WINTERVILLE

DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Nov. 3rd.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are still shipping large quantities of wagons, carts, wheels, back bands, cart saddles and there seems to be no end to the demand. Soon the season for shipping the celebrated Cox Cotton Planter, for which they are the sole owners and manufacturers, will open then their shipments will be much larger, still with the force of hands they now employ and others to be added, they will be equal to the occasion. They promise the public as they have in the past so will they in the future endeavor by fair dealings and honest work give satisfaction to all.

The Winterville Cigar Co. shipped and sold last month one hundred and fifteen thousand cigars and are now constantly receiving and filling orders daily.

A. G. Cox has large and commodious stables he wishes to rent either for sale or livery purposes. Anyone desiring a good location for such business will do well to see him at once.

The postoffice inspector for the Government was here Thursday and found everything all right. He seemed to be a clever gentleman.

There is no question about Winterville's future. With its factories, its large school, thriving merchants, successful tradesmen, its large college building almost completed and with many other industries to be added its prospects are indeed bright.

Very few of our people attended the circus in Greenville and those who did are divided in their opinion. Some say it was good, others assert it was sorry, but they are all agreed that a man stood on his head.

The Hunsucker Carriage Co. calls special attention to their large assortment of new harness which has just arrived and which they propose to sell at very reasonable prices.

Mr. F. O. Cox is building a nice residence on Main and Church streets. When completed it will add much to the appearance of that part of the town.

Major Henry Harding, of Greenville, was here Wednesday. James White and J. I. Smith were here yesterday.

N. T. Stokes has moved his family here. He will work in the cigar factory.

A. G. Cox is still paying the highest cash prices for cotton seed.

$50,000 Damage Suit.

The Charlotte News states that B. F. Long, Esq., of Statesville, has entered suit against the North Carolina Railroad for $50,000 damages, for the killing of his son, B. F. Long, Jr. Young Long was killed, as will be remembered, on the 16th day of last November, on the University Railroad at University Station. He was standing on the track watching a train on the North Carolina road when he was struck by a train on the University track.

Make the Child's Punishment Fit His Offense.

The punishment should be proportioned to the offense and grow out of it as a natural consequence. A child who is lazy in the morning and persistently late for breakfast should be deprived, not of a proper amount of food, but of something he particularly likes and might have had if he had been in time, as sugar on the oatmeal or syrup on the griddle cakes. If he has been promised that he should go for a drive, or a walk, or some expedition, and is not ready at the time for starting he should be left behind. The bitter disappointment will teach him, as nothing else can do as effectually, the value of punctuality. If he is sent on an errand and does not return promptly he should not be allowed to taste the nice things made with the sugar or eggs he was so long in bringing. If his errand were of some other nature he should be made to stay alone in his own room for as long a time as he has kept his mother, or any one else, waiting.—November Ladies' Home Journal.

Newspapers and Business

There is food for thought in this statement from a recent issue of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, and we commend it to the careful consideration of all that read newspapers. The Advocate says:

"It is a fact well known that $1.50 a year for the Advocate is a cash price. It could not be otherwise with the present high price of labor, and increased cost of printing paper. Yet it is no uncommon occurrence for us to receive an indignant letter on account of having sent to the subscriber, what they call a 'dun,' for subscription three years due. We know some who would not appreciate our sending them a statement of indebtedness incurred months ago. To draw on them would be an offence. We take this opportunity of saying that running a news paper is a matter of stern, strict business. To lose sight of this fact on either side means financial ruin. The Business Manager of this paper is compelled to follow the methods and principals adopted by the management of other forms of business. If this cannot be done, we might as well go out of the business. When we send out what some call in an aggrieved spirit 'duns,' we are only carrying out the principles of strict business. The Advocate is beset every day with these 'duns,' which we cheerfully pay, whether we get money from our patrons or not. Neither business policy nor morals will allow us to get in a 'huff' over it."

We hope that subscribers of THE REFLECTOR will read and fully "digest" the above. A good way to escape being 'dunned' is to come on and pay without waiting to be asked for it.

We are now told that the senatorial primary is going to destroy the democratic party. Not so fast. Bitter as it is it is not so bitter as the celebrated Jarvis Fowle contest when there was no primary, or so injurious as hotly contested fights for legislative nominations would have been last summer. There are evils about the primary, but are there no evils about conventions?—News and Observer.

The Well Dressed Man

Attracts your attention wherever you meet him. He is numerous in Greenville this fall, and we take considerable of the credit for this condition of affairs. Ask the man if we are not entitled to this honor. Never before in the history of this establishment have we carried such a complete assortment of as we have this fall. Our customers tell us this, and they are certainly competent to judge. We have everything that is the rage in New York, and a visit to our establishment will give you a complete knowledge of all that is new and "Chic" in the fashionable world. In regard to our prices: We know that you will not utter a word of complaint. Drop in when you have a little time, we want to see you.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSON, Va., Dec. 8.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

SAURDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1906.

Don't miss the chance to vote for Bryan and Small. This is more important than a vote for Senator The Legislature can take care of the latter and will be sure to elect a Democrat.

The full census returns show that the new apportionment on congressmen will give, unless the number in the House be increased, a gain of one vote each for Colorado, Texas, Illinois, Minnesota, Louisiana, West Virginia, New Jersey and New York, and a loss of one each for India, Kansas, Nebraska, Kentucky, South Carolina, Virginia and Maine. This is a net gain of one each for the east and the middle states, and a net loss of one each for the south and the far west.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3rd.

Chairman Richardson, of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, who has been dividing his time between the New York branch of national headquarters and Washington, returned to Washington this week. The work of the committees, both national and Congressional, is done, and the result is in the hands of the voters. Mr. Richardson is confident that a democratic victory is in sight and that it will include a majority of Congress as well as the Presidency. Said Mr. Richardson: "The reports received at democratic headquarters in New York from the different state chairmen are most encouraging and full of confidence of success at the polls." Of Mr. Bryan's extraordinary reception during his speaking tour of New York, Mr. Richardson said: "There is not another man in the world that could create enthusiasm equal to that aroused by Mr. Bryan on his trip through New York. It was marvelous. There is nothing like it on record."

If proof were needed that the life of a private in the U. S. army under existing conditions is not a pleasant one, it is furnished by the annual report of the Adjutant General, just made public, which shows that there were 3,993 desertions during the last fiscal year. The large and respectable element which opposes the "army canteen" are given a slap in the face by the report, which says that the "army canteen" has grown to be an absolute necessity, and that a business of $1,915,362, with a net profit of $64,504, was done by them during the year.

The growth of the U. S. in population during the past ten years nearly 21 per cent—as shown by the official figures given out this week 76,295,230 has been entirely satisfactory. Whether the same can be said of the growth of manliness, independence, and political intelligence cannot be positively stated until after the election, which will show whether a majority of the voters will vote their known convictions or will allow themselves to be driven to the polls and to be made to vote as the local bosses in the pay of the trusts shall dictate. American manhood vs. serfdom is an issue as well as republic vs. the empire.

The prediction made some weeks ago by Senator elect Blackburn, that the republicans intended to try to carry Kentucky by the use of a small army of U. S. deputy marshals, has been fully verified by the news of the week, even to the name of the man who is at the head of the movement Judge Evans of Louisville. This desperate sort of move, together with things of the same kind in other close states, makes it evident that the republican bosses are far from being as confident of Mr. McKinley's reelection as they pretend to be. Men who believe they can win fairly and squarely do not resort to illegal methods to gain votes.

The democratic managers of the campaign believe now as they have believed from the first that Bryan and Stevenson have a good fighting chance to win, and they are going to keep on believing and fighting until the last ballot has been deposited, and then they are going to keep a close watch to see that there is no trickery on the counting. They have been through too many campaigns to be frightened by republican assumption of confidence.

Smile in Each

Lots of men gain reputations for wisdom simply because they know when to keep their mouths shut.

It cannot be said that the beggar with a crutch has no visible means of support.

The commonplace person never ceases to wonder that so many things happen to other people.

A man may step over a banana skin successfully and yet be tripped up by the tiniest bit of a lie.

"Most men are architects of their own fortunes," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "but lots of us wouldn't take any medals as architects."

Miss Hattie Leggett Dead

Miss Hattie Leggett, of this town, died very suddenly this morning at Farmville. She went to Farmville a few weeks ago to conduct a branch millinery store for her mother, Mrs. M. A. Leggett. She was taken sick Wednesday night and Friday her mother went there to see her. Early this morning a telephone message came to the family that Miss Hattie was dangerously sick, and this was followed by another message in a few minutes stating that she was dead. The sad news was a shock to the family, who have the sympathy of the community.

The remains were brought to Greenville this afternoon for interment here tomorrow.
