Arm Broken.

Mr. D. S. Smith is having a house built in South Greenville. Friday afternoon he was up on a scaffold looking after some of the work. He fell off the scaffold to the ground and broke the small bone of his left arm just above the wrist.

Work Starts Monday.

The contractors having arrived and the material being in readiness it has been decided to begin the repairs to the bridge across the river here on Monday instead of waiting until after March court. Therefore County Commissioner O. W. Harrington requests us to give notice that from Tuesday, 27th for about ten days the bridge will be up so that people cannot pass over it. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible with the hope of completing it by court week.

Good if True.

Friday afternoon Dr. Laughinghouse received a telegram from a detective saying that the parties who robbed his father, Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, had been located in Roanoke, Va., and that they were dead sure. No further information has come since the telegram was received.

Profitable Advertisements.

The advertiser who imagines that any old thing will do in his business announcements is in the same category with the merchant who thinks that trash should be purchased as freely as the most desirable goods. The most profitable advertisements are those which are superior in appearance and in the quality of the matter presented for the perusal of public.—Philadelphia Record.

A miss as good as a mile.—It is also as bad as a mile. Merchants if you get bothered in getting your cigars and cheroots from a distance and miss a sale or two, you may lose a good customer for life. The way out of that trouble is to get them right here at home of the Winterville Cigar Company. Order by 'phone if you wish and get them the same day, often by private conveyance, thus saving freight.

Another heart made glad.—The last wagon we had ready was carried off yesterday evening, and no doubt its owner is glad. The prettiest part about it is that he will keep getting gladder the longer he uses it. As this man did not get a pair of cart wheels he missed the free cart saddle and back band which every purchaser of a pair of wheels gets. It will save you time and money to use one of our Fertilizer Distributers, cheap enough so every farmer can have one.

A Valuable Hog.

Mr. Jno. T. Sink, Jr., of Lexington township, killed a hog last week that is remarkable for the amount of cash it has netted its owner. It was a sow and weighed 508 pounds when killed. Mr. Sink says he has raised one hundred and nineteen pigs from this sow, which he sold for exactly $362. Add to this the present worth of pork per pound, say five cents, and it will be seen that he realized exactly $877.40 from one hog.—Lexington Dispatch.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1900.

The National Committee selected July 4th, and Kansas City Mo., as the time and place for holding the Democratic National convention.

As the time for the State Convention draws nearer the indications point stronger to J. Bryan Grimes of Pitt, as the man who is to receive the nomination for Secretary of State. THE REFLECTOR has kept an eye on its exchanges, and we have talked with people from various parts of the State, and it is gratifying to note the strength he has developed in all sections. He is generally regarded as the man above all others for the nomination. There should no longer be any question at all about his receiving the nomination. He is a man in every way qualified to fill the position. He is the choice of the farmers, and certainly they are entitled to have a representative on the ticket. We said it at the outset of his candidacy, and the conviction grows stronger every day, that Mr. Grimes is the man for Secretary of State.

The Boston Transcript, which is printed in the heart of the manufacturing section of New England, says that it begins to look as though there might be a lively scramble for cotton on the part of manufacturers between now and the harvest of the next crop; that this will certainly be the case if cloth production throughout the world keeps up, as it has been doing for some time past, or unless great deal of the staple is found to have escaped the experts in making estimates on this season.

It would seem that if there ever was a time in the history of this country when there was needed in congress men without bias who would study public questions and legislate for the public good, that time is now. This is apparent to every one but congressman themselves. There are matters now before congress that are of the utmost importance and that will effect this government for good or evil for years to come, and yet we see congressmen lining up on one side or the other according to the dictates of the leaders, seemingly without an independent thought of their own. It would appear to be a mistake to send a man with brains to congress when he is expected to follow his party leaders and ask no questions.—Durham Herald.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 23, 1900.

The Democratic National Committee, which met in Washington this week, to name the time and place for holding the National Convention, did not please everybody, but they came about as near to it as any committee ever did. In the very nature of things such decisions must always cause some personal disappointments, but the rank and file are pleased with both city and date, and better pleased with the reports of the members of the committee on the steadily increasing brightness of democratic prospects.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee is now ready for work, having this week elected the following officers: Chairman, Representative James D. Richardson, of Tenn.; Secretary, Hon. James Kerr, of Pa.; Treasurer, Mr. James L. Norris, of Washington; Sergeant-at-arms, Mr. George Rae, of Texas. Head quarters will be opened in Washington in a few days.

Representative Richardson has pointed out a way to curb the trusts, under recent decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court. He has offered two resolutions, one prohibiting the transportation of sugar owned by the sugar trust and the other prohibiting the transportation of wood pulp and printing paper owned by the paper trust until the Interstate Commerce Commission are satisfied that the prices charged for such articles will not yield the manufacturers thereof a net profit of more than 4 per cent.

Recognizing that this Congress is inclined to be favorable to schemes for grabbing public money, a gang of Washington speculators have revived the scheme to sell the government the unprofitable marshy ground on the south side of Pennsylvania Avenue, from the Capitol to the Treasury, as sites for contemplated public buildings, and are busy working up support for it in both branches of Congress, and some Senators and Representatives have already been caught by their talk about the necessity of beautifying the Avenue which connects the Capitol and the Treasury. The jobbers behind this scheme are only thinking of making a connection between the Treasury and their pockets, and the constituents of the Congressmen who support the scheme would do well to advise them to beware of their danger.

An amusing feature of the debate in the House on the Porto Rico tariff bill was the rather broad hint of Representative Bromwell, of Ohio, who spoke against the bill but said he would vote for it if the substitute providing for free trade was not carried, to Mr. McKinley to let the members of his party in the House know whether he had changed his mind since he recommended, in his annual message, free trade for Porto Rico. He said it was the solemn duty of Mr. McKinley to notify Congress if he had changed his mind on this question.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 23rd, 1900.

State Chairman Simmons is sending out great numbers of copies of extracts from Senator Money's great speech on the Constitutional Amendment, which is a reply to Senator Pritchard. Mr Simmons had the printing done here.

Senator Money says the amendment is not unconstitutional; that if the Fifth Section falls, the Fourth will fall with it; that the white people are justified in preserving their civilization.

He declares negro suffrage a failure and cites the experiment, of negro suffrage in Hayti, Jamaica and in Natal. Congressman Bellamy's sworn statement about conditions in Wilmington in 1897 and 1898 is also cited.

Pritchard's resolution is an attempt to intimidate. Why is the law not tested on a case from Louisiana? Money explains the small vote in certain Southern States, saying 1890 Massachusetts, with 665,000 voters only polled 285,000 votes. Connecticut, with 244,000 voters, only polled 125,000 votes. Ten thousand North Carolina negroes moved to Mississippi the year after the passage of the Mississippi franchise Amendment.

Chairman Simmons is also sending to various County Chairmen the constitution and by-laws for the white supremacy clubs. He says he expects by the middle of June to see 2,000 of these clubs in existence.

In the preface Mr. Simmons says: "Our State is the only community in the world with majority of white voters where it is seriously proposed to take the control of the public affairs of the State out of the hands of the white people and commit them to a political combination composed chiefly of negroes and dominated almost entirely by negro influence.

By the united effort of good white people of the State, irrespective of party, in 1898 the State was rescued from negro rule and the Amendment to the Constitution to be voted upon by the people in August is submitted for the purpose of forever removing the danger of recurrence of negro ascendancy in the state.

The necessity for the continued co-operation of the white people of the State for self-protection is shown by the fact that the party which so recently negroized the State, and which for this and its other short-comings was hurled from power in 1898, is again seriously asking the people to restore it to the control of the state, and actually indulges the hope that, with the aid of 120,000 negro votes solidly cast for it, it may succeed in regaining control of the government."

As was predicted last week, Senator Butler has carried out his plan to have the Populist National Committee nominate Bryan for President and a populist for Vice President. He does this to force or rather to try to force, the Democratic hand. He will fail as badly as he did in this State in 1898, when the Democratic Convention turned down his proposals for fusion.

Republicans are now giving free rein to talk about the fusion ticket in this State, and are saying Butler will be the nominee for Governor and Spencer B. Adams for Lieut. Governor. Attorney General Walsler in speaking about the matter said: "You see Butler would at once be made Senator and Adams become Governor. The Republicans say they are taking no chances with Butler; that they would not go into any deal or combination with him unless they knew he was induced by powerful self-interest to do what they want done; that he knows this year his supreme struggle must be made; that he must co-operate with them fully. They say he deceived Pritchard in 1895 and they will never give him another chance. In fact, in 1894 he made a sort of contract prepared by other persons, Republicans and Populists, to stand by Pritchard, telling the latter that while in 1895 Butler would get the long turn and Pritchard the short, the latter would be given the full Populist support and re-elected for six years, thus giving him an eight year term. Butler is now making the republicans believe he controls two-thirds of the Populist absolutely. This shows that the Republican stock of credulity is very far from being exhausted.

Charles B. Aycock, who made his opening speech of the campaign at Charlotte, was here to-day and said in response to an inquiry as to the political status: We will easily carry the State. I find more enthusiasm than I have ever known at this early date. This shows how the white people of the State are being aroused.

WINE OF CARDUI
Woman Knows Woman.

ZURICH, KAN., Jan. 31.
 I used Wine of Cardui for nervousness and weakness in the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it does even more than is claimed for it.
 MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.

McLREE'S Wine of Cardui

Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder she recommends it? They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps all womanly ills.

While entertaining the Mayors of Albany and Rochester, Mayor James K. McGuire, of Syracuse, N. Y., acted as a motorman on a special trolley car.

In a snowslide in the Taylor River mining distret, Colorado, Harry Wise, Ed Robinson, Tom McDermitt and James Beekford, miners, were killed.

The torpedo boat Somers started upon her trial trip in the New York sound yesterday, after an unimportant accident to her boilers had been repaired.

A Smile in Each.

The milk of human kindness doesn't mix well with the cream of society.

The height of feminine fashion is often illustrated by some pretty low gowns.

Nell—"Do you think marriage is a failure?" Belle—"Not necessarily; but I think husbands often are."

It's the very woman who runs up bills that can generally be depended upon to run down her neighbors.

Rev. James Craft, of the Free Will Baptist church, died Wednesday night at his home three miles from Greenville. He was 64 years old.
