GRIFTON ITEMS.

GRIFTON, N. C. March 17, 1900.

J. F. King came Thursday and returned to Greenville Friday.

R. L. Gardner, salesman for T. W. Mewborn & Co., of Kinston, was here Thursday and Friday.

Will Thompson, of LaGrange, was here Monday and contracted to build the tobacco warehouses.

Miss Laura Spier, is visiting at Mrs. Alice Spier's.

Miss Ada Dupree, of Kinston, is visiting at Mrs. Bryant Gardner's.

Fred Johnson, of Johnson's Mills, who has been teaching school near Falling Creek, came home Friday on a few days visit.

Two cars loaded with lumber arrived Friday night for the tobacco warehouses.

An expert bicycle rider created much attention Friday, as well as the fast trotters.

Died

Intelligence of the death of James Louis Arthur, of Bedford Co. Va., father of L. C. Arthur, of this place, has just reached here.

Mr. Arthur was 72 years old, and is survived by a wife and thirteen children. He commanded a company in the Confederate army and was a brave and gallant soldier. He served a term in the House of Delegates and Senate.

Mr. L. C. Arthur left Wednesday in response to a telegram.

Truth is said to be stranger than fiction, and many people do not like to be too familiar with a stranger.

The principles of the average white Republican in the South are eight in number—five loaves and three fishes.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

Convicts are the only people who never believe in their convictions.

Newspaper ink, when used as paint, will make a sinner look a saint.

A little temperance now and then is relished even by drinking men.

It will take only Ameer trifle to start a war between England and Russia.

It is said to be a fact that very few persons can "hold their own" when crossing the ocean.

Did you ever notice that "promising" young men are not as popular as paying young men?

Improving Their Work.

Tar River Lodge Knights of Pythias have just received a lantern and full set of slides for exemplifying work in the first and third degrees. The lodge here is growing steadily and the members take just pride in the order and its work. This addition to their paraphernalia will make the degree work even more attractive.

W C T U

Mrs. Mary C. Cartland, of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, made a very fine lecture in the Methodist church Sunday night. Her purpose here is to organize a Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Several gave her their names to join Sunday night and she announced that they would meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock to organize.

Mayor's Court

Mayor Moyer had one case before him this morning. C. J. O'Hagan, L. P. Lawrence and James L. Taft, charged with disorderly conduct, by breaking and destroying public property, street lamps, while intoxicated. O'Hagan and Taft plead guilty and were fined $25.00 and cost, total $30.00 each. Lawrence was guilty only of being intoxicated, and was fined 1 penny and cost, $3.56.

Small Fire.

There was a small fire Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Maggie Hammond on the corner of Evans and Second street.

Mrs. Hammond says she went in one of the rooms to examine some clothing hanging up and must have placed the lamp too near them, as she left the room for a few minutes and returned to find the clothing on fire. It was extinguished with a few buckets of water before much damage was done. The Hook and Ladder Co. put it out.

MONDAY, MARCH 19, 1900.

Unless some unexpected change occurs in the situation, the Republicans will enter on the fall campaign with a heavy load to bear. The Philippine rebellion is apparently as far from a conclusion as ever; the ship subsidy bill, though modified, is still almost as vicious as it was; the Hay-Pauncefote treaty has been made even more obnoxious and dangerous by its much lauded amendment, while the Porto Rican bill, however decided, will be a mill-stone around the necks of those who were so willing to surrender principle to expediency.

The fact that the State Department seems to take no notice of the steady increase of British military power at points contiguous to the United States, such as Esquimalt, B. C., St. Lucia, W. I. and elsewhere, has led Mr. Sulzer of New York to introduce the following resolution requesting information on the subject: "That the Secretary of War is hereby directed to inform the House of Representatives as early as possible what fortifications Great Britain is erecting, constructing and completing along the northern frontier of the United States, especially at Puget Sound and other places on the Pacific ocean contiguous to the State of Washington and the District of Alaska."

Let all those in favor of a clean white man's government work together shoulder to shoulder to secure the adoption of the amendment at next August's election. Minor differences can be settled afterwards. The one important point is for us to make our State secure from further government by the dirty horde who have done their best to disgrace it and put shame on its manhood and womanhood. While such vital interests are in the balance the man who attempts to stir up dissensions in the ranks of the white people should have no mercy shown him. Let no other issue encumber this election.—The Argonaut.

Even the lazy man's wife often worships her idle.

The most elastic thing in the world is hope, for it springs eternal in the human breast.

Republicans at Sea

Raleigh, N. C. March 17, 1900. A Republican of prominence from the eastern part of the State said today that he violently opposed his party having any organization in the East for the August election. This was a delicate way of expressing his belief that the Democrats would certainly win.

The fact is that the Republicans so far have no plans and no candidates. It is always their custom to select their men before hand, make up a slate in fact, but this year they are at sea, and offices appear to go begging. They know Democratic nominations are equivalent to election. Not a Republican can be found who has any idea who will be his party's nominee for Governor. Out of dozens asked, not one has answered with any degree of positiveness. Some say in a vague way, Richmond Pearson, while others say he doesn't want the nomination, but does want to go to Congress from the Ninth District.

Complete as was Republican Chairman Holton's downfall and collapse two years ago, Republicans are saying he will be re-elected Chairman.

Speeches are in progress in many counties and wildly scattered. The amendment is the sole topic. The plan to make all else subordinate to its being carried out by the Democrats. The Republicans are putting some speakers in the field but they do most of their work by bush-whacking, taking single voters or very small groups. It will be a costly campaign for them, but of course their National Committee will help them as it did in 1896, when it gave $50,000 for North Carolina. In a few cases Populists are speaking, but a very few. Senator Butler is practically the only Populist to make any sign, barring the nine members of the State Committee who met here in January and fulminated against the amendment.

A Populist, who in 1896 was of State prominence, says Senator Butler is dealing with the Republicans as if he could command, or commanded, 60,000 Populists, whereas he does not control 10,000, and that the Populists who will vote against the amendment would do so anyway, Butler or no Butler.

Some of the Populists, who in 1896 and 1898 were prominent in politics, will this year retire. State Auditor Ayer, ex-Chairman, is one. The Populists who are to drive their people against the amendment have discovered that they cannot carry out their plans. Enough hints have been dropped to show them what the Convention will do—that is, leave the amendment to the individual view of the Populists.

If one asks people from the country in Central and Eastern North Carolina the question, "What do you hear the white Republicans saying on the question of the amendment?" the reply is, "They are divided; some for and some against it." A politician would declare they were all against it.

The attitude of a negro on this question is interesting. It is passive. He sees what is sure to happen. Jim Young says the negroes care nothing about registering or voting, feel little or no interest in the election, and want the white people to settle the franchise matter, the negroes merely wishing to be let alone. The white Republicans want the negroes to keep out of conventions, keep in the back ground in fact, but to register. Young, speaking for the negroes, says there will be few, if any, in the conventions. The question is whether this is of their own motion or whether it is not a following of the wishes of the white Republicans.

CUNNINGHAM WITHDRAWS.

Col. John S. Cunningham, of Person county, who has been prominently mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor, has written a patriotic address to the people of North Carolina, in which, in order to insure entire harmony and unanimity of the party, he withdraws his name from the contest. In this address he says:

"I believe the success of the Democratic party this year is paramount to the ambition of any man, and that each member of the party ought to yield his own wishes in the interest of unanimous action. I think it is also important that the candidate for governor, who is rightly regarded as the head of the party, should be selected, as far as possible, without contest and with practical unanimity. Holding these views and desiring always to do what is best for the party and the state, and believing that what is the welfare of one is for the welfare of the other, I have decided to withdraw from the race for governor.

"I congratulate myself that in the contest I have made I have done nothing to create any enmities and that the friends of other candidates have been considerate of me and my friends. I have endeavored to conduct my campaign upon a high plane of political ethics, indulging in no unkind criticism or harsh statements concerning any one.

"Every patriotic citizen must admit that the success of the party in the coming campaign is more important than the triumph of any individual, and that party success at this time should be placed high above every other consideration. The constitutional amendment is at issue and it must be decided in favor of white supremacy.

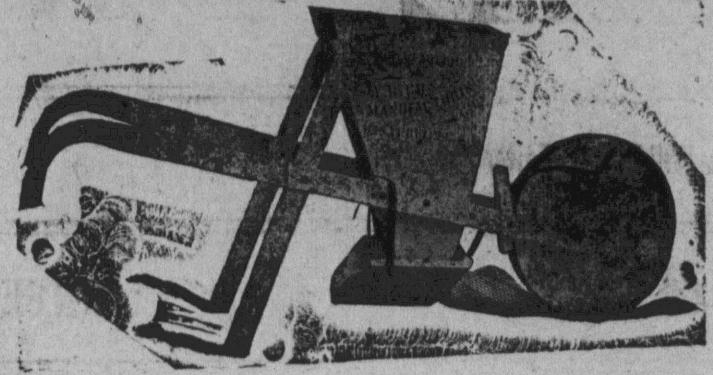

"My friends throughout the state have been loyal to me and they have labored in my behalf with an earnestness and zeal which has made itself felt. To them I am truly grateful and it is to them that I turn with sincere pride and shall ever cherish their loyal support as the brightest page in the history of my life. They have waged a vigorous contest as the assurance of support which I have received for many sources have been warm and numerous. I deeply appreciate every kind word they have spoken in my behalf and I feel they will understand my action in retiring from the race at this time, since I assure them and the people of North Carolina that I am taking this step because I believe that it is in the interest of party harmony for me to do so, and because I think my retirement will in a measure simplify the situation and increase to some extent our chances of success.

"Every one who knows me will understand that my best services from now on, as they have always been in the past, will be at the command of the democratic party, and I have never failed to enter into the thickest of the fight whenever the principles of that party have been assailed or white supremacy threatened."

An Evidence of Modern Progressiveness.

The business man who says he will not advertise because his grandfather—also a business man—didn't would seriously object to a proposed abandonment of other attributes of modern progressiveness. Advertising is as indispensable to business as are railroads and steamships and telegraphs and clerks. Grandfathers of the present generation would have advertised as moderns do had they known how; and they did advertise to the best of their ability.—Philadelphia Record.

BOSS.

Because it is the best. Because it is the cheapest. Because it is the simplest sower that can be gotten up to do good even work.

Only weighs 35 pounds. Only one wheel-like a wheel-barrow. Only has one loose piece, a wooden shoe, which throws the guano out as the wheel strikes it.

Sows much or little. Sows in a narrow or wide streak. Sows any kind of fertilizer that is in good order, and not wet enough to stick together.

Sells always with a fair trial. Sells at factory for $3 00 retail. Sells when others will not sell because it is light, cheap and durable, and does as good work as much higher priced implements.

Buys Mill Outright

Mr. Leon L. Strause, a well known tobacconist of Richmond, Va., says the Dispatch, has just returned from Massachusetts.

While North Mr. Strause purchased outright a first class knitting mill. This is for the manufacture of underwear. The plant will be taken to pieces and moved at once to Henderson, N. C. Here the divided machinery will be put together in one of the buildings best adapted for the mill that can be found anywhere in the South. The mill under the ownership of Mr. Strause will be known as the Seaboard Knitting Mills. The capital stock will be $50,000, fully paid up.

It is expected that the mill will be put in operation at the new locality within the next sixty days.

From the outset the mill will turn out daily about 200 dozen suits of men's underwear. This rather large capacity will be increased at an early date. Mr. Strause has secured the services of a competent manager and superintendent. The location of the knitting mills at Henderson is opportune, since the well known Henderson cotton mills there can furnish on the spot all the yarns needed for the manufacture of such goods as the knitting mills may wish to make.—Raleigh Post.

Exchanged Coats.

Hurt by a Fall.

Mr. A. B. Ellington, who clerks for J. B. Cherry & Co., met with an accident a day or two ago that has confined him to his bed. He started out the door to come to his work, and there being some ice on the steps he slipped and fell, badly hurting one hip and shoulder.

Slight Attack of Vertigo.

Sunday morning Dr. C. J. O'Hagan visited several patients and returned to his office just before noon. Not long after persons passing by the office saw him lying upon the floor and gave an alarm. Dr. O'Hagan was taken to his residence near by and soon regained consciousness. He had suffered a slight attack of vertigo and in falling had bruised his forehead quite severely. His many friends are glad that he is much better today and expects to be able to get out in a day or two.

Prisoner Escapes.

Saturday night while the prisoners in jail were being fed Alonzo Brown, white, made his escape.

When the negro who waits on the jail finished feeding the prisoners up stair he came down and failed to lock the corridor door. Brown seeing it unlocked waited until they were busy feeding the prisoners on the lower floor, when he opened the door and quietly stepped out.

He was tried at the January term of court for criminal assault and sentenced to six months imprisonment in the jail. He already had served nearly half of his term.
