Halifax Republicans.

Weldon, N. C., April 20—The Republican county convention held at Halifax today was the tamest affair ever known. The attendance was very small with no enthusiasm at all. Only two white Republicans were present. The convention elected delegates to the State and Congressional conventions, endorsed George H. White for Congress "or anything else he wants" and H. P. Cheatham for delegate at large to the National Republican convention. The coons were completely at sea and adjourned without naming a county or legislative ticket, subject to the call of the chairman.

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY.

Interesting Meeting In Spite of Weather.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, quite a number of the Daughters of the Confederacy met at their monthly assembly on Friday afternoon as the guests of Miss Martha O'Hagan, the hostess doing every thing in her power to dispell the external gloom by the comfortable cheer within.

The president, as usual, read an historical sketch after which the names of some thirty-five or forty Confederate generals were impressed upon the memories of each member by the usual contest. Miss Winnie Skinner won the highest mark, Miss Louise Latham, second, and Mrs. J. L. Little, third. This making a tie between Mrs. Little and Miss Skinner for the badge, which will be decided at the next meeting.

The refreshments were exceptionally nice and enjoyable.

The report that Bryan is thinking of moving to Texas must be incorrect, as it is well known that he is meditating on a move to Washington.

The South Carolina Legislature has changed the law requiring the railroads to provide separate compartments for white and colored passengers, and says they must provide separate coaches.

Alabama Republicans held their State convention Thursday to select delegates to the National convention. The convention split up into a riot and bloodshed. Two sets of delegates were chosen.

Will the Republicans reduce taxes? We trow not. With $150,000,000 to lend out without interest amongst favored banks for the next year, the G. O. P. will never want for campaign funds.

The itinerary mapped out for the Democratic nominees on their tour of the State is now given out up to May 8th, on which date they will speak at Washington. We have not seen it stated whether further appointments are to be made, so THE REFLECTOR speaks now that the candidates ought to come to Greenville. Pitt furnishes one of the candidates, and there should be a great rally in Greenville with all the nominees present. Steps should be taken at once to have an appointment here.

Candidates Must Pay for Publicity.

Candidates for office are charged for announcement cards by the Opelika (Ala.) Industrial News, according to the importance of the office toward which they are turning expectant eyes. Those who seek county offices are charged $5; district offices, $10; state offices $25. Terms, cash in advance. For communications in the interest of candidates, the News charges the rate of one cent per word, each insertion.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20, 1900.

Mr. McKinley has gone off on a pleasure junket, but Boss Hanna is working over-time. He is fixing up the platform that will be adopted by the Ohio republican convention, next week, and he is trying to figure out whether the country can be enthused by a little jingoism in connection with the failure of the Sultan of Turkey to keep his promise to pay $90,000 for property belonging to American missionaries, which was destroyed several years ago by a Turkish mob. If he decides that jingoism is advisable, Secretary Hay will probably give the Turkish minister his passport, and the republican press will be filled with spread-eagleism about the determined stand the administration has taken for the protection of American missionaries and their interests. Mr. McKinley can find time to go away for a week, but his task isn't as heavy as that of Boss Hanna, who has started out to try for four more years of autocratic power and has not any time to waste on pleasure.

Col. Bryan and Admiral Dewey are to meet in Chicago, May 1st, and the prediction is quite frequently heard in Washington that the result of that meeting may change the Admiral's aspirations to the extent of making him a candidate for the second place on the Bryan ticket.

About one hundred gentlemen representing the drug trade are in Washington spending a lot of money in hotel bills while they are trying to get a bill repealing that portion of the war taxes affecting their business favorably reported from the Ways and Means Committee. They are on the wrong track. Hanna is the man they will have to see. He has decided that no reduction of war taxes shall be made at this session. He figures on getting campaign contributions from every interest affected by those taxes, and the interests which chip in the heaviest will be the one favored when the reduction is made at the next session of Congress.

Senator Hoar told some truths which were decidedly unpleasant to the administration, in his speech on the Philippine question, which he declared was a long way from being settled. For instance he said: "If there had been a single assurance that we intended to respect the independence to which they aspired, there would have been no war. If we had not hurried reinforcements to Manila, both of ships and of men, strengthening the forces of our army and navy there, after Spain had yielded, there would have been no war. If the urgent request of Aguinaldo, after the outbreak of February 5th, that hostilities might cease, had not been met by the declaration of Otis that 'fighting must go on', there would have been no war. If Aguinaldo's offer to withdraw had been met in a like spirit, there would have been no war. If Senators had not been talking about holding on to all they could get, about making money out of their great act of liberation, about keeping from the people of these islands their liberty and their independence, for purposes of gain and trade, there would have been no war." Notwithstanding this arraignment, Mr. Hoar will work and vote for McKinley's re-election and a continuation of the policy he now attacks.

Plato Durham's Plan.

In his speech at Winston, Mr. Gilmer, Democratic candidate for Attorney General, made a decided hit by basing his speech on a resolution presented in the Constitutional Convention of 1868 by the lamented Platto Durham. The resolution was in these words:

"Resolved, That the white and black races are distinct by nature, and that any and all efforts to abolish or abridge such distinction, and to degrade the white to the level of the black race are crimes against the civilization of the age and against God.

"Resolved, That the government of the United States and of the Southern States were instituted by the white men, and that while the lives, liberty and property of the black race should be protected by just laws, these governments ought to be controlled by white men only."

Of course the powers in control at that time did not look with favor on Mr. Durham's resolution, but today in North Carolina the campaign is being waged to carry those resolutions into effect. There is but one way under the sun to put the government of this State in the hands of "white men only," and that is by the elimination of the mass of ignorant negro voters from suffrage. Mr. Durham did not live to see the day when his statesmanship should be vindicated, but his sons live to take a part in carrying out the doctrine that he fought for at a day when carpet-bag domination made its adoption impossible. The adoption of the Constitutional Amendment is the only way to carry out Mr. Durham's plan.—Raleigh News and Observer.

This Excites a "Fellow Feeling"

The New York Sun's "Live Topics About Town" man has caught an advertising agent in a confidential mood. In the reported talk the agent discloses some trade secrets that may inspire for him a greater degree of sympathy on the part of newspaper men than has heretofore commonly existed:—

"The advertising business would be all right," said the head of one of the big advertising companies. "If the people you did business for would pay their bills in cash. You thought they did, did you? Well, some of them do, but a good many of them don't, and then you get loaded up with truck that you have to dispose of at the best figures you can get. Can you think of anything more discouraging than getting down to your office in the morning, and meeting a man who wants to pay his bill with 500 pounds of his medicated candy that you've spent your good money to advertise? No, I guess you can't. Well, in the last year I've had to take merchandise enough to stock a department store. I've had tons and tons of stuff. I have had three tons of candy alone. I've had groceries, dry goods, novelties, clothes and about everything you can think of. We laugh when we read in the country papers that wood and coal and fresh vegetables and the like will be taken in payment for subscriptions and advertising, but right here in New York city that sort of thing is going on, only on a larger scale, and its no laughing matter, either. Wouldn't it jar you?"

WINE OF CARDUI

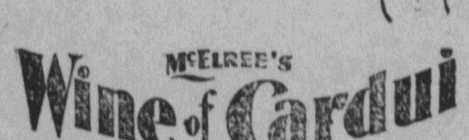

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSON, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Back-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

A FINE BAND.

Captivated New Bern and the Fair Visitors.

The Osceola Band returned this morning from New Bern, where they have been making music for the fair. The home folks are proud of the splendid record our boys made. The New Bern Journal of the 20th in speaking of the Band says:

The splendid playing of the Osceola Band, of Greenville, N. C., has been a noteworthy and attractive feature of the fair during the week. Under the leadership of Prof. Forbes, this Band has daily furnished a liberal supply of music, beginning with the opening day parade, and afterwards playing in the grand stand at the fair grounds during the races. A pleasing feature of the Band's playing, has been its rendition of popular musical pieces, which has kept its hearers thoroughly entertained at all times. The Band members have personally made many friends in New Bern, and their return will be welcomed. The Fair Association made no mistake in securing the services of the Osceola, and it is to be hoped this Band may return here again.

A SPRING GREETING IN A MERRY MOOD.

Good Fortune Smiles

and you ignore rightful advantages if you do not claim the benefits offered in this Announcement.

Many are the needs that confront you with the advent of Spring. It is concerning these requirements and how they may be secured with satisfaction and economy that we wish to speak. Our new line is now ready. We present the latest and best spring goods at a scale of uniformly low figures—so low, in fact, that they may be truthfully called, "price concessions." These goods are fully as attractive in style and quality as they are in price, and we are perfectly confident that they will appeal to your best judgment as a careful buyer in every way. This is a conservative statement regarding facts which can be easily substantiated any time you visit our store. Our great desire is to have you call and see our new Spring line. It will speak for itself—the quality and style will be apparent and the price will present its own argument. In extending this invitation we are not urging you to become a buyer on the strength of our statements but to become a visitor. We do not ask you to buy; but bring your experience and best judgment with you and compare our reasonable attractions with your most cherished memories of cheap buying—we'll leave the rest to your own inclination. Our stock is of the practical, popular kind, that shows in a marked degree the evidences of a careful and judicious selection from the best markets. Variety, new novelties, and a thorough up-to-date quality in all things is everywhere apparent. Our Spring goods are marked for quick selling. It is a time for you to decide quickly as to whether you shall select from our full assortment of fresh, desirable styles, or take chances on perfect satisfaction a little later on, when stocks of necessity, must be more or less broken. We should prefer to see you today or tomorrow; later in the season we should be very likely to please you but now we are certain to do so. Remember, such opportunities do not have to wait long for new comers. A look will convince you these are no idle words—will you call and give it? Yours respectfully,

J. B. CHERRY & CO.
