PAID THE PENALTY.

Elijah Joyner Hanged by The Neck Until Dead.

Elijah Joyner, the colored man who on the morning of the 26th day of April, 1899, between midnight and daybreak, murdered Mr. R. C. Turnage and burned the store of Mr. T. L. Turnage, at Dongola, today paid the penalty of his double crime upon the gallows.

The history of the crime, subsequent arrests, preliminary hearing, trial and conviction, with the attendant incidents were all told in THE REFLECTOR as they occurred, so it is unnecessary to repeat them here as they are familiar to our readers.

This morning Rev. W. H. Furkins, of the A. M. E. Zion church, went to the jail and held prayers with the condemned man in his cell.

About 10:15 o'clock the prisoner was taken from the jail and placed in a carriage, and surrounded by a strong guard of about fifty armed men was carried to the gallows that was erected on the river bank at the foot of Reade street. The gallows was reached about 10:30 and the prisoner was escorted up the steps to the scaffold by Policeman J. M. Windham, of Farmville, Sheriff Mooring, ex-Sheriff R. W. King, Deputy Sheriff Leon Tucker and Rev. Furkins following close behind and taking positions on the platform. Sheriff W. D. P. Sharp, of Wilson, Sheriff B. W. Edwards, of Greene and ex-Sheriff W. P. Knight, of Edgecombe, were also present within the roped enclosure. The guard reporters, Drs. W. H. Bagwell, C. O'H. Laughinghouse, H. Johnson and J. E. Nobles, and several persons from the neighborhood of the crime were also within the ropes.

After ascending the scaffold the minister offered a brief prayer then turning to the vast assembly asked them all to keep as quiet as possible while Elijah should make his statement. In broken sentences the condemned man said:

"You see what sin and wickedness brings men to. No man but myself is guilty of this crime, and for the Lord's sake don't punish another man for it. If you do you will punish an innocent man. There is one in jail now but he is innocent. I have told it over and over that I was the only guilty one, and there was no one in it but me. I have hope beyond the skies. Thank God, He has forgiven me and delivered my soul from sin."

He hesitated here and parties standing near the scaffold began asking him questions in the hope of getting him to tell more about the commission of the crime. He answered the questions quietly but stuck to his statement that he alone was guilty. He said he called Mr. Robert Turnage up that night, his object being to get money, but that he did not intend to murder him when he went to the store.

This questioning by different parties continued for a half hour but without disclosing anything of consequence, and if Elijah knew anything on any one else he carried the secrets to the grave with him. After the questioning he turned again to the crowd and said:

"Friends, I say to you all, serve your God and don't serve the devil or he will lead you to destruction. I had good wife who tried to get me to do right, but I was wild and devilish and would not do as she told me. If I had I would not be here this morning. I pray God my sin may not fall on my children. All of you, white and colored, serve God and love Him. You see what being devilish, drinking whiskey and running

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER, 10, 1899.

The Snow Hill Standard is responsible for the following: We advise the public against two pretended painters that are going around painting furniture with kerosene oil and a kind of dust. They went to the home of Mr. W. M. Carraway last week and messed up a lot of chairs for him. He was away at the time, but Mrs. Carraway discovered their rascality and had them promptly arrested and got her money back. It might be well for the public to be on the look-out and not allow these swindlers to take them in."

Some months ago the Mexican Central Railway Company imported several hundred Chinese laborers to work on its road bed, and it is now reported that many of them having become homesick, have entered the United States by way of Texas in order to secure free transportation home under the provisions of the Chinese Exclusion act. Unless the Federal authorities shall find some means of circumventing the designs of the wily Chinamen the United States Government will be a heavy loser, as the cost per head of deporting the aliens is about $500.

Accidentally Killed Himself.

One of the most awful tragedies that ever happened in Wilmington occurred Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when Mr. John L. Maffit accidentally shot and killed himself at his home on Fourth and Nun streets.

The only witness of the shooting was Mr. Maffit's wife, who was confined to her bed by sickness. Mr. Maffit traveled for Mr. J. A. Taylor, wholesale grocer, of this city, and was preparing to leave the city on a trip yesterday morning. On Saturday he was at the store and got his samples ready for the trip. At home Sunday afternoon he had been packing his traveling case in a room adjoining the one occupied by Mrs. Maffit and when he finished dinner he carried Mrs. Maffit some dinner on a waiter. He usually carried a pistol on his trip, and not having his own at the house, he asked Mrs. Maffit for one which she kept at home. It was kept in a cabinet on the wall of her room, and after handing his wife the waiter he reached up in the cabinet and took out the weapon. It was kept cocked so Mrs. Maffit could use it in an emergency, and in some way it went off, the ball striking Mr. Maffit over the right ear, killing him instantly.—Wilmington Star, 7th.

A COMPRESS COMBINE.

Efforts to Organize a Trust to Fight Improvements.

In view of the attacks upon the Roundlap bale of the American Cotton Company, and the cry of "trust" against the manufacturers of the machines for making those bales raised by the owners of compresses and others the following letter indicating a "combine" of a different sort, is of peculiar interest. The letter was forwarded to the Atlanta Constitution by Richard Cheatham, editor of the Cotton Planter's Journal, of Memphis, Tenn. It is as follows:

"New York, May 3, 1899. Executive Committee of the American Cotton Compress Company, 71 Broadway,—Dear Sir: It is proposed to consolidate by purchase or otherwise some of the most desirable compresses in the Southern States, provided such conservative basis.

"We are in consultation with the representatives of all the capital required for the business who are willing to take it up if it can be put upon an attractive basis.

"We desire to call your attention to the fact that in order to meet the competition that has arisen from the round bale system, it will be necessary for the compresses referred to, to consolidate under one general management, fully able and capable to reduce expenses by improved methods, more uniform systems of compressing (aided by the adoption of the standard box), to obtain lower rates of insurance and secure lower rates of freight to foreign and domestic points.

"We recognize the advantages both to you and us of utilizing your personal influence in the new business, as well as your plant, but at the same time we feel confident that unless a consolidation can be arranged on an obviously economical basis, we may not be able in the long run to successfully compete with the round bale systems or with other new compresses which may come into the field.

"If it is your desire to sell your press property at a reasonable price please be kind enough to answer the list of questions enclosed and also sign the option enclosed.

"The information received will be strictly confidential and not disclosed to any one else in the business of compressing cotton, except with your consent.

"As there are over two hundred compresses, and as it will require considerable time and labor to send a committee to examine these properties and books and make all proper arrangements, it is therefore necessary that the option shall hold good for not less than six months from the date of your signing. Unless we hear from you within two weeks of this date we shall consider that you are not disposed to enter into the proposed consolidation. Awaiting your reply, we are yours truly,

Reflections of a Grass Widow.

A wedding fee is not wholly wasted. It helps to support the preacher.

There is no fool like an old fool—except a young fool who marries one.

Never throw a pair of old shoes after a bride. Save them and give them to her. She will need them some day.

If you are faithful in sewing the buttons on your husband's trousers he will think you ought to be able to make your own bonnets.

If you humbly ask your husband for money you spoil him. If you demand it he raises a fuss and wants to know if you think, by George, he is one of the Rothschilds.

Never marry a man with the idea you are getting one of those superior young men you read about in Julia Magruder's or Frances Hodgson Burnett's novels. They don't exist, my dear.

Don't save the letters your husband wrote to you in the days of your courtship. If he should find them some day by accident and read them he will be much disgusted.

If your husband turns out to be the man you thought he was when you married him, and never gives you a cross word, don't tell any other wife about it. She will not believe you.—Chicago Tribune.

Cash Propositions Wanted.

Of all "fool" tenders, those received by the country newspaper man for advertising "take the cake," says the Talbot (Md.) Times. One time it's a few shares of stock in a Klondike gold mine they wish to present to the quill-driver. Then, again, a patent-medicine firm would like you to accept a case of their preparations, stipulating, however, that they must be used in the editor's family. Next comes along a man who wants to furnish us with cigars, and only this week we are offered a case of Old Mammoth Cave Bourbon Kentucky whiskey, 16 years old. Being a user of neither liquor nor tobacco, and not being specially fond of medicine, these letters found a resting place in our waste-basket. The majority of these require a cash deposit of, presumably, half (really whole) value of the article to be advertised. Offer us cash gentlemen.

The Power in Prayer.

Show me a man who has been a power in prayer, and I will show you a man who has given himself up to do and be what God wants him to do and be. If you would have this power in prayer you, too, must make this complete surrender to the will of God. You may be praying for some special blessing, but God cannot give it to you until you are wholly His.—Francis E. Clark.

The number of soldiers slain in battle depends a great deal on the color of their uniform. The more flashy and conspicuous the helmet and jacket the better the target and consequently the greater the mortality. Red attracts the eye most readily, and statistics show that twelve men wearing that color are killed to seven in green, or six in blue, or five in either brown, blue gray or gray.

WINE OF CARDUI

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui has demonstrated ten thousand times that it is almost infallible FOR WOMAN'S PECULIAR WEAKNESSES, irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures "whites" and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store.

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., says: "My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her."

about will bring a man to."

Rev. Fu-kins then made some remarks from the 12th verse of the 90th Psalm, and at one time while he was talking the condemned man kneeled and engaged in silent prayer. At the close of the minister's remarks he offered a prayer.

Elijah then said he had no further statement to make except to bid them all a long farewell. Then in a loud tone exclaiming three times "Thank God," he turned and walked under the noose. He talked some while Deputy Sheriff Tucker was tying his hands and feet, and calling the names of those who had first been arrested with him he asked their forgiveness for what he told on them at the time.

As the black cap was about to be placed over his head he looked out in front to some one and said "Good bye, Uncle George." While the cap was being lowered he asked that it be raised once more for him to speak to Mr. T. L. Turnage. His request was granted and he asked Mr. Turnage if his body could be carried where his father's was. These were his last words.

The cap was pulled down, the noose was adjusted, and as Deputy Sheriff Tucker stepped from the trap Sheriff Mooring pulled the lever and at 11:35 the drop fell. A few shrugs of the shoulders and twitching of the hands and feet, and all was over, and Elijah Joyner had paid the penalty as prescribed by law. In about 12 minutes the doctors pronounced him dead, and in 20 minutes after the drop fell the body was taken down and placed in a coffin for burial.

The execution was carried out perfectly and was witnessed by at least 5,000 people.
