WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., March 23.
A SUGGESTION TO FARMERS.
Owing to the extreme scarcity of labor we would advise all farmers to arrange their tobacco rows so every eighth row will be five feet wide and by so doing you can use a tobacco truck and thus house your tobacco with much less labor and cost. There were some trucks used in certain sections last season for housing tobacco and we find in every section where the truck was used there will be a great demand for them this season, and orders for several hundred trucks have already been placed. Many more will doubtless come in yet. If you will lay out your rows as stated above it will take no extra manure and but little more land, and if you do not use the truck you can tote your tobacco along the wide row much better, and if you are scarce of help you can use a truck. We hope you will think of your interest in this matter. We are going to be headquarters for tobacco trucks of best style.
A. G. COX MFG. CO.

A young man down here the other day remarked in speaking of fleas, "he did not mind their board bill, but certainly dreaded their traveling expenses."

Miss Maggie Tucker, who has been visiting her sister in Virginia, returned home Thursday evening.

The members of the Wiley and Vance Literary Societies gave a very interesting entertainment at the college last night.

Edward Hamilton, an employe of the A. C. L. who was so badly hurt by jumping from a moving train, has, we are pleased to say, resumed his position. Ed is a clever young gentleman.

Simon Moye and wife have moved to their new home on Main street and have gone to keeping house in real old married folks fashion.

L. E. Elks and Miss Nannie Galloway, of Grimesland, came up yesterday to attend the entertainment of the Wiley and Vance Literary Societies last night.

We are under lasting obligations to "B. F." for a free back ride yesterday. We certainly did enjoy it.

J. A. Dupree, of Greenville, was here Wednesday and sold B. F. Manning & Co. a large stock of shoes.

The new residence of Mrs. A. D. Cox on Academy street is nearing completion and when completed it will add much to the appearance of that part of the town.

There is little change in the continued illness of Mrs. W. B. Wingate who is so seriously sick.

There will be service in the Missionary Baptist church Sunday morning and night.

John Cox, of Grimesland, was here this week delivering guano for W. M. Moore & Co.

These items in THE REFLECTOR and the mention of the excellent medicine sold by Mrs. F. O. Cox, have brought her many letters from all the surrounding country, and one has just arrived from the State of Missouri. This speaks well for the circulation of THE REFLECTOR and its value in attracting the attention of the public.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

The postoffice at Red Springs was robbed by safe crackers Wednesday night.

At a primary election held in the city of Wilmington Col. A. M. Waddell was re-nominated for Mayor. The most prominent candidate against him was W. E. Springer.

The large livery stables of Abney & Whitener, at Hickory, was destroyed fire Thursday night. Ten horses were burned to death. The same firm lost a stable by fire about a year ago.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Capitola Grainger to Dr. Daniel Thomas Edwards, to take place at her home, Wednesday morning, April 3rd, at 9:30 o'clock.—Kinston Free Press.

The State's First Citizen.

Time at last sets all things even. In the campaign of 1898, ex-Senator Matt W. Ransom, long a servant and favorite of the people, was not invited to participate, on account of his unpopularity. Last year the people themselves invited him out of his retirement. He responded promptly, was accorded an ovation wherever he appeared, and could not, after he had started, answer all the calls made upon him for speeches. He has since been asked to address various reunions of Confederate veterans, and has spoken to the old soldiers, to their delight, whenever called upon, and now, we notice, he has received and accepted an invitation to deliver the Memorial Day address at Greensboro. He is the last of the Romans. He has lived to witness the revival of a large part of his popularity and if he lives and retains his powers for five years longer he will find himself universally recognized, as he is, as the State's first citizen. So much for a man who stands four square to every wind that blows and holds himself level always.—Charlotte Observer.

AT HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Munford Entertain.

An "at home" was given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Munford complimentary to their niece, Miss Lillian Warren, of Wilson.

The host and hostess were assisted in receiving by Miss Ada Wooten with Z. V. Johnson. The following guests were present:

Miss Lillian Warren with J. B. Cherry, Jr.

Miss Bessie Jarvis with W. B. Wilson.

Miss Sophia Jarvis with Will Hooker.

Miss Lillian Cherry with J. E. Starkey.

Miss Mabel Mosley with S. V. Priddy.

Miss Bruce Forbes with J. B. Jarvis.

Miss Annie Perkins with T. W. McBryde.

Miss Mary Harris with T. H. Tyson.

Elmer Barrett, Cary Mayo and Ray Tyson.

A very interesting feature of the evening was an art exhibit in which the articles were ingeniously arranged for the guests to guess at what they represented. Miss Bessie Jarvis made the best guesses and was awarded the first prize, a handsome picture. Mr. Z. V. Johnson won the booby prize, a china pig.

After the exhibit was over the guests were invited into the dining room where an elegant supper was served. The table was in charge of Mrs. M. H. Quinerly, while the guests were served by Misses Glen Forbes, Mary Higga and Lizzie Higgs.

It was an occasion of much pleasure and delight to all present.

In this new judicial district in which Edgecombe has been placed a solicitor must be appointed, and, of course, there are a few seekers after the honor. So far, Harry Stubbs, of Williamston, C. C. Daniels, of Wilson and Martin Shaw, of Henderson, are all prominently mentioned. The majority of the bar at this place, it is said, favor Mr. Stubbs, who is an able lawyer and a most excellent man as well.—Tarboro Southerner.

SATURDAY MARCH 23, 1901.

Filipinos in several islands have been ordered to concentrate themselves in garrisoned towns on pain of being considered rebels on failure to obey. Yet it has been only three years since we went to war with Spain for permitting Weyler to do this very thing.

Well, the war in the Philippines must have been suppressed at last, as it is officially reported that 300 of their war boats have been destroyed. We should like to know, however, how they came to have so many warships, months after the war had been declared at an end.

The Standard Oil Company in Washington has been warning patrons of an independent concern that they will be blacklisted, and when the smaller company has been destroyed, will not be allowed to buy oil from the monopoly. This is what we are rapidly coming to in many things besides oil.

The Republican papers, which are condemning Maryland's new election laws, do not seem to be aware that it is designed to prevent the Republicans carrying the State, as they have for several elections, by the wholesale use of repeaters, practically half the colored population of Washington being imported each fall for the purpose.

A Restaurant Wrecker.

A negro named Jim Jones turned up at a restaurant on College street yesterday and made a dicker with the proprietor to furnish him all he could eat for 35 cents. Jones paid his money and called for Washington pies. He ate seven separate and individual plants of this architecture, and started in on the balance of the restaurant man's supply with an appetite that was just becoming sharpened. After some words with the negro, the proprietor of the restaurant called in Policeman Weddington to eject the man, but after hearing the negro's statement of the contract, he decided that he had no right to interfere, holding that the customer was entitled to eat up to the limit of his capacity and that by the terms of the compact, the restaurant keeper was in duty bound to give him what he called for. The officer then left the two to settle it. After the negro came out he offered to eat 15 pounds of beef if anybody would pay for it. There were no takers.—Charlotte Observer.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.

The death of Hon. Mark S. Brewer, member of the Civil Service Commission, added to Mr. McKinley's worries by making another desirable vacancy to fill and for the Republican bosses to fight over. So many of the high-salaried positions will be retained by holdovers that the fight is extraordinarily bitter over everything in sight. This has been shown by the cat and dog scrapping over the U. S. Commissionerships of the St. Louis Exposition, and the office of Commissioner of Patents, which Mr. Duell has resigned.

In discussing another matter, in a private conversation, a prominent Senator incidentally said of a matter that has been more or less talked about in Washington—the administration's favorite for the Republican nomination in 1904: "President McKinley is now serving his second and last term, and everybody is casting about to decide the all important question of his successor. In the Senate there are various gentlemen in whose bonnets the bee is buzzing, but it is evident that the Senator who at present has the best chance of being nominated is Fairbanks, of Indiana. Of course it is too early to attempt to positively pick the winner, but of the Senatorial candidates Fairbanks seems to be the coming man. He is generally regarded as the administration candidate, just as his wife was when she was so easily elected to the office of President of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Everybody who has an axe to grind has an eye on Fairbanks, and is trying to get 'next to him.'"

An official of the State Department said of Senator Morgan, whom he has just met leaving the private office of Secretary Hay: "Senator Morgan is a wonderful man, and you can depend upon it that he will have ground broken for an American Isthmian Canal before he leaves the Senate. I have heard some criticism of his constant talking for the canal, and this reminds me of a Western Senator who blurted out in the cloakroom on the Republican side of the chamber that 'Morgan is dinging on the canal again.' He was immediately snapped up by one of the oldest men in the Senate, also a Republican, who said: 'Don't you worry about Morgan dinging. We laughed at him when he dinged on Hawaii—and he got Hawaii. We laughed more when he dinged for years on Cuba—and we have just about got Cuba. We are laughing now because he is dinging on the canal, and you can depend upon it we'll have a canal. If there were more dingers and fewer ringers in the Senate we would accomplish more.'"

Senator Bacon started this week for the Philippines, where he intends to personally acquaint himself with conditions on the islands. The information he obtains will be utilized by the Democrats at the next session. As he is a close observer and hard to fool, he will be apt to find out just how things are before he leaves the islands.

The plan of having Rear Admiral Sampson's profile on the medals that are prepared by the Navy Department, in accordance with an act of Congress, for presentation to the men who participated in the battle of Santiago, has been headed off. The storm raised by the announcement of the plan frightened its authors.

Secretary Root has found out that the politicians have no monopoly in the job of worrying him over army appointments. More than five hundred preachers are after the twenty-three new chaplancies in the army, which carry the rank of captain and a salary of $2,000 a year and which can be made sinecures if those who hold the commissions are so disposed, and they and their preacher friends are making life a burden for Mr. Root. About every known sect and denomination is represented among those five hundred hungry applicants, and some of the denominations are fighting each other as viciously as rival factions of a political party ever did over the distribution of patronage.

Observations.

A woman's mouth and eyes speak different languages, as close scrutiny will prove.

Although every woman cannot pose as one of the Graces, they can refuse to become disgraces.

When men sit listening silently while a woman talks it behooves the speaker to weigh her words.

Attitudes and platitudes form the stock in trade of women who lack personality.

Small talk may not indicate wisdom, but big talk does folly.

A witty woman stimulates; a talkative one enervates.

A clever woman can fool a dozen men, while as many men cannot fool her.

The stock ticker is always bundled up in red tape.

Everybody Will Advertise.

Persons who have noted the tendency to make all wants known to the public through the newspapers have not been surprised by the increasing number of insurance, financial, telephone, street railway and other corporations and of churches, book publishing houses, etc., which have recently adopted the publicity methods of the enterprising merchants. The action of the Wisconsin Bar Association in amending the code of ethics so as to allow lawyers to use newspaper space as they may choose is significant of the growth of the tendency, and it is believed to be only a question of time when all other classes of professional men will follow this example. In deed, the specialization of professional work has made newspaper advertising necessary in the interest of the people as well as of the professional men.—Philadelphia Record.

Your Example Counts.

A railroad conductor once went with a large company of conductors on an excursion to a Southern city. They arrived on Saturday night. An attractive trip had been planned for the next day. In the morning, this gentleman was observed to be taking more than usual care with his attire, and a friend said to him:

"Of course, you are going with us on the excursion?"

"No," he replied, quietly; "I am going to church; that is my habit on Sunday."

Another questioner received the same reply. Soon comment on it began to pass around, and discussion followed. When he set out for church he was accompanied by one hundred and fifty men, whom the quiet example had turned from a Sunday excursion to the place of worship.—Union Gospel News.

Laying On Of Hands.

An exchange says that "laying on of hands" for compliments, especially in children, is now taking the place of Christian science. A mother cured her son of using profane language with one dose. She laid her left hand on the boy's neck, her right hand on a substantial slipper, and then laid the slipper where it would do the most good. It effected a cure, and a relapse is not looked for

FOR MOTHERS.

The period immediately following child-birth is fraught with many dangers. The strength has been used in the painful ordeal through which the mother has passed and she finds herself helpless and weakened. Many mothers, like Mrs. Ford, date the beginning of their illness from the birth of their child. Indeed the frequent spectacle of a healthy young woman becoming a chronic invalid after motherhood is one of the tragedies of life. All this is unnecessary, when Wine of Cardui is obtainable. It rehabilitates the shattered nervous system, strengthens the organs and ligaments, and re-establishes a healthy, natural condition, saving years of chronic sickness and suffering. Wine of Cardui taken just before confinement will render the ordeal comparatively painless. It will re-enforce and strengthen the organs for their work. For every trying crisis in a woman's life, Wine of Cardui is the medicine to take. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui and take no substitute. If one is offered send $1.00 for a bottle to the Chattanooga Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

WINE OF CARDUI

Clarkson, Ark., July 20, 1899.
After my baby was born I took the whites and falling of the womb, and was in a very dangerous condition. I read one of your home treatment books, and commenced to treat myself with Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught. I am thankful for what the medicine did for me, and I am now in better health than I have been for a long time.
Mrs. MARGARET FORD.

Accident at Kinston.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rhodes and little son, of Pitt county, while on their way to Kinston this morning were trying to turn out for a wagon to pass and ran into a ditch. Mrs. Rhodes' right arm was sprained. Mr. Rhodes and the little boy escaped injury. The buggy was damaged about $10.—Kinston Free Press.

The World's Corn.

Corn is pre-eminently the American cereal crop. In some years it rises to be chief of the world's cereal crops, surpassing in quality and exceeding in quantity both wheat and oats. The average corn crop for the past five years has been 2,756,057,000 bushels, and of this immense crop about 90 per cent is raised in the Western Hemisphere, and almost exactly 75 per cent in the United States. Such are the statistics given by the Crop Reporter, published by the United States Department of Agriculture. While an unground prejudice against corn as a food for man and animals has existed in Continental Europe for years, it is manifest that this staple article is now attracting more attention throughout the world. In Egypt it is almost the sole food of the fellah; in Mexico, the tortilla—a cake made from crudely ground corn—is the staff of the masses, and this is also the case in many of the Central and South American Republics. The polenta—a somewhat similar food and a product of corn—fulfills a like function for the peasant of Roumania and Italy.
