BAD MAN CAUGHT.

Securely Shackled in Jail.

Daniel Williams, colored, a notorious burglar for whose capture rewards amounting to $150 were offered ($100 by the State and $50 by R. L. Davis & Bros., of Farmville) has been captured and is now safe in the keeping of Sheriff O. W. Harrington.

Williams was captured Wednesday in Rocky Mount by Chief of Police J. E. Calhoun and S. Robbins. Policeman Calhoun says the capture was the hardest fight he ever had. Williams fought savagely for about 15 minutes and cut the officer's middle finger of the right hand nearly off. Mr. Robbins going to the assistance of the officer they succeeded in overpowering the negro. They brought Williams to Greenville Thursday evening and turned him over to Sheriff Harrington who shackled him and placed him in one of the upper cells of the jail.

Williams had committed several robberies and burglaries in this section and broke in stores at both Falkland and Farmville. Chief of Police J. T. Smith and C. Hines came near capturing him in Greenville one night, but he shot twice at the chief and made his escape. They got the negro's trunk that contained several suits of stolen clothing and a lot of burglar keys and tools.

Williams was given a preliminary hearing this morning before Justices C. D. Rountree, L. A. Mayo and E. G. Flanagan and was held for Superior court without bail.

Mrs. Forbes' School will open on next Tuesday instead of Monday as was announced at the close before Xmas Miss Woolford cannot reach here until Monday night. The patrons of the school are requested to have their girls present on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. John Powell, of Chicago Heights, was killed and her husband fatally injured on a crossing at Crete, Ill. Their horse balked on the track.

It took the new century four days to make us a day of pretty weather and it gave a nice one today.

DELIGHTFUL EVENING

At the Home of Senator James

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. James entertained Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Charlie James and Miss Nina James, both of whom left Thursday morning for college. The unique and entertaining feature of the evening was a cob-web party. Suspended from the chandelier in the parlor was an immense web, made of different colored cords, attached to which were twenty four strings. On entering the room each guest was given the end of one of these strings, and told to follow it to the other end, where he or she discovered an appropriate souvenir. Mr. Andrew Moore found his souvenir first and was awarded the prize, a beautiful pen tray. The game caused much merriment, as the cords were twined and intertwined. The rest of the evening was spent in playing different games, after which the guests were invited into the beautifully decorated dining room, where a delightful supper was served them. Those present were Miss Glenn Forbes with Harry Skinner, Jr., Miss Mamie Haskett with Andrew Moore, Miss Carrie Andrews with Fred Forbes, Miss Delle Forbes with Charlie James, Miss Mellie Harriess with David James, Miss Dot Flanagan with Leslie Newton, Miss Nell Skinner with Ben Higgs, Miss Lottie Blow with Charlie Skinner, Miss Mary Higgs with Hugh Shepard, Miss Janie Brown with Walter Wilson, Miss Nina James with Tom Moore, Miss Mary James with Frank Skinner, and Richard White and Bert James.

"In a certain section of North Carolina has been grown for years a tobacco unexcelled by any produced in Cuba," says The New York Evening Post. "Now a similar soil has been found in South Carolina, and all other crops in that region are to be retired in favor of the weed. The discovery made by means of the ordinary little red ant to whom the slug-gard was instructed to go. If the anthills those saucerlike fortifications of earth at the top of the hills—are made of yellow clay brought up from the subsoil you know you are on good tobacco land. If they are made of red or brown or black earth you need not plant tobacco there. All over the South farmers are examining anthills for his magic yellow clay."

TOWN MATTERS.

Transacted By The Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Alderman held their regular monthly meeting Thursday night.

The balance of the judgment against the town held by the Richmond Perpetual Building Loan & Trust Association for $231.90 for the hand engine, and note and interest on fire hose for $120.96 were ordered paid.

The Treasurer reported $543.50 on hand, and the Tax Collector reported $625 on hand.

The several standing committee and officers made their monthly reports.

Licenses to retail liquor were granted to W. C. Dudley, Z. V. Hooker & Co., J. E. Everett, J. H. Howard, Jr., B. F. Jolley, L. Hooker & Co., R. A. Nichols, M. L. Starkey & Bro., J. H. Cox, E. M. Cheek, and J. A. Brady.

A petition from W. B. James to reduce his hotel license tax from $10 to $5 was refused.

The Tax Collector was ordered to collect $10 hotel license from the proprietor of the King House.

Accounts were allowed and ordered paid amounting to $316.83, including the note and judgment above referred to.

A claim of $25 from McG. Bryan for his horse breaking through one of the sewer bridges in town was not allowed.

Why the South is Thankful.

It has received more money by many millions for its cotton crop this year than it ever received for any cotton crop before. It has received $150,000,000 more for its cotton crop this year than last. It has raised more corn and wheat than in many years before and consequently will have to buy less. It has raised more hogs and cattle than in any previous year of its history, and will be a smaller purchaser of those meats from the West than ever before.

There are more cotton mills and small factories than ever before.

More Southern men—more farmers—are drawing dividends from profitable investments than ever before.

The farms of the South are in a better state of improvement and our Southern cities and towns are more prosperous and thrifty than they have ever been.

Our railroads are busy, our stores are thriving, our farmers are hopeful.

And there is a livelier sense of the South's advantage among our people than has ever existed before. Our farmers are more nearer out of debt than they have been in a long time—certainly in 15 years. Mortgages are fewer and there are more organs and pianos and better furniture in the houses than in many years.—Birmingham News.

"U. S. R."

There is a new organization in town whose members wear the insignia "U. S. R." These letters stand for "United Sons of Rest," indicating that the wearer is out of at job. There is no penalty attached to accepting work if anybody has something to offer.

Reasonable and Right.

If our prices are reasonable then they are bound to be right. If our merchandise is right then it is bound to be reasonably priced. Fair pricing is a basic principle in this store. To buy the right thing at the reasonable price is better, far better and more economical than the wrong thing at most any old price. The poorly priced is meanly made, got a wrong twist in it somewhere, you can't depend upon it.

When you want good dry goods you don't want to be shown makeshifts apologies for good dry goods. We cannot too strongly emphasize the goodness, the reasonableness of the following items:

MEN & LADIES' VESTS.

Some right good values in Winter Wear. Heavy Fleece-Lined Vests for Men & Ladies 25c

HOSIERY.

A big markdown in hosiery. They were 15c now 10c, 20 now 15, 25 now 20.

CAPES AND JACKETS.

We come to the front with special lots of nobby garments at prices that would be suicidal earlier in the season, and yet wearing time has just begun. They have been reduced from $4.00 to $2.75, 5.00 to 3.25, 6.00 to 4.00, 7.00 to 5.00, 8.00 to 6.00. These jackets are new.

SHOES! SHOES!!

Shoes for men and ladies. We will cut the price more than half to push out some of these goods. They were $1.00 now .60c, 1.25 now 70c, $1.50 now 90c, 1.75 now 1.00, 2.00 now 1.20.

KID GLOVES.

Kid gloves for ladies and misses. These are the best grade always $1 they will go the next ten days at 79c, all sizes and all colors.

CLOTHING.

Men and youth's clothing will go for the next few days at hal price. Youths were $4.00 now $2.25, 5.00 now 3.00, 6.00 now 4.00 Mens were $4.00 now $2.25, 5.00 now 3.25, 6.00 now 4.25, 7.00 now 5.00, 8.00 now 6.00?

FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1901.

TRUE AMERICANISM.

Address By W P Edwards Before the J O U A M

The highest type of American citizenship is only attained by independent, self reliant action coupled with a sense of duty to others. Such action must be framed with a view of the greater good to the greatest number, and must accredit to others equality before the law. The American in being true to his country will be alike true to its productive utilities, and to its adaptation to beautiful tastes. With him the useful and the beautiful should be but different aspects of the same bountiful heritage, and in the march of his comprehensive and far-seeing policy refinement walks hand in hand with industry.

The love of home and country is inborn in the human breast, and while the love of gain may tempt us awhile to seek other climes, yet there will come sooner or later, that all powerful sentiment of love of native land which will impel us to cry out in devotion to the land of our birth.

The ancient Spartan fought heroically against the great armies of the East, that he might protect the simple customs from the military pomp and splendor of Persian arms. The simple hearted Swiss would not forego the sight of his snow-clad Alps for all the plains of sunny Italy.

The hardy Scott would not exchange his heath-clad hills for all the fertile farms of smiling England.

Ours is a glorious heritage. Our ancestors crossed stormy seas that they might enjoy that liberty of conscience in ecclesiastic and civil affairs which was denied them in the old world.

Amid great privations they laid the broad foundation upon which has been reared the superstructure of our civil liberties.

Theirs it was to lay this foundation broad and deep, consecrating it with tears and even life's blood, that we of today and those who live after us might enjoy the blessings of civil liberty and that freedom to worship God according to the dictates of our conscience.

Is the young and rising generations as ready to defend these liberties as were our forefathers in the days of the Revolution and the war of 1812?

Let us use to the full benefit that sacred teaching, and let us realize that it is our duty to do what we can to raise up those beneath us to our own level of virtue and intelligence and to welcome all men to the political benefits which we inherit.

Let us not trample down the sublime principles of morality, the kind and endearing charities, the true and rational reverence for a bountiful Creator, which are the elements and life of our religion.

Let us strive then to be true Americans, and to cherish the principles embodied in the constitution and laws of our land. It is fitting tonight that we ask ourselves concerning the dangers of our free institutions. These might be divided in two classes, foreign and domestic. I speak not now of armed attack upon our country by foreign foes, but call your attention rather to the baleful influence exerted upon American thoughts and characteristics by the thousands who are continually flocking to our shores from foreign lands, and bringing with them the customs, beliefs and vices of the Old World. While America offers with liberal hand the greatest of a liberal and free civilization, yet there is great danger that our fair land is being overrun with the hordes of criminal and pauper classes from Southern Europe. America is too generous in putting into the hand of the foreigner that sacred badge of American citizenship, the ballot. Surely the United States, as a matter of self protection, must pass more restrictive measures, both to the admission of foreigners and the right to vote after being admitted. Let us next turn to some of the dangers which threaten the principles of our free government from within.

There seems to be an alarming increase in the struggle between labor and capital. It is high time that labor and capital should both realize that their interests are one. Labor is dependent upon capital for her daily bread. Capital, to exist, must profit by the hand of honest labor. Capital and labor must go hand in hand. The welfare of either must depend upon the other. Capital must not oppress labor but give her honest compensation for toil. Labor must not dictate to capital who shall be employed. The American mechanic and artisan should regulate his actions as an individual or a union in harmony with the spirit of American liberties and her free institutions. That capital must not assume the role of the aristocrat and the prerogatives of nobility, but should grant equality and independence to all alike; should not look upon the workman as a servant or vassal. If labor and capital were to practice the principles upon which our government was founded, and exemplify the teaching of the golden rule, the doing unto others as we would be done by, we would hear less of lockouts, strikes and boycotts, for America is, and we trust ever will be respected among the nations of the earth for her recognition of the rights of all men and their equality before the law.

The claim is made for South Dakota that it has for the third consecutive year produced more wealth per capita than any other State in the Union, the total for the year just ended having been $106,500,000. Of this sum $27,000,000 comes from live stock, $8,000,000 from corn, $15,000,000 from wheat and $12,000,000 from minerals.

Farmers and veterinarians throughout Central Missouri are much concerned at present about the effect which the decayed ends of corn cobs having upon horses and cattle. It is believed that the ends of the ears contain some parasite which crazes the animals. The death of several valuable horses which have eaten the unwholesome food is reported every day.

Good Morning!
JOB PRINTING is one of our hobbies. Two decades of practical experience makes our personal attention always given to orders, worth money.
Whole racksful of type available without a medium of brains for its blending. Our handsome work costs no more than much inferior product.
We "know the case," both as to the types desirable for the many classes of work, and the needs of the customer in the way of printing.
"And lastly," as the preacher says, let us impress upon you the importance of getting the right kind of printing, at the right price, just as you want it, when you want it.

A Time To Advertise

An experienced advertising adviser considers the beginning of the new year a very good time to advertise. "The new customer who begins the new year with you," he tells merchants, "is likely to be your customer throughout the year." A bright, aggressive advertisement will get more attention at this season than at almost any other, because there are so few advertisements to compete with it." —Philadelphia Record.

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables on

Four Car Loads of Merchandise Bought

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to triple it.

Holiday Goods.

Over 2 car loads of fancy goods suitable for Christmas presents. The entire store presents a big Bazaar. Everything you can think of is right here. And the

The New Year in Billville

There is a scarcity of coal and wood in this vicinity, but if we're all going where the preacher says we are, there's fire enough ahead of us.

The first of January passed off quietly. There was a slight hurricane of swearing off, but only two houses were unrooted, and a few heads and jugs broken.

The New Year lovefeast was a great success; All the brethren told how good they had been in the past year, and as the year was not present to contradict them, they all passed muster.

No paper will be issued from this office this week, as we will devote the time to swearing off. We have so much to swear off from it will take six days at least, with a special prayer meeting on Sunday.

The preacher was given a pound party New Year's Day. One of the worst sinners in town was present and raised a disturbance, whereupon the preacher pounded the devil out of him, and he was soundly converted.

At the Old Year's Grave.

By the grave of the Old Year stood a little child, with an armful of flowers. The light of the morning was on his brow, the faith of the Future in his radiant eyes. One by one the flowers fell upon the grave, till it was hidden beneath a crimson canopy. Some were flowers of joy, and some were roses of sweet song, and some were memories of sighs. But over all there fell the lilies of Love, and that fair flower whose sweeter name is Hope. And gloriously streamed the Light from the far eastern hills. Glad voices floated heavenward. There was a sound of silver trumpets—a melody of bells. And the child still faced the Future, and if a teardrop trembled in his eyes it was kissed away of Light. And he passed singing, into the hearts and homes of men, heralded by Hope, and welcomed by the music of the rejoicing bells—Ex.
