GENERAL ASSEMBLY

What The Law Makers are Doing.

THURSDAY.

Both branches of the Legislature are now actively at work. At the second day's session the Governor's message was presented and read in both houses.

SENATE.

A bill was introduced by Sena-Glenn to repeal the Greensboro dispensary. It passed its several readings.

Some of the other bills introduced were:

To incorporate Bank of Plymouth.

To prevent sale of liquor in three miles of Methodist church at Havelock, in Craven county.

To amend the law of 1899 regarding pools, trusts and conspiracies to include lumber companies.

HOUSE.

The following were among the bills introduced:

Nichols: To amend code of North Carolina in reference to school law.

Blount: To amend law of '99 relative to races on steamboats and railroads.

Wright: To regulate labor in textile factories.

Blythe: To incorporate the Bank of Hendersonville.

Rountree: To revise and digest laws of North Carolina.

Craig: To increase the number of judges of Supreme Court and abolish criminal courts

Daughteridge: To amend stock law of Edgecombe county.

Wright: To provide judicial district with a stenographer.

Blount: To regulate and provide for primary elections.

Wright: To make education compulsory.

Dean: For Franklin to issue bonds and levy special tax.

Pierce: To allow commissioners of Craven extra pay To allow commissioners of Craven to levy special tax.

Gaither: To repeal laws of 1897-'99 relating to divorce.

Wright: To amend article 9 of the Constitution relating to school taxes of white and colored races.

Nichols, of Pitt, introduced the first bill to amend the Constitution so that the taxes paid by the white race shall be devoted to the education of the children of that race and the colored taxes for the education of negro children. There were two other bills of like import One by Stubbs, of Martin, and one by Wright, of Rowan.

All Re-Elected.

At the session of the Grand Lodge of Masons last night all the old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. They are as follows:

B. S. Royster, Oxford, Grand Master.

H. I. Clark, Hamilton, Deputy Grand Master.

W. S. Liddell, Charlotte, Senior Grand Warden.

Dr. F. M. Winchester, Charlotte, Grand Steward.

R. H. Bradley, Raleigh, Grand Tiler.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina.

Willie Meggs, a traveling salesman for a Baltimore house, died suddenly at Littleton Monday night.

The Commissioners of Lenoir county adopted resolutions against a proposed lease or sale of the State's interest in the A. & N. C. railroad.

In a recent bulletin issued by the State Board of Health, it is announced that smallpox exists in twelve counties in the State. The board emphasizes the necessity of vaccination by all the people, as the only means of stopping the disease.

The Criminal Insane.

Every separate interest in the State that is dependent upon legislative favor is, as usual, looking out for itself, and in doing so some are minimizing the claims and merits of others. Some years ago the Legislature in its wisdom established in connection with the penitentiary, but apart from its inmates, a department for the criminal insane—persons who had committed felony and escaped punishment by the courts on the plea that they were insane when their deeds of crime were done. There were two reasons for this—the one that more room was needed in the hospitals for the insane; the other, that these criminals were not fit associates for the innocent insane. Now there is a cry from some of the penitentiary people that the establishment of this department for the criminal insane was an "injustice to these poor, unfortunate people that the incoming Legislature should correct," and that its maintenance is "a stain upon the good name of the State." Let the reader bring the matter home to himself. Suppose he had a near relative, male or female, in a hospital for the insane, committed on account of no crime but only for insanity; would he care to have that innocent relative, perhaps a son of sensibilities or a daughter of refinement, in daily association, in the wards and in the dining rooms, with persons who had committed horrid crimes? Hardly.

This criminal insane department is under the care of the authorities of the Central Hospital at Raleigh; the attendance, medical treatment and entire supervision are furnished from that institution. The inmates are in all respects as comfortable and as well cared for as those of the Central Hospital, and the great injustice that is being visited upon them is not apparent. What does it matter that the penitentiary fund is taxed with some slight expense on account of their being there? The money comes off the people after all. There is ample room for them there and there is not room in the hospitals for the innocent, much less the guilty. They are of one class and the association does not grate, as it did when they were in the hospitals. They are comfortably cared for where they are, and the idea of thrusting them back into the institutions from which they were transferred, already crowded as these are beyond their capacity, is one which a sensible Legislature is not apt to entertain for a moment. No Legislature ever did a wiser thing than that established this criminal insane department, and the one which meets to-day will not commit the crime and folly of abolishing it.—Charlotte Observer.

Kinston Free Press says: The other night a Kinston man was returning home "in his liquors". He was feeling good and didn't care a continental who knew it. He was singing as he walked. The song was: "Coming Through the Rye." His wife was waiting for him, and after listening to his song and sternly surveying from head to foot, exclaimed: "You look and act, sir, as if the 'rye' was going through you." He was straightway put to bed.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1901.

If Charlotte wants to keep up with the procession now she must have a kidnapping. If you don't mind out Greensboro or Concord may get ahead of you.

Governor Russell sent his message to the General Assembly on Thursday. Some of the prominent features of the document are a strong endorsement of the establishment of a reformatory for youthful criminals, recommendations for more liberality to State institutions and for an increase of the Governor's salary.

Many of the State papers are advocating an increase of the Governor's salary. The present Legislature should do this. It is not creditable to North Carolina that her Governor receives such small pay that he cannot afford to live in the house provided for him without drawing on his own resources. The salary for the Governor ought certainly be no less than our Congressmen receive.

In The Year 1901.

The following will be of interest and if you cut it out for future reference it will save you the trouble of looking up your almanacs.

There will be two eclipses of the sun and one of the moon. Not visible here. January—19th, Gen. Lee's birthday; February—14th, Valentine's Day; 19th, Shrove Tuesday; 20th, Ash Wednesday; 22nd, Washington's birthday. March—17th, St. Patrick's day; 21st, spring begins; 25th, Annunciation. April—1st, All Fools day; 7th, Easter; 23rd, St. George's day. May—10th, Confederate decoration day; 16th, Ascension; 26th, Whit Sunday; 30th, Federal decoration day. June—2nd, Trinity Sunday; 21st, the beginning of summer; 24th, St. John's day. July—3rd, dog days begin; 4th, everybody knows what it is; 25th, St. James' day. August—11th, dog days end; 24th, St. Bartholomew. September—4th, Labor day; 21st, St. Matthew; 23rd, autumn begins. October—18th, St. Luke, the Evangelist; 28th, St. Simon and St. Jude. November—1st, All Saints day; 15th, Indian summer begins; 28th, Thanksgiving day; 30th, St. Andrew's day. December—1st, Advent; 6th, St. Nicholas; 21st, St. Thomas; 22nd, winter begins; 25th, the children know what it is; 26th, St. Stephen; 27th, St. John, the Evangelist; 28th, Holy Innocents. This is the first year of the 20th century and the 124th year of our independence up to July 4th, when it becomes the 125th year.

About Paying Debts.

The Commonwealth has no moral lecture to spin to its readers at the beginning of this new year and this new century, but we venture to say "along this line" that nothing will more completely knock a man out in a community than a known and deliberate purpose to neglect the paying of his debts.

We recognize the fact that a newspaper's columns are looked to by many for regalement as much as for instruction and advice, and we really like to be serviceable to our readers in this capacity; but we would like now and then to throw out a little chunk of good sense and honest truth. And here is the truth, as we believe it, if we ever spoke it or wrote it: No man who wilfully and persistently neglects his honest debts when he can pay them, is entitled to the confidence of other people. In our boyhood days we heard it said of a certain religious denomination in our region that they would turn out of the church any member who wilfully refused to pay his debts when he could.

The good impression which the statement made upon our mind, whether true or untrue, has been one of the influences that held the good people of that "Hardshell" faith, as they were then called, high in our esteem all these years.

And we believe that it would be a good and just and safe rule of discipline for any and all churches to "deal" with members who are known wilfully to deal unfairly with their fellows. And a wilful neglect of an honest debt when one can pay it we regard as unfair dealing with any one.

To be sure, there is nothing wrong in getting in debt and sometimes staying in debt; but it is wrong to neglect a debt when we could pay it.

Could not the preachers make some helpful suggestions to their congregations on this topic now and then? But we may be venturing a little—so we'll stop now.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Feminine Fancies.

Half the women of the world are taking medicine to get fatter and the other half are trying some system that will make them thinner.

During the first six months after a man gets married, his wife expects him to tell all her friends that he knows he can never be worthy of such happiness.

Emma Goldman says that Anarchists will not kill any more kings. It would be interesting to know whether this is an official announcement or mere feminine small-talk.

An Iowa woman is about to marry for the ninth time. Three of her husbands obtained a divorce, three committed suicide and the other two just skipped out.

Miss Mary A. Plumb, aged 24, weight 408 pounds, and Charles N. Harang, aged 26, weight 126 pounds, were married December 29 in Connecticut. The bridegroom was given a bonus of $2,000 by the bride's father, who is a wealthy farmer.

Making "Ads" Readable.

The failure of the public to read an advertisement may be traced to the advertiser. Every man who knows his own business can write an advertisement about his wares or his methods which will prove as interesting to newspaper readers as are many of the articles paid for and published in the magazines. Every man can talk about his business to a acquaintance in an entertaining manner, and if he should write in the same spirit his advertisement would not lack readers.—Philadelphia Record.

The cheekiest thing that we have read lately is an editorial in a Republican paper warning the people of North Carolina against Democratic extravagance in the administration of our State government. It is like Satan rebuking sin, and any Republican talking about Democratic extravagance in North Carolina must have the cheek of a government mule.

The only time that the Republicans have had control of every department of our State government was from 1868 to 1870, and never in our State's history has there ever been such wasteful extravagance as was during those two years. Not only was Republican rule in North Carolina conspicuous by its unprecedented extravagance, but was disgraceful by its frauds and open corruption. No man can deny this, and yet a Republican paper now warning the people that they may now "look for an era of extravagance, the like of which has never been known in this State!"

The Democrats pay the bulk of the taxes that defray the expenses of our State government, and therefore they are more interested in saving every expense than the Republicans, the majority of whom are negroes who pay very little tax. And, if the Democrats should be extravagant like the Republicans were, they would be extravagant with chiefly their own money, whereas the Republicans were extravagant with the money chiefly paid by Democrats!

What has made our store such a busy place? What we advertise we do. The throngs that daily fill the store is the very best evidence that we rather understate than otherwise the remarkable value we have to sell.

Our Popular Store.

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to tripple it.

Holiday Goods.

Over 2 car loads of fancy goods suitable for Christmas presents. The entire store presents a big Bazaar. Everything you can think of is right here. And the Special To Raleigh.

The A. & N. C. R. R. will run a special train to Raleigh on Tuesday, Jan. 15th, on account of the inauguration of Gov. Aycock. Round-trip tickets from Kinston, good to return either the 15th or 19th, will cost $2.45—other stations in proportion. The special is due to leave Kinston at 8:07 a. m., and on returning to leave Raleigh at 5:30 p. m.—Kinston Free Press.

This will be a good route for any who want to go from Greenville. They could go over to Kinston the evening before and take the special to Raleigh and return to Kinston in time to get home Wednesday morning.

Invalid Chair.

One of the best rolling chairs for an invalid that we have seen, was at the store of J. B. Cherry & Co. today. It was fitted with pneumatic tires and had sprocket wheels and chain attachment so the occupant could propel it. The chair is for Mr. S. B. Wilson and will no doubt prove a great comfort to him.
