Are You One of Them?

A great deal of unhappiness is caused by people who pry into the affairs of others and who maliciously repeat and enlarge upon little scraps of information they receive concerning the private affairs of friends and neighbors. These people are formidable because their mode of speech bears the stamp of sincerity. They usually approach the subject in a hesitating, round about way, as if loath to give expression to words that can hardly fail to injure the character of those whose absence renders them defenceless. It is not a part of their policy to give the maligned party the shadow of a chance to trace the unfriendly and oftentimes vicious accusations that are so blighting in their effects upon a sensitive nature.—Exchange.

Press an Educator.

Speaking of the press as an educator, the Richmond Times says:

The public press is a great educator. It is not so many years ago that thousands of people were superstitious about an eclipse of the sun, and such phenomena were always attended with more or less fear on the part of the masses. But, thanks to the public press the people were prepared months ago for the eclipse which occurred Monday, and every body who could read simple English had an opportunity thoroughly to understand the phenomenon from a scientific point of view.

"It is the duty of a newspaper to print something else besides the news, and no one agency has done so much to educate the general public, to remove popular superstitions and generally to clear the cobwebs away, as the public press. The modern news paper has many sins to answer for, but it also has much to its credit."

Employed Abe Middleton.

Chairman Holton has secured the negro Abe Middleton, as assistant in his campaign against white supremacy. Abe was the illustrious assistant door-keeper of the House of Representatives, who, during the Legislature of 1895, attempted to arrest two Democratic members as they were leaving the hall to prevent a quorum.—Winston Sentinel.

A Good Season for Fakirs.

It really seems as if any sort of humbuggery or fraud can flourish for awhile. If a man were to claim to be the angel Gabriel he could get a following and could produce written testimonials from persons that they had seen his wings.—Associate Reformed Presbyterian.

They Are Good.

Our local orators are pluming themselves for the speakings Saturday when the White Supremacy Clubs are to be organized. Fact of the business is, it would be hard to scare up a better crowd of speakers than we have here around Greenville.

Register Tomorrow.

You have but one more day in which to register for the town election. If you have moved in town since last election, or changed residence from one ward to another, you must register or you cannot vote.

The papers consolidating various roads into the Atlantic Coast Line were filed at the court house in Wilmington Tuesday, $18,000 worth of revenue stamps being attached to the papers.

The eclipse of the sun was a great success. Now let the Democracy see that the eclipse of McKinleyism in November shall be in its way just as complete.—Richmond Dispatch.

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1900.

The Confederate veterans are holding their tenth annual reunion at Louisville. There is a large attendance.

Dr. W. C. Tyree, of Durham, has declined the offer of the Presidency of the Baptist Female University. This is the second man to decline it the past few weeks.

Again THE REFLECTOR sounds a note of warning that those voters of Greenville who want good government should be at the ward primaries. A nomination at the primaries will be equivalent to an election, hence the importance of nominating the right men.

Senator Chandler says he does not believe that the people of this country have suffered because rich men have forced their way into the Senate. The people are not objecting to rich men finding their way into the Senate but to their buying their way into it, and then becoming the attorneys of capitalized combines in whose interests they bought their way in.—Wilmington Star.

Alcohol is not a food for an athlete, and if not for an athlete then not for any one. It hardens the tissues of the body, and that is not desirable; besides, it hardens the liver at the same time. When the question arises between a man and alcohol the safe side—for the alcohol—is the outside. Medicinally, it may have its place, but its use is not to be commended either as a beverage or a food.—June Ladies' Home Journal.

An Enormous Crop.

"While Kansas will raise the largest wheat crop this year in the history of the State, I don't believe that the yield will reach 100,000,000 bushels or anywhere near it," said State Grain Inspector A. E. McKenzie to-day.

"The largest crop the State ever raised was 82,000,000 bushels. I believe that we will raise 85,000,000 bushels this year. I have been all over the wheat belt recently, and the prospects could not be finer. The millers all expect it to be the banner crop.

Harvest will begin in the southern part of the State within the next ten days, and there is much activity displayed by the farmers in securing help. No man need be out of work in Kansas this summer. Outside help will have to be secured during harvest time, and the 20,000 extra men can find employment.—Topeka Kan., Dispatch.

An Unwelcome Visitor.

It seems to be a great mystery as to how the bubonic plague got into San Francisco. The quarantine at that port has been very strict since the disease began to cross the Pacific from Asia to Hawaii and to creep along northward up the South American coast. And yet it slipped in one night and the next day the Marine Hospital Service was quarantining the entire Chinese quarter of that city. The San Francisco people, who have great confidence in the effectiveness of their quarantine, think that some Chinaman, smuggled over the border from British Columbia, brought the plague into the city.

San Francisco is the only city of the United States to which the disease has gained entrance. No epidemic of it is to be feared in this country because of its marvelous excellency of our sanitary arrangements, but it throws the burden of a new care upon the government. We are sufficiently amused in fighting yellow fever in our Southern borders and keeping the disease from spreading. While our skilled government surgeons and experts have so far been unable to entirely eradicate the yellow scourge, they certainly have been able to check it and minimize its effects as compared with what they were 30 or 40 years ago. And so it will be with the bubonic plague in the West, and yet we are not pleased at all that it has shown a hankering for our coasts. It is properly an Oriental calamity and we wish it would shinny on its own side.—Charlotte Observer.

Recipe for Kissing.

To one piece of dark piazza, add a little moonlight. Take for granted two persons. Press, in two strong ones, one small, soft hand. Sift light two ounces of attraction, one of romance; add a large amount of folly; stir in a little floating ruffle and one or two whippers. Dissolve a half a dozen glances in well of silence; dust in a small ounce of hesitation, one ounce of resistance two of yielding; place the kisses on a flushed cheek or two lips; flavor with a slight scream and set aside and let cool.

This will succeed in any climate if directions are carefully followed.

Will Try to Hold Back Cotton.

The executive committee of the Georgia Cotton Planters' Association, organized here May 12th has adopted a plan for future conduct of the association and also a constitution and by-laws. There is a president, vice president and secretary-treasurer, whose headquarters will be in Macon. These officers are to employ local organizers throughout the State, who are to form county organizations. Each member is to pay 50 cents a year to carry on the work.

A committee was appointed to go before the Georgia bankers' convention at Lithia Springs on June 13th, and form a plan for holding cotton in warehouses, the bankers and warehouseman being members of the Cotton Growers' Association.

The idea is to distribute the cotton crop throughout the year, so it won't all be marketed at one time. No officer can run for a political office without first resigning.

President G. H. Jordan says: "Our Farmers' Alliance was killed years ago by politics. We shall profit by our past experience."

Every cotton growing State will be organized according to Georgia's plan, if the efforts of the Georgia Association are successful.—Macon, Ga., Dispatch.

Answer These, Please.

We desire to ask a few questions of those newspapers that lean towards the trusts and find so much amusement in Maj. W. A. Guthrie's fight against the American Tobacco Company.

Maj. Guthrie owns a share of stock in Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Company on which dividends were regularly paid as long as the company remained independent. Since the controlling interest in the Blackwell factory has been acquired by the trust, though the sales have increased greatly Maj. Guthrie's stock and stock held by a number of other persons who are "outsiders" have been entirely ignored. These facts have been brought out in the suit, and have not been denied, so far as we have seen.

Has the American Tobacco Company acted straight in withholding from Maj. Guthrie and others their share of the profits in Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Company?

If the American Tobacco Company's hands are unsoiled and Maj. Guthrie is wholly unwarranted in the course he has pursued, why has the trust had the Blackwell company thrown into the hands of a receiver?

If the American Tobacco Company has not done the straight thing, why is Maj. Guthrie not justified in taking steps to protect his rights, and why should he not appeal to the legislature that created Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Company and not to the United States circuit court whose jurisdiction in the case is uncertain?

Will those papers that sneer at Maj. Guthrie and find so much enjoyment in the temporary triumph of the trust please answer these questions?—Winston Tobacco Journal.

Hospital Over-crowded.

The question is brought to mind by an incident occurring here a week or more ago and another yesterday. Living in Greensboro was an estimable person whose mind gave way. Several physicians did all that could be done and then decided that the asylum was the place for the patient, but when the papers of commitment were sent to Morganton the reply came back the place was full, with not a possible chance to receive any more. The patient grew worse, in fact violent at times, and something had to be done. By some arrangement, a little out of the ordinary, permission was given to send the party to the asylum in Raleigh, though it is out of the district, and it was done, though it was said that this place was about full.

The other case occurred yesterday when a man from High Point had to be brought to the County House because it was impossible to provide for him at Morganton.—Greensboro Record.

Opposed to Electing Senators by a Direct Vote.

Washington, May 29.—The Senate committee on privileges and elections to-day adversely reported the House joint resolution to elect United States Senators by direct popular vote. The same committee favorably reported the Hoar bill amending the law relating to election of Senators so as to permit election by a plurality of members of the Legislature in cases where a majority cannot be secured by any one candidate. The latter bill is intended to prevent deadlocks in elections.

Nice mourning paper and other box paper at Reflector Book Store.

One of the delegates to the republican convention here last week was heard to say privately that he had been very much opposed to the amendment until he attended the republican rally at Winston last week and the way the big negroes with spectacles and high hats pushed the whites around turned his stomach, and he is now very quiet. He, however, is afraid to say so out publicly, for he is a federal officeholder, and he fears Pritchard's hatchet.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

Lost Their Horse.

Four of the boys of Mr. W. B. Wilson went out to Forbes' mill pond Wednesday to try their luck fishing. They tied their horse in the woods near by and when they went back for him the animal was gone. The boys walked back to town and reported the loss to their father. Mr. Wilson got another horse and went out to look for the lost one. After searching a while the horse was found. He had got loose from where he was fastened and in wandering about through the woods broke the harness all to pieces and lost most of it.

May Close Tonight.

The meeting that Rev. J. E. Hutson, of Richmond, has been conducting in the Baptist church for nearly two weeks will probably close tonight. Mr. Hutson is a plain gospel preacher who holds to the Bible for proof of every statement. Large congregations have heard him every night and he has given his hearers truths many of them will never forget. We believe that his coming to Greenville and the sermons he has preached will result in far greater good than is manifest to the eye.

Go out to the service tonight in the hope that the meeting may not pass without your receiving a blessing.

Marion Perkins, colored, was up before the Justice of the Peace Wednesday evening for carrying concealed weapon. He was bound over to court and placed back in jail.

People take an awful responsibility upon themselves when they pass through four weeks season of meetings, as has just been in Greenville, and fail to confess Christ. There are some to whom the opportunity may never come again.
