GENERAL ASSEMBLY CAN- VASS.

Officers and Clerks Selected Tuesday Night

The caucus of Democratic Senators Tuesday night selected the following officers of that body:

Speaker Protem—Sen. Henry A. London.
Principal Clerk—A. J. Maxwell.
Reading Clerk—Walter L. Cochran.
Engrossing Clerk—Frank A. Slinard.
Sergeant-at-Arms—J. B. Smith.
Assistant Doorkeeper—Georg. Biggstaffer.

HOUSE CAUSUS,

The caucus of Democratic members of the House of Representatives met at 8:30 p. m. Hon. F. D. Winston called the body to order, and ex-Speaker H. G. Connor of Wilson was called to the chair as the temporary presiding officer. On motion of ex-Judge W. E. Allen of Wayne, Judge Connor was elected as the permanent presiding officer of the caucus. Lee R. Wright of Rowan was elected Secretary; Clide R. Hoey the young representative from Cleveland, assistant secretary.

Hon. Walter E. Moore of Jackson was nominated as the Democratic candidate for Speaker of the House by unanimous vote. The honor was most worthily bestowed.

Brevard Nixon of Charlotte was unanimously nominated for chief clerk.

Capt. Frank Bennett of Anson received the nomination for doorkeeper by unanimous vote.

G. B. Howell of Montgomery was nominated for assistant doorkeeper.

W. W. Wilson of Wake was named for reading clerk.

J. H. Fonville of Duplin was nominated for engrossing clerk.

FIRST DAY.

The first day of the Legislature began Wednesday at noon. The House was called to order by chief clerk Brevard Nixon, and Rev. J. T. Bagwell, of Raleigh, made the opening prayer.

The members of the House were sworn in by Justice Walter Clark.

All the members were present and in their seats save four. The absent Representatives were G. C.

Barco of Camden, C. T. Williams of Dare, Joe Collins of Haywood, and W. E. Ardrey of Mecklenburg.

The first day's session developed the fact that there will be four contests in the House. The contests which are instituted in every instance by Republicans are as follows:

Powell vs. Dees, from Pamlico.
McNeill vs. Green, from Wilkes.
Walser vs. Hartley, from Davidson.

Wilcox vs. Seawell, from Moore.

The Senate was called to order at 11:20:05 by presiding officer, Lieut. Gov. Reynolds. Prayer by Rev. Dr. Marshall, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The chair announced that the clerk would call the roll by Senatorial districts and as called the Senators representing those districts would come forward and take the oath of office. This was done, lieutenant governor administering the oath.

All the Senators were present and took the oath, presenting their credentials as they did so, except Senator F. G. Jones, of the Sixth district (Pitt county).

When the 33d district was called the chair announced that he had been requested to State that there would be a contest for the seats now held by Messrs: Gudger of Springfield (of Buncombe and Heywood). Notice of this contest and the grounds thereof were published in The Post yesterday.

There were three Populists, seven Republicans and thirty-nine Democrats sworn in when the roll call of district was completed. Senator James being the only absentee.

The caucus nominees for the several offices of both House and Senate were elected.

What Governors of Different States Say of Osteopathy.

Ex-Governor Josiah Grout of Vermont:

"Osteopathy has been tried by leading men and women of the State, and they all testify to its merits."

Gov. Lon V. Stevens, of Missouri:

"The science of Osteopathy, as far as it comes under my observation, assists in relieving suffering humanity."

Gov. T. A. Briggs, of North Dakota:

"Osteopathy has helped me. It has also done good in my family and will hurt no one."

Governor H. S. Pingree, of Michigan:

"Osteopathy is a science entitled to all respect and confidence as a distinct advancement in medicine. I know it is doing a vast amount of good in relieving suffering and deformity."

Governor I. M. Shaw, of Iowa:

"I am fully convinced that Osteopathy is a rational system of healing."

Ex-Governor John P. Altgeld, of Illinois:

"When prescriptions and drugs were as ineffectual as empty words it came to the rescue of myself and Mrs. Altgeld and did that which other things had failed to do. Honor to those to whom honor is due."

Governor B. McMillan, of Tennessee:

"It is one of the greatest discoveries of the time."

Governor John R. Tanner, of Illinois:

"There is no doubt in my mind that Osteopathy will reach and cure many chronic troubles that medicine would have little or no effect upon."

Governor Edwin C. Smith, of Vermont, who is an ardent admirer of Osteopathy:

"My experience with Osteopathy has been very gratifying."

Ex-Governor Wm. P. Dillingham, of Vermont:

"I have employed practitioners of that school to treat members of my family, and have been particularly pleased with the results. I firmly believe that this practice is based on scientific principles and is an advance in medical science."

Governor Robert L. Taylor, of Tennessee:

"When a century later historians are sifting the events of this time for the epoch-making discoveries of science and civilization there will be few chapters more important, I think, than that devoted to the reformation in medicine which will have to come about through the acceptance and practice of Dr. Still's system, known as Osteopathy."

We have heard a great many of our farmers say that they will not plant more cotton this year than they did in 1900. We believe this is a wise decision. We think the farmer would do well to raise plenty of home supplies and then divide his money crops between cotton and tobacco. Some writers have predicted that this year the south will be a great field of cotton—so to speak. We hope it will not be so, because it will mean low prices, mortgaged farms and hard times.—Kinston Free Press.

An Honorable Man.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 7.—History records few instances of greater honesty and of greater sacrifice than that of a young man in this city, who is voluntarily paying the debts contracted twenty-five years ago by his father. The name of the young man is withheld because of the semi-confidential relation which exists between men engaged in business transaction, nor did the story of his rare devotion and high sense of duty become public other than through the head of the firm to whom the debt is being paid.

It seems that the father of the young fellow, who was a hard working, honest man, became indebted to an old Richmond firm in the course of business for several hundred dollars. Misfortune overtook him, he was unable to pay out, and on his death the firm charged the account to profit and loss.

Years rolled by and the account had been forgotten. The head of the firm was approached a few months ago by a young man, who stated that he had come to pay off the first installment on a debt. He gave his name.

"You owe us nothing," said he.

"Yes, I am indebted to you for several hundred dollars," said the young fellow. "My father contracted the debt."

A search was made through the dusty ledgers and the amount ascertained. The young man stated that he was unable to liquidate the debt in full, but insisted on paying interest on it. This the head of the firm absolutely refused to receive.

"I am working for ten dollars a week and will pay you five five a week," said the debtor. This he has done. Week after week and month after month he has showed up with the regularity of clockwork bringing always five and sometimes as much as nine dollars. He hands the money over quietly, takes his receipt and walks away as if the payment was the performance of an ordinary duty. The debt is rapidly melting away. Over half of it is paid and a year will not elapse before the whole of the sum is liquidated.

HATS ON OR OFF?

One Respect in Which Northern and Southern Men Differ.

According to the etiquette of the day, it is not requisite that a man shall remove his hat in the presence of a woman in a public thoroughfare or conveyance. Nobody thinks of a man's going bareheaded in a street car or a railroad car or a cab because he is in the company of women. The elevator of a business building or of a hotel is certainly a public conveyance, and the corridor of a business building or hotel is certainly a public thoroughfare. Ergo, in our opinion, courtesy toward the fair sex does not require a man to remove his hat in either place because there happens to be a woman present.

Having said, however, that courtesy does not require the removal of a man's hat under the circumstances recounted, we do not mean to disparage in the slightest degree the chivalrous intent of the man who does remove his head covering. If you feel that you ought to take off your hat in an elevator, do so. If you are uncomfortable with it on, get it off at once. These things are largely matters of comfort. In New York men keep their hats on with a persistence that is somewhat shocking to the southerner.

If the man in Gotham has any doubt about whether he should have his hat in his hand or on his head, you will not find it in his hand. He takes as much rope as the law will give him. On the contrary, it has not been very long since it was the proper thing in Charleston for a gentleman to stand with his head uncovered during all the time he was conversing with a lady even if he met her in the street, and there may be, for all we know, hundreds of stately South Carolinians who observe that pretty but unhygienic custom to this very day. Virginia, it will be observed, is about half way between Charleston and New York.—Norfolk Landmark.

KNEW HIS BUSINESS.

The Little Boy Was Thoroughly Posted on the Elevator.

"Little boy," exclaimed the portly lady, "you ought to be at school instead of trying to work a lift."

"I'm not trying to work it," was the answer; "I'm working it, and if you wish to ride I shall be happy to accommodate you. So far as any obligation to be at school is concerned, allow me to remind you that this is a legal holiday, and I am exempt from attendance at an institution where, I am pleased to say, I am at the head of my class."

"You have no business trying to work that lift, anyhow."

"For what reason?"

"Because you are too young to know anything about it."

"Madam, allow me to reassure you. This lift is worked by hydraulic pressure, the principle relied on being that water exerts pressure in proportion to the height of a column rather than in proportion to the diameter. In making use of this characteristic water is admitted into a cylinder, the pressure being regulated by the use of valves and a stable equilibrium being made possible by an ingenious system of counterpoises. I could go further into the minutiae of this particular machine, which of course has its variations from other models," he added as she gasped in astonishment, "but I doubt if you could follow the technical terms whose use an accurate description would necessitate, but I wish to assure you that if, after what I have said, you think you know more about this lift than I do, you are at perfect liberty to step in and take its management out of my hands."—Pearson's.

Went Around the Spot.

Before Bismarck reconstructed the map of Europe and made a united Germany a dozen little principalities used to annoy travelers by stopping them at their frontiers until they had satisfied the custom house demands. A Yankee once had his carriage stopped at the frontier of a petty prince's country. The Herr Ober (controleur at the custom house) came forward and, much to his indignation, was received in a nonchalant way. The Yankee was ungentlemanly enough not to get out of his carriage or even to take off his hat. The Herr Ober sharply demanded the key of the tourist's trunks, which his subordinate began handling roughly.

"Here! Hands off!" shouted the Yankee. "I didn't come from the United States of America to be controlled by you. Put those trunks back. I'll not go through you at all. I'll turn back. I'm in no hurry and don't care for losing a day. You're no country. You're only a spot. I'll go around you." And he did.—London King.

A Way Out of It.

It was a man who opened the door when the book agent rang the bell, but a woman stood not far behind him, and subsequent developments indicated there had been a few warm words.

"I would like to talk to the lady of the house for a few minutes," said the book agent.

"Oh, that is utterly impossible," replied the man pleasantly. "You may see her if you wish, but you can't talk to her for a few minutes—that is, in succession—unless—as a happy thought occurred to strike him—"you both talk at once."—Chicago News.

Superior Court.

The following cases have been disposed of since last report.

Claud Forbes, assault with deadly weapon, pleads guilty, judgment that the defendant be imprisoned in the county jail 2 months with leave to be assigned to the roads of Edgecombe county.

Claud Forbes, carrying concealed weapon, pleads guilty, judgment suspended.

In the case of W. B. Bland, for the killing of C. A. Bland, the defendant was arraigned and the case set for Saturday of this week, and a venire of 50 ordered.

The Next Congress.

The House has passed an apportionment bill. Under it no State loses a representative, and Illinois, New York and Texas gain three each; Minnesota, New Jersey and Pennsylvania two each; Arkansas, Colorado, California, Florida, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Mississippi North Carolina, North Dakota, Washington, West Virginia, and Wisconsin one each.

Mention has been made of the fact that Miss Sadie Wray, of Graham, had started for Bisbee, Ark., to marry a rich railroad man named McKay. They have exchanged photographs and are engaged. The bride elect was so unlucky as to lose the ticket, costing about $100, which Mr. McKay had sent her, and has returned home. She has notified the railways of the loss.

The next holiday in this State will be Lee's birthday, January 19.

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables on

OUR STORE GROWING.

What has made our store such a busy place? What we advertise we do. The throngs that daily fill the store is the very best evidence that we rather understate than otherwise the remarkable value we have to sell.

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to tripple it.

Holiday Goods.

Over 2 car loads of fancy goods suitable for Christmas presents. The entire store presents a big Bazaar. Everything you can think of is right here. And the

Dudley-Hines

Thursday morning at Ayden at the home of the bride's father, Mr. James Hines, Mr. J. A. Dudley, of Greenville and Miss Addie Hines, of Ayden, were married by W. L. Bilbro.

The following couples attended them: Dr. Josh Taylor with Miss Florence Dudley, J. E. Starkey with Miss Ebbie Langley, B. E. Patrick with Miss Lena Hines, Ed. Forbes with Miss Lena Dudley, Willie Dudley with Miss Lillian Bland, George Morrison with Miss Jessie Respass.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple took the train for Washington where they will be tendered a reception tonight by Mr. W. C. Dudley, brother of the bridegroom. They will come to Greenville Friday evening to make their home here.

Kidnappers in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Jan. 8.—Bass Frazer, who, according to a letter received by his father at Union Springs, Ala., was kidnapped in this city while attending the Technological School, was last seen here January 5. Two of his brothers arrived here tonight from Union Springs, Ala., and gave out the following letter as being received from the supposed kidnappers. The letter was mailed in Memphis, Tenn., January 6, and bore a special delivery stamp:

"Dear Sir: As kidnapping is all the rage nowadays, we have stolen your son. We intended to steal him before Christmas, but could never get a chance. We don't know your financial condition, as your son refuses to tell us and we only found $15 on his person. He is a boy above the average and we need him in our business, so we intend to keep him, but you might send a letter to Jim Glover, general delivery, Kansas City, as we will be in that city, by the time this reaches you, stating how much you will give for his return and if the amount meets with my approval I will write you more about it. Do not notify any official authority, as it won't do any good and would ruin your chances of getting him. We will allow him to sign his name to prove to you we are not joking. We have him in a stupefied condition and are caring for him as a sick person and a younger brother."

The boy's signature was attached to the letter, which contained some grammatical errors. Bass Frazer was a member of the first year class. His brother says their father is unable to pay the ransom. The mother of the boy is prostrated with grief.
