The New Libel Law.

Following is the bill to be entitled An Act Relative to the Law of Libel as it has passed both branches of the General Assembly:
The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That before any proceeding, either civil or criminal, shall be brought for the publication in a newspaper or periodical in this State of a libel, the plaintiff or prosecutor shall at least five days before instituting such proceeding serve notice in writing on the defendant or defendants, specifying the article and the statements therein which he alleges to be false and defamatory. If it shall appear upon the trial that said article was published in good faith, that its falsity was due to an honest mistake of the facts, and that there were reasonable grounds for believing that the statements in said article were true, and that within ten days after the service of said notice a full and fair correction, apology and retraction was published in the same editions or corresponding issues of the newspaper or periodical in which said article appeared, and in as conspicuous place and type as was said original article, then the plaintiff, in such case, if a civil action, shall recover only actual damages, and if in a criminal proceeding a verdict of "guilty" shall be rendered on such a state of facts, the defendant shall be fined a penny and costs and no more: Provided, That this act shall not apply to existing suits.

Section 2. That any person who states, delivers or transmits by any means whatever, to the manager, editor, publisher or reporter of any newspaper or periodical for publication therein any false and libelous statement concerning any person or corporation, and thereby secures the publication of the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 3. That this act shall not apply to anonymous communications.

Section 4. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

It is said that smallpox exists in 80 counties of this State.

Charlotte keeps right up with the procession. Ten cases of small-pox have been found among colored residents of one of the city's suburbs.

Hugh Hall, son of Mr. J. H.
Hall, was hurt Tuesday by jumping from an elevator in the Odell Mill. The rope broke, and the boy jumped from the elevator and broke his arm.—Concord Times.

Celia Brevard colored died near Kidsville Monday of last week aged 106 years. Esq. W. F. Kelly one of Lincoln county's best men has carefully investigated the matter of her age and finds that she was 106 years old and probably older.
—Lincolnton Journal.

The Proximity Manufacturing Co., of Greensboro, will maintain a graded school for the benefit of the children of its mill employees.
Plans for the building have been approved, and work will begin at once. The building will be a handsome brick structure, with all the modern equipments, and will be large enough to accommodate about 700 pupils.

Some Democratic Acquisitions.

An incident which occurred a few days ago seems to have escaped the comment which it certainly deserved. Senator Dubois, formerly a Silver Republican; Senator Heltfeld, a Populist; Senator Turner, who was elected through a union of Silver Republicans, Democrats and Populists, and Senator Harris, who was carried into the Senate on the crest of the Populistic wave in Kansas, all entered the Democratic caucus and announced their intention in the future to act with the Democratic party. On the other hand, Senator Stewart, who became a Populist through his devotion to the cause of free coinage of silver, is now fully affiliated with the Republican majority of the Senate, and Senator Kyle, once an independent, is now equally a full-fledged Republican, in as good standing with that party as Senator Hanna himself.—Washington Post.

He's The Whole Thing.

The home merchant helps pay for the streets you walk on, and for the schooling of your children.
He helps keep up the churches in which you worship. He is a man who builds up a home which enhances the value of property.
Every subscription that is passed around has his name on it. He is a man who cannot afford to swindle. Self interest, if nothing else would prevent this. He bears his share of good government and stays with it, through sunshine and darkness, in days of adversity and prosperity. When you have shopping to do remember the home merchant.

Merchants, you should also remember your home office when you need job printing. Let us all pull together for the common good of our town and community. No town was ever prosperous whose citizens did not co-operate.—Dunn

FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1901.

The House branch of the General Assembly adjourned sine die today. The Senate will continue in session as a court of impeachment until the trial of the Judges is completed.

No community can prosper as it ought if its people are divided upon every enterprise of importance that is started. Every one should bear in mind that the success of a legitimate enterprise in a community benefits nearly every one in it. Keep this in mind and vote for the bonds.

Why not have a campaign on the bond issue? It strikes us that several public meetings should be held between now and the election and speeches made on the subject. If the bonds are to be carried, there should be no luke-warm, half-hearted spirit about it. There should be full discussion so that any misunderstanding of or opposition to the measure may be removed. Surely no one who desires that the town shall progress can be opposed to the bonds.

Maj. W. H. Martin, who was a clerk under the former Populist State Treasurer, W. H. Worth, has been found to have embezzled about $4,000 of funds belonging to the State during last year. When confronted with the matter and accounts shown in which he had made false entries, he made a full confession of the crime. Governor Aycock at once sent a message to the General Assembly setting forth the fact, and advising that a committee be appointed to investigate the matter. Maj. Martin was arrested and in default of bond was committed to jail.

Miss Clara Binswanger, of Philadelphia, recently deceased, was of a festive disposition. In bequeathing her wealth to her nephews and nieces, she set aside the sum of $10,000 with instructions that they were to celebrate her birthday annually, give a birthday party, invite their friends and have a real good time, the expenses to be defrayed out of the $10,000. —Wilmington Star.

Edward Andrew Conrad, the diver who discovered the cable which is said to have fired the mine which destroyed the battleship Maine, died in New Orleans Monday as the result of his exposure to the poisonous waters of Havana harbor.

There is no harm in editing three papers, provided the editor has the ability and strength necessary for the undertaking, but an experiment in more than one wife is apt to prove less remunerative. As a result of the latter Editor St. Geo. Kempson is boarding in a New Jersey jail and is spoken of by an admiring correspondent as "the victim of legal complications and a divorced wife's persecutions." With remarkable pluck, however, he continues to edit from his prison cell the Middlesex County Democrat and the Metchuen Enquirer (both New Jersey papers) and the Insurance Journal, of New York. —Macon, Ga., Telegraph.

John G. Schaffer, of Wichita, Kan., has brought suit against a church society of that city on rather remarkable grounds. He declares that he bought and paid for a burial lot in the cemetery owned by the church organization, and that he buried his wife there. Recently his daughter died, and her last request was that she be buried by the side of her mother; but when the arrangements were being made the church officials denied the use of the cemetery on the ground that the girl had not been a member of their society. The girl was buried elsewhere, and the father asks for $5000 damages.

The new election law is the fairest one ever passed by a Legislature since the war. It will insure to every man who is really entitled to the ballot the right to cast his vote and have it counted as cast. It fulfils this object far better than the laws which the Fusionists passed, which were partisan as any in years, and which gave opportunity for the casting of a large number of illegal votes. And yet the Republicans, who are always prating about a free ballot and a fair count, fought the passage of the fairest bill ever proposed in the Legislature. —Raleigh Times.

"Doctor" Allen well known here years ago with his Dennis and Snow show has been arrested at Laurenburg for fraudulently using the mails in that he advertised extensively the sale of receipts and offered as a prize with each order facsimile bills to the amount of $15, which he said were printed on genuine "B. N." paper, and could not be told from the "genuine article." The bills in reality were Confederate notes, and Allen numbered his victims from Maine to Mexico, several orders having been received from New York State. —Tarboro Southerner.

An ancient manuscript containing some verses from the first chapter of the Gospel, according to St. Matthew, was recently discovered at Behensa, in Egypt, and has passed into the possession of the University of Pennsylvania. Of its genuineness there is believed to be no doubt, and it furnishes additional proof of the authenticity of the version of St. Matthew now in common use among us.

Cause for regret—Lady—"I don't like this picture so well as I did the last one you took of me." Photographer—"Ah, madame, I have not the artistic taste that I had when I was young; and, besides, my camera is getting old." —New York Weekly.

A "Citizen" over at Speights Bridge Greene county, advertises for a physician "who will expose smallpox when it makes its appearance." We think a physician who will quarantine smallpox and cure it would be preferable. —Kinston Free Press.

Robby Ray, a six-year old boy at Kentuck, W. Va., entered a burning house in order to rescue the baby of his family. The lad was overcome with smoke and burned to death with the infant whose life he sought to save. The little fellow's body was found near the baby's cradle. All of the heroes of the world are not men and women. Love for our fellows and affection for those who are tied to us by blood often assert themselves earlier in life, and real heroism, whether it be displayed on the part of matured men and women or on the part of a six-year old West Virginia child, furnishes food for thought for those inclined to pessimism. —The Commoner.

PAINE'S

Celery Compound

The Household Medicine.

Mrs. J. C. Dunn, Tarentum, Pa., writes:

"I owe you a great debt for the good Paine's Celery Compound has done my baby boy and myself. About a year ago his face broke out in sores. We had two of the best doctors attend him, but the sores kept on spreading. Finally we tried Paine's Celery Compound and one bottle cured him of a bad case of eczema. I am using the Compound now for nervousness, and it is doing wonders for me."

Paine's Celery Compound gives strength; relieves the body from suffering and exhaustion.

All But Paupers Must Pay.

Our Raleigh special this morning brings the startling statement at the Supreme Court has decided that "for persons who are able make payment for maintenance and treatment in the insane asylums payment must be made; in her words, that only indigents are entitled to free quarters, treatment, etc." There are in this state multitudes of good men, men proud and independent spirit, who earn from $600 to $1,500 a year and who need it all to support their families and educate their children. They work, contribute to the State's wealth and eatness, pay their taxes, pay their bills and hold their heads up to the world. They are not indigent, they are not paupers, but if member of their families becomes insane they are not able to pay for their care and treatment in a hospital for the insane, nor should they be required to, seeing that a large proportion of their taxes go to the support of these institutions and they must stint and suffer under this decision, or else acknowledge themselves paupers, otherwise the afflicted member of the family cannot be admitted to a hospital which they are taxed to support.

We suppose this decision is good; we may not question that fact; it is not equity, and it will result in great hardship and wrong. Verily, the trend of things here lately seems to be all in favor of the loafer and the vagabond. Industry and thrift are at a disadvantage. The man who is trying to do something is singled out for attack as if he were a public enemy, but no more deadly than this court decision has leveled at the man of moderate means—the laborer, the mechanic, the salaried man, the small farmer, the farmer.—Charlotte Observer.

The Kind We Keep.

Dr. W. E. Hall, the lecturer, from New York, was in THE REFLECTOR printing room this morning to look after having some work done. He said he felt like stopping to pinch himself to see if he was really in a printing office, the place looked so clean and inviting, a condition he said was not usually found in printing offices. Turning to the editor he wanted to know if we had on the force a bachelor with old maid proclivities who kept the office so clean. The Doctor was advised that we had no bachelor, but did have three good courting characters, and that the office was kept as he found it. The Doctor's compliment to the office was appreciated.

Publicity Has Always Paid.

No matter what business a man may engage in, his first object must be to let people know that he is prepared to deal with them. That the best way to do this is through newspaper advertising is the opinion of the men who have had the most extended experience. It is estimated that the Centaur and the Hood companies expend half a million each every year for newspaper space; the Pinkham, the Ayer and another company a quarter of a million each, and a long list of other advertisers from $150,000 to $100,000 each. It is obvious that these concerns would not pay large sums without positive assurance of satisfactory returns, and it is equally obvious that the medium which serves them best will serve others best.—Philadelphia Record.

Modish Mention.

Boleros when not forming a whole jacket are added to jackets and blouses longer cut.

Silk mitts will be a summer feature with elbow sleeves. Those who assist with the refreshments at teas are wearing them now.

A four-in-hand tie is effectively knotted under the ever modish collar.

We will have none of the full skirt save in the finely tucked sheer stuffs.

Undersleeves bid fair to figure in every garment from a lingerie waist to a coat.

For a long coat there's no newer nor more effective sleeve than the smallish Bishop, which is caught into a cuff that flares a bit over the hand.

Velvet ribbons will not be crowded out by the new and fetching silk weaves.

Two or three lace collars (cut up more or less) may be used on one pretty blouse.

All the soft crepe weaves are winners.

Black and white is not necessarily mourning.

Lace insertion plays a conspicuous part in the new summer frocks.

Point de Venise appliques are favored.

Amateur dressmakers should remember that foundation skirts must be cut with as much care and be as ample as the outer skirt.
