Advertising "All the Time."

There are some business men who recognize the value of newspaper advertising, but who do not consider it necessary to advertise all the time. A New York merchant has told the editor of Information (an advertising periodical) that according to his experience "new readers for advertising are made every day by the changing conditions of life—by its births, sickness and deaths; that all the persons who are interested in a given time, and that to become a successful advertiser one must advertise day by day, year in and year out."—Philadelphia Record.

A very singular and probably fatal accident occurred at Salisbury Monday. A Painter named Fraley was at work in a house. Fire broke out among his open paint kegs on the floor. With his clothing ablaze he dashed out and tried to enter a house in which there were several ladies. They threw water on him and made him roll in the snow. His body was so terribly burned that blood poured from the open veins

The newspaper is only one of the business agencies of the city. It can do much in combining and unifying the effort for advancing industry and commercial prosperity, but not all that is necessary. It is only when all the business agencies pull together that great communities move irresistibly forward to the attainment of beneficial improvement.—Philadelphia Record.

SMALLPOX.

Some Cases In This County.

Several cases of smallpox have made their appearance in the Farmville section of Pitt county. While it is a bad thing to have in our borders, it is hardly more than could have been expected with such an epidemic of it only a short distance away over in Greene county. Dr. Charles Laughinghouse, County Superintendent of Health, has been out to investigate the matter, and found six cases among colored people living on the land of Mr. J. A. Flanagan, near Farmville. The Secretary of the State Board of Health was promptly advised of the matter and his action is awaited.

Now that the disease is in the county, it is not worth while for people to go to losing their heads over it. The thing to do is to take such steps as will prevent its spreading, and the safest thing in this direction is vaccination. We believe it would be wise for the County Commissioners to order compulsory vaccination, and let the Commissioners and Aldermen of the town confer together as to the best means of effecting this.

No doubt compulsory vaccination would meet with some opposition, but if the people who object to being vaccinated would look over into Greene county and note how the disease has developed through neglect, no further argument should be necessary. It is better to prevent the disease than to try to stamp it out after it gets a firm hold.

Upon leaving his home for the theological seminary at Alexandria, Va., Phillips Brooks wrote in his note book these words: As we pass from experience to some experiment, from a tried to an untried scene of life, it is as when we turn to a new page in a book we have never read before, but whose author we know and love and trust to give us on every page words of counsel and purity and strengthening virtue." We are constantly entering on new, untried paths but if God is acknowledged in all our ways He is our guide. "We know not the way before us, but well do we know our guide."

Burglars are supposed to have killed May Peterson, a servant girl, who was found mysteriously murdered in the house of John S. Collins, Omaha, Neb.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., March 2.

Rufus Tripp, of near here lost his dwelling and all contents by fire last Saturday. It was accidental and there was no insurance. It is a great loss to Mr. Tripp as he is a young man just starting out in life.

1000 good cart hubs wanted by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

George Kittrell is off in the eastern part of the State in the interest of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. If he is as successful as usual he will bring in a large number of orders.

The Winterville Wire Fence Co. are doing a fine business now. Their fencing is not only the best and most durable but is the cheapest. The farmers are rapidly learning this fact, hence the large orders which are constantly coming in.

10,000 good second growth white oak spokes wanted by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

T. O. Dail and Heber Sugg, of Lizzie, were here Thursday. Mr. Dail when he left took three brand new huggies from the Hunsucker Carriage Co's., shops along with him.

It is supprisingly strange how every enterprise in Winterville succeeds. Whether it is owing to the unusual thrift and energy displayed or the strictly good morals of our people we are unable to say but that we are fortunate goes beyond question.

Brasco Bell, who has been teaching school near here for the past few months left for Grindool, his home, yesterday morning.

Be sure when in need of good substantial cheap fencing to patronize the Winterville Wire Fence Co. and you will never have cause for regret.

Prof. Middleton, of Cary, was the guest of Prof. G. E. Linebury last Thursday night.

The remains of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Nelson were carried to Littlefield Wednesday for burial.

Deputy Sheriff Leon Tucker, of Greenville, was here Wednesday for purpose of laying off a public road a short distance in the country.

The town is crowded every day with wagons and carts after fertilizers "B. F." is one bus 7 man.

There will be services in the Missionary Baptist church to-morrow and to-morrow night conducted by Rev. J. K. Faulkner, pastor.

Misses Daisy and Eva Cox, who were visiting at the Boarding house have returned to their homes.

Mack Hearne, of Greenville, spent a short while here yesterday. Mr. Dusenberry, alias Billie Burch, of your city called to see us yesterday. He brought us something nice to read. Billie is a pretty boy and never forgets his friends.

Misses Annie Stox and Mabel Stox spent yesterday in Greenville.

A. G. Cox still pays the highest cash prices for cotton seed.

SATURDAY MARCH 2, 1901.

Poor Sampson! Don't he and Hobson beat the band for indiscretion, one with his pen and the other with his tongue? Nine officers out of ten agree with Sampson's letter, but the other eight of them had sense enough not to put themselves on record.

Never, in the history of the country, has such a deadly blow been struck at free speech in Congress as that dealt by Speaker Henderson when he deliberately withheld from publication in the Record a speech delivered by Representative Lentz, of Ohio, and turned it over to Representative Grosvenor to be revised. This is imperialism with a vengeance.

During the recent controversy over discontinuing the dispensary in Cumberland county, Mayor Cook, of Fayetteville, was one of the men who went before the Legislative committee at Raleigh in behalf of maintaining the dispensary. He had official statistics with him to prove what the dispensary had done in his county. From July 1894 to July 1897 (before the dispensary) there were 586 cases of violating the city ordinance against drunkenness, while in the same length of time under the dispensary to July 1900, there were only 353 cases, showing a decrease of 40 per cent. The records of the county criminal court showed even a larger decrease of cases under the dispensary. Under the license taxes preceding the dispensary $3,900 was received for schools, while under the dispensary the amount was $11,000, which gave Fayetteville $2,000 a year for schools and increased the school term two months.

Mayor Cook said that four years ago he was opposed to the dispensary, but the result made him in favor of maintaining it, as he found that it reduced crime, improved morals and increased the length of the school term.

Notwithstanding this showing in favor of the dispensary, when the matter was up before the State Senate on Thursday that body voted to discontinue it. The ways of politicians are hard to understand. It looks as if the Senators were in favor of reducing crime, improving morals and lengthening school terms they ought to have voted differently from the way they did vote.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1.

The Cuban amendment to the Army Appropriation bill, which had the remarkable merit of being approved as a whole by all the Senators regardless of party, left Mr. McKinley no choice. He was compelled to announce the abandonment of his intention to call an extra session of Congress. The amendment leaves nothing in connection with Cuba to call an extra session for. But his heart is true to Hanna and the Ship Subsidy job, and he will not wait until the next regular session of Congress to get it through, if any reasonable excuse for calling an extra session can be discovered in the next four or five months.

Senator Allen's denunciation of Admiral Sampson for having written a letter opposing the promotion of warrant officers in the navy because they had not enjoyed the social advantages which he considered requisite for a commissioned officer in the navy was one of the most severe ever heard on the floor of the Senate, but it was fully deserved, and it is hoped will be an effectual bar to any further promotion of Sampson. Mr. Allen said: "If William T. Sampson is the author of those indorsements he is a conceited ass and he ought to be marked down as such. We are not bringing up in this country a race of snobs. If I am correctly informed, there was a time when Sampson was no better than Chas. Morgan, the gunner. He came from no better stock. I am glad to repeat that we are not raising in the United States a class of brass-jeweled aristocrats. If this rank and arrant coward is to be believed, the time may never come in this country when a poor boy may attain to such a position as his abilities warrant him in holding. I want to say to Sampson and to his friends that I am responsible for what I say." In the House the matter was referred to by Representative Berry, of Ky., who said that Sampson was of extremely humble origin himself, and whatever refinement he had obtained was due to his service in the navy, and Sulzer, of N. Y., who after strongly endorsing all that had been said by Mr. Berry, had read a newspaper clipping denouncing Sampson, which he also endorsed.

There was a sensational scene on the floor of the House this week, and nothing but blind partisanship saved Speaker Henderson from being censured by a resolution offered by Representative Richardson, for having exceeded his authority by having a speech on the Philippines which Representative Lentz has sent to the Government Printing office, for publication in the Congressional Record, under a general "leave to print" order of the House, sent to him instead of being printed, and for turning the same over to Representative Grosvenor, supposedly to be edited. By a party vote of 127 to 115 the House refused to consider the resolution of censure. While the matter was pending and the House was in a great uproar, Mr. Lentz said in a speech demanding why his speech had not been published: "Is my speech to be edited? Is Congress to have a censorship such as exists in the Philippine Islands? I supposed every member had the right to have his speech printed in the Record, but my speech has been withheld by some one." Later the speech was handed to Mr. Lentz on the floor of the House, but he declined to receive it, and demanded that it be returned to the Government Printing office, from where it had wrongfully been taken, in order that it might appear in the Record. He had his way, too.

 "Comrade" Hanna should help to settle the wrangle which is on between the G. A. R., in which he now holds a commission, and the Grand Marshal of the Inaugural parade, who has assigned others to the duty of escorting Mr. McKinley to the Capitol to be sworn in. Officers of the G. A. R. say they will not parade at all unless they can be Mr. McKinley's escort, and the grand marshal says that they shall not be. Gen. Dan Sickles, who was to have been marshal of the veteran division, has asked to be relieved and given notice that there will be no veteran organizations in the parade. The trouble is that the veterans are not showy enough to meet the imperial ideas of Gen. Greene, the Grand Marshal whose ideas are much more gorgeous since he joined the asphalt trust than they used to when he was an army officer.

Safe Crackers in Lincolnton.

Lincolnton, Feb. 28.—For the first time in its history Lincolnton has been visited by professional cracksmen. At an early hour this morning the stores of R. F. Beal & Co. and H. S. Robinson were entered and the safe in each was blown open by explosives. Both stores are situated near the public square and are within a few hundred feet of the court house. The explosives were heard by a few people, who thought they were the discharges of a gun.

The loss sustained by R. F. Beal & Co. is about $300 in cash. No notes or papers were taken from their safe. Mr. Robinson's loss is more serious, being about $1,250 in cash and $3,000 in notes. In addition to this $160 in cash and $4,000 in notes belonging to Mr. George Cauble, which was deposited in Mr. Robinson's safe, was taken.

After committing the two robberies, the burglars stole a lever car from the Carolina & Northwestern Railroad and made their escape, going west, towards Newton.

A phone message from Conover says two men have been arrested at that point. Hopes are entertained that they are the Lincolnton burglars. The robberies were particularly bold and every indication points to their having been committed by professionals of skill.

The prohibition movement is greater in this legislature than in any of its predecessors. The counties of Bladen, Pender, Duplin, Sampson, Madison and two or three others have thus far been given absolute prohibition, while other bills are on the way. A great step in the direction of absolute prohibition is also taken by the State in its regulation of registered whiskey distilleries; that is, the State will say where they shall or shall not be located. It is estimated that by the time the legislature adjourns there will be prohibition in almost one-third of the counties in the State.

Health and Beauty

For generations women have been taught that "beauty is only skin deep,"
but, like many proverbs, that will not stand.
Beauty is blood deep. There can be no beauty without health. Our grandmothers lived closer to nature than we do, and they were so sheltered by their home life that health and beauty were theirs naturally.
Skin foods, freckle lotions and face bleaches were unknown commodities. But there has been a great change in the life of women since then. With broader education and larger opportunities, she has developed mentally at the expense of her health. From the quiet duties of home she has gone forth until now we find her in many avocations of life, which prove too great a tax on her vitality. How sad it is to see the cheek robbed of its color and the eye of its fire.
These symptoms nearly always show derangements in the delicate feminine organism. They don't call for bleaches or paints or powders, but for a remedy that will make the afflicted organs strong and well. Wine of Cardui is just such a remedy. Women broken in health and spirit have been made healthy and happy by this Wine. No one should give up to the "blues" until this reliable remedy has been tried. It has proven a blessing to other women and will not disappoint you. It brings that buoyancy of spirit, elasticity of step and lightness of heart which is the corner stone of beauty. A healthy woman is always beautiful.

Westville, February 4, 1899.
I feel that I must say a few words in praise of the Ladies' greatest friend, Wine of Cardui. It is the most wonderful remedy that I ever tried. I have been a sufferer for years, at times being confined to my bed two or three days each month.
A friend recommended Wine of Cardui, and since I have taken it I have been greatly relieved. I intend to continue to take it, for I know it is as recommended.
I will use every effort to get others to use it. Mrs. MARY E. COOLEY.
