ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

The presidential bee will make things hum this year.

Upon the sands of death's dark grave the sea of trouble casts no wave.

How can we expect to be good while living in this year of naughty-naught?

It is strange that a campaign of mud is intended to throw dust in the eyes of the people.

There would be no complaint about silver if we could get in on a arpity with brass.

If this spring-like weather continues front gates will soon be strong enough to bear arms again.

The man who estimates his own importance at above par is generally valued at naught by the world.

There are some people who wouldn't stay a minute in heaven if they saw any of their neighbors there.

Makes no difference what century this is we still have the dark ages—those of women who have passed their twentieth year.

Many people are ever boasting that they can do things so much better than you can—but we never see them do those things.

The learned doctors tell us that kissing spreads disease. Heart troubles, mostly, we suppose. We are always willing to risk catching disease in such a sweet cause.

A Big Catch.

Chief of Police W. B. James on Sunday captured a negro that fills the description of the escaped Portsmouth murderer, and is now in correspondence with officials of that city relative to identification of the prisoner. If the prisoner proves to be the right man it will be a good catch for the Chief, as there was a liberal reward offered for his capture.

They Go By Boat.

The Pythians here were unable to get a special train to take them to Rocky Mount Tuesday evening to attend the district meeting, but they have made arrangements to go anyway. They will leave here on steamer Shiloh about noon tomorrow, reaching Tarboro in time to take the 6 o'clock train for Rocky Mount, returning to Greenville by steamer Wednesday morning.

Any that are not Pythians wishing a cheap trip can go by applying to Ollen E. Warren.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Cholera is playing havoc with hogs in some portions of Wayne county.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly have decided that the place of meeting this year shall be Morehead City, and the time June 12th.

There will be one Superior Court judge elected this year—to fill the place made vacant in Tenth district by the death of Judge Green. No other election of judges will be held.

Mrs. Julia L. Burgess and Mrs. Harriet Sweeney have entered suit against the city of Asheville for the killing of their husbands by a dynamite explosion at the city's quarry last January.

Mrs. Mark Denton and her 5-year-old son, and a man named John Manning were walking across a railroad bridge on the Norfolk & Carolina road, near Tarboro, on Friday. A work train backed on them, killing Mrs. Denton, seriously injuring the boy and slightly hurting the man.

The residence of Mr. E. B. Dunn about 10 miles north of Trenton, was burned last night. The fire was caused by a spark from the chimney falling on the house. The building was a 2-story one, valued at from $1,500 to $2,000. It is not thought that there was any insurance on it.—Kinston Free Press.

Monument in the Clouds.

Early Saturday night a strange phenomenon was witnessed in the clouds. In a direction south-east from town could be seen a perpendicular light streak, having the appearance of a tall monument resting on a broad base. Many people saw the phenomenon but no one was able to explain it.

In North Carolina, Too.

If there is any one set of men whom the people like better than any other class of reputable and responsible citizens it is the railway conductor. Given such an official, who has been able to succeed in the business, and you have a man of many accomplishments, a real good fellow at heart, one who is ready to do for others, who is accommodating, unselfish, of a genial turn of mind, one who can laugh at the same joke a dozen times a day for 365 days in the year. He must be tender hearted, sympathizing with the sick and suffering, and at the same time happy over the joys of those who do rejoice. It requires brain, nerve, tact, almost all the good qualities, all in one man.

To make a thoroughly good conductor. So far as we have been able to see and judge, this is the kind we have in Virginia. The conductors are a noble set. We like to ride with them—especially when we have a free pass.—Orange, Va., Observer.

MONDAY, JANUARY 29, 1900.

The report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shows that there are 623,400 children of school age in the State and that the total school revenue for public schools is $824,228, or about one dollar and thirty-three and a third cents for each child of school age.

Two grandsons of Li Hung Chang arrived at San Francisco a few days ago with a view of entering, after some preparatory training, Vanderbilt University. They are accomplished Chinese scholars, but want to take a finishing touch in English.

Nearly every barber shop in Albany has on one of its shelves a shaving mug labeled "Theodore Roosevelt." It is a good advertisement for the barber; but as a matter of fact the Governor does not patronize any of the shops.

The one, great, overshadowing question in this year's campaign is the Constitutional Amendment. The very suggestion of this amendment was brought about by a class of men who favored negro supremacy in order that they might hold office themselves.

Senator Butler sees and feels that his career is rapidly approaching a terminus unless he can get one hundred and twenty thousand colored men to rally blindly to his assistance. And it is just the same with every other white man who opposes this amendment.

"Strawberries from Florida" came into the market with such a rush at the end of last week as to glut the market," says the New York Times. "The result was that the surplus supply had to be sold for what it would fetch, and the fruit got into the hands of the hawkers and was selling on the streets at twenty-five cents a basket yesterday, the baskets being of the sort that are ordinarily called quarts.

James Pyle, who made a large number of honest dollars by the sale of a cleansing compound, died in New York last Saturday, at the age of 76. The Charlotte Observer says: "A story of his life is going the rounds of the papers to the effect that Horace Greeley induced him to run a card in The New York Tribune which led to his preparation being advertised in newspapers everywhere—and his fortune was made.

The seat in the Senate which Mr. Vest will permanently vacate at the expiration of his present term, in 1903, has come to be regarded as "Missouri's unlucky seat." Of the fifteen men who have occupied it since it was first filled by David Barton, in 1820, only four—Barton, Dr. Lewis F. Linn, David R. Atchison and the present incumbent—have held it for a full term.

Several sepoys were suffering from that African pest, the "jigger," whose scientific name of Pulex penetrans describes him and his habits concisely and well. He is an exact reproduction in miniature of the common flea (Pulex irritans), but instead of merely inflicting a comparatively innocuous bite he burrows under the skin, close to the toe nails for preference, and then proceeds to propagate the species.

"When General Grant was president," said a Washington man, "a certain friend of his came out of the west to see him. One day, just after leaving the White House, this friend fell in with a fellow westerner in the White House grounds, and a heated encounter took place, which suddenly terminated by the general's friend knocking the other man down and out.

It must have been in 1882 that Magarboos paid his last visit to London, and I saw him at one of the Philharmonic concerts, which were then held in the old Hanover square rooms. There was quite a flutter of excitement when the little old man, looking extraordinarily white and withered, even for his age of 65, came into the box. I noticed his piercing eyes and hooked nose and perhaps as much as these a magnificent brooch of rubies and diamonds that blazed in the center of his shirt front, which he wore in the fashion of 1800. The stones flashed and glittered with every one of his quick little bows to right and left, and the rubies connect themselves with a tale of his great predecessor in Paris, the mighty Gluck.

After the first triumphant performance of one of Gluck's operas the queen sent for him to come to her box to receive her congratulations. Half dazed with emotion, excitement and fatigue, the old musician, rising from his obscurity, clasped his hands to his eyes, crying with horror, "Blood, blood round the queen's neck!" "It is only this, Gluck," said Marie Antoinette, hastily snatching off her necklace of rubies and holding the rippling gems toward him, and Gluck looked again and saw the fair, white throat rising unharmed and stainless. He died in 1787.—Cornhill.

"The Sea! The Sea!" We all went one day, says W. J. Stillman in The Atlantic, to Coney Island, on the southern shore of Long Island, since a popular bathing place for New York, but then a solitary stretch of seashore, with a few bathing boxes and a temporary structure where bathers might get refreshments.

We drove out in my brother's buggy, and as at a turn in the road I caught a glimpse of the distant sea horizon I rose in the buggy, shouting, "The sea, the sea!" and in an uncontrollable frenzy caught the whip from my brother's hand and slashed the horse in wild delirium, unconscious of what I was doing. The emotion remains ineffaceable after more than threescore years, one of the most vivid of my life.

Before he became a bishop he had been archdeacon of Surrey, and his old archdeaconry became a part of his later bishopric of Winchester. At a meeting of the clergy at Clapham his chaplain told him that an old Dr. —, who had been many years in the diocese, was vexed at having been forgotten.

"Yes," said the bishop; "I have not the smallest recollection of him, but I will make it all right and will go out and speak to him. Which is he?" He was pointed out, and the bishop made his way to him: "My dear Dr. —, I have not had a moment for a real conversation with you. I need not ask how you are after all these years. Do you still ride your gray mare?"

"I recently heard," said the inquisitive man who had the faculty of being able to be in two places at once, "the following conversation over the telephone: "Who are you, please?" "Watt."

Bobby Meade of the colonial office was anxious to have executions in Malta carried out more humanely. So he consulted Marwood. Marwood strongly advised the "long drop" and explained his own process thus: "There was Mr. Peace, a small man. I gave him a six foot drop, and, I assure you, sir, he passed off like a summer here."

Democratic Convention.

A convention of the Democratic Party of Pitt County is hereby called to meet at the Court House in Greenville on Saturday, March 31st, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State Convention to be held in the city of Raleigh on the 11th day of April, 1900, for the nomination of candidates for the various State offices.

Township Primaries will be held on Saturday, March 24th, at 2 o'clock P. M., to appoint delegates to the County Convention.

All persons who are in favor of the white people controlling the State and County governments are invited to participate in these meetings.

By order of the Democratic Executive Committee of Pitt County.
ALEX. L. BLOW,
W. L. BROWN, Chairman.
Secretary.

Fun Ahead.

Alba Heywood, the Prince of Comedians, is coming. That means fun by the ton, laughs galore, beautiful music and a delightful time all around. The press comments tell us that Heywood is funnier than ever, that his work is all new, and his company strong and well balanced. It is with a keen anticipation of pleasure we await the appearance of this company, for with Heywood's name there always goes a guarantee of something good. He will be seen here on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 8th.

Two Snows.

Snow fell Saturday night to a depth of about two inches. The ground was white enough Sunday morning, but the rising temperature during the day caused all the snow to melt. A little more snow fell sometime Sunday night but left no sign. About 10 o'clock this morning it began snowing again and was still at it at the time of this writing, and was making signs of sticking. The temperature has fallen considerably and we may be in for a regular blizzard.

Mayor's Court.

Oscar Harriss, reckless and careless driving on streets, fined one penny and costs, $3.75.

Ernest A. Brown and Robt. W. Brown, using profane language, not guilty and case dismissed.

A. H. Critcher, riotous and disorderly, recognized to appear at April term of Superior court.

When an aspiring young actress takes a good picture the battle is half won.

LAND SALE.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt County made, on the 27th day of January 1900, in a certain Special Proceeding therein pending, entitled, W. O. Raspberry and wife against Jacob McCotter and others, and numbered as case 1059, I will on MONDAY, MARCH 5th 1900, sell at public sale before the Court House door in Greenville to the highest bidder for cash, a certain piece or parcel of land situate in Contentnea Township, Pitt County, known as Lot No. 7 in the division of the lands of Mary E. McCotter, deceased, and which was allotted to Carl McCotter by the following metes and bounds, to-wit: "Beginning at the 4th corner of Lot No. 6 on Gritton road, thence South 82 W. 170 poles to a sweet gum on creek, 3rd corner of No. 6; thence down said creek to a black gum; thence N. 82 E. 175 poles to a stake on Gritton road near post South of its bend; thence northwardly with said road to the beginning, containing 38 acres more or less. This January 27th, 1900.

HOWDY DO.

Some Speak to Me, Some to You.

R. W. King went to Richmond today.

Z. V. Johnson went to Scotland Neck today.

Mrs. W. H. Harrington returned this morning from Ayden.

Solicitor L. I. Moore came home Saturday evening from Franklin court.

J. W. Wiggins, of Tarboro, came down Saturday evening and returned home this morning.

Died.

After intense suffering for several weeks, Mrs. Lizina Whichard, of Edgecombe county died January 15th 1900, aged 84 years. She was the widow of the late Mr. Staton Whichard and leaves five children, fourteen grand-children and six great-grand-children. The deceased was a strong believer in the Primitive Baptist faith. Her funeral was preached by Elder Samuel Moore to a large audience of her friends and relations.

A Smile in Each.

The fellow who hates to get up in the morning will never get up in the world.

When a man takes a woman for better or worse he should be fully prepared for either.

No, Maude dear, we wouldn't advise you to go to a dentist for extract. Try a drug store.

Some people think it's hard to be poor, when, as a matter of fact, it's the easiest thing in the world.

Whites and Negroes Fight.

Birmingham Ala., Jan. 25.—News has just reached this city of a riot between negroes and white miners at Coalburg, a small station 12 miles out. A negro was found dead in one of the mines yesterday. The negroes believe he was shot by a white man, and are arming themselves for vengeance. The white miners have been hunting for them all night. The operator at the station left his office, fearing that he would be killed.

Women Should Get Insured.

"Life insurance as managed today, on the endowment plan, for instance, is at once an assurance and insurance," writes Edward Bok in February Ladies' Home Journal. "It is the best means of saving, because it is compulsory. Men have found this to be the case, and women should. At thirty, for instance, she can, for less than fifty dollars a year, take a twenty year endowment policy of one thousand dollars, which guarantees her that amount when she reaches the age of fifty. She will not feel burdened by the annual premium of fifty dollars. But she will feel the comfort of a thousand dollars when she is fifty. A woman's insurance for the education of her children is another factor of life insurance worthy of her thought, especially if she be a widow. In this way a mother may provide for the education of her children in case of her death. If the custom of mothers insuring their lives for their children at the time of the children's birth could become more general it would be one of the blessings of mankind. For women to insure their lives for the benefit of their husbands may well be an open question so far as the wisdom of such a course is concerned. But when the matter of life insurance for women is placed on a basis of self-protection in old age, for the benefit of children, or as one of the best means of saving money, or even as a wise system of investment, there cannot be the least question of its wisdom.

POWER & CO.

NOTICE.

This is to state that the firm of Drs. O'Hagan & Laughinghouse has not been dissolved. The only change made is, that for the better convenience of our patrons we have established a down town office.

Dr. O'Hagan will occupy the old stand. Dr. Laughinghouse will occupy the new office situated on Fourth street, just behind Frank Wilson's clothing store in the Perkins block of buildings where the old post office used to be.
