STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Three well developed cases of smallpox were discovered on the streets of Salisbury among a crowd who had gone there to attend court.

A 12-year-old boy has been sent from Rutherford county to the penitentiary for four years. He drew bolts from a railroad track for the purpose of wrecking a train.

The steamer Neuse, after being thoroughly overhauled at Norfolk, after having run ashore near Pamlico river has again resumed her regular run.

President William A. Graham, of the State Farmers' Alliance, calls on all the sub-Alliances to send delegates to the State convention of tobacco growers here December 6th. It is well known that one of the special purposes of this convention is to fight the American Tobacco Company, which is easily the most cordially hated trust in the State.—Raleigh Cor. Charlotte Observer.

Party.

Wednesday night Earl Ross, little son of Mr. J. S. Ross, gave a party complimentary to little Misses Huldah and Ida Keel. There were a number of little folks present to enjoy the occasion.

It is Better

MR. EDITOR:

I trust no reader will be offended if I say going to God's house on Thanksgiving Day is better than fishing, hunting or visiting saloons. May God make it a glad day for THE REFLECTOR men and all their readers.

A. D. BETTS.

Truly Sensational.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21—A letter from Bishop Horner, of North Carolina, to Treasurer Meade, of Monumental Church here, has created a sensation. He tells of the distressing condition of the poor and the need of missionary help. He says he has visited the homes of the poor within a radius of twenty-five to thirty miles of Asheville and found the inmates half-clad, half-fed and ignorant. He says that many of them never sat down to partake of the Lord's supper, while some had never heard a sermon or seen a Bible. A large quantity of supplies will be shipped to the destitute there. The country named is in the district where Biltmore, the Vanderbilt estate, is located.

Why The Stars Didn't Fall.

On account of the hard times, the subscription committee failing to meet with the liberal responses expected, the star shooting which was advertised to have taken place on the nights of November 15, 16, 17, is hereby postponed until further notice.

The committee reports it wanted to raise one hundred and seventy-five dollars to meet the expenses, and was able to raise only a dollar and thirty-five cents. The people who refused to cough up for this great display gave as a reason the prediction of a local scientist that the blackberry crop would be short in the spring. And they did not feel like taking money out of their pocket for foolishness when such uncertainties confront them.

Perhaps it is all right, but a great many enterprising people have told us that they would gladly have doubled their subscriptions rather than have been disappointed. The moral of this is: Always subscribe all you can and then maybe you won't get left.—Danville Bee.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER, 23, 1899.

The cause of the epidemic of fever in the Normal College at Greensboro is attributed to two broken sewers.

The Supreme court has rendered a decision in the case of D. H. Abbott against E. C. Beddingfield, and reinstated Abbott as a member of the Corporation Commission. The court held that while the last Legislature changed the name of the Commission from Railway to Corporation, did not abolish the duties of the office and could not eject an occupant. Justice Clark dissented from the opinion of the court.

Trusts touch the interests of every class of citizens in the land but they operate with stronger emphasis against the poor than any others. Those who are forced to live by their daily toil, on scant wages at that, suffer more than those whose station and circumstances in life are better. One trust that operates with tremendous force against the poor, is the paper trust. If there is any class of persons in the world for whom reading and literature ought to be accessible, it is the poor, be they in the cities and towns or in the rural districts. Among the poor of the country are many farmers, and the trust on paper has the tendency to make even the country wealthy come higher, and thus raise it a little out of reach of the farmer. And the only reason the country papers are higher than they are is because their editors are suffering the loss which comes from the operation of the trust. It is nothing uncommon for newspaper men and printers to get from paper dealers announcement that "all quotations on paper are withdrawn," and that paper is subject to change in price any day.

All this works a hardship to the newspaper man and printer; and we are clear in our conviction that newspaper work and general printing are done at less profit now than ever before in the history of the country. There is strong inducements for good and patriotic men everywhere to use all possible effort against every trust formed.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

The eagle which originally decorated the stern of the famous schooner-yacht America—which first won what is now known as the America's cup—is now the sign of the Royal Eagle Hotel, at Ryde, Isle of Wight, overlooking the scene of the vessel's triumph over her English competitors in 1851.

Eighty thousand acres of land in Nova Scotia have recently been purchased by Michigan and Chicago capitalists with a view to the manufacture of wood pulp on an extended scale. This investment may be welcome by paper consumers as creating for them able banded and pecuniarily interested allies in their fight against the exactions of the Pulp and Paper Trust. Pulp manufacturers in Nova Scotia who find their market in the United States are directly interested in procuring the repeal of tariff duties which to the extent of their imposition reduce the profits on sales.—Philadelphia Record.

A woman who has lived in the Transvaal says that there are no "old maids" in South Africa, and that the supply of wives is never equal to the demand. A school teacher seldom remains a teacher for more than one term, for the admiration of the young Boer planters is so great for a woman gifted enough to read and spell, and thrifty enough to earn money with her brain, that some well-to-do bachelor soon persuades her to marry him.

One's own Ability.

If you would be successful, have faith in your own ability. Nothing is so essential to a leader in any kind of society or business as self-confidence. Of course, nothing can be accomplished without effort, but without confidence in one's ability to succeed there will be no effort. Business success has resolved itself into a matter of looking out for number one, and if one has faith in his own works he makes for himself a position at the head of the procession and retains it by right to possession.—Publicity.

An Advertiser.

A new and verdant postmaster in a small rural town had received instructions to advertise all letters uncalled for at the end of a certain length of time. He obeyed orders by inserting the following advertisement in the village weekly paper at the end of the first week of his term of office:

"There are ten letters in the post-office that nobody has called for. If them they belong don't take notice and call by the end of the month, the letters will be sent to the dead letter office. Anybody expecting letters they ain't got can come and see if any of these letters belong to them. All take notice."—Jackson (Mich.) Patriot.

Cause For Care. "No," said the confident youth, "I shall not trudge along in the beaten track; I shall not devote my mind to handiwork duty." "What are you going to do?" asked the schoolmaster. "I am going to strike away from the beaten path. I'm going to leave footprints on the sands of time." "Well, you want to be careful." "I have energy and ability." "Yes, but you want to be careful too. Trying to leave footprints on the sands of time has been the cause of a lot of people getting stuck in the mud."

On the Road to Bankruptcy. Griggs—Your friend appears to be prospering finely. His new residence is simply palatial, and the horseflesh he rides behind must have cost him a mint of money. Briggs—Yes, Steuter is doing splendidly. But I'm sorry to say he has just taken out a patent for a very ingenious invention.

Griggs—Is that so? By George, when the bankruptcy sale comes off I'm going to be on hand to make a bid on one of them horses.—Boston Transcript.

Very Sharp. Teacher—Now, Johnny, if the earth were empty on the inside, what could we compare it to? Johnny—A razor, ma'am. Teacher—A razor? Johnny—Yes, ma'am; because it would be hollow ground.—Brooklyn

Very Curious Weather. At Alto Crucero water freezes every night of the year and the thermometer frequently falls to 6, 8 and 10 degrees below zero. There are no facilities for artificial heat—not even a fireplace—and people keep themselves warm by putting on ponchos and other extra wraps. At noonday the sun is intensely hot, because of the elevation and the rarity of the atmosphere, and blisters the flesh of those who are not accustomed to it. There is a difference of 20 and sometimes 30 degrees in the temperature of the shade and the sunshine. Water will freeze in the shade while 20 feet away men may be working in their shirt sleeves. The natives seem to be entirely inured to cold and go about barefooted and barelegged over the ice and the stones indifferently without regard to the temperature; but they have a way of heaping the blankets on their heads and wrapping up their faces to keep the pure air out of their throats and nostrils. The women who herd the flocks are often out on the mountains for weeks at a time without shelter or anything to eat except parched corn, strips of dried meat and coca leaves, which are the most powerful of nerve stimulants.—Chicago Record.

Board For His Poems. "Yes, I find it extremely difficult to make my living by my pen," said the poet. "Difficult!" exclaimed his friend. "You mean impossible, I presume." "No, I do not," replied the poet. "I am in the habit of saying precisely what I mean, and when I say difficult I mean just that and nothing more." "You don't mean to say that you have ever earned anything by your literary work?" "Indeed I do," answered the poet. "I once got six months' board for some poems." "Who did you sell them to?" "My landlady." "What on earth did she want with a lot of poems?" "I don't know that she wanted them particularly, but I left them in my box when I went away, and there was nothing else in sight. They were good poems, too, but I couldn't sell them."

The Stumbling Block. A member of the Mug House club who had failed to win a fortune on the turf decided to go into Wall street to tackle easier game. "On the turf," he explained, "a man has exactly 27 chances against him in a field of ten horses. In other words, he has one chance in 28 to hit a winner. Now, in Wall street stocks go one of two ways—either up or down—giving a man one chance in two. It looks like a dead open and shut. I'm going to make it pay. There's nothing against you except bad judgment." "Oh, yes, there is," said a New street operator, nodding his head sagely. "And that is?" we all asked. "Your breker and his commission."—New York Press.

Only One Fault. "There's only one fault to be found with your comedy work, old man," said the dramatic critic. "What is it?" asked the aspiring dramatist. "You're a failure."—Chicago Post.

Misfortune of a Poet. "I have been quite unfortunate," said the poet's wife gloomily. "And your poem declined?" "Worse than that. You know, I was in the habit of looking at the ceiling when I was in bed last night, just as usual, and I saw a yard of plaster peeling out of it!"—Atlanta

OVER THE COUNTRY.

Vice-President Garret A. Hobart, died Tuesday at his home in Paterson, N. J.

The Navy Department has issued orders that the bodies of the crew of the Maine buried in Havana be disinterred and brought to the United States.

An organized robber band has lately wrecked six banks in Kansas.

The rebellious Yaqui Indians in Mexico now number 2200, who declare that they will exterminate the whites.

Episcopal Bishop C. K. Nelson, of Georgia, in a sermon at Atlanta on Sunday, declared his opposition to prohibition.

Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, one of the best farmers in the State, was talking with the REFLECTOR about the Tarboro Southerner and Raleigh Post recently saying that with the price of cotton at 5 cents it could be raised at a profit. He says such talk is all nonsense, as any intelligent farmer well knows. Even at the present price there is no profit in the crop worth speaking of. It takes one-fourth of the crop to pay for picking out and ginning, to say nothing of the cost of fertilizers and labor. Mr. Laughinghouse says if a man with his own family performs all the labor cultivating his crop he may possibly come out a little ahead, but if the labor has to be hired there is no profit in it.—GREENVILLE REFLECTOR.

The Post agrees with Mr. Laughinghouse that to the farmers in general there is not much, if any, profit in cotton at 5 cents, though in many instances it was shown that money was made by farmers on the crop selling at that price. We think our friend Laughinghouse will say that the last two crops were produced at less cost than ever before, and present prices of 7 or 8 cents will afford more profit than was ever before made on a crop on account of the cheapness of the cost of production. Another matter we will call to the attention of our friend is, during the past few years, while cotton has been so low the farmers generally have gotten nearer out of debt than they have been since the war. There must be better management, if not profit some where.

But at all events, we hope all will get 8 cents, and then all will be happy.—Raleigh Post.

EVERY DAY FOLKS.

But Different Ones Each Day.

C. S. Carr is sick.

Bishop A. A. Watson and Mrs. Watson left this morning.

Mrs. R. B. Whitehead, of Wilson, is visiting Mrs. M. A. Jarvis.

Ash Hines, of Wilson, is spending a few days with J. B. Jarvis.

Ex-Gov. Jarvis returned Wednesday evening from Nash court.

Mrs. L. V. Morrill, of Snow Hill, is visiting her father, Dr. W. M. B. Brown.

Mrs. Draughan, of Fayetteville, arrived Wednesday evening to visit Mrs. Zeno Moore.

Mrs. Ola Forbes and little daughter left Wednesday evening to visit relatives at Grifton.

Mrs. M. F. Latham, who has been visiting friends here, left Wednesday evening for Centerville.

Trade With Merchants That you Know are Reputable.

A colored woman was hunting around this morning trying to get out a warrant for an Italian woman, who she claimed had swindled her out of some money. She said she bought a cake of soap from the woman, and gave her thirty cents, and that the woman only gave her back fifteen cents.

Persons who trade with such people need hardly expect anything else than to be swindled out of their money. We are told that this thing has been done at other places in Durham, and can be proved.

In trading, patronize reputable merchants and business men, people that you know will treat you fair, and honest, and in whom you have confidence. It is a strange fact, and one that we have observed many times, that there are some people who may be bitten by sharpers, yet they will go right back to the same place to be bitten over again.—Durham Sun.

Anti-Trust Movement.

Winston, N. C., Nov. 21.—The National Tobacco Workers' Union has organized two branch unions in Winston—one white and one colored—among employes of the tobacco manufacturing firm of Brown Brothers Company. This firm will hereafter employ only members of this union. The organization has a large membership in the North and West among factories outside of the trust. The union is against combinations and the members promise not to use goods manufactured by the American and other trust companies. Other unions will be organized here among employes of other tobacco factories. It is charged that the trust tobacco firms do not employ any union labor.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

The trouble about living a thing down is that it generally means living yourself up.

When a man gets ready to let a woman have her way, he has got ready to get out of it.

When a man is getting married in a church he feels about the same as if he was being stuffed and put in a glass case.

When a woman meets another woman in the street car and insists on paying the fare for both of them, she will always hate her if she lets her.

Every woman loses some respect for her husband when she discovers that he doesn't know any more than she does about keeping the water pipes from freezing up.—New York Press.

Ross B. Farrington, of Newark, N. J., was found dead in a sleeping car which reached Washington, D. C., from Atlanta, Ga., on Monday night.

The man who says he is driven to drink never attempts to balk. It is true that clothes don't make a man, but they often break him.

Dewey in Tears.

Washington, November 21.—Admiral Dewey, in conversation with a Laffan representative tonight, expressed keenest regret, indignation, sorrow and resentment at the manner in which the American people received the information of the transfer of his house to his wife. He said she only accepted on condition that the house, together with her private fortune, should ultimately pass to his son George. He said he thought that in transferring his home to his wife he was doing the most generous act an American gentleman could do. He had never intended to let the house go outside of the family. He said he never believed it possible that the American people, who a few weeks ago treated him as a hero, could shower such abuse on him. He declared that he never would have accepted the house if he knew it would cause so much trouble.

Dewey's voice was choked with emotion, and at times tears streamed down his cheeks.

[What Dewey ought to have done was never to have accepted the house at all.—REFLECTOR.
