TOBACCO MARKET

Season of 1900 Opens.

The season of the Greenville tobacco market for 1900 opened today, the Farmers Warehouse leading off with first sale and the others following on down the row. No effort had been made to make the opening sale a large one, yet there were fair breaks at all the houses, the quantity being about equally divided between them.

There are very few changes in the force of any of the houses since last year. J. D. Gwynn, who last year was auctioneer for the Greenville, is now filling that position for both the Farmers and Planters. A. E. Palmer, who auctioneered for the Liberty, is now serving both the Eastern and the Star, while a new man, A. W. Berry, is auctioneer for the Liberty. H. A. Timberlake, former auctioneer for the Star, is now with the Greenville. J. C. Moorman, another new man, is salesman for the Eastern.

The market starts off well and we bespeak a good season.

A St. Louis druggist recently advertised for "an accurate, registered, thin drug clerk, with a mustache." When asked why he wanted an assistant with these special qualifications the druggist explained that experience had taught him that a young and attractive clerk was of more value in selling to women, particularly those buying soda water. Corpulent clerks, he added, are specially to be avoided on this account.

Trouble in Bayboro.

Newbern, N. C., August 4, midnight.—Upon word from Governor Russell the Newbern Naval Reserves will leave for Bayboro, Pamlico county. The Election Board is held in the court house there by a mob led by the sheriff, threatening the lives of members of the board. The phone wire has been cut between Bayboro and Alliance. Citizens appealed for aid and Russell has ordered the reserves to go and protect lives and property. Apprehensions are grave. The fight is between Democrats and Democrats who fused with Pops and Republicans. Throwing out Bayboro's vote and giving the regular Democrats office is the cause of the trouble.

Raleigh N. C. Aug. 5.—Telegrams were received here last night conveying the information that there was a terrible election riot in progress at Bayboro, Pamlico county. The news came in private dispatches and in official telegrams to the Governor and to Acting Adjutant General Harris, but in all of them the details given were meagre.

As is well known the political situation in Pamlico county is much complicated by division among the Democrats, and by fusions with the Republicans and Populists.

Just what the cause of the riot at Bayboro is could not be learned last night, as the nearest telegraph office is Newbern, sixteen miles distant.

The only intimation as to who the rioters are is found in the statement above to the effect that they are led by Hooker, the Fusion sheriff.

At midnight, in response of the above telegram, Acting Adjutant General Harris, after a consultation with Governor Russell, ordered Lieutenant Commander Hill, of the Newbern Naval Reserves, to proceed at once, forty strong, to Bayboro and do all in his power to restore order and preserve peace.

A later telegram from Newbern (at 12:30) said that the Naval Reserves were already on their way to Bayboro and expected to arrive there by day this morning. The dispatch added that the situation at Bayboro was very serious and bloodshed was feared.

Our Goldsboro correspondent quotes Judge Allen, just re-elected to the House from Wayne, as saying that the party is specially due great consideration to those illiterates of our party who, under great pressure to the contrary, maintained their confidence in their party by voting for the amendment, and that the party should, as it no doubt will, fully discharge its duty by the strict observance of every pledge made to them. This is eminently true and timely, and we are sure the Judge voices the sentiments of every Democrat in asserting that this course will be pursued. By no act of the white people now entrusted with the control of affairs will any white man be disfranchised on account of illiteracy or poverty. Nor do we believe it can be done by any other tribunal. This amendment will be carried out according to the pledges made by its advocates in the strictest good faith. And just here we will say that all other interests will be protected and promoted by those just elected by equally good faith. Not only will the material interests and industrial enterprises be promoted and treated justly—because this victory means a rebuke to Butlerism wherever it may exist—but every assistance will be given the colored people to improve their condition and work out their salvation. A New Era, of good faith as well as just laws honestly administered has dawned upon us.—Raleigh Post.

Beggars shouldn't be choosers, Nor, for that matter, should they be beggars.

MACHINERY AND TRANSPORTATION BUILDING, PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co. This large structure is 500 by 350 feet, with a central court 100 by 175 feet. Its type of architecture is the Spanish Renaissance, modified to suit the conditions of the Exposition. The roofs are laid with red tile and the cemented walls are brilliant with color. The colors are to be reds and yellows in light tints. The facades will present an arched effect, with broad, overhanging eaves, in imitation of the old mission buildings in California and Mexico. The Central Court will be a veritable tropical garden, with a long, narrow pool, containing interesting specimens of aquatic life, and will have seats, where the weary visitor may rest a moment. The Exposition is to be held in Buffalo in 1901 from May 1 to Nov. 1.

MONDAY, AUGUST 6, 1900.

Let us get ready for the Presidential campaign and make North Carolina give as large a majority for Bryan as she did for the Constitutional Amendment.

Marion Butler sees the end of his job. Such a Legislature as was elected last week means that North Carolina is going to be represented by a man of some decency and one who is worthy of the position.

The New York World ornaments its front page with a picture of Governor-elect Aycock surrounded by a guard of men armed with rifles. We take it that the World means to say that Aycock's election was secured with the aid of rifles, which is both a libel and an insult to the State. North Carolina has taken insults enough of this kind and the people ought to resent it. This State turns thousands of dollars annually into the treasury of the World, and in return for such patronage is lied on and insulted. The World ought to be made to feel this.

Lessons From History.

Our Home, of Beaver Dam, begins an editorial in its issue of this week with these words: "The disintegration of the Farmers' Alliance in this State means a setback to the classes of at least ten years. It is doubtful if another organization as strong as the Alliance can be established in the next ten years." This is quite true. There were elements of the utmost usefulness in the Farmers' Alliance. Its written principles were great and noble, and if they had been lived up to, the agricultural interests of the country would have been greatly promoted. But the order had scarcely been organized before it fell into the hands of the politicians, and this was the beginning of the end. Next after it was the Populist party, and then annihilation. It was a good deal the same way with the Grange—office-seekers and self-seekers captured it and it went to pieces. There is a warning in these cases. It would be a pleasure to see the farmers of the country banded together in a compact organization for the forwarding of their legitimate interests, but the lesson of experience is that when politics enters the doors business goes out. If they should ever seek to organize again they will doubtless remember the Grange and the alliance and exclude the politicians as they would the plague.—Charlotte Observer.

BUTLER WILL EMIGRATE.

Additional Advice and Comments Bearing on the Great Victory of last Week.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH N. C., August 6th.

Well, Russell has "disbanded the troops," and so we may consider the election to be over. The put-up job of keeping the Raleigh military company under arms and confined to their armory for two days before the election, on the day of election and the day after was the greatest outrage of this peaceful election. It was done, of course, to influence public sentiment in the North, and especially at Washington, but will probably fail of its purpose, although Butler had just sent out circulars to his late lieutenants advising the taking of affidavits to bolster up a possible contest by Butler and Pritchard in the United States Senate when Butler's Democratic successor appears to be sworn in.

IT WAS A GREAT VICTORY.

The latest advice at the time these lines are written confirm the earlier claim of a majority exceeding 50,000 to 55,00, the latter for Aycock and the Democratic State ticket and the former for the Amendment. The Legislature, Chairman Simmons states, will be four-fifths and more in the House, and from three-fourths to four-fifths in the Senate, though the Republicans elected more Senators than at first anticipated. As to the Pops, they make a mighty poor showing, only two or three in each branch of the legislature, and Butler is completely annihilated.

TO WHOM CREDIT IS MOST DUE.

And now let us consider for a moment the leading causes and the personnel of workers who chiefly contributed to achieve this great victory. To begin with, nearly every good party man in every voting precinct of every county in North Carolina is entitled to a share of the credit and praise; for the great majority of them did good missionary work and succeeded in converting many who had not been effectively reached by our newspapers and public speakers. The county and township chairmen likewise labored most industriously and without this close and personal work no such majority would have been rolled up.

But there were two distinctive weapons which led the good work, elements of influence which accomplished more than any other. I allude to the magnificent accomplishments of our great State Chairman, Mr. Simmons, and the "country press"—the weekly and semi-weekly newspapers of the State. To a great extent these two "master workmen" labored together, Chairman Simmons and his assistants (and among the latter he was given the assistance of several newspaper correspondents of Raleigh) furnishing much of the literature and the publishers of the weekly papers distributing it through their columns, largely in excess of their ordinary circulation. There is no way in which the thinking countryman can be reached so effectively as through his "family paper published at his own home, whose editor he knows personally and generally trusts."

Three months before the election the success of the Amendment and the State ticket was doubtful, to say the least. The "campaign of education" conceived and executed in so masterful a manner by Chairman Simmons, through the medium of the press and the campaigners, proved the savior of the party in this struggle. With a less competent and courageous and active chairman, a half hearted support by the press, and less zealous and determined campaigners, the result would have been different, unquestionably.

NOW LETS BE JUST TO THEM.

In this connection it will not be amiss to quote this extract from the speech of acceptance of Governor-elect Aycock, immediately after his nomination in the State convention.

"If we fail to administer equal and exact justice to the negro whom we deprive of suffrage, we shall in the fulness of time lose power ourselves, for we must know that the God, who is love, trusts no people with authority for the purpose of enabling them to do injustice to the weak. * * * We are trusted with power not for our good alone, but for the good of the negro as well."

Now, while we insist and see to it that the negro "keep his place," let us also see to it that his industrial welfare and general condition is not rendered the less tolerable and prosperous and contented by unjust persecution on the part of any one or any party

SAYS BUTLER WILL EMIGRATE.

Never was a politician so completely condemned and annihilated by the people of his State as Marion Butler—the man who has not only committed political suicide himself, but utterly killed and disgraced his party in his selfish hunt for office at whatever cost, and consequent alliance with the negroes. There is no future for Butler in North Carolina, except that of "innocuous desuetude" and oblivion, and being still a young man that would be almost intolerable. What will he do? Migrate, of course—to some populistically inclined State, as Nebraska, the Dakotas, or one of either of the half dozen western silver-mining and wild-cat greenback "rotten boroughs"

THE NEXT SPEAKERSHIP.

The triumphant election of Hon. Walter E. Moore of Jackson caused much pleasure to the Democrats of all classes here—rank and file. This splendid man was almost unanimously agreed upon by the members of the last House (of which he was one of the leading members) as the best man in the State for Speaker of the House next time, and it is believed he will be elected without opposition in January.

Chicago and the "Bucket Shop."

The suspension of the grain quotation service between Chicago and other cities, which is an outcome of the disagreement between the telegraph companies and the Chicago Board of Trade as to the value of the information to the companies and the right of the latter to transmit it to customers whose business is under the ban of the Chicago trade organization, will work temporary inconvenience to the grain trade of all cities. The grain export and speculative business has become by long usage so dependent upon Chicago facilities for quick sales and purchases that the sudden cessation of instantaneous communication between the markets cannot fail to derange the operation of grain merchants, for a time at least. In its warfare on the "bucket shop" evil the Chicago Board of Trade has the sympathy of the general public as well as of its sister exchanges; but it cannot impose restrictions upon the work of the telegraph companies which would render the latter liable to prosecution for unlawful discrimination even for so praiseworthy an object as the suppression of the "bucket shops." The inconvenience to the grain trade at large and the damage which Chicago isolation for any length of time from wide and general publicity will inflict upon the business of that primary market for grain will probably bring about an early compromise of the pending trouble.

Eastern merchants need the facilities of the Chicago market; but they cannot be as effectively used through private means of communication as through those which insure the broadest publicity. It is the belief of experienced grain merchants that the Chicago experiment will so promptly divert speculative business to New York, Kansas City, St. Louis and other markets and so endanger the primacy of the Chicago market in the grain trade as to cause an abandonment of the present effort to cripple the business of the "bucket shops" by the suspension of the quotation service of the Western head-centre of the grain business.

The situation is an interesting one from a moral as well as from a commercial viewpoint; but in the end it will probably be found that the "bucket shops" can do without Chicago better than Chicago can do without the publicity which insures her supremacy in the Western grain trade.—Philadelphia Record.

Murder in Norfolk.

Norfolk, Aug. 3.—Charles J. Cannon, State oyster inspector for this district, was shot and killed on the street by First Assistant Chief of Police M. H. Prince, shortly before noon, today. No cause for the deed is assigned by Captain Prince, or his friends, and the killing is a mystery. The two men were thought to be the closest of friends both socially and politically, Mr. Cannon having been one of Prince's chief workers in the latter's canvass for the position of chief of police.

Captain Prince and Cannon met on Main street between the custom house and the Citizen's Bank building, about 11.30 this morning. The former placed his arm about Mr. Cannon's shoulders and the two walked to the side of the postoffice, some 30 feet, where they stood several minutes. Without any apparent cause, Capt. Prince suddenly drew a revolver and fired upon Mr Cannon five times, thrice after he fell. After firing the fourth shot, Capt. Prince walked several feet from Mr. Cannon's prostrate body, and then turning quickly went back and placed the last bullet in his revolver in Cannon's head. He surrendered himself to a police officer and walked to police headquarters. Cannon died almost instantly. Cannon leaves a wife and five children.

The oldest negro so far reported abides in Newbern. When he went to register he declared that he was born in 1418, and could prove it by D. L. Roberts. This ought to boost Craven county as a health resort.—Wilmington Star.

Got Her Man.

Farm hands in the West must be in great demand, judging by the following anecdote which the New York Tribune attributes to a well known clergyman of Pontiac, Michigan.

"A large woman, accompanied by a comparatively small and meek looking man, had come in and asked to be married. After the ceremony was all over the bride explained her position: You see Mr. Sheridan, she said, farm hands are mighty hard to get in this part of the country, and they are even harder to keep. You get a good hired man and get him well broke in to work around the farm and the first thing you know he quits the job and goes off to town or somewhere else. Last spring I had a first class hand, but just when the season got right busy he up and quit me. I just made up my mind that I wasn't going to be left in the same fix this summer, so here we are. The bridegroom in the case simply stood and smiled meekly. He had nothing at all to say."

The mayor of Chicago, Carter Harrison, and the mayor of Milwaukee, David Rose, are to be rival pitchers at a baseball game to be given as one feature of the big Democratic picnic at Cleveland, September 1st. There will be a game worth seeing.

How strange is human nature! People will often tell you how delighted they are to see you, when they are really wishing you were a thousand miles away.

Fine Sermon.

In the Methodist church Sunday night Rev. N. M. Watson preached a very fine sermon on education. We hear it spoken of as timely and able, and one of the best he has delivered in Greenville.

Disturbed Church.

John Stanley Chapman, a negro, was put in jail Sunday for disturbing the religious services of one of the colored churches here. He and another negro got into a fight near the church Sunday and Chapman was arrested and promptly put in jail.

Died.

Fell asleep in Jesus, Clara Belle, aged 16 months, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. McGowan Sunday Aug. 5th between 2 and 3 A. M. The remains were laid at rest in the Leggett burial grounds 6 miles from town, at 3 P. M. The pall bearers were J. N. Edwards, T. Moore, J. Corey and J. Dudley.

Methodical Advertising.

In most lines of business the successful and methodical man considers the amount paid for newspaper advertising as a part of the necessary capital of the enterprise. Just as he figures out what his stock should cost, so he estimates the value of the trade to be gained by advertising, and what he should expect for it. There is nothing impulsive or capricious about his advertising.—Philadelphia Record.

A poet laureate is often more of a laureate than a poet.

Band Stand.

We have heard it suggested that if a suitable band stand was erected at some convenient place in town, say about the Academy grove, the Osceola Band would hold its practices there one or two nights each week, when the weather permitted, and in this way the people of the town would receive the benefit of the music. This is a good suggestion and one THE REFLECTOR would like to see carried out. Besides the pleasure the people would derive from this, the band well deserves this interest being taken in them.

Greenville has the best band in the State, we do not except any, and during the late campaign their excellent music did much in bringing out and enthusing the people. Now lets build a nice stand for them, and not only encourage them but get the benefit of their music as well. Who will start a fund for this purpose with a contribution?
