WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C. Dec. 1st.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. have commenced shipping their celebrated cotton planters, and application for them are rapidly coming in. Already thus far ahead of the season many have been shipped and over at the factory it is like a bee hive in honey time.

In the trial here yesterday, before Justices John H. Manning and H. B. Smith, of State against Chas. Edwards for burglary, bond was refused and the defendant was ordered to jail. This is the case where some one broke into the residence of Mr. O. H. Jackson, near here, last Sunday night while the family were attending church in Winterville. In the case where the store of Dixon and Hooks was robbed the case was left open. In both cases the evidence is conclusive, as property stolen on both occasions was found in the possession of the defendant. Our people feel much relieved and are highly gratified at the capture and imprisonment of the perpetrator of these outrages among us. This is an honest community and such crimes committed so boldly and recklessly have thrown the entire neighborhood into a fever of excitement, and now that the cause has been removed, all can appreciate Thursday as a Thanksgiving day, indeed.

Our young friend Charlie Newton, Jr., of Falkland, spent the day with us yesterday. He will accept a position in the cigar factory during the coming year. We feel sure Winterville will give him a cordial welcome.

Miss Lula Patrick spent Thanksgiving with Misses Effie and Hattie Kirtrell and left last night on the train for her home in Ayden. We naturally presume her stay was pleasant or at least others enjoyed Thanksgiving in an unusual degree and would be pleased to have Miss Lula come again and stay longer.

Misses Bessie and Hattie Nichols are visiting their cousin, Miss Lee Nichols, near Greenville.

Mrs. C. A. Fairdesires to inform the ladies that she has all the latest styles of dress patterns and would be pleased to have them call and examine her stock.

G. W. Parker has bought the dry goods and groceries of Carroll Bros., and will conduct business at the same place. He would be glad to receive the patronage of his friends and the general public.

A. G. Cox is still paying the highest cash prices for cotton seed.

Will Telephone Around the World Without Wires.

Wireless telephone and telegraph circuits will span the world in the next hundred years. A husband in the middle of the Atlantic will be able to converse with his wife sitting in her boudoir in Chicago. We will be able to telephone to China, quite as readily as we now talk from New York to Brooklyn. By an automatic signal they will connect with any circuit in their locality without the intervention of a "hello girl."—December Ladies' Home Journal.

Will Worship Together.

Tomorrow making the close of Rev. N. M. Watson's four years pastorate of the Methodist church in Greenville, the Baptist congregation will worship with their Methodist brethren in the church of the latter at night.

Mr. Watson's labors in Greenville have been most acceptable to his church and to the community generally. He is an earnest, zealous worker, and a preacher of much ability. While he has served here the four years limit of the Conference and it is therefore probable that he will be sent elsewhere, all would rejoice could he be returned to Greenville.

The two greatest religious bodies of this State hold their annual meeting next week, the North Carolina Conference, Methodist, meeting at New Bern and Baptist State Convention at Raleigh. WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30th.

The brewers are after their pound of flesh and say they are going to have it or know the reason why. They made a personal appeal to Mr. McKinley for the reduction of the tax on beer, but that gentleman had no idea of handling anything carrying so much political dynamite, so he passed the question along to the republican members of the House Ways and Means committee, and they turned the brewers down. Then the brewers announced their intention to carry the fight on to the floor of Congress, and some of them hint at the exposure of some campaign secrets if pledges made to them that there should be a reduction in the beer tax are not redeemed. It is said that a sufficient number of republican Senators and Representatives gave their personal pledges to brewers for campaign assistance to force the insertion of a clause reducing the beer tax in the bill that will be reported from the Ways and Means Committee, if they can be made to stand up and demand it of their party associates, and this the brewers say they can and will do. There may be some lively times in Congress before this bill is disposed of.

As the number of Senators and Representatives in Washington increase it becomes more apparent that there is serious republican opposition to the Hanna-Payne Ship subsidy bill. A few republicans oppose the bill on general principles, but the most of the opposition appears to be to the present shape of the bill its marked favoritism toward a class of ship-owners. Whether this opposition is strong enough to endanger the passage of the bill, is as yet doubtful. It may be, but it is more likely that some of the republicans who are taking doubtfully about the bill can be easily "placated" by the President, who wishes the bill passed, and that others can be whipped into line by the declaration of a party caucus in favor of the bill. Still, there is enough uncertainty about it to cause uneasiness among those who are personally interested in the measure. Representative Burton, of Ohio, chairman of the House committee on Rivers and Harbors, who has been threatened with political death by Boss Hanna because he announced his opposition to the ship subsidy bill, said on the subject: "I am dead against the principle involved in the bill. It has never been endorsed in party caucus, and the party is not committed to its passage for the reason that the national platform does not endorse the bill. I contend that the object of this measure is not to up-build the merchant marine of the U. S., and I do not favor the bill, I have nothing to say as to Mr. Hanna's opposing the River and Harbor bill. I do not believe he will do anything of the kind." Ohio democrats are delighted with the prospect of a bitter fight between Hanna and Burton, and say that it will make the state democratic if fought to a finish, as now threatened.

E. B. Edwards Dead.

E. B. Edwards an old Confederate veteran, who served throughout the war as private in Co. F, 34th N. C. Regt, with most commendable valor and fidelity, died at the residence of his daughter Mrs. S. E. Chapman of this city, on the 12th inst after illness of some four weeks.

As an evidence of his soldierly integrity, the episode of being abandoned by fifteen comrades on "picket post" who deserted in a body endeavored to persuade him to do likewise but without avail, will demonstrate his loyalty. Three physicians attended him in his illness and his daughter and sympathizing friends were unremitting in their ministrations and endeavored to supply his every want. His remains were tenderly borne by his old comrades in arms to the soldiers plot in city cemetery and laid to rest neath the shadow of the monument, which attests the proper appreciation of the valor and virtue of the Confederate veteran.

The Paramout Duty.

Enlarged facilities for the care of the insane and the improvement of the common schools are the things that should demand the first attention of the Legislature. They are of first importance. When they have been fully met other matters can be taken care of out of whatever means are available. There will, of course, be plenty of demands on the Legislature, but the members of that body will, in our opinion, fail to meet the public demand and to do what is their imperative duty if they fail to give heed first to the care of the insane and to the children who are dependent on the common schools for an education. — Statesville Landmark.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

WINE OF CARDUI

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

Read This.

We have taken great care in growing the most improved bright tobacco seed—the White Stem Orinoco, the Broad Leaf Orinoco are the most reliable tobacco ever grown in any section. Every man in the east, who cultivated this kind will average from 2 to 5 per cent more than any other kind. Mr. Sam Mumford, at Ayden, says that his Orinoco will bring fifty dollars more per acre than any other kind grown on same land. Martin county people are growing Orinoco and coining money. You will find these seed for sale at Dr. Wooten's and Dr. Bryan's Drug stores and at some store in each section of the county at 25 cents per package.
