OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Inauguration of Governor Aycock and Work in the Legislature.

Special Correspondent of Reflector.

RALEIGH N. C., Jan. 14, 1901.

While the printers are putting these lines in type Raleigh will be crowded with visitors from all sections of the State to witness the ceremonies incident to the formal inauguration of Governor Aycock and the balance of the new State officers.

LEGISLATURE SETTLES DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The General Assembly which convened last Wednesday at noon has now settled down to business in earnest. It is a fine body of men—with 40 Democratic Senators and 101 Democratic Representatives, there being seven Republican and two Populist Representatives. All the anti-Democrats come from the west, with three or four exceptions all from the 8th and 9th congressional districts. There is not a black face in either branch for the first time in a long period of years. Two Senators (Henderson and Alexander) are ex-Congressmen. There are 14 lawyers in the Senate and 32 in the House.

LEGISLATIVE LORE.

The hold-over Lieut.-Gov. (Reynolds) has been acting as presiding officer of the Senate during the first week of the session, but Lieut. Gov. Turner will now relieve him of that duty.

There is one contest in the Senate—the 33rd, or Asheville district—which sends two Senators, Messrs Gudge and Stringfield (Dems.). John W. Stamey (Rep.) files notice of contest for the seat of Mr. Stringfield. His case is considered not a strong one.

Quite a number of bills were introduced during the first week of the session, among them bills to regulate the hours of labor, etc., in cotton mills and prohibit employment of children under a certain age, and several designed to provide for the application of all the school money derived from the taxation of property of white people to the white schools exclusively, the negro schools to get only the money paid by colored owners of property for a like purpose. There is quite demand on the part of some for such a law, but it is opposed by many. It is impossible to say at this juncture whether such a bill will be passed.

GOVERNOR'S SALARY INCREASED.

The Legislature has increased the salary of the governors of the State hereafter from $3,000 to $4,000 per annum. Though there will be some criticism of this action in certain quarters, it was a proper action. Every governor who has served the State since the "mansions" was built has left the office several thousands of dollars poorer than when he entered it. Can not live on $3,000 and keep up "appearances". Governor Russell (who recommended the increase for his successors) has spent $11,000 in addition to the salary he received in living during his term. A poor man could not afford to take the office at $3,000. The increase really should have been to $5,000. It would have been none to much. LLEWXAM.

DISPENSARIES IN BAD ODOR.

This Legislature is evidently opposed to the selling of liquor through the dispensary system, certainly unless the white voters of any town or county where it is proposed to establish one unmistakably favor it.

The Senate granted immediate consideration to Senator Glenn's bill abolishing the one at Greensboro, and passed it unanimously the second day of the session, and the one at Fayetteville will go by the board, Senator McNeil states, as soon as the white primary is held and gets the opportunity to kill it by a bill like that of Gen. Glenn's, which (having passed the House Friday) is now a law, and there will be no Greensboro dispensary in operation after February 1st.

Bryan Their Choice.

The electoral college of North Carolina met in Raleigh Monday with Hon. Dan Hugh McLean presiding. All the presidential electors were present, and all, of course cast their votes for Bryan and Stevenson. These eleven votes will be taken to Washington by a special messenger and will be delivered to the president of the Senate who will open them, along with the votes of the other States, and then declare the result, which we all knew the night of November 6th to be McKinley and Roosevelt.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

Striking mill and smelter of the Union Gold Extracting Company, Florence, Col., won their fight for an eight-hour day and better wages.

Louis Mentz, a traveling salesman, with offices in Maiden Lane, New York, was held in $3,000 bail, charge with complicity in a jewelry robbery in Pittsburg.

The new building of the Boston Medical Library, exceeded in size only by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Philadelphia, and the New York Academy of Medicine, was dedicated Saturday.

A proposal to incorporate a city of Honolulu, to include the Island of Oahu, has been made to the Republican Committee on Charter of the Hawaiian Legislature. The proposed city would have an area of 600 square miles.

Col. Keith Dead.

A telephone message from Ayden to THE REFLECTOR brings the information that Col. E. A. Keith died in that town at 10 o'clock this morning, after a sickness of about a week. He was in his 84th year.

Col. Keith was a native of Baltimore, but came to North Carolina in his early years and made Wilmington his home. He was at one time one of the most prominent merchants and naval stores dealers in that city. Like many in those days, his fortune was swept away by the war. He continued to make Wilmington his home until about nine years ago when he came to this section as a cotton buyer and located at Ayden. He became so attached to the town and people there that he made the place his home.

Col. Keith came to Greenville frequently buying cotton and spent some time here. He made many friends and all thought highly of him. The people of Ayden were especially fond of him, his genial and social manner attracting many to him. He was confirmed in the Episcopal church in December at the Bishop's last visit to Greenville.

Relatives at Wilmington have been notified of his death, and unless they telegraph for the remains to be sent there the interment will take place in Ayden tomorrow.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901.

Our old acquaintance, the bill providing that the school taxes raised from white people shall be devoted to white schools, and those from colored taxes to colored schools, has bobbed up, of course in the Legislature. Even if there were no Supreme Court decision which rendered this division of taxes impossible, it would be defeated by the present Legislature, because it is wrong in itself.—Charlotte Observer.

Not everybody who reads the above extract from the Observer is going to agree with that excellent paper. We will not undertake to speak of the legality of such a measure under the present law, but we are prepared to say there are many tax payers in North Carolina who want to see just such a law put into effect that will reach such a division of the public school fund.

While compulsory education seems an infringement upon personal liberty there ought to be some law to protect innocent and helpless children from indolent and selfish parents. The man who will put his children into a factory and deprive them of an education while he lives in idleness, upon their earnings is not entitled to much consideration. Legislators pass laws to prevent cruelty to animals, while children are cruelly deprived of their right to get an education. It is not right.—Charlotte News.

Unbiased Opinions.

Many a man has killed himself trying things that were supposed to prolong life.

No woman ever took the conceit out of a man by refusing him at first and finally consenting.

Some women prefer dogs as pets because children don't like to have bells attached to their necks.

If you tell a woman she is good, she may thank you. Tell her she is pretty, and she will love you.

The women in the neighborhood are always anxious to tell a bride how to manage her husband, but the men prefer to let the groom find out his troubles for himself.

One reason why a little learning is a dangerous thing is that its possessor is likely to write a historical novel.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The one debt in all the world that is hardest to collect is when a fellow fancies the world owes him a living.

The grasping for gold is what turns to stone the hearts of human kind.

And now they have discovered that salt will prolong life. Let us all go into brine.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14th. Shakespeare held up for the suspicion of all future ages the man who protests too much and too often. Just now Senator Hanna is that man. He is once more protesting that the Ship Subsidy bill will put no money in his pocket, and that stories of his being interested in steamship lines that will profit by the measure, if it can be jammed through, are wicked calumnies.

The Senate is still hammering away at the Army Reorganization bill, but it is probable that it will be passed this week. By the aid of a few republicans, the democrats succeeded in getting an amendment adopted making volunteer officers eligible to appointment to the grade of Captain in the regular army, as well as that of Lieutenant.

Why the bosses of the House have allowed the debate on the River and Harbor bill, which everybody expected to pass several days ago, to drag on until this afternoon, when it closed, is one of the legislative puzzles of the week, in as much as it was well known from the first that the bill was to pass. It is quite certain that the delay has been for a purpose, although the purpose is not yet apparent.

Hon. Bird S. Coler, the Comptroller of New York City, spent a day or two in Washington in the interest of Hon. David B. Hill, as the democratic candidate for President in 1904. Contrary to custom, Mr. Coler publicly announced that the object of his visit to Washington was to get Senators and Representatives to promise their support to Mr. Hill. He heard many kind words for Mr. Hill, who has many friends in both branches of Congress, but few, if any, democrats in congress care to commit themselves to any candidate so far in advance.

Just before the House passed the usual resolution appropriating $10,000 for the employment of extra policemen, etc., for Mr. McKinley's second inauguration, Representative Bell, of Colorado took occasion to put himself of record as opposing the appropriation of one cent of public money to pay for anything connected with the inauguration show. He pointed out facts, well known to most of his hearers, such as the usual profit made by the local committee having charge of the inauguration, from the sale of tickets to stands erected on government reservations, and tickets to the inaugural ball, held in the U. S. Pension Building. He also called attention very emphatically to the payment of $70,000 in salaries to employes of the Pension office for enforced holidays, made necessary by the decoration of the building for the last inaugural ball, an expense which he pointed out will be incurred again at the coming inauguration. Mr. Bell expressed the opinion that those who profited, and not the general government, should pay the expenses of Presidential inaugurations.

Dr. Robert M. Coltman, a native of Washington, who has been a Surgeon in the Chinese Customs Service for fifteen years, is visiting his old home. That he hasn't a high opinion of Minister Conger may be judged from the following remarks made by him: "Conger is about as capable as any country farmer would have been had he been placed in that important position. If it had not been for Conger and Sir Claude Macdonald, the British Minister, we would never have had the trouble we did. They listened to the Chinese Foreign Office, instead of heeding information from their own trustworthy officials. Conger does not understand his business. The government here made itself the laughing stock of the other powers by trying to have negotiations removed from Peking, on Conger's recommendation.

Alcohol and the Brain.

A lecture delivered by Dr. Victor Horsley in England on "The Action of Alcohol on the Brain" showed how fibers connect all parts of the brain so that it acts as a whole. It was desired to find out whether the brain as a whole works as well with alcohol as without. One way of testing this was by testing the reaction time, the length taken in perceiving a given signal. He tried a complex experiment, showing a signal with a number on it which was not to be signaled back unless it was above ten. This took longer, involving association of ideas, and the time from the very first was prolonged by alcohol. Professor Horsley said that chloroform, ether, nitrous oxide and similar narcotics acted in the same way. Alcohol produced a dissolution of the nerve centers.

Kraepelin had tried the action of alcohol on muscular power by means of the pressure dynamometer, which was squeezed at regular intervals. After a rest alcohol was taken, and at first there was a little increase, soon followed by a notable decrease. Under the influence of tea there was no decrease at all. He showed a diagram constructed by Dr. Aschaffenberg representing the amount of type set up by certain compositors in a quarter of an hour before and after taking alcohol. The amount was made less by alcohol.—Argonaut.

A Queer Egg.

"Bud Joe" Blow brought THE REFLECTOR a queer egg from Winterville this morning. This particular egg shows a disposition to stand on the small end and will not remain in any other position. Place it on the large end and it will whirl right over and rest on the little end. About the only way this peculiarity can be explained is that the inside of the egg must have settled in the small end.

North Carolina Year Book.

What the World Almanac is to the United States, the North Carolina Year Book is to North Carolina. It contains the name and address of every public officer in North Carolina; the name and address of every lawyer, doctor, preacher; the heads of all State and Educational institutions; the organization of all fraternal and other organizations; figures showing the State, county and city debts; in a word, a mass of interesting matter carefully collated that is invaluable to those who wish to know anything about North Carolina.

Price, in paper, postage prepaid, 25 cents, in board cover, 50 cents. Address

MUNFORD'S BIG NEW STORE.

Well may the good people of Greenville and surrounding country be thankful and proud of their Big Store and the wonderful bargains that come from that great institution. For the third time this season has the buyer been north, picking and scouring the New York, Boston and Philadelphia markets and quickly snapped up all the "Juicy Plums." This was securing a leading manufacturer's fall shipment of fine clothing for men and boys intended for a clothier in Galveston, Tex., but which was countermanded on account of the flood. The result is, we can offer mens and boys highest grade clothing at just one-half the old time clothier's price. They will be ready and placed on the tables on

We leave it to you if there is not a snap, vim or go, about this business not perceptible in any other business in Greenville. It is no secret. The "old foggy" dry goods and clothiers are sleeping, waiting for you to come in and pay them their 50 per cent. profit. Will you do it? Or will you trade with a live, hustling, progressive concern that is working like a Trojan and making your dollar buy two dollars worth. We have doubled the business since we are in our new building already, and now want to tripple it.

Bland Acquitted.

The case against W. B. Bland for the killing of his brother, C. A. Bland on the charge of manslaughter, was started Saturday and ended today, the jury returning a verdict of not guilty.

Cut With Chisel.

Alonzo Randolph and Bill Pitt, both colored, got together somehow on Monday. Pitt struck Randolph on the head with a chisel, cutting a bad gash two inches long. They say it was accidental.

Employment for Families.

Wanted—Families to work in a cotton mill and learn the business. Good wages paid after learning. Write to editor of this paper—if you have a family wishing such employment. 12-22-1m.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

It's easy enough to get men to go to church until they get married. After that they get preaching at home.

The average woman would die perfectly happy if she could only know that a certain man would come to the funeral and cry.

No man can listen to a woman talking baby-talk for five minutes and believe in letting women vote.

Probably no butterfly thinks any of the other worms will ever be smart enough to turn the way he did.

You can always tickle a homely woman by telling her how overestimated you think some other pretty girl is.—New York Press.
