Negro Employees Relieved

It was reported yesterday that a number of the negroes in the service of the A. & N. C. railroad had been sent to the happy hunting grounds of non employment. President James A. Bryan was seen yesterday and asked about the matter.

Mr. Bryan stated that he had discharged several of the negroes, adding thereby to the number that had previously been relieved to make way for white men, and that some time ago he had instructed the foreman to substitute white for colored labor whenever it was available, and that policy would continue to be pursued. At no time, Mr. Bryan said has it been possible to make wholesale changes without jeopardizing the interests of the road and the lives of its patrons.—New Bern Journal.

Two Coats Too Many

Justice of the Peace W. H. Long had John Creech, colored, before him this morning charged with stealing an overcoat from Mr. Jesse Speight about January 1st. The negro plead guilty and was bound over to court. This same negro stole an overcoat from Mr. John Adams, about Christmas.

Creech has been evading the officers for sometime, and this morning showed up to Chief of Police James to lodge a complaint against some negro woman for assault. The chief told him to hold on and listen to another complaint, when out came the old warrant for stealing the overcoat, and Creech had to own up.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Mar. 14.

Matt Slaughter, of Kinston, came over last evening.

Mr. Sumrell, the grocery man from Kinston, was here yesterday. G. W. Evans came Monday night to paint for the Hunsucker Carriage Co.

Rev. A. D. Betts, of Ayden, was in town Monday and a site was chosen for the Methodist church here.

A MAN STRUCK—But he was only struck on the fine looks, taste and smell of a Winterville cheroot.

Mrs. F. O. and J. D. Cox went to Greenville yesterday. Dr. Carr extracted two of Mrs. F. O. Cox's front teeth, and she now makes a poor out talking, especially saying any word beginning with "s".

Be sure that you read what is said about our Fertilizer Distributor in another part of THE REFLECTOR.

PACTOLUS ITEMS

PACTOLUS, N. C., March 13, 1900.

Miss Elenor Rollins returned home from Washington Friday.

M. A. Harris spent Sunday in Washington with his mother, who is very sick.

Agent J. P. Taylor went down to Washington Saturday.

J. J. Satterthwaite and wife spent Sunday in Grimesland.

S. I. Fleming, of House Station, was here Friday.

Master Freddie Jones, of Grimesland, is spending a few days here with relatives.

R. R. Fleming went over to Greenville Monday.

Mrs. Sidney Fleming went to Stokes Friday to spend a few days.

End of the Century Club

Mrs. Bowen entertained the End of the Century Club on Tuesday afternoon, at her home on Dickinson Avenue, Mrs. Grimes presiding.

Subject under discussion, American Historians. Mrs. Jordan opened the literary programme with a sketch of William Hickling Prescott. Mrs. Quinerly followed with an essay on George Bancroft. Mrs. Jarvis gave an outline of the life and writings of John Lothrop Motley.

Mrs. King was detained by sickness in her family, but the accomplished hostess read an interesting sketch written by the former, on James Frances Packman.

The programme was found to be exceedingly interesting and instructive. The trio first mentioned rank among the ablest historians of this century, or we might say of any age.

The guessing prize was won by Mrs. Grimes.

After the serving of delicious refreshments, the meeting was adjourned to hold its next regular meeting with Mrs. Harry Skinner.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 1900

The head of another Democratic Congressman has fallen in the basket to make room for a Republican E. A. Wise, Democratic member from the second Virginia District, being unseated and his place given to W. A. Young, Republican contestant.

The gambling dens in New York open a tip from authority were all closed on Saturday to ordinary frequenters. The drinking houses and dives were upon instant better behavior. As it is in New York so it is in Philadelphia—vice flourishes by permission and suddenly abates itself upon command. The pool rooms are closed by an official tip and opened by an official wink. The New York Times asserts that gamblers pay to the New York authorities over three million dollars per year for protection. There need be no better proof of the understanding between the law breakers and the municipal authorities than the alacrity with which illicit business is abandoned the moment an overbearing public indignation makes it prudent for a time to suspend official protection.—Philadelphia record.

One Object

There is only one object that is desired to be obtained by the amendment, and that is to cut off a portion of the ignorant negro vote and prevent a recurrence of such events as transpired during the last campaign. If I did not believe this was best for the colored race as well as my own I would oppose it, but I am fully convinced that it be best for all that it be made impossible for vicious colored men ever again to dominate Eastern North Carolina. Those who were there during the last campaign know that our people stood on the brink of a racial riot which seemed at times unavoidable, and if it had come would have been bad enough for the white race and awful in its consequences to the poor deluded negroes. Such a condition must never again occur. We have the race problem to solve. We must face it. The responsibility is upon us. The adoption of the amendment will solve it and will settle the whole question quietly, peaceably and without one drop of bloodshed. It will be a spur to the coming generations, both white and colored, to secure an education, to improve their minds and fit themselves for citizenship. It will be a blessing to the whole people and its beneficent effect will be at once perceptible. Life and prosperity will be safe, capital will seek investment, good government will be assured and a better feeling between the races fostered.—E. C. Beddingfield.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Mar. 12, 1900.

The amendment of the Nicaragua Canal treaty, giving this country the right to defend and control the canal in time of war, although proposed by a republican—Senator Davis,—was a democrat triumph, because the amendment is an unqualified endorsement of the position taken by the democrats when the treaty was first made public. As amended, the treaty will probably receive the votes of enough democratic senators to make its ratification reasonably certain, although there are features in it that will prevent some democrats from voting for its ratification.

Are the majority of the Senate afraid of England? Their action, when Senator Mason compelled the Senate to take up his resolution, expressing sympathy for the Boers, certainly looked that way. The majority refused to allow the resolution to be discussed in open session, because things would be said that might offend England. Ye Gods! this sort of talk in the American Senate, where men were cringed to no foreign friend or foe, once upon a time fearlessly expressed their opinion and time after time have spoken in favor of down trodden people, without stopping to think whether their oppressors would like it or not. Now, as soon as anything affecting England is even mentioned, the majority orders all the doors closed. What a picture for the American people to contemplate. Even a secret session, the administration Senators are afraid to allow Senator Mason's resolution to be squarely voted upon. Their programme is to throttle it by having a majority vote to lay it on the table. If the so-called era of friendship with England is to result in squelching our Americanism and our love for liberty, the sooner it comes to an end, the better for us as a people.

Whether Gen. Joe Wheeler takes his seat in the House depends upon Mr. McKinley. Under date of Nov. 28th, 1899, Gen. Wheeler forwarded his resignation as a brigadier general of volunteers from the Philippine, to Mr. McKinley. If Mr. McKinley accepts the resignation to take effect on that date, which was before the assembling of Congress, no objection will be raised to Gen. Wheeler taking his seat in the House.

A new and interesting bit of political gossip is that Mr. McKinley is seriously thinking of making a scapegoat of Secretary Hay, with the hope of squaring himself with the numerous and influential republicans who have been making vigorous protests against the too English foreign policy of the administration. It would be nothing new for Mr. McKinley to sacrifice a friend to serve his own political interests, but in this particular case it is doubtful whether the sacrifice would do more than add to the country's belief in the adroitness of Mr. McKinley in looking for No. 1. Mr. Hay is inviting the sacrifice by his talk against the amendment of the Nicaragua Canal treaty.

The Senate sat down quick and hard on Senator Hoard's scheme to give ex-Queen Lil, of Hawaii, $20,000, and a yearly pension of $10,000. We haven't reached the stage yet of willingly paying pensions to ex-royalties, either white or chockolate colored.

M H Justice Withdraws

Hon. M. H. Justice, of Rutherfordton N. C., whose name has been prominently before the people for the Democratic nomination for Governor, under date of March 8 writes as follows to the Charlotte Observer:

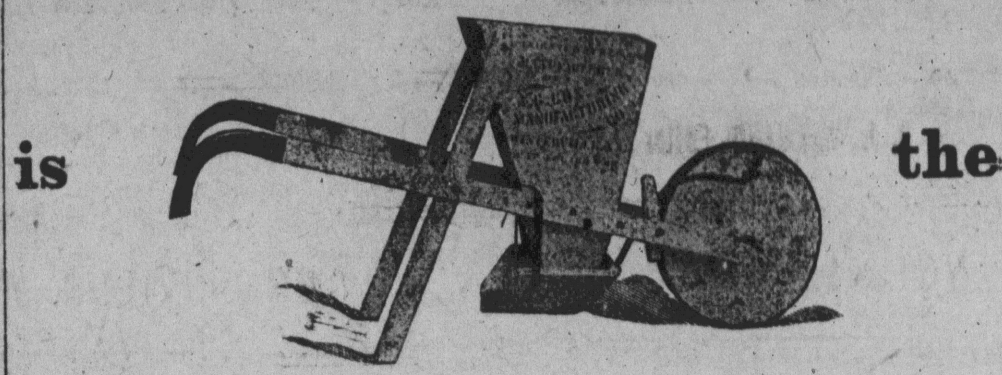

"Relying solely on my own judgment and inclination, I hereby withdraw my name as a candidate for Governor.

I thank my friends who have stood by me and desire still to stand by me so loyally. They are held in everlasting remembrance; but my duty to the State, my interest in the people and my desire for absolute unity in the party, lead me to take this step. There are too many candidates for office and especially for Governor, and one less, probably, add something to party harmony. It appears to me to be both useless and unwise to press my candidacy further. It does not make so much difference who is governor among candidates now before the people. The country will likely be safe with any of them. The great subject with which we have to deal is the constitutional amendment, and the success of the Democratic ticket that will be put on the field on April 11th. Let us stand as one man for the success of these and we will thus leave to our children the heritage of a "White Man's" country, and the government administered by North Carolina. My services will be at the command of the Democratic party from this time until the election."

WINE OF CARDUI. WOMEN WHO WORK. St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12. Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved. MISS MARGARET WALSH. Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui. Druggists sell Large Bottles for $1.00. ## A WORD TO WORKING MEN.

EDITOR REFLECTOR :

Will you allow me space in your paper to make a suggestion to the working men of the State—one that every working man ought to be interested in—and that is the working men should look to their own interest and not stand back and depend upon others to act for them? The way for the working men to advance their cause is to see that delegates to the State convention are elected who will vote only for candidates who favor the cause of labor.

Now, Mr. Editor, there are good men by the score, but if the working men of North Carolina want to be thoroughly represented let them attend the primaries and elect delegates who will vote for that sterling Democrat, who has ever been the working man's friend, Col. John S. Cunningham, of Person county for Governor. Rally to Cunningham, working men; he has always been for you and with you. MECHANIC.

Sale of Seasonable Goods Promoted.

With the new spring goods appearing in the market the necessity for advertising becomes more than ever apparent. The goods displayed may be attractive but they cannot sell themselves. Judicious advertising will resolve the doubts of intending purchasers who are undecided as to what they want.—Philadelphia Record.

A Smile in Each.

Every dog has his bay. The judge who is a man of few words is apt to be one of many sentences.

This morning, for the first time in a long while, not a single freight car was left standing on the side track at the depot, and the yard was entirely clear.

Didn't Arrest a Fish

Policeman W. H. Smith decided to go down to the river and try his hand at catching shad. The first trip down the wind blew the net so he lost his footing and fell overboard. He managed to catch the boat however and pull himself out, none the worse except a pretty cold bath.

They Play Well.

The Boston Star Concert Company gave an entertainment in the opera house Tuesday night. There are but four people in the company but they are all good in their line. The singing of Miss Wrenu was especially good and she had to respond to several encores. The cornet playing of Mr. Schloss also received an encore. The programme was rather short.
