THEY GOT THE WORST.

Two Negroes Attack One-Armed White Man Who Uses His Knife On Them.

Mr. Frank Mills a one armed Confederate soldier, of Chicod, with a little boy, started home after night Saturday evening from Greenville. When they got near Mr. W.H. Tucker's place, about two miles from town, two drunken negroes, Shade Adams and Bob Johnson, overtook him and began cursing and abusing him for voting for the Amendment and for being a Democrat and taking the negroes right to vote away from them. Mr. Mills told them to go on as he did not want to have any fuss with them. After cursing for awhile they run over his buggy and broke one of the wheels down which threw Mr. Mills out in the road. Adams then began cursing him again and took a rail from the fence and struck at Mr. Mills with it. Mr. Mills ducked down and avoided the lick, the rail striking the ground behind him. He raised up opening his knife with his teeth and made a strike at Adams cutting his throat a terrible gash. He then cut him in the shoulder and several times across the breast. Adams called for help from Johnson, who took a rail and started for Mr. Mills, who again avoided the blow and closed in and began using his knife on Johnson pretty freely.

After the fight Adams and Johnson managed to get into their buggy and drove off leaving Mills in the road.

Mr. Mills had been to Greenville and gotten two buggy wheels that day which were fastened on the back of his buggy. He took one of these and put in the place of the smashed one and returned to town to get warrants out for the negroes. In the meantime the negroes had gone on down the road and on arriving at the County Home one of them fell out of the buggy, supposed from loss of blood, the other one driving on. Mr. J. W. Smith, Superintendent of the Home, came out and found him lying in the road groaning, and upon examination found that his throat was cut, and his shoulder blade cut, besides several cuts on his breast. He came to town and reported the matter. It was thought that Adams would be dead by Sunday morning, but at last accounts was still alive. Mr. Mills has the reputation of being a man of great courage as well as active. He is a famous hunter and though having but one arm uses both gun and knife very skilfully. He has perhaps killed more deer than any other man in the county, and it is said that if a bear makes a track in his neighborhood Bruin is sure to lose his hide. Those negroes thought they could take advantage of his being a one-armed man, but next time they had better tackle a circular saw. What Mr. Mills done for them is no more than they deserve.

Marriage.

Mr. M. J. Highsmith and Miss Nola Keel, both of Stokes, N. C., were married Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the brides brother, Mr. Jos. Keel, in Carolina township. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Williams.

They Stand The Test.

That is what Every Pair of

Dutchess Pants

Is guaranteed to do. Can you imagine a severer test than to tie one leg of a pair of pants to the ceiling and swing a keg of nails weighing 110 pounds to the other leg? That is the test seen in our window and hundreds of people have looked in wonder.

Dutchess Pants

are built to stand any kind of service and a guarantee goes with every pair—10 cents if a button pulls off or $1 if they rip. Get the best when you buy and be sure you get the Dutchess! None genuine without the name on the button.

A college boy and his best girl were out driving one afternoon. They had come upon a fine stretch of well shaded road. "Do you believe in palmistry," said he; "the reading of the lines of one's hand?" "I believe," said she, "that if I could see lines in only one of your hands I could foretell that we would have a very pleasant drive." He grasped the lines in one hand and the—situation in the other.

It is stated that Mr. J. R. Whichard, the editor of The Lumberton Robesonian, has sold his interest in that paper and will go to a Georgia point where he will establish a job office. Mr. Whichard has been connected with the press of the State for many years, and his newspaper brethren, among whom he is popular, as well as those who read after him, will be sorry to part company with him. We learn with regret that another North Carolina newspaper man, one of the brightest lights in the profession, is soon to retire from the business for a more inviting field.—Charlotte Observer.

One of the best jokes of the election comes from Franklin county. A fusion Populist was running for township constable in Hayesville township. He understood that he would be opposed by a Democrat and becoming apprehensive about his own election he offered a man $5.00 to run independently so as to divide the Democratic vote. The proposition was accepted, no Democrat ran and the man who was thus induced to take the field at the eleventh hour got elected. Of course the fusion candidate swore it was a Democratic trick, but the Democrats knew nothing about such a ticket being out until they went to vote.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

The average married woman at the seashore has no jealous fears of her husband in town, for she manages to keep him safely broke.

We Protest.

We endorse the sentiment that is being agitated by several of our country folk who say they intend to enter an earnest protest against any man who voted and worked against the amendment, being placed in charge of any of the public schools. If we have been informed correctly, at least three of the teachers in the public schools have taken an active part in trying to defeat the amendment and place the white race on an equality with the negro race, one going so far as to adjourn his school to consult with the negroes, another shut himself up all day in a school room near where the election was being held and spent the day in arranging tickets for the negro and directing him how to place them in the box. That these men were a disgrace to their race no one will deny, and we are glad the white men of Beaufort county propose to protest so vigorously that they will be heard against such men being employed to teach their children. The children learn meanness enough at our schools where the best care of them is taken and we do not need for them to be taught by a teacher that thinks himself no better than a negro.—Washington Messenger.

Chairman Simmons's of the Democratic State executive committee, was asked yesterday if the negro question is to be an issue in the presidential campaign in this State, and replied that the campaign would be upon the issues formulated at Kansas City. His position is sensible, and his reply is in accordance with the pledge of the Democratic party in the recent State campaign that if the amendment were adopted the negro question would disappear from North Carolina politics. If we are to continue to hear about "nigger domination" and "white supremacy," people will wonder why last week's election was held, and a good many of them will get very tired, not to say disgusted. The promise of Mr. Simmons, Mr. Aycock and all the other Democratic leaders was that with the successful close of the late campaign this thing should come to an end.—Charlotte Observer.

There are very few, if any, enterprises that cannot be benefited by judicious newspaper advertising. The president of a Western telephone company says: "I thought my business had nothing to gain by advertising, but I was challenged by a newspaper man to try it for a year, he to write the 'ads.' At the end of that time we found the increase of subscribers was unprecedented, and a large proportion of the new patrons said the persistent calling of attention to the advantages of the telephone caused them to have the instrument put in. An insurance man and a banker told me they had had the same experience."—Philadelphia Record.

Robbed on the Train.

Two traveling men were robbed on the train between Charlotte and Greensboro last night, one being relieved of $45 and the other of over $100. They boarded the train at Charlotte, and being very tired, soon fell asleep. When they awoke before reaching Greensboro their money was gone.—Greensboro Telegram.

If necessity is the mother of invention she must be a much-married woman, judging from the number of inventors there are.

How to Keep Cool.

Don't worry—and don't worry because you can't help worrying. Don't sit on a hot stove. Don't drink hot Scotches, or Tom and Jerrys, hot rum punches. Don't talk politics—the other fellow is a heat-producing fool, anyway. Don't get excited. If your dog is being whipped, look at the thermometer and resign yourself to his fate. Don't swear at the heat. Remember the time you became profane when you slipped in the snow six months ago. Don't walk in the sun. Have it moved if it blocks the way. Don't hurry. Send the office boy. Don't try to settle the Philippine question. The other fellow is just as much of an anti-be-convinced as you are. Don't look at the ice bill. Think of the ice. Don't wear an overcoat. Don't sleep between blankets.—Baltimore American.

A Smile in Each.

Fortune smiles on some, but to most of us she merely gives the icy ha-ha. A boy's idea of a hero is another boy who gives back talk to a policeman. It is easy enough to fill the public eye if you can only scatter the "dust." "It's human to err," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "and it's human nature to say 'I told you so!'" The "Little Boy Blue" who was so slow about getting the cows out of the corn was probably a messenger boy. Yes; I've got some money invested in a flying machine, said the facetious man; "but it's nothing—merely a fly spec." Some men will excuse themselves from going to church on Sunday on the plea that it's hard work to follow the ministers sermon. It is said that corsets are unhealthy. What's matter with the poor things? Do they need any more squeezing?

Mr. W. Henry Alston returned to Greenville last week in time to vote. Mr. Alston has a position with the American Tobacco Co., and will have sole charge of their leaf factory, the large and well equipped plant of Strause Brothers, whom they bought out some time ago. In the hands of no better man could the business be entrusted.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Mr. Wash P. Edwards went back to Greenville Friday to resume his position with a leading tobacco warehouse there. During his stay here he was local reporter for the Evening Herald, the duties of which he filled creditably and satisfactorily, carrying a "nose for news" and exhibiting an aptitude for the business. Mr. Claud Judd takes his place on the Herald.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

MUNFORD'S

Big New Store.

The great markets like New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore have been searched for Bargains and we have them. We are going to sell for less money than anybody else. Why? Because we buy more goods than any other store in town and get larger discounts; and we sell for the smallest possible margin of profit, depending on a large volume of business and no rents to pay.

Marriage Licenses.

Register of Deeds, T. R. Moore issued during the past week three marriage licenses, all for colored people as follows:

James Barnhill and Alfred Ann Streeter.

Elijah Pittaway and Armeta Smith.

Guy Peyton and Phillis Harris.

Melons TooRipe.

We have been wondering why people who have cantelopes to sell let them get mush ripe before bringing them to market. Quantities of them have been brought here lately and in several loads we failed to find one that was fit to keep over night for breakfast. They are a fine breakfast dish, but should not be left to get too ripe. The grower would find better sale by using a little care in this respect.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor J. G. Moya disposed of four cases during the past week, as follows:

Elias Sutton, intoxicated, guilty, fined one penny and cost, amounting to $2.16.

James Forbes and Barney Sutton, disorderly conduct, both not guilty.

James Evans, drunk and disorderly conduct, guilty, fined one penny and cost, amounting to $1.96.

Henry Carson, drunk and disorderly conduct, guilty, fined one penny and cost, amounting to $2.21.

TOOK THE DOSE.

Preferred Horsewhipping to Jail.

George Mayo, a negro who works at Savage's livery stables administered a severe horsewhipping to another negro this morning. It seems that Mr. Ed. Jolly left his pistol in his buggy Friday at Savage's stables and told George to take care of it. Later a strange negro who had been loafing around the stables stole the pistol. This morning the strange negro was given his choice between going to jail or taking a horsewhipping. The negro preferred the latter and George proceeded to administer the dose. The negro submitted to it without a word and left immediately afterwards. He has not been seen here since.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Many a so-called absent minded man remembers the poor.

Only an idiot indulges in violent exercise when he needs rest.

The letter P, like the selfish friend, is first in pity and last in help.

A dog fight is the only kind in which the real cur-rage is displayed.

No man has a right to do as he pleases except when he pleases to do right.

Some people have no use for their friends unless they are in a position to use them.

An old bachelor says that maids marry when they can and widows when they will.

A Cincinnati policeman was recently injured by the accidental discharge of his duty.

A St. Louis firm advertises "iron bed-steads and bedding." The linen is evidently sheet iron.
