Strange World.

Tuesday night the preacher was sounding the alarm and warning his hearers against that fire which will burn through all eternity, and the people sat still like so many stocks and stones. Yet when the fire alarm down town clanged out on the night air the people almost hustled over each other to see which could get out of the church first. Strange people.

Birthday Party

Master Frances Skinner, the three-year-old son of Col. Harry Skinner, gave a birthday party to a number of friends, from three to four years old, on the lawn on Tuesday evening. It was a merry little party and they all had a very pleasant time.

Damaging Crop Prospects.

The reports coming in from the country are anything but encouraging, especially as to the tobacco crop. The continued dry weather has prevented setting out plants, many that were set out died and there is such a scarcity of plants that enough cannot be had for setting out again. Several farmers have planted their tobacco land in cotton. We hear some say that they do not think the tobacco crop in Pitt county will be more than half what it was last year. The dry weather is keeping late planted cotton from coming up and the Irish potato crop is also suffering.

The latest true fish story is as follows. Monday while Mr. Alfred Worthington's little son, who lives near here, was fishing for pikes he killed a moccasin about three feet long from which he extracted 32 pikes, which the snake had just swallowed. Don't know whether he added them to his string or not, but that certainly beats fishing with hook and line.

Fire Alarm.

Some excitement was caused Tuesday night by a small fire down at the colored Odd Fellows hall. A lamp nailed to one of the posts fell to the floor and broke setting the oil on fire. It was put out in a few minutes by some members of the lodge before any damage was done.

The alarm broke up the services around at the Methodist Church and caused some excitement on the street.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1900.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Extra Session of the Legislature—Adjourned Meeting of General Assembly Only Three Weeks off.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 15, 1900.

The time set for reassembling of the Legislature of 1899 in adjourned session is only three weeks off and yet very little has been said or published about this important event.

At the time the extra session was decided upon, and again lately, a few have expressed their opinion or fear that there will be a "slim attendance", as the members will not only not receive pay for their services while here but will be put to the expense of maintaining themselves during the session.

I don't believe it; I cannot subscribe to such a selfish view.

Again, it is urged that many may think that because it is necessary for only a quorum to attend (that is to say, 61 representatives and 26 senators) in order to attend to the business in hand, a considerable number may absent themselves on that account. This is false premise, and such a conclusion would be very unfortunate for the party—and I do not believe a single patriotic member of the General Assembly can conscientiously entertain it.

It is highly important that every Democratic member of the General Assembly should attend. The reasons are too obvious to necessitate a detail statement of them. In the first place several extremely important questions are likely to be considered; on some of them the party may be divided as to the modus operandi of accomplishing certain desired results, and it is highly necessary that the body and the party should have the benefit of the opinion and wisdom and action of the representatives of all sections of the State and of every county in the Commonwealth.

The text of the pending Constitutional Amendment will come up for consideration; some think there should be certain additions made thereto and possibly the elimination or change of other passages. To reach the right conclusion as to these matters it is very desirable that the counsel of every Democratic legislator should be available and the conference or caucus should be participated in by them all—for I take it, there is none so capable of giving good advice as to the existing conditions and future prospects and of stating the views and desires of the voters as these legislators themselves, fresh from the people whom they represent.

Other matters of importance demand action at their coming session, as it will be too late to attend to them next winter. For instance I have heard many representative and staunch Democrats, who have the best interests of the party at heart, say that provision should be made for holding the Senatorial Primary, ordered so overwhelmingly and with such unanimity by the recent State Convention, that it should be "legalized" just as its successors are certain to be at the next Legislature, and as the party platform demands; that provision for the appointment and compensation of the poll holders should be made, and the necessary details attended to by the proper authority, which is the General Assembly.

There are several other matters, not only of party import but affecting the weal and the prosperity of the State and our people, which demand attention at this particular time and which may be considered and acted upon. All of these can be disposed of in a few days, however, and is not at all likely that the session will last longer than a week or two.

For the first time Postmaster Baily closed the Raleigh postoffice during Confederate memorial exercises last Thursday having received the consent of the United States authorities at Washington to observe a half-holiday. This is something new, but altogether proper (as Federal memorial day is so observed) and shows the growth of the "good feeling between the two sections" of our common country, which has never been so pronounced and genuine in forty years as now.

A new hospital building is being erected at the Confederate Soldier's Home here, provision for which was made by the Legislature more than a year ago.

Grand Secretary John C. Drewry, of Raleigh, informs me that there are now 314 Masonic lodges in North Carolina, a new lodge for every month having been organized so far this year, and that this old and admirable Order was never in better condition.

Butler's followers are bragging of his "victory" at the Pop. national convention in foreing the nomination of a candidate for Vice-President (Towne, Rep.), against the advice of Mr. Bryan and a Senator Allen and other Pop. leaders. This means more "trading" for Butler. He was re-elected national chairman.

Representatives of the Department of Justice at Washington have been here several days investigating the State penitentiary management on account of fresh complaints preferred by representatives of Federal prisoners, one of whom (a negro) was killed by Warden Green a few days ago. This latter incident is not the basis of investigation, however. A report will be made to the Washington authorities this week.

The executive committee of the Second Congressional District has refused to postpone the Democratic Convention called for May 24th at Goldsboro, although advised to do so by Chairman Simmons and other State committeemen. There are five candidates—Don Gilliam, J. W. Grainger, Claude Kitchen, Swift Galloway, F. A. Woodard. A lively fight is anticipated.

Jarvis to Succeed Alderman

Editor Raleigh Post: My Dear Sir: The friends of the University desire to have Governor Jarvis succeed Dr. Alderman as president of the University. There is no man in the State, by experience and qualification, so well adapted to the varied requirements of this exalted position. He possesses as the people know without any formal recommendations, or credentials, a high order of executive, administrative and conservative talent. When Governor, the University was his hobby and idol, and he has always proved, "in season and out of season," its strong friend and champion. The trustees of those days and the public know that he did a great deal to rebuild and enlarge, re-establish, and give to the University its present commanding influence. He has always acted, in office, as private citizen and Christian gentlemen, in union and concert with the prominent educators of this State, and has always commanded their respect and confidence. They have always valued his services in behalf of education, sought his timely and wise counsel and valuable assistance in developing, advancing, and administering the educational interests of the State. He is an acknowledged wise counsellor in matters of State, church, law, education, finance and business. His opinion and directions always bear the stamp of simple faith, wisdom and honesty. Occupying as he does the unique position of having under his administration of the affairs of State, greatly aided in giving a great impetus to the common schools, the Normal and Industrial for both races, and being the genuine, zealous and sincere friend of education as he is universally acknowledged to be, and at the same time in touch, as his liberal character and wisdom make him, with the scope and aims and purposes of Wake Forest, Trinity, Davidson, and other educational institutions, he can better than any other living North Carolinian harmonize the educational work of all, and, without injury to any denomination, or interfering with their educational domain, make them one. He can by his superb, political, Christian, and educational diplomacy work in harmony for the cause of education, and unite all institutions, with increased influence, as the friends and supporters of the University, in which church and State would feel a commendable pride. Gov. Jarvis enjoys an enviable reputation and acquaintance throughout the State and nation and, by varied and ripe experience, would command through his personality and reputation a large increased patronage. His knowledge of men and political experience, especially equip him and render him valuable in securing the necessary public appropriations and private donations necessary to make the University what it should be, such a commanding institution that its president would not think of a personal betterment or educational promotion to accept a position with any other similar institution in the Union. Other States have promoted there ex-Governors and distinguished citizens to the position of president of their universities. We have done so in days gone by in the case of Gov. Swain. Let us do so again, and thereby draw to the University, and save to the boys of the State what of character and influence our great statesman have acquired and retained after years of conflict. Gov. Jarvis' experience as a poor boy struggling for an education, as a legislator, as a creator of organic law, as Governor of his people, as a promoter of common and higher education, as a representative of his country abroad, and as a United States Senator belong to the youth of the land. We can substantially give it to them by making him the chief executive of the highest educational institution of the State.

Very truly yours,

WILSON G. LAMB.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14. No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since. MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

McLREE'S Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

IT WILL PAY YOU TO INVESTIGATE the new policies of the Bankers. The Life, Limited Payment Life and Endowment policies contain all the up-to-date features, many of which are original.

Good Things.

Did you ever look for the "good things" in your life insurance policy? Unless it was in the Bankers Life Insurance Company of the City of New York, you probably found side issues labelled "Grace" "Incontestability," "Loans," and the like, made prominent as "good things." Of course we have these features, too, for the "Bankers" is nothing if not progressive; but—

Did you ever see a policy with which the Company keeps an Individual Account?

Or one in which all earnings are guaranteed to the policy-holder?
Or one which guaranteed both reserve and surplus if surrendered?
Or one which gives all withdrawable surplus at death, in addition to face of policy?

Or one, in fact, which treats the policy-holder with absolute equity, confiscating no portion of the net premiums, and allowing a policy-holder to control his own money at all times, as far as is consistent with a conservative system which embraces the best points of banking and insurance?

If you have never seen any of these "good things," investigate the new policies of the Bankers Life Insurance Company of the City of New York.

Who are its officers and directors? Among them are many of the best known men in New York financial circles.

The Company's record has been unequalled for economical management, safe investments, equitable dealings with its policy-holders and low cost of Insurance Protection.

The Fraud Grows Enormously

The vast army of pensioners, urged on by an industrious and tireless band of pension agents, are making hay very fast while the sun of a surplus revenue irradiates the national capitol. One hundred and eighty private pension bills were passed by the House of Representatives in one day last week, and there are thousands more to come if time shall serve and the Treasury surplus hold out. These private bills relate to cases in which even the liberal administration of the Pension Bureau could find no grounds for granting the desired bounty, and up to the present time all previous records of Congressional liberality in dealing with such applicants have been surpassed in the Fifty-sixth Congress. If this streak of legislative generosity shall run on without abatement the country will sooner or later be confronted with the necessity for a special tax to pay the enormous annual aggregate of the pension roll.—Philadelphia Record.
