, was up town today for the first time in uniform, and his host of friends were greeting him with a regular Admiral's salute. The sleeves of the Captain's coat are ornamented with five gold stripes, each stripe indicating five years' service, showing that he has been in the continuous service of the Old Dominion Co. for a quarter of a century.
