Military Competition.

The New Bern Fair Association will at their coming fair, offer a prize of $50 in gold for the best drilled and uniformed military company, the drill to take place on Wednesday of fair week.

The following rules to govern the competition:

1. Every competing company must be a regularly organized company of the N. C. S. G.
2. Not less than three companies to compete.
3. All competing companies must enter the parade on Wednesday of fair week.
4. No company will be allowed to compete unless it has at least two officers and thirty-two petty officers and men in line during the competitive drill.

Blood Hounds

We have been informed by Guss Forbes that he has purchased two blood hounds to be kept here, for the purpose of tracking criminals. He received a telegram Friday announcing that the trainer and two dogs would be here Tuesday night. They will be given a trial and if proven satisfactory, Guss will keep them. We are glad to know this as it will probably be the means of catching the perpetrators of crime, who otherwise might escape.

25th ANNIVERSARY

Of Mr and Mrs J B Cherry

Let us show you a picture. Do you see that flaxen-haired little girl yonder? The idol of a sweet lovely home—a home where fond loving parents "made melody with their hearts" a home where dwelt a gentle old fashioned grandmother, who had pillowed upon her breast and dedicated to God her first grandchild. She was the one in all the world to this child's heart; and to her she never grew old but was indeed her companion. I now recall vividly, as I sit by my fire musing, the night this aged pilgrim passed beyond the stars and entered into eternal rest. Her devotion to this aged one has so developed in her character that many darkened homes have been lighted by her presence and saddened hearts made happy by her ministrations. This lovely child lived in the hearts of as devoted parents as I ever knew, and was encircled in the arms of their love. Her old black mammy (of the old South) who had served the family for three generations was never forgotten by this thoughtful little girl. Soon the golden days of childhood passed, and whispers came that marriage vows were soon to be spoken. Once again we were in the home, and saw her brow radiant with hope—life bloomed anew—the skies were blue—the earth greener—flowers of love cast their sweetest fragrance around her path way—her twin soul was found. Soon loves "ballads were woven such as only lovers weave's." Hands met each in each, and the two were ready to say "until death do us part." In the old church at whose altar loved ones had spoken sacred vows, she stood a happy bride just twenty-five years ago. By her side stood a manly man whose every impulse was fidelity. Clouds and sunshine, joys and sorrows, tears and smiles have come into the two lives then plighted. God has ever been to them a strong fortress. Hark! what weak cry is that I hear? God has given them a pure soul upon which they can write as they will by God's help. A little heart will throb back love for love—an angel visitant, warm from the hand of God has come to share their heart and home. Joy and congratulations fond parents! As time with its ceaseless changes has rollen on—have they trampled in dust love's beauteous flowers? No indeed! they are lovers still. Love has been to them an inspiration. It is like the modest violet whose hues are bright and beautiful—shedding its fragrance all around, making glad the heart. Hope and memory will ever cherish it. 'Tis beautiful and holy.

As they renew vows on this their twenty-fifth anniversary, may their love be cemented with Christ's love, and with thankful hearts may they remember that the ever watchful eye of Heaven has guided, guarded and cheered them. God's bounteous hand has freely ministered to them and His bounteous love has bound their hearts together.

Joy, joy to that sweet sacred home, Whose hearts have never known blight or chill, But loving in youth's own roseate hours, After years pass by, are lovers still.

Love and best wishes,
MRS. MAGGIE ARTHUR CALL

SATURDAY MARCH 17, 1900.

General Otis is said to think it is simply outrageous that the insurgents should begin fighting again just as he had them hopelessly scattered. The blamed asses ought to stay whipped.

The Republican party in Texas has split. That ought to be good news for that party. The country didn't know that Texas Republicans were numerous enough to be capable of splitting.

If it is possible that President McKinley may be vindicated by time, but it is not likely to be until after Col. Bryan has been elected to the White House and then it will be too late to do McKinley much good.

Honor continues to be heaped on General Buller for his heroism in relieving Ladysmith after Joubert had been forced by Roberts to raise the siege. Sampson continues to be honored by the Navy Department for—but no, we won't say any more.

The mountain has been in labor and has brought forth a ridiculous mouse. The Republican Senators have argued and argued and finally decided to do nothing for the present in the hope that something will turn up to enable them to decide the Porto Rican question satisfactorily to every body. Was there ever a more ignominious case of playing politics? The country will know how regard such cowardice.

Kruger is not whipped yet. He probably simply desire to put himself right before the world and it is quite certain that he has done so. This brutal announcement of Lord Salisbury that England would be content with nothing less than the very existence of its victims, will nerve the Boers arms and raise them up a hundred sympathizers where they had but one before Oom Paul certainly outmaneuvers the British in every way—in war, in peace and in diplomacy.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 16, 1900.

Mr. McKinley's alleged tender to England of the good offices of this government toward bringing about peace between England and the two South African republics which England is slowly but surely crushing out of existence was nothing more than the attempt of a frightened politician to bamboozle the voters of this country who have been openly expressing sympathy for the fight for life that the citizens of these republics are making. In fact, there has been no tender of the good offices of this government. All that was done was to forward a cablegram from the presidents of the South African republics to the English government, through the United States Embassy in London. There was no word of comment from this government, although Mr. McKinley knows that a right sort of a message from him would result in saving the existence of those republics. The message from the South African governments was not even dignified by being presented by the United States Ambassador to England, that official being off on a pleasure jaunt; it was presented by one of his secretaries. It was because of the bad showing that would have been made that Mr. McKinley took advantage of his right and refused to furnish the Senate with copies of all correspondence with Great Britain and the South African republics, which are asked for by the resolution offered by Senator Allen and adopted.

After wrangling and fighting for nearly a week and holding two caucuses the republican Senators have patched up a sort of agreement on the Porto Rico bill. A bill appropriating 2,000,000 for the immediate relief of the Porto Ricans is to be passed at once, and the debate upon the old bill is to be continued indefinitely. Senator Davis stated in caucus that if the republicans did not give Porto Rico free trade Mr. McKinley would lose the electoral vote of Minnesota and Senator Beveridge made a similar statement as to Indiana.

Representative Sulzer, of New York, believed that the various complaints of American citizens resident in the Transvaal Republic of the treatment of themselves and other foreigners are fakes circulated to stop the increase of Boer sympathy in this country, and to prove his belief to be correct he has offered a resolution in the House calling on State Department for copies of all letters received from citizens of the United States resident in the South African republic from January 1, 1892 to the present time.

Having got their gold standard bill beyond the reach of the Republican Senators who still claim to be bimetalists, the republicans were very frank in acknowledging the effect the new law will have. For instance Representative Overstreet, who was in charge of the bill when it finally passed the House, said, in reply to a question of Representative Williams, of Illinois, as to whether the clause of law making bonds payable in gold would prevent their being paid in Silver, if international bimetalism should in the future be secure; The bonds could only be paid in gold. This bill holds out not the slightest hope of international bimetalism under present conditions. I say frankly that this bill will make it practically and absolutely impossible ever to have international bimetalism at the rates of 16 to 1. That fully exposes the hypocrisy of those republican Senators who stated when it was before the Senate that the bill contained nothing that would stand in the way of international bimetalism.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee has opened headquarters and started the work of the campaign. Secretary Keer, who is in charge, says the prospect for electing a Democratic House is becoming brighter every day and the same thing has been publicly said by prominent Republicans.

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSON, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and B. Ack-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cherry's Silver Wedding.

Friday night from 9 to 12 o'clock the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. James Burton Cherry, which has been recently enlarged and newly furnished, was a scene of brilliancy and beauty. It was the occasion of the celebration of their silver wedding. Twenty-five years ago—March 16th, 1875—they joined hearts and hands, and their wedded life has passed the quarter century mile post in peace and happiness. Their host of friends wish for them many more happy anniversaries.

The interior of the home was splendidly decorated—palms, evergreens, flowers and delicate ribbons being arranged in most harmonious effect.

The guests were received in the hall by Miss Nina James and Master Burton James, children of Senator F. G. James and grand children of Mr. Cherry. In the west parlor Mr. and Mrs. Cherry were assisted in receiving by Senator and Mrs. F. G. James, ex-Gov. and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, Dr. Chas. J. O'Hagan and Dr. Zeno Brown. At their marriage ex-Gov. Jarvis was the bridegroom's best man and Dr. O'Hagan accompanied the bride to the altar. It is also remarkable that all of the bride's maids, with one exception, are now living, though circumstances were such that none of them could be present at this silver anniversary.

In the east parlor was a beautiful display of silver presents, some of them exceedingly handsome.

The dining room was a dream of beauty, the centre table being a pyramid of flowers and brilliant candelabras with overhanging festoons of ribbon and smilax. At smaller tables around the room the guests were served with an elegant supper by Misses Bessie Jarvis, Winnie Skinner, Ada Wooten, Louise Latham and Messrs. W. H. Dail, C. T. Lipscomb, I. C. Gary and J. A. Ricks.

Before the guests departed they were charmingly entertained with two vocal selections by Mrs. Walter H. Grimes.
