WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Nov. 25, '99

Miss Lula Patrick was in town yesterday.

B. F. Manning's little daughter, Cara, is sick with fever.

Regular preaching services here today, also Sunday morning and evening.

A nice pair of black colts almost exactly matched for sale by A. G. Cox. Three years old next spring.

A. G. Cox is paying top price for cotton seed all the time with most convenient arrangements for weighing, unloading, &c.

A Mr. Ward moved his family in town yesterday from the neighborhood of Dr. Blount's. He has a position with the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

Mrs. H. T. Smith took the train yesterday morning to make Durham her home for awhile. Her husband has been working up there for some time.

East Rail Road street in front of depot has been put in good shape, and it is as great an improvement to the looks of the town as any one thing that has been done lately.

We saw in the DAILY REFLECTOR lately—"It is a poor wind that blows the doctor no good." Would like to put in the Constable too. His profession seems to be getting very lucrative this fall.

G. W. P. stands for G. W. Parker, the wire fence man. It also stands for, "Good With Practice." Put it together and you have, G. W. Parker, the wire fence man, good with practice. You know the saying "Practice makes perfect," and he is getting his business down fine.

Facts are Stubborn Things—So

are our wagons and carts. That is, they will not give way, but will stand under any ordinary circumstances when many other makes would go down. The facts about our other goods are equally plain, and we invite the patronage of all.
A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

College Property Sold.

Solicitor L. I. Moore and Dr. E. A. Moye have purchased the college property just west of the railroad. They are going to have the large building cut up and converted into several dwelling houses on the property. It will be a desirable residence location.

They Found Brick.

The diggers who are sinking the well on the Court House square threw out a lot of brick from a few feet under the surface. They struck a part of the foundation of the old Court House that before the war stood out where the street is, and was destroyed by fire. No doubt there are yet many brick under the street along where the old building stood.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds Moore this week issued marriage licenses to the following couples:

WHITE.

Gus Venters and Sarah Mills.
Frank Taylor and Julia Campbell.
Elijah Pittman and Lizzie Bland.

COLORED.

Henry Vines and Francis Evans.
Collin Cannon and Hortense Nobles.
George Howard and Maggie Andrews.

"Marriage," says the confirmed bachelor, "bears the same relation to love that a clove does to a drink."

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1899.

'Lost: A small-sized Malay, answering to the name of Emilie Aguinardo; he is vicious and elusive. If found, please let me know in time to get away. Otis.'

Philadelphia, it is said, is to expend $12,000,000 in purifying her water supply. A much smaller sum could be invested satisfactorily in the purification of her polling lists.

It is hoped that the next time the American people make a donation to a hero, they will take the precaution to learn his matrimonial intentions in advance.

It will be agreed by all that if Sam Weller's advice had been taken to 'beware of the vidders', Admiral Dewey would be in a better position today than he has been placed by recent developments.

Congress has become so accustomed to have all its thinking done in the Speaker's chair, that it will require some little effort to throw off its timidity, and do a little thinking of its own.

Mr. Bryan's announcement that he will lecture throughout New England this winter, has given the Hannaites in that locality several severe spasms from the pangs of which even the world-famous codfish balls cannot relieve them.

In the words of his namesake, Mark Antony, Hanna might appropriately declare that he came to bury McKinley, not to praise him, and if Ohio does not go back on itself next year Mr. Hanna, as well as Mr. McKinley, will be candidates for a funeral oration.

Following closely upon Mr. Hanna's declaration that the trusts aid the laboring man, the Governor of Massachusetts takes the same position. Before long, these eminent gentlemen will be declaring that there is nothing so good for the working man as giving up his wages to enrich the monopolist.

For a man who was not looking for trouble, it seems as though Mark Hanna has found his share between his rheumatism, the setback in his home city of Cleveland and the growing demand among Republicans for his retirement from the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee.

It is very evident that ex-Speaker Reed does not see in the Ohio election an assurance that Republicans will win in the next election. At a Business Men's banquet in New York City recently, Mr. Reed cautioned the gentlemen present that political matters are not propitious for his party. There is a significance in the warning of Mr. Reed, and every sign points that the McKinley administration sees the danger ahead. If the opposition to Nash in the recent election in Ohio can be joined, as seems more than likely, then Ohio will cast its vote next fall in favor of Bryan.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24, '99. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has returned to Washington for the session of Congress. He has entirely recovered his health; says he never felt better, and that, like the democratic party, he is full of fight. He believes, and with good reasons for his belief, that the Democratic party is today in better condition for the Presidential campaign than the republican party is, and that its condition is more likely to improve between now and the opening of the campaign than is that of the republican party; and he says further that his belief is fully shared by every man who attended the recent democratic conference at Chicago. He looks confidently for democratic assistance from the legislation of this Congress, republican in both branches; the Shylocks of the last presidential campaign are already demanding their pound of flesh, with no shrewd Portia in sight to show Mr. McKinley how to meet the demand in such a way that they will be made to follow the example of Shakespeare's Shylock. It looks now as though they would get the pound of flesh and with it the life of the republican party.

Mr. Henderson says he will announce the House committees before the holiday recess. If he does and there is no good reason why he shouldn't, since he has known for months that he would be Speaker, and knows all of the old members personally, the House should get down to business much earlier than it usually does at the opening of a new Congress. There is some talk among republicans of making the chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency their floor leader, instead of the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Five Cent Cotton.

J. J. Laughinghouse thinks what the Southerner has been saying about cotton being made at a profit for five cents a pound is all bosh. Of course the Southerner does not know at what price Mr. Laughinghouse can raise cotton at a profit, but it does know that it has been raised here for five cents. The Southerner has not claimed that there was a bonanza in cotton at this price—only that at this price, if the farmer made his supplies at home, he received a better return for his money than if he placed it out at interest or invested it in legitimate stocks. This statement is again repeated and proof can be made.

There are failures in farming as there are in other lines of business. Mr. Laughinghouse has probably given too much attention to these.—Tarboro Southerner.

The Sailor and the Figurehead. Old sailors sigh as they wander around the water front these days and note the disappearance of the famous old figurehead, which used to be the delight of every clipper ship's crew. They were huge wooden images of almost everything imaginable, but the female form predominated. Many figureheads were to represent the fair one after whom the ship was named, and there is an old sea yarn about a sailor who fell in love with the handsome wooden female which adorned his ship. He used to slip down the 'dolphin striker' and hang on there, while the ship bowed and lurches, talking love to the figurehead. Finally, according to forecastle tradition, the figure squeezed, and the sailor, who was known as 'Lovely Mike,' because he was the ugliest man that ever set foot on a ship's deck, nearly fell into the sea. He recovered his senses and said, 'Did you speak?' 'No, I didn't speak,' returned the figure. 'I just sneezed to attract your attention. You're known as 'Lovely Mike,' ain't you? You're a married man, ain't you? And your wife has to take in washing both when you're at home and when you're away, because she can never get a cent out of you. Mr. Farmer, just climb back to the forecastle and don't bother any more about me.' This rather curt interview is alleged to have worked a marked change in Mike, and when he got home he astonished his wife by giving her a couple of dollars.—Baltimore News.

WINE OF CARDUI. McELREE'S Wine of Cardui. has demonstrated ten thousand times that it is almost infallible FOR WOMAN'S PECULIAR WEAKNESSES, irregularities and derangements. It has become the leading remedy for this class of troubles. It exerts a wonderfully healing, strengthening and soothing influence upon the menstrual organs. It cures 'whites' and falling of the womb. It stops flooding and relieves suppressed and painful menstruation. For Change of Life it is the best medicine made. It is beneficial during pregnancy, and helps to bring children into homes barren for years. It invigorates, stimulates, strengthens the whole system. This great remedy is offered to all afflicted women. Why will any woman suffer another minute with certain relief within reach? Wine of Cardui only costs $1.00 per bottle at your drug store. For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the 'Ladies' Advisory Department,' The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. Rev. J. W. SMITH, Camden, S. C., says: 'My wife used Wine of Cardui at home for falling of the womb and it entirely cured her.'

Death and the Doctor. 'Well, I've got him!' exclaimed Death banteringly. The doctor was furious, of course. 'Oh, yes,' he cried, with much heat, 'but you didn't dare make a square issue of it and get him with the disease I was treating him for!' Hereupon Death laughed affectedly, saying nothing.—Detroit Journal.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

The discarded lover is really the true beau not.

The sweetest joys often from bitter fountains flow.

When some men tell the truth their friends regard it as a joke.

It is the "duck of a girl" who generally gets a quack for a husband.

Marriage is not a failure—but a great many married people are failures.

Most people are quicker to borrow trouble than they are to return thanks.

The mule is like many alleged musicians—it doesn't know one oat from another.

There is a great deal of talk now about the woman's club. The most popular woman's club is a rolling-pin or a broom-stick—when her tongue is not in running order.

If Christ were to come to Orange not two dozen people would listen to what he had to say, and not more than a dozen would give him a cent. They treat these ebullient evangelists differently.

The Greenville public school will begin Monday.

GRIFTON ITEMS.

GRIFTON, N. C. Nov. 25, 1899.

J. Patrick and J. C. Griffin went to Kinston today.

J. S. Pittman and Zeb Bland were in town today.

Messrs. Blow and Arnold went hunting and killed a good many birds.

Chris Moore shot and killed two wild turkeys besides other game yesterday.

C. A. Bland went to Kinston today.

Elijah Nobles got two fingers sawed off at Nottingham & Wrenn Co's. mill.

Mr. Malcom Murchison, of La-Grange, has been here a few days buying cotton.

Two very fine looking horses were sent down from Norfolk to haul logs for the N. & W. mill.

ISLER-GARDNER.—At the residence of the bride's father, Geo. W. Gardner, near Grifton, on the evening of Nov. 23rd 1899. Miss Clyde Gardner was married to Edwin Isler, of Kinston. Rev. C. T. Howard officiating.

When the children start to school Monday get their slates, pencils, tablets, ink and crayons at Reflector Book Store.

EVERY DAY FOLKS.

But Different Ones Each Day.

Miss Pat Skinner went to Tarboro today.

Raymond Tyson went to Kinston Friday evening.

E. E. Griffin returned Friday evening from a trip to his old home in Virginia.

Miss Emily Higgs went to Kinston Friday evening and returned this morning.

H. C. Cannon went home to Rountree's, Friday evening, to spend today and Sunday.

Miss Bessie Harding returned this morning from Ormondsville, where she has been teaching school.

Rev. N. M. Watson returned Friday evening from Nashville, Tenn., where he had been to attend the Little-Thomas marriage.

W. O. Little, of Newport News, Va., who had been to Nashville, Tenn., to his brother's marriage, came by with the bridal party and stopped here Friday evening.

He Got Informed.

A man who does not take his home paper, but occasionally answers advertisements in "story papers" has had some interesting experiences, says an exchange. He learned that by sending one dollar to a Yankee he could get a cure for drunkenness. Sure enough he did. It was to "take the pledge and keep it." Later on he sent fifty two-cent stamps to find out how to raise turnips successfully. He found out.—"Just take hold of the tops and pull." Being young he wished to marry, and sent thirty-four one-cent stamps to a Chicago firm for information as to how to make an impression. When the answer came it read, "Sit down on a pan of dough." That was a little rough, but he was a patient man, and thought he would yet succeed. The next advertisement he answered read, "How to double your money in six months." He was told to convert his money into bills, fold them, and he would see his money doubled. The next time he sent for twelve useful household articles, and got a package of needles. He was slow to learn, so he sent a dollar to find out "how to get rich"—"Work like the devil and never spend a cent." That stopped him, but his brother wrote to find out how to write a letter without pen or ink. He was told to use a lead pencil. He paid five dollars to learn how to live without work, and was told on a postal-card, "to fish for suckers as we do."

The Change is Great.

As Mr. Hill C. Linthicum says, a man going along the principal street of Greenville now and looking in at the store windows might easily wonder whether he was in a city or a town. It is a fact that marked change has been made in the last few months. Not only are the new buildings of a much better class than before, but the merchants also are showing greater enterprise and giving more care to the display and arrangement of their stocks. We have a town of hustlers, and the man who does not keep an attractive store and advertise fails to keep up with the procession.

The University railroad, the one that killed young B. F. Long last week, has gone into the hands of a receiver.

Bone rattling has taken possession of the small boys, and they are all trying to see who can knock them best.

C. T. Munford has erected a flag pole over the front of his big store and "Old Glory" will soon be floating therefrom.

As we have had pretty weather so long, don't stay away from church if it should happen to be a little bad tomorrow.

Many a man who can tell the exact distance of all the planets doesn't know how far it is to the nearest grocery store.

It's the little things that count. A woman can't make a man propose, but a tiny flea can usually bring him to the scratch.

Strause Bros have put in a system of water works in their factory. They have one of the best equipped plants in the South and it is the admiration of all tobacco men who travel this way.

LAUNDRY NOTICE—Hugh Shepard requests his patrons and friends to send their Laundry in next Monday as he will send it off Tuesday on account of holiday Thursday. Wilmington Steam Laundry is the best.

FRESH OYSTERS.—We have just opened in Greenville and are prepared to furnish Oysters by the measure in any quantity. We have boats running to the sound to keep us supplied with fresh stock. We are in the store near Five Points, one door below REFLECTOR office. Send us your orders for Oysters. LEWIS & GASKILL.

Little-Thomas.

Mr. J. L. Little, Cashier of the Bank of Greenville, returned Friday evening from Nashville, Tenn. with his bride (nee Miss Mary Thomas.) They make their home with Mr. C. C. Vines on Dickinson avenue. The bride is well known in Greenville, and all cordially welcome her permanent return to our town.

Remember The Poor.

The King's Daughters will give their annual dinner to the inmates of the County Home on Thanksgiving Day. The ladies solicit donations from all who will assist them in this worthy cause. They will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Blow to complete the arrangements for the dinner, and if possible they would like to know by that time who will contribute.
