BOILER EXPLOSION.

One Man Killed, Two Others Scalded.

A telephone message today from Ayden to THE REFLECTOR, tells of an explosion at the gin of County Commissioner Calvin J. Tucker, near Hanrahan, early this morning. In some way the boiler to the engine exploded killing a colored man, named Perry Williams, and badly scalding another negro. Mr. Tucker was also scalded and was struck in the face by bricks that bruised him considerably.

We could not learn the cause of the explosion or to what extent the gin and building were damaged.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept., 29th

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., are still in the lead in handling and selling wagons, carts, cart-saddles, back bands and everything needed and used for farming purposes. Yesterday they sold one gentleman, who is a large planter, ten pair cart wheels to be used on his farm. This firm invites the general public to investigate and examine their goods and it will be a paying investment for those who handle such goods to consult with them.

Mr. Editor if you and the compositor who sets up my manuscript dont do better. I shall be tempted to come with my crowd and ride you both on a rail. See one paragraph in last items was just miserable. I'm no Dutch.

For the best and cheapest cigars and cheroots the Winterville Cigar Co. cannot be outrivaled or excelled, as their fast increasing patronage fully attests. Give them a trial and become convinced

A. G. Cox is still buying cotton seed and offers the very highest cash prices for them.

Carlos Harris painted a beautiful sign in the show window of Mrs. C. A. Fair's millinery emporium yesterday, Mrs. Fair has a very pretty store and we bespeak for her a nice trade the coming season.

The colored Odd Fellows are building and have nearly completed a large two story building on rail road street. When finished they will use it for their Society purposes.

A Little Study in Anatomy.

How many bones in the human face?
Fourteen, when they're all in place.
How many bones in the human head?
Eight, my child, as I've often said.
How many bones in the human ear?
Four in each and they help to hear.
How many bones in the human spine?
Twenty four like a climbing vine.
How many bones in the human chest?
Twenty-four ribs and two of the rest.
How many bones the shoulders bind?
Two in each, one before, one behind.
How many bones in the human arm?
In each arm one; two in each forearm
How many bones in the human wrist?
Eight in each, if none are missed.
How many bones in the palm of the hand?
Five in each, with many a band.
How many bones in the fingers ten?
Twenty eight, and by joints they bend.
How many bones in the human thigh?
One in each, and deep they lie.
How many bones in the human knees!
One in each, the kneecap, please.
How many bones in the leg from the knee?
Two in each, we can plainly see.
How many bones in the ankle strong?

Seven in each, but none are long.
How many in the ball of the foot?
Five in each, as the palms are put.
How many bones in the toes half a score?
Twenty-eight, and there are no more.
And now altogether these bones may wait?
And the total sum is two hundred and eight.

Marriage Licens.

History is a curious thing. Every body can tell us how Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln would vote if alive nowadays, but no one seems to know how Cleveland will cast his ballot.

The Baltimore authorities have permitted several Porto Ricans to register for the election this fall as having been "naturalized by annexation." This question will sooner or later present a pretty little problem for a solution by the Supreme Court.

Prosperity and hard times seem to come in successive waves at intervals of about ten years. When the world is prosperous it spends too much money and then has to retrench and get even. There are signs that such a period of retrenchment is near at hand. It will come from entirely natural causes but it will be charged to the party in power even though it be world wide.

The following is an extract from the obituary notice of a country newspaper, published in another paper of the same town: "The pen is silent; the office scissors have been laid away to rust. The stillness of death prevades the very atmosphere where once the hoarse voice of the devil, 'Copy!' or 'Whattin'under's this word?' was wont to resound. The paste has soured in its pot, the cockroach is eating the composition off the roller and the bluebottle fly is dying in the rich and odorous folds of the printer's towel."

Any photographer will tell that lots of people will sit for a picture and then won't stand for it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29.

Mr. McKinley's extraordinary and apparently unaccountable friendship for China, which has been so plainly shown from the beginning of the trouble down to his abandonment of the allies and the order for the sending of the American troops in China to the Philippines, has caused a lot of thinking. Attention has been called to the fact that the republican platform failed to say a word about the continued exclusion of Chinese laborers from the United States although it must have been well known to the makers of that platform that the present Chinese exclusion law will expire by limitation in 1902; and that unless it is extended by Congress our ports will then be open to Chinese coolie laborers. It has been noted also that Chinese Minister to the United States has done considerable talking of late about the probability of the increased friendship between his government and ours resulting in the removal of immigration restrictions. That large employers of unskilled labor in this country, not to mention the sugar planters trust of Hawaii, are anxious to see the restriction on Chinese immigration removed is well known. By putting all these things together Mr. McKinley is placed in a suspicious attitude toward American labor. Perhaps mention of the Chinese exclusion was purposely left out of the republican platform, in order to justify the republican Congress in not renewing that restriction, and the re-election of Mr. McKinley may mean the flooding of this country with cheap Chinese labor. The existence of such an intention would account for Mr. McKinley's Chinese policy. It should not be overlooked that the democratic national platform contains this clause: "We favor the continuance and strict enforcement of the Chinese exclusion law and its application to the same classes of all Asiatic races." It is not surprising that those who are interested in the welfare of American labor are doing some deep thinking. It is time for them to think and to act.

Senator Morgau, in a speech before the Jackson Democratic Association devoted himself to the financial question, which he declared was the most interesting topic to him. He said: "The only way to settle the financial question is to pay the public debt, and it would be very easy to do so by saving some of the wild expenditures we are now making. In the course of a few years we could save over $100,000,000, and we should commence today in order to save the interest which the people are paying. The system created by the last Congress is designed to increase the national debt, and under that legislation the debt cannot and will not be paid, but will be increased from year to year. The payment of the debt would not underpin the national banks, but would force them to the old Jackson idea of a specie basis, and we would not be dependent for a circulating medium on government bonds. When that is done the financial question will be settled and settled right."

Mr. Jackson H. Ralston, of Maryland, made this reference to our trade with the Philippines, in a speech this week to the Bryan and Stevenson Club: "Our exports to the Philippines have been 85,000 men, at a cost of $120,000,000. Our imports have been 25,000 maimed, diseased, and crippled American citizens."

Ex-Senator Gorman, whose political judgment is conceded to be as good as that of any man in the country, was in Washington this week, and said of the outlook: "There is a drift—a very decided drift—in favor of the democrats which justifies the hope that Bryan will be elected. Political conditions seem much as they were in 1892. The men who are managing for the democrats in New York say that they are going to carry the state. They are sincerely confident. They believe they are going to succeed. The democratic managers generally feel confident in the general situation and believe that Mr. Bryan is going to be elected. The drift is strongly in that direction."

An untold amount of real humiliation and suffering is inflicted upon men and women striving to serve God in the church, by a lack of appreciation of their point of view. Put yourself in their places. Would not you resent being an object of disapproval, or, when the case is bettered, an object of charity? Would you enjoy feeling that your hat, your coat, your dress and your children's clothes were matters of comment, and that the parish felt that the money paid your husband must be spent to please it and not yourself—"A Minister's Wife," in the October Ladies' Home Journal.

As to expansion, it's a pity its actual character must be brought home to this country by so many dead soldiers.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.
 For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.
 McLEER'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT. For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Dept., The CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Violating Game Law.

MR. EDITOR:

We have hunters who pretend to have a great respect for law, yet a month before the season opens for turkey and bird hunting begins they are on posted land violating the law. Would it be wrong to make some of them pay for being so far ahead of time? Ten dollars for a bird or turkey or a month in jail would make them a little more careful. We think it will be tried this fall. X.

Mr. L. C. Arthur was kind enough to remember THE REFLECTOR with some genuine Havana cigars—the real stuff. We enjoyed a smoke right.

What has become of our Washington itemizer? We have not heard from him since the fire there. Hope he did not get "smoked" out.

Mr. J. W. Jmith, Superintendent of the County Home, tells us that a chicken with only one wing was hatched at the Home a few days ago. The one winged chick is getting on all right.

GRIFTON ITEMS.

GRIFTON, N. C. Sept. 28 1900.

Miss Anna Pittman returned home after several days stay at Baltimore purchasing millinery goods for her sister Mrs. Lula Bruton, of Kinston.

Mrs. E. F. Beard left for her home at Norfolk today.

J. C. Gaskins' new stock has arrived and he is in his new store which is just completed.

Willie Kilpatrick, cotton buyer for Sprunt & Son, of Wilmington, went up to Ayden today.

Cotton today is worth 9½ on this market.

Another big break of tobacco yesterday and prices satisfactory on both floors.

Nat Whitfield was here Thursday and left on the morning train.

Union meeting at the Christian church of this place today and Sunday. All are invited to attend, and dinner on the grounds both days.

Rev. Mr. Geddie was pounded Thursday night, which was an agreeable surprise.

A Smart Boy.

We doubt if any paper has had a younger reporter than THE REFLECTOR's court reporter for the term of court just closed. Master Thurman Moore, only 12 years old, and a little son of Superior Court Clerk, D. C. Moore, did this work for us, making a record of the cases tried, and he reported them as well as anybody could have done.

Mistrial.

The case against W. A. Bright, the charge of setting fire to his bar-room, which occupied nearly two days of the court, resulted in a mistrial, the jury failing to reach a verdict. Report says the jury was ten for conviction and two for acquittal. His bond was increased to $1,000, which he was required to give for his appearance at January court.
