WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., August 29

The Winterville High School outlook for the coming season promises to be the most successful of its whole history. The Directors indeed have cause to feel encouraged as well as highly elated. Prof. Lineberry has been untiring in his efforts and the zeal manifested by him must necessarily bear fruit, rich into the harvest. The many applications already presented for admission speak too plainly of an indomitable will and a perseverance that recognizes no failure. It is a source of gratification to all interested in our school to realize that we have in Prof. Lineberry and corps of able teachers to assist him, a coterie that can never fail, and who have for their motto, "Onward and Upward," and never say die.

We are proud to read in the DAILY REFLECTOR that Miss Ives, a former pupil of our school, was the successful competitor for the scholarship from this county to the Industrial and Normal School at Greensboro. We congratulate Miss Beson, but we are not surprised for our boys and girls always make us proud. Whether at home or abroad they are a credit.

J. R. Johnson sells ice cold drinks of any and all kinds and he also has a fine assortment of notions and stationery which would afford him much pleasure to show to his friends and the general public before they buy elsewhere.

The arrival of a young wheel-right at the home of T. C. Nelson's adds another to the force of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. And still we grow!

J. W. Sparks, of Kinston, has accepted a position with the Hunsucker Carriage Co.

Mrs. Dr. Cox and children, who have been visiting in the county, returned home yesterday.

Reported Defeat of Allies.

Paris, Aug. 28, 4:15 a. m.—A special dispatch to Lesirele, from St. Petersburg, says:

"It is persistently rumored in St. Petersburg that the Russian government has received a dispatch asserting that after a fierce battle inside Pekin, the allies retreated, losing 1,800 men, mostly Russians. It is further said that the Chinese occupy fortified positions, from which they are bombarding the allies in a murderous manner."

Two Barns and Contents Burned

Mrs. Mary Nobles, who lives about five miles from Greenville, lost two barns and about two thousand pounds of fodder by fire Tuesday night. Mr. George Corbett, a tenant on the place, just finished housing the crops and the entire content of both barns were lost. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at about two hundred and fifty dollars.

The taxpayer is glad to stand high in the community, but he doesn't want to be overrated.

Gen. Julian S. Carr For Senator.

Durham, N. C., August 25.—Today Gen. J. S. Carr gave out the following card to the press announcing his candidacy for the race for Senator to fill the seat now occupied by Marion Butler:

To the Democratic Electors of North Carolina.
 At your last State convention you declared through your delegates, in the platform adopted, in favor of a primary election on November 6th, 1900, to decide your preference for Senator of the United States, for the term beginning March 4th, 1901. I favored this action then and I heartily endorse it now. The primary will be held; our party is not afraid to trust the wisdom of the people. All the supporters in the August election are invited to participate in the primary. For many years the conviction has come home to many of the best thinkers of our country, that the election of United States Senators should be committed directly to the people—the source of all political power. In the absence of the necessary and needed constitutional change the primary affords the nearest possible approach to an election of Senators by the vote of the people.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for United States Senator and ask your support in the primary. My record as a citizen and Democrat is fairly well known to many of you. I ask for no greater consideration than is justly accorded the records of those able and honorable gentlemen whose names have been mentioned for this high position. In this contest I shall not attempt in any way to detract from the merit of any competitor. We are all Democrats; we are all members of the same great political household; we have fought side by side its great battles; we have by united effort and individual strength achieved its great triumphs.

In the recent election—the great up-rising of Anglo-Saxon manhood we achieved a notable victory, fought with far reaching and important consequences; imposing upon you the entire responsibility and burden of State government, and as a part of this imperative duty of providing adequate educational facilities for the boys and girls of our state. You will meet these responsibilities bravely and fearlessly, and discharge their duties patiently and wisely. We are no longer, as in the past, to be kept busy with the cares of preserving our homes safe, but will reach out to participate more freely in the policies of the nation. We shall now strive on the higher plane of effort and Statesmanship. My political principles are those of the Democratic party; they find excellent and thorough expression in the National and State platforms; I need not summarize their declarations. To each of them and to both of them I yield most ready and unswerving support. They are the voice of my party speaking in its appointed channels, I obey that voice; and if your choice shall fall on me I shall in every way endeavor to have those declarations become the law of the land by appropriate statutes.

The industrial and educational progress of North Carolina will demand my earnest attention and zealous services. Its large agricultural interests will receive my watchful care and I will ever strive to foster and protect the same from hostile legislation. I have endeavored, as best I could, to aid in the agricultural, industrial and educational development and advancement of our State. I have endeavored, as best I could, to aid in the public and private schools as far as I could. I believe, with confidence. I can accomplish more in these directions in the enlarged field of high official position, and aided by my experience and knowledge attract greater attention to the resources and opportunities offered by our State. The general upbuilding of our Commonwealth will command at all times my earnest and loyal endeavor. I shall strive to protect our people from the dangers and disasters of Force Bills and preserve from Federal interference our new Constitutional Amendment, the submission and adoption of which by such an overwhelming majority adds new glory to the "Old North State."

The earnest solicitation of my old comrades in arms have influence me no little in deciding to submit my name for your suffrages. The old Confederate Veteran realizes that the young men of a new generation will soon have entire charge of the old Ship of State; a few years more and the last one of them with a halo of precious memories around him, will have fought his last fight and departed from the scene of action. But while he yet lives and lingers in sweet and sad memories of the glorious past, he will feel a brighter satisfaction to be again represented in our highest Council by one of the "Boys that wore the Gray."

Fellow Democrats: My services have been yours in every campaign since I became of age; services gladly given without desire for, or expectation of reward save only the gratification of a deep and abiding love for my native State, my people, my party and its glorious principles. My old ambition is to serve better my native State, to aid more in its agricultural and industrial upbuilding and its educational advancement; to promote the welfare and happiness of its people, and should you chose me to serve you in the Senate of the United States my loyalty devotion to my State in the past, in war and peace, can give you assurance that you shall have the same measure of both in the future.

Yours very truly,

J. S. CARR.

Durham, N. C., August 25, 1900.

Stevenson Endorsed.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—At a meeting of the People's party national committee to-day, the declination of Charles A. Towne as the vice presidential nominee of the party, after a long debate, was accepted, and the name of Adlai E. Stevenson was put in his place. In the beginning there were three courses advocated by different members of the committee, viz: To nominate a Populist, to leave the place blank, or, lastly, to endorse Mr. Stevenson. Senator Marion Butler, chairman of the committee, in a warm speech of some length, advocated leaving the place blank, contending that Bryan and Stevenson would receive more Populist votes than if a candidate for Vice President was not named, but on this no vote was taken.

A motion was made to endorse Mr. Stevenson. For this motion Mr. Washburn, of Massachusetts, moved at a substitute that a Populist be placed on the ticket. The substitute was lost on a call of the roll by a vote of 24 ayes to 71 nays. The original motion was then adopted by a viva voce vote. There were 124 members of the committee present, or represented by proxy.

Suicide for the Love of a Negro.

Eva Miller, 18 years old, called last night at the home of Mrs. Rachel Lewis, No. 1248 Fulton street, Brooklyn, and asked for John F. Williams, a colored man, who had been stopping there. When told that she could not see him the girl drank carbolic acid.

Ambulance Surgeon Pasquale, of St. Mary's Hospital, used a stomach pump and took the girl to the hospital where it was said that she would die.

The police say that Miss Miller was jealous of the colored man, with whom she had been keeping company for some time. They also say the negro did not care for her. Her mother lived at No. 130 West Ninth street, Manhattan. According to the police, Miss Miller's mother knows nothing about the matter. The girl is pretty. She has dark hair and eyes and is medium build.—Philadelphia Record.

The Bright Side.

Look on the bright side, it is always the right side. The times may be hard, but it will make them no easier to wear a gloom and sad countenance, but will only make those around you unhappy. It is the sunshine, and not the cloud, that makes the flower. The sky is blue ten times where it is black once. You have troubles, so have others; none are free from them, so don't waste your time worrying and fretting over them. Troubles give sinne and tone to life—fortitude and courage to man, though few of us are ready to face it.

That would be a dull sea, and the sailor would never get skill, where there was nothing to disturb the surface of the ocean. What, though times look a little dark, the lane will turn, and the night will end in a broad day. There is more virtue in one sunbeam than in a whole hemisphere of cloud and gloom.

No pleasure or success in life quite meets the capacity of our hearts. We take in our good things with enthusiasm, and think ourselves happy and satisfied; but afterward, when the froth and foam have subsided, we discover that the goblet is not more than half filled with the golden liquid that was poured into it.—Murphy Democrat.

The Soldier Wept.

Yesterday morning at Miss Emma Averett's music school, in this place, while Misses Ethel Hight, Mary Hunter and Norma Britt were playing on the piano, they turned around and discovered a stranger, an old man, standing at the window, having been attracted there by the sweet strains of music.

The stranger said that he was an old ex-Confederate soldier and had fought in many a battle, and asked that some one play "Dixie" for him. Miss Averett complied with the request, after which the old soldier asked if they would not sing it for him, whereupon the young ladies sang the old song, so dear to the hearts of our old heroes, with all the spirit and feeling possible, being accompanied by Miss Averett. At the close of the singing they turned around and found their listener sitting in a chair motionless, while great big tears were rolling down his rough and weather-beaten cheeks. The old song had touched a tender chord in his breast and had no doubt brought back to his memory many incidents of his soldier life, in which he fought and lost in a cause which was dearer to him than life. No doubt he saw in his memory old comrades who shared his joys and sorrows during that trying time, many of whom gave up their lives fighting by his side.

The old soldier was a stranger and possibly a wanderer, without home or friends, but he was one of our battle-scared defenders, and we are glad that Miss Averett and her pupils were able to give him a few moments of their time in order to render dear old "Dixie" for him.

Would that we were all more thoughtful of the pleasures and comforts these old heroes who fought to protect what we considered our rights and liberties!—Henderson Herald.

The Worst Outbreak of Cholera on Record

London, Aug. 28.—“The present epidemic of cholera,” says the Sima correspondent of The Daily Mail, “is one of the worst outbreaks on record. The bubonic plague is child's play compared with it.

“The natives are dying like flies at the rate of 3,00 a week. The epidemic is undoubtedly due to pollution of the scanty water supply during the famine.
