The Women Dismissed.

Melvina Hardy and Mahala Cherry, who were put in jail a few days ago upon suspicion of having something to do with the killing of Nora Vines, were dismissed from jail today as there was not sufficient evidence against them to warrant a magistrate's trial. Marion Perkins, who was also put in jail upon suspicion, is still in confinement upon another charge of carrying concealed weapon.

Picnic and Barbecue.

There will be a big Democratic picnic and barbecue at King's Cross Roads, in Falkland township, Thursday, July 12th. A band will furnish music for the occasion and prominent speakers will address the crowd. Everybody invited to attend and carry baskets.

Two Funerals.

Mrs. Sallie Marshall, who died Tuesday was buried this morning at 10 o'clock in Cherry Hill Cemetery. Services were conducted both in the Methodist church and at the grave by Rev. N. M. Watson. The pall bearers were Messrs. D. E. House, H. M. Hardee, D. D. Haskett, J. L. Little, J. R. Moye, and J. White.

The remains of little William Long were buried this morning at 11 o'clock in the Episcopal Cemetery. Rev. N. Harding, of Washington conducted the services in the Episcopal church and concluded at the grave. The pall bearers were Messrs. J. L. Fleming, I. A. Sugg, W. L. Brown and H. W. Whedbee.

The doctor and the legislator both amend the constitution.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., June 6.

D. M. Johnson, of Coxville, stopped in town last night.

The town has taken all protection from the market here, and given everybody privilege to sell all the freshest they can.

Winterville Cigar Co. now has a man employed to thoroughly inspect every cheroot made, making it impossible for any goods to get out except strictly first class.

Monday there was a great noise on Main street, as if some one was riding over eight miles per hour, which is against the town laws. On looking out we saw what was the trouble. That old mule had gotten it into his head that he could drive himself better than his driver (Leonard Hamilton) and although Leonard was braced back pulling him for all he was worth, it seems that there was some special attraction about the stable and Old Tom whirled in before he reached the bridge. Poor Leonard was left lying in the street so flat that it looked like he was half buried underground. He was soon up however, unhurt, and seemed especially anxious to explain that he jumped out instead of fell out, which seemed quite strange considering how he fell. He certainly was out of there mighty tar-naceous slick, and we only have his word about the jumping business. That evening Leonard worked the old blind horse again.

BARGAINS.—Our Tar Heel wagons worth from $42.50 up, are the best to be had. We sell a pair of wheels of the same make, complete with axle for $12.50, which is a rare bargain.

A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

At the meeting of the town board yesterday, an ordinance was passed prohibiting bicycle riding on the sidewalks. This will put a stop to negroes ringing their bells for ladies to let them pass, as well as be a protection to the little children.

Carlos Harris was up here yesterday painting a sign for A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. on the new front just added to their factory.

A White Supremacy Club

There will be a White Supremacy Club for Greenville township organized in the Court House on Friday night the 8th inst. at 8:30 o'clock, and an adjourned meeting will be held on Saturday evening the 9th inst. at the same place at 3 o'clock. Immediately after the adjournment on Saturday there will be a flag raising over Democratic headquarters. Every white man in the township who desires perpetuation of white government in North Carolina is urged to attend these meetings and assist in the glorious cause.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1900.

There is a composite in Germany who has been sticking type continuously for fifty years, and most of that time has worked on one book, a German dictionary, which is not yet complete. But some of the words in the German language are very long. So far 32,000 pages of the book have been printed and there is more coming.—Wilmington Star.

An Indiana man is suing another because he bought some hens from him with the assurance that they would lay right along, but in spite of coaxing, feeding and watching they have absolutely refused to lay. Now he is laying for the hen seller, and wants him to shell out $100 damages for time lost in trying to persuade those perverse hens to lay.—Wilmington Star.

Mr. Harry Harding is home from the General Theological Seminary, N. Y., where he graduated last Wednesday with honor. On Friday, June 29th, (St. Peter's day), he will be ordained deacon by Rt. Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., Bishop of East Carolina, in the Episcopal church this city. Mr. Harding will have charge of the church in Greenville for awhile. He has a bright future before him.—Washington Progress.

Winston Sentinel: Mr Sam. A. Hauser, owners of the Mystic Springs, four miles west of Winston, came to the city about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and reported to the sheriff and other officers the dastardly work of three negroes. Mr Hauser stated that about three o'clock yesterday afternoon two negroes visited the field in which Nathan Rominger, an eighteen-year-old adopted son of Mr. Hauser, was plowing. The negroes demanded the boy to give them his money. Rominger told them he had none, but this did not satisfy them and they rushed Rominger off by force to a pond near by and threw him in, head foremost. When the negroes approached the young man they told him he had $75 and he must give it up or be killed. They asked him which he preferred—to be drowned or shot. He replied that he was not ready to die, and proved to the negroes he had nothing but a pocket knife. The men were intoxicated and each took a drink before committing their dastardly act. They went off with the mule and Rominger managed to get out of the pond and went to the house and told what had happened.

Federal Veterans Object.

Philadelphia, May 31.—During the ceremonies incident to the decoration of the graves of the union and confederate dead in the national cemetery at Germantown, a suburb, yesterday, it developed that in certain Grand Army circles, opposition has appeared to the erection of a monument to the confederate dead in that cemetery by the Daughters of the Confederacy. Colonel Thomas G. Sample, of Pittsburg, a past commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, in his oration under the auspices of Ellis post No 6 said: "We have buried all of our sectional feeling. We forgot all sectionalism at the close of the war. While I have no objection to our brothers in the south raising monuments to their generals, as of right to do, yet I raise my voice in protest against their erecting any monument and laid the matter before against the flag, in any national cemetery in the country."

Ellis post had adopted resolutions protesting against the erection of the monument and laid the matter before the Grand Army Association, composed of posts in this city and vicinity which also adopted resolutions against the proposed memorial.

The plan to raise a monument to confederate dead took shape more than a year ago. Colonel W. H. Knauss, of Ohio, a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, brought to the attention of the Daughters of the Confederacy that there are in the cemeteries of the north the graves of thousands of confederate soldiers, many of them unknown. The organizations took up the matter and began to collect funds, principally in the south for the purpose of raising monuments over these graves. In this city the General Dabney H. Maury chapter, undertook the work and hoped in the beginning to have the monument ready to be unveiled yesterday.

Whether the project will be dropped now that opposition to it has developed remains for the general society of the Daughters of the Confederacy to determine. Mrs. Halsey has sent a report on the subject to Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Richmond, who is the chairman for the general work. This will be forwarded to the reunion of confederate veterans at Louisville.

"What can I help you to?" inquired the boarding house mistress, politely. "I think I'll have a little of everything," answered the new lodger. And she ladled him out a portion of hash.

Significance of the Hornet's Nest.

Those who passed the headquarters of the North Carolina division, on Fifth street, between Market and Main, have wondered at the meaning of the big hornets' nest hanging over the door. It recalls the following story: In 1778 Lord Cornwallis had been making his march up from the South along the Atlantic seaboard in pursuit of Gen. Greene, whose luck in crossing rivers just before flood time did much that year to gladden the hearts of the members of the Continental Congress at Philadelphia. When the British had at last made their way to the neighborhood of Charlotte they were in a sad plight, harrassed on all sides. Then it was that Cornwallis is reported to have said: "I would rather be in a hornets' nest than around Charlotte."

The nest was first adopted as an emblem by the Mecklenburg, N. C., camp, but now be carried in front of the big parade, which the North Carolina division is to lead. Quartermaster Rivenbark will have the honor of carrying the nest which will surmount a twelve-foot pole.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

If this country really feeds the world as is the boast, how comes it that so much is imported from other countries of what is eaten, worn and drank? Last year, of these things the importations aggregated $353,000,000. This was more than a half of the total imports. We give some of the figures that will instruct, which we take from The Philadelphia Times: "Hides, $42,000,000; wool, $8,000,000; tobacco, $10,000,000; jute fibres, cotton, etc., $25,000,000. Of sugar, we imported $95,000,000; coffee, $55,000,000; fruits and nuts, $18,000,000; tea, $10,000,000; wines, $6,000,000; oils, $5,000,000; rice, $4,000,000; spirits, $3,000,000; malt liquors, $1,500,000. Of these articles we produce wool, hides, fruits and nuts, cotton, sugar, rice, spirits, wines, oils and malt liquors in this country on a large scale."

No Hope for Her.

Mr. Peck—Here's a plucky girl. On her way to her wedding she was thrown out of her carriage and hurt, but she insisted on going to the church and having the ceremony performed.

Mrs. Peck—Well, the poor, misguided thing deserves her fate then.—Philadelphia North American.

Misplaced the Switch.

Weldon, N. C., June 4.—The fast mail on the Atlantic Coast Line ran into a freight train on the siding at Garyburg this morning at 1 o'clock. Engineer Walter Cheatham was instantly killed. His body was cut in half. An unknown white man was also killed and the fireman on both engines were seriously injured. W. H. McGeorge, mail clerk, was cut about the head, had several ribs broken and received internal injuries.

It is thought that some one misplaced the switch to wreck the fast mail. The lock was found some distance away and battered.

Penalty of Success.

There are a certain class of men who, when they are unable to cope with a business rival on equal terms, resort to misrepresentation. They run down his goods, call him a "Cheap John" or a "fakir," and seek to create the belief that his success is due to chicanery instead of to strict business principles. This sort of misrepresentation is pretty certain to defeat its own ends, for it is an acknowledgement that the competition of the rival is felt. No one takes the trouble to rail at the unsuccessful. Failure does not attract envy. Hence an attack of this kind simply advertises, the fact that the object of the attack is making himself felt.—Kansas City Journal.

"To my mind," says John D. Rockefeller in "Success" for June, "there is something unfortunate in being born in a city. Most young men raised in New York and other large centers have not had the struggles which come to us who were reared in the country. It is a noticeable fact that the country men are crowding out the city fellows who have wealthy fathers. They are willing to do more work and to go through more for the sake of winning success in the end. Sons of wealthy parents haven't a ghost of a show in competition with the fellows who come from the country with a determination to do something in the world."

A Sagacious Suitor.

Her father says he wants me to demonstrate first that I can earn my own living.

"Are you going to try it?"
 "What for?—Why, I needn't marry her in that case?"—Lite.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14.
 No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
 MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

Case of Seduction.

The case of Bessie Smith against James W. Moore, for seduction, came up before Justice of Peace H. Harding this morning for trial. The defendant waived examination and was bound over to Superior Court. He was placed under a thousand dollar bond for his appearance. Both parties are from Ayden.

Killed a Bear.

Grifton, N. C., June 6, 1900. Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock some one came to Grifton and reported seeing a bear in the woods not far from town. Several men with rifles and dogs went to search for the bear and found him a little more than a mile from where he was first seen. The bear became frightened at the dogs and climbed up a tree. From this point of advantage the hunters shot and killed the bear.

So much talk and excitement was going around that people were very careful to close all doors and fasten down all windows before they went to sleep last night.

A telegram may be paid for in advance, but nevertheless it goes on tick.

If talk is cheap, what a hypocrite the average man is when he calls his wife "dear."

"Some men," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "find it as hard to live within an income as others do without one."

Rev. Nathaniel Harding, of Washington came Tuesday to conduct the funeral services of little William Long, and returned this afternoon.

WITH THE PYTHIANS.

Rich Feast in Castle and Banquet Hall.

Tuesday night was the occasion of the celebration by Tar River Lodge No. 93, Knights of Pythias, of the third anniversary of the lodge in Greenville. For four weeks it had been talked and planned, and a glimpse had been given of what might be expected, but when the hour arrived and the curtain was lifted, those so fortunate as to be around the board were forced to exclaim "Behold, the half had not been told."

The celebration was in two parts. In Castle Hall Chancellor Commander R. M. Moye was master of ceremonies and the following program was given:

Prayer, by Rev. N. M. Watson.
Violin Solo, by Miss Bessye Patrick.

Address of welcome, by F. C. Harding.

Vocal Solo, by Miss Clara Bruce Forbes.

Response to address of welcome, by G. B. Hood, of Goldsboro.

Vocal solo, by H. W. Holcombe.

Response to address of welcome, by Dr. John Rodman of Washington.

Vocal solo, by Mrs. Travis E. Hooker.

Vocal solo, by Mrs. Walter H. Grimes.

Accompanist, Mrs. James L. Fleming.

Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Grimes both responded to encores.

One has but to look at the names above to know that this part of the feast was a treat indeed.

The scene then changed to the opera house where the banquet was spread. This was prepared by Mrs. W. T. Hunter, and the menu would have done credit to a city caterer, as the following will attest:

| MENU. | | |
|---------------|---------------------|----------------|
| Mixed Pickles | Cucumber | |
| Deviled Crab | Olives | Chicken Salad |
| | Cold Meats | Chicken |
| Tongue | Ham Sandwich | |
| | Crackers | |
| Cheese Straws | Beaten Biscuit | Salted Almonds |
| Ice Tea | Cake | Coffee |
| Chocolate | Ice Cream | Plain |
| Lemon | Strawberry | Chocolate |
| Bananas | Fruits | Oranges |
| | Apples | |
| | Button Hole Bouquet | |

The invocation was offered by Rev. J. N. Booth, and after the inner man had been fully indulged Col. I. A. Sugg took charge as toast master and called forth the following responses:

"Epicurus, the God of Banquets and Prince of the Friendly Circle" by Dr. E. A. Moye.

"Our Motto—F. C. & B." by H. W. Whedbee.

"The Daughters of the Confederacy," by Mrs. T. J. Jarvis.

"Our American Women, God Bless Them," Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse.

"Helena, the Beautiful Empress," Miss Julia Foley.

"The Carolina Pythian, the Mouthpiece of our Order," O. E. Warren.

"The Fair Calantha," Dr. John Rodman.

"Our Kindred Fraternities," L. I. Moore.

"The Lingering Cadence of the Dying Century, with Greetings to the New Century," J. L. Fleming.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. N. M. Watson and good night came at 12:30 o'clock. The responses to the toasts were all excellent. In fact the entire exercises were of the highest order and everything was perfect in management and execution. The Pythians can well feel proud of their anniversary.

The floral decoration of both halls, which was under the direction of O. E. Warren, was very elaborate and appropriate.

Military.

A meeting will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a military company and electing officers. All interested in the organization of this company will please be present at the Court House at time mentioned above.
