J. S. TUNSTALL.

Opera House.

"Palmer's New York Stock Company which opens a three night's engagement at the opera house tonight, comes to Greenville with the very highest endorsement by the press of the State. It has been greeted with huzzas everywhere standing room only in many places, and in every town the managers and people are asking for an early return engagement, but as the dates are all booked until the company goes north in the spring, only towns on the direct route can be revisited. With a view of thoroughly advertising his company Mr. Palmer has adopted popular prices for this town and yet has not seen fit to reduce the quality of the performances. In addition to the plays to be presented here, first-class vaudeville people have been engaged who appear between the acts, thus avoiding the waits usually so tedious during scene shifting.

Millions of People.

The population of the United States is given out by the authorities at Washington to be 76,295,220, of which there are 134,158 Indians not taxed. The population of the 45 states is 74,627,907. The increase is nearly 21 per cent.

The population of North Carolina is 1,891,992, against 1,617,947, about 17 per cent. increase.

In only one state was there a decrease, though Vermont, Nebraska, Kansas and Maine had narrow escapes. Virginia drops behind this state in population.

Oklahoma shows the largest increase of any state or territory, 398,245 against 61,384 in 1890.

A WOMAN WRITES.

This is True Democracy

To the Editor of The Raleigh Post:

The various phases of the Senatorial contest have been discussed pro. and con. until it seems superfluous to add anything more; yet we beg for space to tell why we think North Carolina Democrats should, and I believe will, give the seat in the United States Senate made vacant by Butler to our leader, F. M. Simmons.

Let me here state that I yield to no one in reverence and admiration for the men who defended the "lost cause." My father, when but a boy, donned the gray and followed the flag until it went down in night at Appomattox. My sympathy is ever with the heroes of '61 and '65, and I believe in honoring them over their opponents, all things being equal. But in this contest, taking everything into consideration, it would be an unwise act in the party to turn Simmons down. Why? Because for four years Simmons has been the recognized leader of Tar Heel Democracy. A few short months ago, when our ship of State was in troubled waters and it seemed we would be swallowed in the deep, when anxious hearts were asking, "Watchman, what of the night?"—tell me, pray, to whom did we look for an answer? Was it to Julian S. Carr? No! though he has given his thousands to deserving causes and people. No! though he followed Lee in '61. No! though he is one of us and has done good service for the Democratic cause. Instead, when the storm was the fiercest, the answer to our agonized cry—the message of hope—"All is well?"—came from Democratic headquarters and was signed "F. M. Simmons, Chairman." Under his leadership the "Philistines were routed hand and foot." Under his leadership it was made possible to send a Democrat to the Senate in Butler's place. And what is more fitting than that Simmons should succeed Butler? By what specious argument or stretch of sympathy can any Democratic voter think it best to turn Simmons down and honor Carr? Who would think it wise for one moment to take down an able, experienced general and place in his stead a private from the ranks and the battle not yet finished?

We needed Simmons when the Herculean task of cleaning the Augean stables of State politics was upon us (and he was successful), and we'll again need his experience and ability when it comes to defending us in the Senate. What Simmons has done for the State is worth ten times as much as what Carr has ever done.

"Saul has slain thousands, but David has slain ten thousand." Why the Republicans and Populists prefer Carr is not, I dare say, because they love Carr so well, but that they hate Simmons more.

When the voter goes to the polls on November 6 to cast his vote for United States Senator let him lay aside personal preference and sympathy. Even though he be an old Confederate, let not his feelings control his judgment. Say at some more convenient time, when the lines are not so sharply drawn, we will honor our comrade, but now, at this time, in vindication of our leader—"For at his devoted head. The bolts of wrath were fiercest sped." in vindication of ourselves, we must send Simmons to the Senate.

Democratic voters, honor Simmons, providing to all our friends—the enemy in particular—that now, as ever can be found no such word in the vocabulary of North Carolina Democracy as "ingratitude."

A DEMOCRATIC WOMAN.

SEEN AND HEARD IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, N. C., Oct. 30th

Two marriages here on Wednesday evening 24th inst. Mr. Z. Leggett to Miss Lodge, Rev. W. H. Call officiating; and Mr. E. Dixon to Mrs. Fannie Gallagher, Rev. N. Harding officiating.

J. S. Hill has bought the W. Walling place, corner Second and Harvey streets.

The old lime kilns on the "castle" are being put in order, and barges put in order, preparatory to starting the lime making. The shells for lime will be obtained at Swan Quarter and perhaps Belhaven.

A correspondent from Hyde, in one of our Washington papers, speaks of "large ships" passing in full view of Swan Quarter. They must have been built in the sound, as there can be but about ten feet of water brought through Croatan sound and not more than eight feet brought in at Ocracoke, and not that much at Hatteras.

We hear a rumor that Rev. D. W. Davis will locate at Greenville the next year and preach there.

A slight misunderstanding between two which they endeavored to settle via et armis, on Sunday, His Honor thought was worth $3.00 and $5.00.

Several went up on the 2:30 train to Ayden, to attend the N. C. C. M. C.

Mrs. Dr. Nash returned on the 7:30 train from a visit as did Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Short.

Rev. A. Latham preached his valedictory on Sunday, and will be succeeded by Rev. J. D. Walters.

Leon Gilbert, bookkeeper for Eureka Lumber Co. is on a visit to Cincinnati, his old home.

Gen. Carr is to be here tonight, looking after his fence. Hurrah for everybody except those who get left. JIM NASTIC.

New York To Give Bryan 50,000.

New York, Oct. 30.—Executive Chairman Jas. K. McGuire, of the Democratic State committee, gave out to-night the first estimate from the Democratic State committee on how the State would go. He said:

"Our canvass of the State gives Bryan 50,000 majority and it also shows that the Republicans will not come to the Bronx with more than 70,000 majority. I have refrained from making any statements heretofore until our canvass is completed. This estimate on our canvass is a very conservative one."

25 to 4

A gentleman told us Wednesday that he took a census of a promiscuous crowd passing on the street as to whom each favored for Senator. The result was 25 for Simmons and 4 for Carr.

The Well Dressed Man

Attracts your attention wherever you meet him. He is numerous in Greenville this fall, and we take considerable of the credit for this condition of affairs. Ask the man if we are not entitled to this honor. Never before in the history of this establishment have we carried such a complete assortment of as we have this fall. Our customers tell us this, and they are certainly competent to judge. We have everything that is the rage in New York, and a visit to our establishment will give you a complete knowledge of all that is new and "Chic" in the fashionable world. In regard to our prices: We know that you will not utter a word of complaint. Drop in when you have a little time, we want to see you.

The Great New Bern Fair.

The next Grand Fall Exhibition and Race Meet of The Great New Bern Fair will be held November 12-17, 1900.

It will be the Grandest and Greatest Exhibition of the Diversified Products of our State ever held.

Every Department has been augmented, and the Program of Amusements has been made to embrace only the very latest and best attractions.

A Double Balloon Ascension and Double Parachute Leap will be made every day by two of the Most Celebrated Aeronauts in the World.

The Vaudeville Attractions will include everything that is Up-to-date, Daring Acrobats, Tumblers and Performers, and the very funniest Clowns and Comedians ever seen on the fair grounds.

Splendid bands and orchestras! The best and most exciting racing ever seen in North Carolina is insured. The large purses, aggregating $3,000, will be hotly contested for by the speediest trotters and runners on the turf.

Wild and domesticated animals will be exhibited in their natural state—a whole menagerie of them.

An immense aquarium will contain the finest specimens of fish—a truly beautiful and interesting exhibition. The fish, oysters and game exhibits will be greater than ever. The fair is to be made a great cyclorama of the Tar Heel art, nature and industry. Do not miss it.

Hon. F. M. Simmons will formerly open the fair November 13th. A great many other distinguished persons will be present.

All the railroads and steamboat lines will run cheap excursions. Send for premium list or other information to

Mr. E. J. Justice, of Marion, writes a very sensible communication to the Charlotte Observer from which we take the following extract.

There are many people in the State who are opposed to the senatorial primary and as the contest progresses the opponents to it increase. There are now only two candidates, and against them both there are personal charges that make the friends of each bitter.

The result of the primary is not going to be satisfactory, it matters not what the result may be. If Mr. Simmons is successful some of Mr. Carr's friends will question the methods. They are now saying that if he succeeds it will be due to the party machinery, personal charges made against Mr. Carr and dishonesty in the election. If Mr. Carr succeeds, the charges that he has bought newspapers, and placed money into the hands of his supporters, which is being used to buy votes will not be stopped but will be intensified. Mr. Simmons, friends will say that he was slandered and hurt thereby and ought not to suffer on account of it. In short, the discussion will not stop with the primary. So far, so I am informed, it was not the people who wanted the primary at first. It may be wise to have the constitution of the United States amended so that Senators may be elected by the people. It is quite another thing to refer the matter to the primary of a political party for instructions as to the duty of members of the General Assembly while the law remains as it is. Mr. Simmons and Mr. Carr cannot better serve their State and relieve the members of the General Assembly and party from embarrassment than to unite in a request that the primary be not held. In behalf of the party to which they belong I appeal to them to do this.

FOR FREE SILVER

The extracts below are from Gen. J. S. Carr's famous free silver speech before the Banker's National Convention in Atlanta and reprinted from the Atlanta Constitution of Dec. 16th.

Several delegates were called on for addresses, and among them Mr. J. S. Carr, of North Carolina. Mr. Carr proved to be a live wire, and when he crossed the other wires that had been laid, there was fire, but it was all good natured.

He said he came to the convention as a State bank man, but with views differing radically from those of most of the others present. "I am a silver democrat he declared. "I believe in the dollar of our daddies. It is true that I am a little lonesome when I get among bankers, but I tell you I have company when I am out among the people. They know that there is something wrong, and they are calling for relief."

The bankers of this country are making a mistake in declaring for a single gold standard. I believe that the convention ought to make a ringing declaration for State banks. That is all right and I am in accord with the convention on that proposition, but the alarm has been struck in the tower of public opinion, and it must be heard. One speaker has told us today that we have only 90 cents of circulation per capita in the South, while in the Northern States it is nearly $6.00. They tell us that we don't want any more money. I say that a man ought to be able to go to a bank and borrow on his credit as well as on his bonds. I don't care about money being too good. I don't care if a North Carolina State bank note would not circulate in Virginia or Georgia, then it would stay at home and help us pay our debts. They tell me that notes of the country banks in England will not circulate in London, and that a Paris bank note will not circulate out in the provinces. I know Canadian money will not circulate in this country, and yet they say that the English currency is the best in the world. I am for State banks "baldheaded and barefooted." The gold standard is not what we want. I was out driving with a friend in Connecticut not long ago, and he pointed out to me a little building; which in my own town, would rent for about $175 a year. He told me it was a savings bank, and that the deposit amounted to $27,000,000. Why, gentlemen, that is ten times the entire banking capital of North Carolina.

Mr. Carr concluded with the statement that he was for "State banks, the dollar of our daddies and free silver."

The talk was short, but vigorous and it was heartily applauded.

End of Century Club.

The End of the Century Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ficklen. The afternoon was given up to a discussion of the revised constitution and by-laws, as presented by the committee appointed for that purpose at the last meeting.

Two new names were presented for membership, Mrs. James B. Cherry and Mrs. James L. Fleming; both ladies names were met by a rising vote.

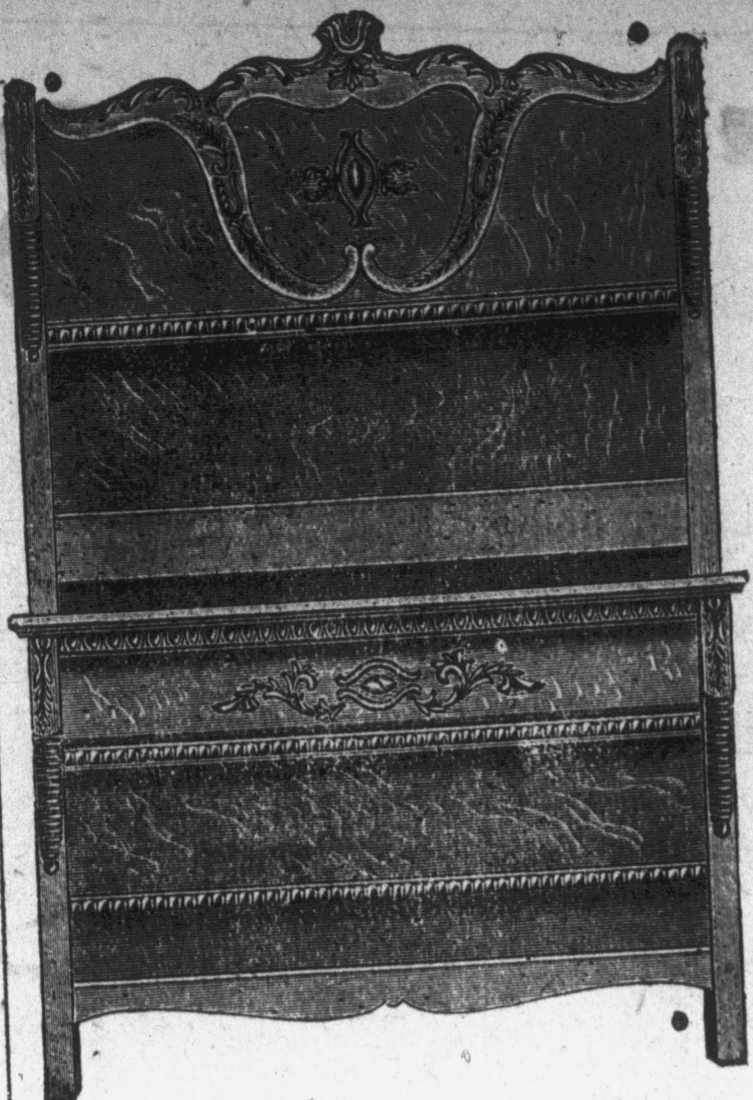

After the business of the club delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Jarvis on November thirteenth.

In furnishing a house, consider where and how you are to live, and the number of pairs of hands there are to do the work, and select your furnishing accordingly. If the articles you are buying are well made and good in shape and color you will make no mistake in selecting them, no matter how simple they are; indeed, the simpler they are the better. Do not be in a hurry to fully furnish your house. When buying a new piece of furniture, a drapery or a rug, keep in mind the fact that it should harmonize with the old furnishings.—November Ladies' Home Journal.
