Who Are Community Builders.

It is often remarked, why does not Mister Blank, with all his money do something for the building of this city?

And yet the person asking the question although no banker or capitalist, might have the same query put to him.

And what his reply would be is no hard matter to guess, for it would be that it was the duty of those who had so much money to put it where it should benefit the community, and not for the moderately well-to-do citizen to put his money into enterprises, while the rich men held their money back.

But this matter is really a personal one.

It is not the question of any citizen to measure and perform his obligations by the rule of another.

Every citizen has personal obligations due and necessary to perform to his community, and in the fulfillment of these can be reckoned the standard of his citizenship.

One most important obligation, and one which does not involve the payment of a cent, but one which very many citizens fall short in, is that to believe in and speak well of your city.

It seems strange that any person will talk down or belittle any property which he may own. And yet every citizen who has no favorable word for his community, is doing injury to it, and to every social, religious and commercial interest with which he may be connected in that community.

The citizen who puts his thousands of dollars into a local enterprise, be it building or manufacture, can have his investments made practically worthless, unless his fellow citizens shall speak the encouraging word, which shall bring tenants for the buildings, or demand for the manufactured goods.

The importance of this strong word of approval, at home and abroad, is too lightly appreciated. It is a power for the promotion and success of local enterprises, and without it the best local enterprises can go by default.

Both the citizen who builds, and the citizen who contributes of his optimism, are builders of communities.

The success of one is made securely so, by the other. It is the combination of the goods of one citizen, endorsed and advertised by another, which makes an immediate market for them, and it is this combination, backed up by the citizen who glories in seeing the building, and proclaims publicly, sincerely and heartily, his endorsement of the work, which assures the development and permanence of a community.—Newbern Journal.

Case Developing.

Two men and two women, all colored, have been arrested in connection with the picking up of the half dead man in the railroad cut, one day last week. They are all in jail waiting for a preliminary trial. There may be some other arrests. The injured man has recovered enough to give his name as Frank Hines and tell something of the assault on him.

Home talent is often the kind we can't drive away.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

A farmer on his way to Durham was held up by two negroes and robbed of $200 a few days ago.

F. M. Williams, of Asheville, is 38 years old, and has been a grandfather two years. Mr. Williams was married when he was 15 years old, while his son was married at the age of 17.

The late Capt. Kitchen is said to have received the largest single fee ever paid to a North Carolina lawyer. In the settlement of an estate in California he received a fee of $20,000 in gold.

Representative Small, of North Carolina, introduced a bill in the house to prohibit the sale or manufacture of distilled spirits, fermented liquors or wines made under the authority of the United States, in states where the same is prohibited by the laws of the State.

A newspaper libel law which is considered just and fair to the newspapers and the public recently passed the State Senate. The measure was drawn by Senator London, who is a lawyer as well as an editor and an eminently fair and conservative man. Now it is stated that the House committee having the bill under consideration will report it unfavorably and the Raleigh papers seem to think the bill will fail in the House. The newspapers are asking no special favors but they consider this measure fair and just to them and they demand its passage. A similar bill was killed in the last Legislature and if it fails in this the newspapers will, if true to themselves, hold those who are responsible for its failure individually responsible. So far as The Landmark is concerned it is willing to go on record right now. It will not support for office any man, no matter whose candidate he is, who shows that he has no use for newspapers except to get their help to boost him into office. We want no favors of the politicians but we will not give help to those who will not treat the press with common decency.—Statesville Landmark.

A BILL.

To Amend Charter of Greenville

An act to amend chapter one hundred and fifteen of the Private Laws of one thousand eight hundred and ninety nine:

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That chapter one hundred and fifteen of the Private Laws of one thousand eight hundred and ninety nine, section four, be and is hereby amended by adding at the end of section four the following: That the said Aldermen so elected shall be paid for their services in attending the regular monthly meetings of the Board for each regular meeting, the sum of two dollars each, provided that any Alderman failing to be present at the time of calling the Board to order, or failing to remain present until adjournment, shall have no pay for his attendance at such meetings as he so fails to be present for such time.

Sec. 2. That chapter one hundred and fifteen of the Private Laws of one thousand eight hundred and ninety nine, section ten, be and is hereby amended as follows: By striking out in line two of section ten just after the word "Mayor" and before the word "tax collector" the word "and," and by striking out just after the second "and" in the same line and before the words "a treasurer" in the same line the words, "shall select," and by striking out in said section the first three words in the third line, to wit, "from their number;" so that said section ten shall read: "That the board shall also proceed to elect, from outside their number, a Mayor, a Tax Collector and a Treasurer, each of whom shall be a qualified elector in said town and shall serve one year," and so on the remainder of said section as it now reads

Sec. 3. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

Looking for a Picnic.

Some of the wood haulers, anticipating that a big snow was coming and the folks would have to give anything demanded for wood, were asking 75 cents for a little load Monday. They did not find purchasers tumbling over each other to buy at such extortion prices.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1901.

There is only one portrait of a Governor's wife in the executive mansion at Raleigh. That one is of Mrs. Jarvis, wife of ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis, of Greenville.

If Greenville wants increased population and increased investments of Capital, it will take public improvements to bring them. People give dead towns the go-by when seeking places to locate, and Greenville cannot well afford to be closed as dead.

There is some talk of applying to the Legislature to amend the charter of Greenville, so as to elect a Treasurer who is not a member of the Board of Aldermen, and also to pay the Aldermen for attendance upon regular meetings.

A Prodigal Government.

The country held up its hands in horror several years ago when the appropriations by Congress, for the first time in our history, footed up to a billion dollars. Yet Congress has gone beyond that rapid pace now.

Obviously the only way to meet this difficulty is to cut off the receipts. When Congress can no longer pay these profligate bills, it will cease authorizing them.

It is no doubt a great temptation to spend with a big surplus in the Treasury. And yet some people and some governments can spend money even when they haven't got it.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

By Wire to Daily Reflector.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11th.

By standing together in their opposition to the Ship Subsidy bill, the democratic and populists Senators have forced the republicans to change their tactics.

Mr. McKinley is pulling for an extra session, provided, of course, that a valid excuse can be put forward for calling one, and the republicans leaders in the Senate are pulling to avoid an extra session.

Representative Richardson, the Democratic Leader in the House, has received many compliments on his victory in the Ways and Means Committee in securing the adoption of a resolution by that committee, in favor of a report to the bill reducing war taxes.

Senator Bacon tells an amusing and instructive story of the methods of legislation in the Mexican Congress—methods which the republicans have to an extent already introduced in one branch of our Congress.

A public school principal in New Orleans says that the ability to decipher more or less obscure handwriting quickly and accurately is, in his opinion, one of the best possible tests of general intelligence.

The celluloid comb and a hot fire are a bad combination. A young woman at a church meeting in South Dakota recently sat with her back too near a hot stove, when the comb she wore ignited, set fire to her hair and would have caused a panic if some young man near by hadn't snatched out his carver and yanked off the blazing licks.

Is A Grape Vine A Fruit Tree.

The question whether a grape vine is a fruit tree came up in Iredell Superior Court this week. It was in the case of the State vs. Reavis. DeWitt Reavis had been a tenant on the lands of P. B. Kennedy, Esq., in Eagle Mills township, and when he moved away he had dug up and carried away some grape vines and had also, it was charged, removed windows from the house, some fencing, etc. Judge Brown said the statute mentioned fruit trees but didn't cover grape vines. Solicitor Rush argued that a grape vine was a fruit tree but his honor evidently didn't see it that way. Anyway he decided that Reavis was not guilty.—Statesville Landmark.

THE FOLKS YOU SEE

Coming and Going This New Century.

Mrs. J. A. Ricks is sick.

Henry Sheppard went to Norfolk today.

Miss Bettie Tyson left this morning for Baltimore.

Hart, the hypnotist, arrived
Monday evening.

Mrs. L. C. King, of Norfolk, came in Monday evening.

Rev. F. H. Harding returned this morning from Grifton.

John Jenkins has moved into the Perkins house on Pitt street.

Eli Oettinger, of Kinston, spent Monday here and left on the evening train.

B. A. Forbes has moved into the cottage belonging H. A. Sutton on Sutton lane.

Miss Eva Westbrook, of Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. Alice Harner, left this morning for Washington City.

Holt-Joyner.

Some friends here have received invitations to the marriage of Miss Olive Elizabeth Joyner, of Baltimore, to Mr. James Henry Holt, of North Carolina, on the 26th.
The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. C. G. Joyner, formerly of Pitt county, and she has several times visited Greenville.

Charlotte No Worse Than Other Towns.

The good people of Charlotte are stirred up over the gambling joints in that city. But this does not mean that Charlotte is worse than other towns. They flourish in every town and everybody seems to know it, but they never know enough to make out a case in court.
—Durham Herald.

It Might be Worse.

We congratulate ourselves that the North Carolina Legislature might be much worse than it is when we read in the press dispatches that a bill has been introduced in the New York Legisla-

A Pointer to be Thought Of.

In the Greensboro Telegram's street corner observations attention is called to the fact that in cold windy weather people would do a great kindness to their horses if they would always hitch them so that they can get their heads from the wind. Probably the fewest number of people ever thought of it, while most every one has observed that a horse will turn his head away from a cold wind if he can.
It is a pointer that should not be lost sight of.—Concord Standard.

Shooting Scrape.

There was a shooting scrape out in the "Little Washington" section of the town Monday evening.
It seems that earlier in the day
Joe Patrick and Tom Moye, both colored, were frolicing in the store of Nathan Hanrahan. Joe pushed Tom against the stove slightly burning his ear and face. Later when Joe went to his stable to get his team ready for meeting the train, somebody (it is said to have been Tom) fired on him with a shot gun. Joe was wounded in the hand and arm. The shot in the gun were small and Joe's injury is not serious. The above are the particulars of the scrape as told by some of the colored people out there.

Even a square man can be cornered.
