ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS

Made by the Orange Va. Observer.

This is the time when the fly doth spec-you-late and often.

Thieves are the real men of metal, for they have nerves of steal.

The weather is getting hot enough to give your friends the "cold shoulder."

The man whose only blows are from his mouth never builds up a town.

The average criminal never comprehends the enormity of his crime until he gets the "hang" of it.

It is said that McKinley is a very religious man, but he only believes in the gospel according to Mark.

Band to Snow Hill.

The Osceola Band has closed a contract to furnish music at the public speaking at Snow Hill next Saturday. The Band will also give a concert in Snow Hill Friday night before the speaking Saturday. Hon. Claude Kitchin and Bob Glenn will address the crowd. It promises to be a big day for the Democratic party.

Mayor's Court.

There was only one case up before the Mayor this morning. Eaton Harris and Peter Harris, riotous and disorderly conduct, and assault with deadly weapon. Both were found guilty and bound over to September Superior court. The Mayor did not have jurisdiction in this case as a pair of knucks were used.

THE SHEPPARD WILL.

Probated Today. W. W. Shaw Executor.

The will of the late Thomas J. Sheppard was filed this morning in the Clerk of the Court's office by Mr. W. W. Shaw, of Washington. The will was signed by Mr. Sheppard on April 14, 1900, but there were no witnesses to his signature. Messrs. J. R. Davenport, J. R. Congleton, J. A. Crandall, and J. E. Gurganus made affidavit that the signature was that of Mr. Sheppard.

The property disposed of in the will as follows:

$1,500 to Barbara Hadley.
$1,000 to Mollie Hadley.
$1,000 to Fannie Hadley.
$1,000 to Katie Murry.
$1,000 to Gus Shaw.
$500 to Tom S. Manning.
$500 to Bell Johnson.
$500 to Billy Phillips.
$500 to Betty Powell.
$500 to Hettie Kirby.
$500 to Fannie Elliott.
$1,000 in gold to Levi Kirby.
$20 in gold to each one of his nieces.
$500 to Sam Andrews.
1 town lot (in Williamston) to Barbara Hadley and Mollie Hadley.

In the will Mr. Sheppard requested that "Bill" Shaw should attend to his will after his death.

Mr. W. W. Shaw qualified as executor.

The will was written on the pages of an old journal and was found behind an old bureau Saturday.

No will being found at the time of Mr. Sheppard's death the heirs requested Mr. J. R. Congleton to qualify as executor, which he did and took charge of the estate.

Under this will that has been found it will be noticed that only his cash and one town lot are bequeathed, all his large real estate holdings not being mentioned.

Mr. W. W. Shaw has taken charge of distributing of the money as requested in the will and Mr. Congleton will continue to act as administrator on the remainder of the estate.

Greenville Club.

A large crowd met in the Court House Saturday evening, and completed the organization of a White Supremacy Club for Greenville township. The club was organized with a membership of nearly three hundred. The following officers were elected:

1st. Vice President—L. A. Mayo.
2nd Vice President—Paul Harrington.
3rd Vice President—A. A. Forbes.

Sec. and Treas.—J. B. Harding.
The Osceola Band made music for the occasion.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Saturday, 23rd, at 3 o'clock.

MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1900.

If a white man will carefully read the constitutional amendment for himself, and then declare that he is opposed to it, that man must prefer negro rule to white supremacy. No white man should hesitate about casting his vote for the amendment.

One hundred and sixty-four hawk heads were presented to Clerk Phillips during the month of May. Under the present law the county pays 25 cts. for a hawk scalp and on Monday the county commissioners were compelled to pay the neat little sum of $41.00 for the slaughter of these pests in May.—Lexington Dispatch.

A movement has been started in Philadelphia to organize a national negro party—to nominate negroes for President and Vice President and for Congress and for other more important State offices. This movement will amount to nothing. It is doubtless intended to make the Republicans come down a little more handsomely in the division of the spoils.—Statesville Landmark.

An Encounter Between Snake and Rabbit.

Mr D. A. Leach, of Hoover Hill, writes us of a fight between a black snake and a rabbit. The combat was witnessed by Mr. Jacob L. Briles, a good and truthful man, says Mr. Leach. Mr Briles relates the circumstances as follows: Riding along the road near N. R. Skeen's mill, in a brush pile near the road he heard the cry of a young rabbit. Stopping his horse he discovered a large black snake coiled round a rabbit about one third grown. Mr. Briles decided to watch the snake and before the young rabbit ceased begging for mercy there came up to the snake an old rabbit and began scenting along the snake until she came to where the snake was coiled fast around the young rabbit, and with two or three rakes with her sharp teeth forced the snake to free the young rabbit, which ran off in great glee. In the snakes excitement it seemed that the snake would capture the old rabbit, but she leaped off some distance and watched the movements of the snake. On seeing the snake turn to the brush she made another leap for the snake and gave him another rake with her teeth and the snake climbed the brush and the rabbit leaped off rejoicing, having won the victory over the serpent. Mr. Briles then killed the snake and found that the rabbit had cut one-third of the snakes body in two. It was mortally wounded by the rabbit.—Asheboro Courier.

No Disfranchised White Voters.

Poor white men are not disfranchised in South Carolina, in Mississippi, in Louisiana, and they will not be in North Carolina. But the liars are active and the fools are not yet all dead. There is no occasion for misapprehension of what the amendment is and how it will affect the whites. No ignorant, unlettered white man will lose his vote for he will not be interfered with in the last degree. The effort to deceive the unlettered white men is made deliberately and with purpose to gain votes by it. The only plea of ignorance that has anything in it, is that boys now who are white must learn to read in the course of eight years if they wish to vote in 1908. The public schools are free and open to all and if a white father who cannot read but can always vote and will vote without hindrance from the amendment, is not sufficiently interested in his boys, one or two, to have them taught to read in eight years, then he is an unfaithful parent and the boys will richly deserve not to have the ballot.—Wilmington Messenger.

Making a Crop With a Milk Cow.

Something over a year ago there moved into Burnsville township, this county, two men of the name of Anderson. The men seemed very peculiar and resented any effort on the part of their neighbors to make their acquaintance. They came to this county from Virginia and we are told by several who have had some conversation with them that they are evidently well educated and intelligent. They will not allow a woman about them, doing all their own cooking, sewing, etc., themselves. When they first settled in Burnsville township they had a good horse which was given them by a brother, who is said to be a well-to-do traveling man. Recently the horse died, since which time they have been cultivating their small crop with a milk cow. We are told that one of their neighbors assisted them in breaking the cow to the plow on a Sunday, and that now she is a very good work animal. They continue to milk the cow, both night and morning, just as they did before putting her to the plow.—Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer.

The Teachers Assembly.

The coming Teachers' Assembly, June 12-17 promises to be one of unusual interest. Every proper effort has been put forth to make the occasion not only one of great pleasure but of profit. It is likely that the Atlantic Hotel will be crowded with Assembly guests. The programme, which by the way, is one of the finest works of typography ever issued from a North Carolina office, was sent to thousands in this and other States. Prof. D. Matt Thompson, a veteran educator, is the worthy President of the Assembly. Hon. C. H. Mebane, State Superintendent, is Secretary. Mr. Mebane deserves special honor for his efforts in behalf of the Assembly. Its success will be largely due to him. His interests in education is intense, and the whole State owes him a large debt of gratitude.—Raleigh Christian Advocate.

There is an eighty acre field of corn at Clemson, S. C., which the Charleston News and Courier says promises to yield seventy bushels to the acre, and yet there are farmers in that section who buy corn.

The Same Couple Married to Each Other the Second Time.

Mr. Frank Singleton and Mrs. Mary Singleton were quietly married at the residence of Mr. Robert Singleton, brother of the groom last Saturday evening, Rev. Parker Holmes officiating.

The marriage was very much out of the ordinary in that it was the second time the principals to it had gone through the ceremony of plighting troth to each other. Mr. and Mrs. Singleton first married some 25 years ago, and after having ten children born to them Mrs. Singleton procured a divorce from her husband. This was some five years ago, both of them living in New Jersey at the time.

About five months ago Mr. Singleton came to Wadesboro to accept a position in the silk mill here which is largely owned by his brother, Mr. Geo. Singleton, of New Jersey. Mrs. Singleton joined him recently, with the result that they decided to make up their differences, re-marry and again live together.—Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer.

Bold Thief and Swindler.

Mr. T. A. Park, Mecklenburg county, Va., tells us of a man who went to his house lately to stay all night and the trick he played on him and others. The man represented himself to be in the employment of a Philadelphia mining company looking for certain minerals in that part of the country. He spent the night and next morning insisted on leaving very early to meet an important engagement but before doing so he donned a suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Park's son, putting on his own ones over them, as was discovered afterward.

He beat an old negro woman in the neighborhood out of $25.00 claiming that for $50.00 he would get her son out of the Virginia penitentiary. As $25.00 was all she could raise he took that saying he would trust her for the balance. Of course it was a clear case of swindle and the fellow himself ought to be in the pen.

The man appeared to be about 50 years old, dark complexion, square built, height about 5 feet 10 inches, weight probably 180 pounds. Black hair and mustache. Be on the lookout for him. He may undertake to "work" thus in other communities.—Henderson, Gold Leaf.

The late Judge Biddle, of Logansport, Ind., was not only a self-made but a self-educated man. He never went to college, but became one of the most scholarly men in the State. A big brain and determined perseverance can accomplish marvels. There was some time ago a physician in Louisville, Ky., who at the age of 18 didn't know his letters, was taught to read by his wife and afterwards became an eminent physician and a distinguished scientist. He was said to be one of the best Hebrew scholars in that State.—Wilmington Star.

One phase of the census taking which all may not understand is that the information taken is regarded as strictly confidential, and is not imparted to anyone outside of the census department. The enumerator is not so much as allowed to tell the number of inhabitants in the district he canvasses. In fact he is not allowed to tell the least bit of information he obtains. It is forwarded to Washington and comes to the public in the shape of tabulated reports.

A drummer who is engaged in selling lubricating oils, and has just completed a tour of Hyde and Beaufort counties, and visited the mills, tells us during his trip he interviewed all the owners of these mills with the following result: Nine tenths of them are Northern men by birth, and were staunch Republicans before they became citizens of the State, yet a large majority vote the Democratic State ticket, and every one to a man are in favor of the constitutional amendment and will vote for it.—Washington Messenger.

Miss Della Forbes, who recently returned from the Baptist Female University at Raleigh, assisted the choir in the Baptist church Sunday with her violin. She plays beautifully. Being of a family in which are so many excellent musicians, she possesses remarkable talent and will take high rank in the profession. Her sister, Miss Helen Forbes, also a student of the University, and who has a voice of unusual sweetness, sang with the choir.

Miss Bessie Patrick, who recently returned from the Durham Conservatory of Music, where she took lessons on the violin, assisted the choir of the Methodist church Sunday with her violin and added much to the beauty of the music. She plays very skillfully. Miss Clara Bruce Forbes, also from the Conservatory, sang "A Dream of Paradise" beautifully. She has a contralto voice of much purity and sweetness.

The young ladies added much to the services at both churches, and the congregations are to be congratulated upon having such accomplished young women among the members.
