TWO IN ONE.

The Farmers Will be Benefitted

The Planters and Farmers Warehouses have strengthened their opportunities of working for the best interest of the farmers by uniting under one management for the coming season. There are several ways in which the farmers can be benefitted by this union of forces. First, two of the best and most enterprising warehousemen on the market putting their experience and energy together can serve you better than they could single handed. Second, by having a smaller number of employees and thus reducing expenses they have the advantage of being able to pay more for tobacco. Third, by having two warehouses they have first sale twice a week and never have last sale at both, so you could carry your tobacco to one or the other and always avoid last sale. And no two warehousemen have done more for the market than Olthus Joyner and Ola Forbes, and when you carry them tobacco you will get the best price to be had for it.

Closing Out.

H. M. Hardee has become a member of a firm to engage in the wholesale dry goods business in Norfolk, which will necessitate his moving to that city the first of next year. He has $20,000 worth of goods in his store here that must be closed out in the meantime, and on the 15th day of August he is going to begin a special sale of the entire stock, marking everything right down to closing out prices. It will pay you to keep a watch on his advertisements. It is going to be a chance for bargains that you do not strike every day.

CLOSING RALLY.

A Great Day at Urindool.

For some days the Democrats of Bethel township had been preparing for a grand rallying, closing Democratic barbecue. The day came Friday and in the morning looked threatening, but it turned out to be an ideal day for this grand rally. It was a great day for Bethel township and the Democracy of Pitt county. The crowd was estimated variously from 3,000 to 4,000, including something like a thousand ladies.

At half past ten o'clock Mr. Whitehurst introduced as the first speaker of the day Hon. Jas. H. Pou, of Raleigh. He was greeted with rounds of applause when he came before the crowd. Mr. Pou spoke for nearly two hours and made one of the most convincing arguments for white supremacy we have heard. He was clear, plain, strong, forcible, pointed and cutting in everything he said. Some of his hits, and did not fail to make them every few minutes, struck a responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers and they did not fail to signify their approval with loud bursts of applause.

After this speech was concluded Mr. D. C. Moore, of Greenville, extended an invitation to the crowd to a bounteous dinner, the ladies to go first and the men afterwards. The barbecue, ham, chicken, pickles, etc., were abundant and some to spare.

In the afternoon Hon. Dan Hugh McLean was introduced to the crowd by Senator F. G. James and made one of the most stirring, eloquent speeches we ever heard. The crowd continued to gather nearer and nearer to him as he wound up, until a great mass of humanity was surging around him. He gave some hard hits to bad government as it had been administered by the fusionists. The applause showed the crowd was with him.

Mr. F. C. Harding presented to the audience our countyman, Mr. E. Victor Cox. He received almost an ovation. The crowd gathered up close around, everybody stood upon their seats, all anxious to hear what he had to say. Mr. Cox is a good speaker and did himself great credit in this effort. No speaker of the day was greeted with more enthusiasm and his reception by his own people must have been exceedingly gratifying to him and his friends. He dealt some sledge hammer blows and predicted that white supremacy would be established in North Carolina by forty thousand, majority.

Senator James was called for by the crowd and he responded very eloquently in a speech of about ten minutes.

A feature of the day was the music by the Osceola Band. They played nearly all the time when the speaking was not going on and great crowds thronged around them. Sometimes it looked as if the band might be suffocated by the throng of ladies around them. In the closing of Mr. Pou's speech he said that he had been all over North Carolina but nowhere had he heard superior music.

The day was a great one, the crowd immense, the speaking fine, the dinner bountiful, the music delightful, the ladies handsome, the men determined and everything a success. Lookout for results next Thursday.

SINGULAR DREAMING

TWO PECULIAR CASES OF BRAIN ACTIVITY IN SLEEP.

A Lawyer Who Solved a Knotty Problem He Could Not Master While Awake—An Exciting and Almost Tragic Railway Journey.

An Edinburgh lawyer, a confirmed somnambulist, went through a peculiar experience some little time ago. One evening, after dinner, he told his wife that he had a most difficult law case which would occupy him half the night to study out. For hours thereafter he grappled with its intricacies, but finally desisted, saying it would be impossible to make his brief until morning, since the case presented some difficulties that he had been unable to master.

He fell asleep from exhaustion almost as soon as he went to bed, but in a few minutes rose, and, seating himself at his desk, wrote furiously for an hour or more. Then, carefully folding and indorsing the sheets he had written upon, he put them away in a pigeonhole of his desk, after which, without speaking, he returned to his bed and slept soundly till late in the morning.

At breakfast he expressed some uncertainty as to his "finding a solution." His wife told him to look through his desk, which he did, discovering the paper he had written in the pigeon-hole where he had hidden it. As he read it joy mingled with amazement showed plainly in his face, for the paper was a clearly reasoned, correctly phrased brief on the intricate case, with all the obscure points smoothed out. He had not the slightest recollection of having written the document.

Another extraordinary case is that of a young man who, an hour or so before starting on a railway journey, paid a visit to a steamer in which his parents were financially interested. In the course of the inspection he entered the little chamber in the bow of the vessel where the anchor chain is coiled and was impressed by the chamber's smallness and the cramped quarters it would afford a man sent down there to superintend the paying out of the chain. In due course the traveler went to the railway station and engaged a snug seat in the corner of a first class corridor and sleeping carriage. He had the compartment to himself. The train had not been long on its journey before the young man was sound asleep. But he imagined that he was awake and, moreover, that he was imprisoned in the little anchor chain compartment of the steamer. The vessel was under way, he thought, and moving more rapidly than he had ever known a steamer to move before.

His first idea was to go on deck at once, but he could not get out of the cell-like chamber. He could not stand erect even, the compartment was so little, as he found out at the cost of an imaginary bumped head when he attempted to rise. Then, to his surprise, he found that the room had a window, evidently a dead light, but square and unusually large. This he tried to raise, but, failing, determined to break it, thinking that he could seize the anchor chain and by its aid reach the deck.

There was only one way to smash the glass, and that was by striking it with his clenched fist. He knew that this would result in a cut hand probably, but he risked it all the same, for he felt certain now that the vessel was in a storm and likely to go down any moment, in which case he would be drowned like a rat in a trap.

Having smashed the glass, he found that the window was double, and he distinctly remembers breaking the outside pane, after which, with profusely bleeding hands, he carefully picked out the bits of glass remaining in the sashes, so that he could climb out.

After removing the last remaining fragment of glass from the sash he carefully thrust his head and arms out and began to feel for the chain. It was nowhere to be found. Then he pulled himself half way out of the window and reached upward.

To his great joy, he found he could reach over the edge of the deck; but, to his dismay, it was curved and smooth, offering no projection whatever by which he might pull himself up. That being the case, and not wishing to fall into the water and be drowned, he painfully drew back into the little chamber. However, he must certainly escape or be drowned, and after getting his breath he would make another attempt to reach the deck.

Boston's Four Best Sayings.

A good deal is to be forgiven Colonel Higginson in view of his witty and most admirable thrust at Henry James. There are four mots upon which Boston particularly prides herself. Motley made one of them, "Give me the luxuries of life, and I will dispense with its necessities." Tom Appleton made another, "Good Americans, when they die, go to Paris." A lady, name withheld, but quoted by Emerson, made the third, "The consciousness of being perfectly well dressed gives a feeling of inward tranquillity which religion is powerless to bestow." These three have long been famous, but Higginson matched the best of them when he remarked, "Henry James has been called a cosmopolitan, but he isn't, since a cosmopolitan is a man who is at home, even in his own country."—New York Mail and Express.

SATURDAY JULY 28, 1900.

With Pitt county going to elect every Dem on the ticket by from 800 to 1,000 majority, does it not look like foolishness for any white man to waste his vote on a Populist fusion ticket? We do not believe many will do a thing so foolish.

The white man who is a renegade to his race in so important an election as we have next Thursday, will be marked and made to feel the disgrace in future. Reader, don't you be one of that class. If you have been led along with the black-and-tan gang come out from among them and be somebody.

The time for talking is now nearly over and you must show yourself next Thursday. The Amendment must be carried and Pitt county must roll up a big majority for it. In times past we have been pointed at as one of the counties under negro rule. Now let's show how large a white majority we can muster.

Just look once more at the county ticket published in another column of THE REFLECTOR. Good, honest, true men, every one of them. Compare these men with those you can find out on the black-and-tan ticket. Can't you see the difference in the men and the difference in the principles they represent? Now what are you going to do? If you do not vote for every man on the white man's ticket you fail to do your duty.

Once more let us remind you that the election is on next Thursday, August 2nd, and that North Carolina has had no more important election than this is to be. You must vote for two Superior Court Judges, you must vote for the Constitutional Amendment, you must vote members of the Legislature, you must vote for county officers, you must vote for township Magistrates and Constable. Six different tickets you must vote, and all of them next Thursday. Above all be sure that you vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Louisiana has a law designating her settlements as villages, towns and cities, according to population. When a village becomes a town the governor officially proclaims the fact.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27 1900
 Chairman Richardson, of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, returned to the Washington headquarters this week from a trip to New York, and is now engaged upon the speech he will make as chairman of the committee to notify Col. Bryan of his nomination, at Indianapolis, August 8th. Mr. Richardson reports the Congressional campaign in New York to be entirely satisfactory to the democrats, but says he will not go so far at this time as to claim more than a fighting chance for the electoral votes of the State. Information sent to democratic headquarters from the middle west is decidedly cheering. Instead of claiming Illinois and Indiana to be doubtful States, there is now a disposition to put them in the certain democratic column, and many believe that the desertion of the republican party by German voters who cannot stand imperialism will also give Wisconsin to the democrats. Illinois has 24 electoral votes, Indiana 15, and Wisconsin 12, all of which Mr. McKinley received in '96. Democrats around headquarters are not really claiming as much as the news received would justify them in doing, because they do not wish to create the impression that they are chasing rainbows. Everyday the probabilities increase that the next House will be democratic and that Bryan and Stevenson will be elected, if the democrats throughout the country keep up their present aggressive attitude.

Although carefully edited by Postmaster General Smith before it was made public, the report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on the stealings of Neely and Rathbone, and their gang, other crookedness connected with the Cuban postal service shows that a disgraceful state of affairs existed in Cuba, in which rascally republican officials showed the Cubans that they could outdo the Spanish officials in stealing and extravagant expenditure of public money. Still, there are persons who express surprise because Cubans do not recognize Americans to be superior to them.

Senator Jones, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, stopped in Washington on his way to New York to hold a conference with a number of prominent democrats on the conduct of the campaign, which is to be at once started and pushed aggressively until election day. He is full of enthusiasm over the outlook, which he says is far brighter than it was at this time four years ago.

A message from Minister Conger, dated July 4, has been received at the State Department, saying that Pekin was in a state of anarchy and that the foreigners who were all cooped up in the British legation and under constant fire, were bound to be killed if help was not at once had. This message seems to corroborate the opinion of those who think that the administration has allowed itself to be completely hoodwinked by the Chinese minister in Washington. Mr. McKinley has been negotiating with the government of China and promising to act as a mediator in its behalf, when according to Mr. Conger's dispatches, there is no government of China, the capital being in a state of anarchy. Some go so far as to express the opinion that the Chinese Minister at Washington, who still insists that the foreign ministers at Pekin are safe, has never received a line from Pekin since the trouble began.

These Questions and Suggestions Are Addressed to the White men Only.

Do you want the negro to vote? If you are in doubt about what you want in this matter, ask your wife and daughter whether they will not feel safer with the negro out of politics and under the control of the white people.

Who is asking you to vote to let the negro keep the ballots.

Is it not the white men who are in political association with the negro?

Do you think he wants you to cast this vote to help you or to help the negro, or to help him keep the office he got or hopes to get through the negro vote, and which he knows he and his like could never get through the votes of white men?

Does not all this hue and cry about the disfranchisement of white men come from those who are the political associates of the negro, and who spend their time during the campaign organizing him against the white people?

Did it ever occur to you that they are simply trying to fool you into casting a vote for the negro?

A BLACK NEGRO LIE.

The statement being made by the unprincipled demagogues, who hold office given them by negro votes, that the amendment will or may disfranchise uneducated white men is a lie and they know it is a lie.

White men, are you going to let these negro voters scare you into voting to keep the ballot in the hands of the negro for their benefit?

The negro understands the game and is mum, but, if it succeeds, he will laugh you to scorn.

Will you vote for the negro or for your State, race and family?

The states south of us have amended their constitutions so as to disfranchise the negro. Virginia, north of us, has called a convention for the same purpose.

If the amendment is defeated, North Carolina will become the dumping ground for the negroes of these states, who will flock here, because they will enjoy the privilege denied them there of equal participation with white men in all the affairs of government.

We are now in the majority and have the power to disfranchise the negro. If by our votes this year we throw open our doors to the south and north of us, we will soon be in a minority, and when our eyes are open to the mistake we have made, it will be too late.

Ex-Senator T. J. Jarvis spent several hours in the city yesterday enroute from points in Bladen county, where he made speeches during the past few days, to fill engagements in Pitt county. In speaking of the progress of the campaign the ex-Senator said that the outlook for rolling up a very large majority for the amendment was very good and is increasing daily, and if the campaign work moves on with such force as it certainly will for the next few days which precede the election there is no estimating what figures the majority may reach, and certain it is that it will be so overwhelming that no question of contest can ever be raised, and it will be so clearly the will of the people that the questioning the power to enforce its provisions would make advocates of such a step ridiculous in the eyes of the people of the whole country.—Wilmington Messenger, 27th.

"The time is coming when there will be but one job open for the boy who smokes cigarettes." That will be to kill potato bugs with his breath.

It is said that at Louisburg the negro cooks are boycotting the families of those persons who are working for White Supremacy. One of the latter says he and his family have had to live three weeks at a hotel. Two years ago at Rockingham the negro cooks tried this game. The white men met and decided to discharge every negro man they employed. This brought the women to their senses.

"They do say that if Uncle Sam were to come to North Carolina he could not find enough of his office-holders at the post of duty to furnish a body guard. They are busy carrying the State for the constitutional amendment—only they think they are making votes for the Radicals," says the Asheville Citizen.

Teach Children Economy in Little Things.

Teach children not to waste trifles which they often throw away without thought, and which if saved might be of use to others if not to themselves. Wrapping paper, pieces of twine, odds and ends of various kinds may do service a second time if put away until the need for them arises. The habit of economy is one that ought to be cultivated, for careful saving makes lavish giving possible. Hoarding is not a vice of childhood, nor should it be encouraged, but the wise husbanding of resources for future expenditure is a valuable lesson that cannot be learned too early.—August Ladies' Home Journal.

Two unknown men named Hendricks and Bonmare are fusion candidates for superior court judgeships. Whence come they. Are they foreign born, or Maritans, or from Hawaii? If elected it is to be hoped they will prove to be better informed and with a higher sense of equities and manners than some others that have been set up in North Carolina by the curse and degradation of fusion.—Wilmington Messenger.

This curtailment of expenses in the way of drummers and warehouse force puts us in position to give you more money for your tobacco than any other warehouse in North Carolina. By running the two houses together we give you the advantage of and in selling with us need never be on the LAST SALE. We are prepared to serve your interest in every way, and if you bring us a load we will convince you that we are not talking through our hat. When you get a load of tobacco ready for market bring it to us. We are going to serve you.

Mr. G. E. Lineberry, of Ashpole, N. C. came in Thursday evening. Mr. Lineberry is a graduate of Wake Forest College with several years experience in teaching, and will more than likely be elected Principal of the school here.

Please don't fail when you come to Winterville to drop in A. G. Cox's office and tell us how you like the wagon, cart wheels, back band or whatever you bought of us. If you can't come just a note will be sufficient, and will acknowledge same in REFLECTOR.

There is an opening here for newcomers in or near the town. Those wanting choice lots had better apply at once to A. G. Cox.
