WEATHER BULLETIN.

Clearing tonight, fair, colder Wednesday. Brisk to high southwest winds becoming northwest. This morning a southwest storm warning was sent from Jacksonville, Fla. Dangerous squalls along coast were predicted.

FARMVILLE RIPPLES.

FARMVILLE N. C. March 25, 1901
Owing to the ill health of the correspondent, our "Ripples" have not appeared for the two past weeks.

Little Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lang, has been sick with that dread disease, pneumonia, for several days, and is convalescing at this writing.

We had a very heavy rainfall in our section Wednesday night last.

We were glad to see our old friends, John Kessenger and J. L. Peacock, of Roper, on our streets yesterday. They left for Wilson last night.

Many of the Farmville people who have been nursing their vaccinated arms are recovering from the pains and aches, but a few are yet on the "grunt." Smallpox is a thing of the past where it seemed to have been raging a few weeks ago.

The death angel has visited our town and claimed for its own Mrs. Lou Lang. Her illness was short, comparatively. Many of her friends and relatives just arrived in time to cast the last look upon her living face. About noon Friday, her noble spirit took its flight to try the realities of the world unseen. Her remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground, a few miles in the country, Saturday. Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Fish, fish. We like fish, but cheaper fish. Herrings seem to be a rarity in our market. They are only worth five cents a piece here, fifty dollars per thousand. Who ever heard of the herring going so high. Awful. Can't some one send a cheaper brand.

M. T. Horton is erecting a fine residence on Church street. With a little more paint and a few more buildings, our little town would be new again.

Most intentions are good, but the trouble is they often become contaminated.

GRIMESLAND ITEMS.

GRIMESLAND, N. C., Mar. 25, 1901.
Miss Laura Toppin, from Jamesville, is the guest of Mrs. J. O. Proctor this week.

Miss Daisy Tucker is visiting Mrs. J. O. Proctor this week.

L. E. Elks, of this place, spent Friday in Winterville and returned Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore left Wednesday for Baltimore to buy their spring line of dry goods.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Galloway to visit our town Sunday.

W. S. Galloway made a trip to Greenville today.

Jimmie Galloway who has been attending school at Winterville, came home Saturday to spend a day or two with his parents. He returned Monday.

W. E. Proctor went down the road today.

Our streets were crowded with farmers Saturday.

W. H. Galloway is in town today.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

PACTOLUS, N. C., March 25.
N. C. Cordon, of Washington, was here Wednesday.

J. J. Mason, of Washington, was here Thursday.

H. A. White, of Greenville, was here Friday.

R. R. Fleming went to Parmele Saturday on business.

Miss Maggie Daughy, of Greenville, is visiting Mrs. Robert Fleming.

Mrs. J. J. Satterthwaite spent Saturday and Sunday in Grimesland with her sister, Mrs. C. M. Jones.

Master Freddie Jones, of Grimesland, returned home Saturday after spending a week here with relatives.

J. H. Satterthwaite went to Greenville on business Wednesday.

Farmers are up with their work in this section and corn planting will begin at once.

Oliver Credle, of Washington, was here Tuesday with a nice lot of horses.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather Sunday there were but very few people seen on our streets.

C. E. Bradley and H. J. Morris went fishing Friday on bicycles, but didn't have any luck. Suppose the wind was wrong.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings in North Carolina

Four cases of smallpox have been found in one house near Rocky Mount.

Governor Aycock has appointed H. M. Justice Judge of one of the new districts, the 14th.

According to the Southerner, Tarboro is much excited over mad dogs. Two were seen in that town Sunday and a boy was severely bitten by one of them.

The storm Monday extended pretty much over the State. At Winston and in Granville county it developed into a cyclone, doing considerable damage.

Three confidence men were arrested at Greensboro. They were trying to make a "gold brick" trade with Paul Garrett, of Weldon and he set a trap which landed them.

A carload of bananas refused by the consignees was sold at Charlotte, Saturday, for freight charges. Fine ones went as low as ten cents a bunch. Somehow Charlotte gets the best of whatever comes along.

The State Printing Commission has awarded the contract for the State printing to Edwards & Broughton and E. M. Uzzell, of Raleigh, jointly, they being the lowest bidders.

The Alderman of Charlotte have decided to accept the offer of Andrew Carnegie to give $20,000 to establish a public library there on condition that the city provide for $2,500 annually to support the library.

A Nuisance.

Loyalty to one's town is necessary to its success. If one doesn't like the place he lives in let him go elsewhere. That's his privilege. But the man who is eternally croaking, the chronic kicker ought to be banished forever. He is a nuisance.—Winston Journal.

A Just Rebuke

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record pays a very poor compliment to the intelligence of Southern business men when it seeks to bar the way to completer and more cordial commercial and industrial understanding between the people of the North and South by appeal to political sectionalism and misunderstanding. Our Baltimore contemporary has been very pertinently and properly rebuked by the New Orleans Picayune, which declares that the Southern people are not going over to the Republican party and are not going to support the ship subsidy grab at its suggestion, but that they propose in every proper way to take a part in national affairs, whether to help inaugurate a President or to get their share of all public benefits that may grow out of harmonious effort and understanding. Evidently the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record had better stick to its manufacturing—Philadelphia Record.

TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1901.

Sunday's issue of the Raleigh News and Observer was a souvenir edition of the last Legislature. It was an interesting paper.

The esteemed Charlotte Observer has been propounding the question "Why do a rabbit wobble its nose?" A Greenville preacher says it is "because it has no tail to wobble." This is respectfully referred to the Observer with the request to send the prize down this way.

The Charlotte Observer scored quite a success in sending several of its editorial staff, on different days, to Raleigh to write personal letters about the impeachment trial as each was impressed by the situation. These letters were by far the most interesting reading about the trial that appeared in any paper.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.

The republican syndicate, which had made extensive and expensive preparations to loot the Philippines, under public land and timber concessions, are making things warm for the administration and demanding that promises made to them be kept. There is one obstacle—the Hoar amendment which was added to the Philippine amendment to the Army bill. Although that amendment specifically prohibits the granting of those concessions, the representatives of the looting syndicate are demanding that it be ignored, and some of them are claiming that Secretary Root favors meeting their demands.

The traditional bull in a china-shop did not create more consternation than Representative Babcock, of Wisconsin, is creating among the trust bound republican bosses by talking up the merits of his anti-trust bill, which he introduced near the close of the last Congress, and which he will re-introduce. It will be remembered that the bill, as introduced, provided for a repeal of the duty on all manufactured steel and iron, its avowed purpose being to prevent the big steel trust making our people pay extortionate prices for its products. Mr. Babcock, who is now in Washington, has received so much encouragement of support for his bill, that he has announced his intention to broaden it, so as to hit two more trusts—tin plate and plate glass—by adding clauses repealing the tariff on plate glass and tin plate. He has also served notice on the trust bound republicans that the bill shall not be pigeonholed in Committee, and upon republicans in general, that if they do not join him in curbing the trusts, they will see a party put in power that will. It is certain that the democrats will support the bill in the next Congress, and if Mr. Babcock can get as many republican votes as he thinks he can, all the power of the trusts cannot prevent its passage by the House.

Senator Burrows has dressed up the bugaboo of a reduction in the Congressional representation of those states which have disfranchised illiterate voters, and is coddling it as earnestly as though it were a bran new baby and he were its daddy. He has also discovered and announced a veritable mare's nest—that Congress has authority to make a new Congressional Apportionment at any time.

Governor Odell, of New York, who has jumped into motorty by his casting off Boss Platt's collar, is being groomed, according to inside Washington gossip, as New York's anti-Teddy candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1904. Senator Fairbanks continues to be spoken of as the administration candidate, but the man the administration really wishes to see nominated and will get nominated if there is the slightest chance of doing so without splitting the party, is Marcus A. Hanna. Of course it is Hanna's cue now to poohpooh and talk of his being a candidate but all the same he intends to get that nomination if he can.

An Effort to Bring the School and the Home Together.

The gulf between parent and teacher is too common a phenomenon to need exposition. The existence of the chasm is probably due more to carelessness, to pressure of time, or to indolence than to any more serious delinquencies; yet all will admit the disastrous effects that flow from the fact that there is not the close intellectual and spiritual sympathy that there should be between the school and the home.

Whether or not this failure of teacher and parent to come to a close and perfect measure of sympathetic cooperation is more prevalent or less prevalent in city than in country is not of great importance in this discussion. The purpose of this article is to describe very briefly an attempt which is being made in the State of Michigan to bridge the gulf—to create a common standing ground for both teacher and parent—and on that basis to carry on an educational campaign that it is hoped will result in the many desirable conditions which might be expected from such a union. At present the movement is confined practically to the rural schools. It consists in the organization of a county "Teachers and Patrons' Association," with a membership of teachers and school patrons, properly officered. Its chief method of work is to hold one or more meetings a year, usually in the country, or in small villages, and the programme is designed to cover educational questions in such a way as to be of interest and profit to both teachers and farmers. From "Neighborhood Co-operation in School Life," the 'Hesperia Movement,' by Kenyon L. Butterfield, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for April.

Swell society must be the kind that is puffed up.
The steeple climber is one sort of high churchman.
Too many ancestors have spoiled many a good man.

with the will annexed of L. E. Laughinghouse, deceased.

A good story comes from Washington. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is a member of the Humane Society, and wears a badge that entitles him to investigate the condition of any animal that appears to be ill treated. A day or two ago, as he came down from the Capitol, he inspected a team that was standing by the curb. "Here, you!" shouted the driver; "what are you doing there feeling about that horse's neck?" "I am an officer of the Humane Society," replied Senator Jones, mildly, "and I want to see if this collar fits this horse." "Well," snarled the driver, "if that collar don't fit that horse any better than your collar fits you, you just run and along and get a cop and have me arrested." Senator Jones passed on.

see our display of spring millinery and pattern hats, Thursday and Friday, March 28 and 29.

MISSSES ERWIN.

I will have my spring opening of latest style millinery on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 26th and 27th. All the ladies invited to be present, those from the country as well as those in town.

Mrs. M. D. HIGGS.

The curse so cruelly inflicted upon the South, involving greater injury to the negro than his white neighbor, is gradually but surely working its way back to its birthplace. The Philadelphia Record says:

"But the question of the policy of disfranchising illiterate voters is quite another matter. There are very strong reasons for such a course of action. In Pennsylvania
we do not hesitate to disfranchise citizens who are so indifferent or shifty or impecunious as to neglect the payment of their taxes, be they ever so well qualified for the judicious exercise of their right.
There is much more solid ground of public policy in barring illiterates away from the ballot-box.

"Bringing the matter home to ourselves, would it make for better or for worse home government in Philadelphia if the sodden colored vote in the Seventh ward should be sifted by such a test of literacy and illiteracy as would be developed by making the right of the citizen to vote dependent upon his ability or non-ability to read the names on the printed ballot?"

Capt. A. W. Styron, of Washington was here this morning.

J. B. Jarvis returned Monday evening from a trip up the road.

Mrs. H. L. Coward left Monday evening for Ayden to visit relatives.

W. F. Barnhill went to Ayden Monday evening and returned this morning.

Miss Mattie Woolwine, of Nashville, Tenn., who has been visiting Mrs. J. L. Little, left this morning for her home. There are some sad-eyed young men left behind.

Odd Fellows at Ayden.

Dr. D. L. James, Carlos Harris, U. G. Tyson, J. V. Johnson and J. J. Stroud went to Ayden Monday night to assist the Odd Fellows lodge there in conferring degrees. They returned this morning and report a pleasant trip. The lodge there is growing rapidly.

Will Rebuild With Brick.

We hear that McGowan & Weatington will put up a brick store on Fifth street where their building was burned Sunday morning. They are having the ice house building repaired to make temporary quarters for M. L. Strkey until they can get the brick building up.

Died.

Mr. Allen Warren, who just returned Monday evening from Conetoe, where he had been to see his sick brother, Mr. John Warren, recieved a telegram this morning stating that his brother died at ten o'clock last night. The deceased was 78 years old and a most excellent man.

Mr. Allen Warren left this morning to attend the funeral.

Mr. Berry, of Washington, who has for sometime been engaged in the lumber business near Falkland, in this county, died at the latter place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The remains were brought here today and taken by steamer to Washington.

"Trojan" About Preachers.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

You copied lately from the Charlotte, Observer something from "Trojan." He has done injustice to North Carolina Methodism. He speaks of an old preacher who spent more money in getting to the places to preach three sermons than he received, etc. His preacher should have gone on, the tide would have turned. He would have been cared for. The picture "Trojan" draws is not just. This writer, this year, went 30 miles to his first appointment, preached 3 times, and did not get enough money to pay for his railroad ticket. In a few weeks that point had paid him $16.41. Last year he went to his work, paid $5 a month house rent, and worked 70 days before he received a cent, but handled plenty of money during the year. Methodism in North Carolina does not starve her preachers.
