HOW THE ELECTORIAL VOTE STANDS.

The facts given below, in the names of the States and the figures opposite them, have been given frequently in this paper since the election of the 6th, but never in this form, and the table, if clipped out, will be found convenient for reference. As the result of the recent election Mr. McKinley will receive electoral votes as follows:

California	9
Connecticut	6
Delaware	3
Illinois	24
Iowa	13
Indiana	13
Kansas	10
Maine	6
Maryland	8
Massachusetts	15
Michigan	14
Minnesota	9
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	10
Nebraska	8
New York	36
North Dakota	3
Ohio	23
Oregon	4
Pennsylvania	32
Rhode Island	4
South Dakota	4
Utah	3
Vermont	4
Washington	4
West Virginia	6
Wisconsin	12
Wyoming	3
Total	292

And Mr. Bryan will receive these votes:

Alabama	11
Arkansas	8
Colorado	4
Florida	4
Georgia	13
Idaho	3
Kentucky	13
Louisiana	8
Mississippi	9
Missouri	17
Montana	3
Nevada	3
North Carolina	11
South Carolina	9
Tennessee	12
Texas	15
Virginia	12
Total	155

It will be seen from the above that in addition to Southern votes Mr. Bryan received only those of four silver mining camps: Colorado, Idaho, Montana and Nevada.

Concerning the popular vote, accurate figures cannot be had until the returns are canvassed in all the states, but a statement derived from we don't know where is going around showing that McKinley's plurality in Republican States amounts to 1,454,510, and Bryan's plurality in Democratic States to 614,120, making McKinley's plurality over Bryan 840,390, the largest plurality ever given a candidate for President, Grant's over Greely in 1872 having been only 763,001. The total vote cast is accounted to have been 15,000,000, of which McKinley is supposed to have received, speaking roundly, 8,000,000, and Bryan 7,000,000.

McKinley carried 28 States and Bryan 17. McKinley's majority of States is 11 and of electoral votes 137. He carried this year Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Utah and Washington, which he lost in 1896, and lost this year Kentucky, which he carried four years ago.—Charlotte Observer.

They are Hustling.

J. L. Starkey & Bro. wish our readers to know that they are going right ahead at their store, serving all with the very best in the grocery line that can be found. They are hustling young men and don't let accidents like happened in their store Saturday stop them at all. See their advertisement.

Miss Vernessa Smith Wins.

The Junior Buck Stove offered by Higgs & Taft to the girl who would take them the most coupons cut out of THE DAILY REFLECTOR, was awarded on Monday to Miss Vernessa Smith, a little daughter of Mr. R. L. Smith, who had 4,748 coupons. Her closest competitor was Miss Lizzie Higgs with 2,038. It is useless to say that the winner is very happy over her prize, and her friends congratulate her.

A Smile in Each.

The society woman who doesn't care to see callers is sometimes found out. When a young man learns to waltz he must expect to meet with reverses. "My time is not my own," remarked the clerk as he consulted a borrowed watch. You can't convince a man who has dyspepsia that crime is not on the increase. The higher a man climbs up the ladder of fame the harder his fall is when it comes.

SEEN AND HEARD IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, N. C., Nov. 19th. Mrs. Martha F. Latham is spending some days here visiting her son, J. B. Latham.

A colored man residing on east 4th street lost his dwelling by fire on the 16th inst.

The Gazette-Messenger, speaking of Rhoda's show, says the nude woman dancing should not have been permitted, etc. He should not have given himself away in that manner.

"We live in hope but may die in despair." The bridge will be passable when it is done

Miss Ida Woolard and Mr. M. M. Jones are to be married on Wednesday.

We haven't combed the town with a comb in search of news, but we have kept on the "qui vive" and did not advertise our friends business. We could enlarge on John Smith & Co's., large and well selected stock, etc., but there is no business in that. Newspapers do (in spite of themselves) a great deal of advertising free gratis and for nothing. We have often seen two or three dollars worth of puffing spent on a 25 cent show and a half column spent on a 12 cent individual. We could also mention the fact that John Sawyer, of Buxton, spent some hours in our city and that Mr. P., of Hoopole, was in town, etc., and not a man, woman or child in Pitt county knows or cares a ——— for any of them, yet the names are bona fide. We have in the foregoing explained our frequent periods of silence, and think from our own experience that THE REFLECTOR will say amen.

JIM NASTIC.

Remember the Orphans.

At Thanksgiving, when the mercies and blessings of the past year are carefully recounted and considered, many will be impelled to express the deep gratitude of their hearts, both in words and in deeds. By contributing to some worthy cause, which has for its object the relief of distress, the rescue of lives, the salvation of souls, thank-offerings will be made to God. The orphans' homes of North Carolina have large claims upon the benevolence of our whole people. The care and training of destitute, homeless orphan children is a work of paramount importance, rich in results. The cause appeals to us all. Could we make an offering more acceptable to God, more beneficial to dependent humanity, than a contribution to maintain these homes for homeless boys and girls? Thanksgiving contributions to orphan work each year are liberal. They are pleasing to God. They make glad the hearts of the children gathered in our various orphans' homes and of the workers for these boys and girls. We all have much to be thankful for. Let us, this Thanksgiving, express our gratitude by even greater aid to those who so much need our help.

The red men are blue. The eyes may be the mirrors of the soul, but what is more they tell a girl whether or not her hat is on straight.

The Well Dressed Man

Attracts your attention wherever you meet him. He is numerous in Greenville this fall, and we take considerable of the credit for this condition of affairs. Ask the man if we are not entitled to this honor. Never before in the history of this establishment have we carried such a complete assortment of as we have this fall. Our customers tell us this, and they are certainly competent to judge. We have everything that is the rage in New York, and a visit to our establishment will give you a complete knowledge of all that is new and "Chic" in the fashionable world. In regard to our prices: We know that you will not utter a word of complaint. Drop in when you have a little time, we want to see you.

We have taken great care in growing the most improved bright tobacco seed—the White Stem Orinoco, the Broad Leaf Orinoco are the most reliable tobacco ever grown in any section. Every man in the east, who cultivated this kind will average from 2 to 5 per cent more than any other kind. Mr. Sam Mumford, at Ayden, says that his Orinoco will bring fifty dollars more per acre than any other kind grown on same land. Martin county people are growing Orinoco and coining money. You will find these seed for sale at Dr. Wooten's and Dr. Bryan's Drug stores and at some store in each section of the county at 25 cents per package.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1900.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Special Correspondent of Reflector.
 RALEIGH N. C., Oct. 30, 1900.

It now develops that an attempt will be made to carry out the threat to "contest" the seating of Senator elect Simmons next March. No mention of the alleged designs has been made in these letters hitherto, because I did not consider the sources of the threat worth noticing.

Now, however the matter has assumed more definite shape and importance, in that it is announced that Senator Pritchard is collecting material and "evidence" upon which to base a contest, and that he will appear as "leading counsel in the contest. That Butler is behind the scheme no one can doubt. It is equally evident that Pritchard takes charge of the "case" largely because Butler, retiring at noon on March 4th from the Senate, cannot act as prosecutor, except behind the scenes, when his successor appears to be sworn in immediately thereafter.

The Washington correspondent of the Raleigh Post states that Pritchard has a box, "weighing 300 pounds," deposited in his committee room and filled with "poll books kept by the Republican committee at the last election;" that this so called "evidence," secured by Republican "watchers" on election day in August, will be used to impeach the validity of Senator Simmons' election, the claim being that the legislature electing him was a fraudulently elected one; that such a contest is certain to be made at the very outset of the extra session of the Senate, such session being usual at the beginning of the term of a newly elected President, etc.

CAN'T KEEP SIMMONS OUT.

Ex-Congressman Settle, now of Asheville, writes a letter to Senator Pritchard, in which he warns the latter against such a course, and points out the fact that in attacking the Simmons election law (under which the November election was also held) he will be digging a pit that may engulf the two Republican Congressmen-elect from the 8th and 9th districts; that even if the Senate supported Pritchard's convention, Governor Aycock would immediately appoint Mr. Simmons to the vacancy thus declared, and the next Legislature would unquestionably again elect him.

Mr. Settle then appeals to Mr. Pritchard not to take a step that will unquestionably serve to more thoroughly solidify the white people of North Carolina and the Democratic party. He tells him that by permitting the dead past to bury its dead the day when they both expect many of the bankers, railroad men, cotton manufacturers and other "business interests" to align themselves with the Republican party will be hastened; that a contrary course will delay if not prevent its fruition—all of which is briefed here for what it may be worth.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19th.

How democrats in Congress feel toward the proposition to reduce Southern representation in Congress and in the electoral college, which is being urged by quite a number of republicans may be judged from these remarks of Senator Money: "If an attempt is made to reduce the Congressional representation from the South, I, for one, will be willing to talk from the 3rd day of December to noon on the 4th day of March. And it won't be wind, either. It will be a speech worth listening to. I have been preparing for this fight for some time. If the republicans attempt that reduction, they might as well prepare for an extra session of Congress. They will not pass their shipping bill, nor, indeed anything else in the way of legislation." Every democratic Senator and Representative who has been in Washington, holds practically the same sentiments that Senator Money expressed. Leading republicans, who see danger in the matter, are trying to stop the talk among the small fry about forcing this sort of legislation through Congress by reminding them of the repulicar defeat which followed the attempt to jam the notorious Force bill through Congress.

If Secretary Gage represents the republican financial policy, and the fact that he has been asked by Mr. McKinley to remain at the head of the Treasury Department during the next administration is good evidence that he does, a movement for the absolute retirement not only of the greensbacks, but of all paper money issued by the government, may be expected in the near future, although the intention to do so was most vigorously denied by many republicans, during the recent campaign. Mr. Gage's position has been pretty generally known for some time, and he has just emphasized it in a lecture on Finance, in which he said. "The public Treasury is a poor agency for issuing paper money."

Another official postponement of the bringing of the volunteers home from the Philippines has been announced, which is directly contrary to all the ante-election promises. It is now said that they will not begin bringing them back before the first of January, and possibly not before the first of march. If not until the latter date, it will be very doubtful whether they will all get back before the expiration of their term of enlistment, July 1, 1901, although War Department officials claim that they can all be brought back within four months, if necessary. If so, they will be brought back much quicker than they were carried.

Senator Harris, of Kansas, said of one of the bills which Boss Hanna has slated to go through at this session of Congress: "There is much opposition in the West to the Ship Subsidy Bill. If the ship yards are so prosperous as we are led to believe, there is no need for them to receive subsidies. In any event the farmers of the West object to being taxed for the support of the shipping interests."

At the last session of Congress, the republicans would have been entirely satisfied to increase the regular army to 100,000 men, but now a lot of them seriously talking about making the army bill which they intend putting through at this session, provide for 150,000 men or more. The reelection of Mr. McKinley and the election of a big majority in the next House seems to have turned the heads of many republicans, and the leaders of that party are going to have a hard job to keep them from going beyond all bounds in the legislation at this session.

Our Over Furnished Homes.

"More simplicity in our homes would make our lives simpler," writes Edward Bok in a plea for the exercise of better taste in furnishing our homes, in the November Ladies' Home Journal. "Many women would live fuller lives because they would have more time. As it is, hundreds of women of all positions in life are to-day the slaves of their homes and what they have crowded into them. Comfort is essential to our happiness. But with comfort we should stop. Then we are on the safe side. But we get on and over the danger line when we go beyond. Not one-tenth of the things that we think are essential to our happiest living are really so. In fact, we should be infinitely happier and healthier people if the nine-tenths were taken out of our lives. It is astonishing how much we can do without, and be a thousand times the better for it. And it doesn't require much to test this gospel of wisdom. We need only to be natural; to get back to our real, inner selves. Then we are simple. It is only because we have got away from the simple and the natural that so many of our homes are cluttered up as they are, and our lives full of little things that are not worth the while. We have bent the knee to show, to display, and we have lowered ourselves in doing it: surrounded ourselves with the trivial and the useless: and filling our lives with the poison of artificiality and the unnatural, we have pushed the Real: the Natural: the Simple: the Beautiful—the best and most lasting things out of our lives."

The Irl R. Hicks 1901 Almanac.

Whatever may be said of the scientific causes upon which the Rev. Irl R. Hicks bases his yearly forecasts of storm and weather, it is a remarkable fact that specific warnings of every great storm, flood, cold wave and drouth, have been plainly printed in his now famous Almanac for many years. The latest startling proof of this fact was the destruction of Galveston, Texas, on the very day named by Prof. Hicks in his 1900 Almanac, as one of disaster by storm along the gulf coasts. The 1901 Almanac, by far the finest, most complete and beautiful yet published, is now ready. This remarkable book of near two hundred pages, splendidly illustrated with charts and half-tone engravings, goes as a premium to every subscriber who pays one dollar a year for Prof. Hicks' journal, Work and Works. The Almanac alone is sent prepaid for only 25c. Order from Word and Works Publishing Company, 2201 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo.

A bicycle was stolen Thursday, it was advertised in THE REFLECTOR Friday, the wheel was recovered Saturday, and the thief was in jail Sunday. So much for putting things where they are read.

We Should Have a Factory.

The farmers may not look at it that way, but if there was a cotton factory in Greenville it would mean one-quarter to one-half cent more a pound for their cotton the season through. That is the way it is in other towns where factories are located. Greenville should have one.

Not Thought She Can Live.

Mr. E. A. Moye received a letter Monday night from Washington City, dated 18th, which stated that Mrs. L. A. Brown was critically ill and it was thought she could not live through the night. Mrs. Brown was the widow of the late Mr. B. W. Brown, near Greenville, and moved to Washington after the death of her husband to take a government position in the Treasury department. Many friends here learn with regret of her critical illness.

Died in Hospital.

A telegram was received here this morning announcing that Mr. Ed Sugg, of Kitrell, died last night in a hospital at Raleigh where he had been taken for treatment. He had been sick several months with typhoid fever. Miss Ada Hearne, of this county, to whom he had been engaged for sometime, left here about two weeks ago for Raleigh, and was married to Mr. Sugg in the hospital so that she might be with him and nurse him back to life if possible. But her devoted attention could not stay the progress of the fever. She has the sympathy of many relatives and friends here.

YOU

Can't afford to buy shoes that hurt you, for you spend two-thirds of your life in them. No shoes, no matter at what price, can fit more comfortably, more naturally, more gracefully, more perfectly than the shoe for women. The natural woman's foot is the "QUEEN QUALITY" LAST. That is the reason these shoes NEED NO "BREAKING IN". They feel as comfortable as a stocking from the moment your feet enters them.

Queen Quality
