The College Nigger.

Dat nigger been to college,
An' ain't 'e mighty big?
But all de white folks tell us
Dat he's not wuff a fig.
An' 'scussin' all his learnin'
He's nuffin' but a nig.

But he is des fum college,
An' 'e in de swim,
An' don't 'e look distinguished?
A reg'lar dandy Jim.
You needn't mention han-les—
No han-les now for him.

I'ae gwine to go to college—
Ole Booker saunt me word;
I'll be de smahtes' nigger
Of which you ebber heered—
Den good-bye to de han'les—
No han'les fo' dis bird!

A Pioneer in Advertising.

There is a Wisconsin farmer who does what a great majority of the people will do in a few years. When he has anything to sell he places a small "ad" in the local newspaper and soon hears from the dealers. When he wants to buy a horse, cow or anything else he spends half a dollar for newspaper space, and everybody in the neighborhood who wants to sell calls on him or writes to him. The newspaper advertisement saves time and labor.—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. Zack Harper, of Deep Run, lost his house and furniture by fire yesterday about noon. The only things saved were a bed and two quilts. Mr. Harper's youngest child was with great difficulty rescued from the building. It is not known how the fire originated. Mrs. Harper was the first to discover it, but the flames spread so rapidly she was unable to do anything to check them. Mr. Harper was in a field near by. He arrived at the scene in time to save the kitchen which was several feet from the dwelling. There was no insurance. Mr. Harper had just completed his home, putting the finishing touches on only last week. He had been building a long while doing most of the work himself. His actual loss is about $300 or $350.—Kinston Free Press.

Good Thing for Lawyers.

Thirteen legislatures were in session last year, for terms ranging from 196 days to 53 days, and they passed a total of 5,772 new laws. To this total Georgia contributed 222 pieces of new legislation. It is estimated from the information already at hand that there will be enacted during the present year no less than 10,000 new laws. New York and Maryland have already passed more than 700 acts each, while Ohio and Illinois have added hundreds of acts to their statute books.

Is there any good in all this law-making? Are so many new laws needed for the government of the people? It is perfectly safe to say that 75 per cent. of the legislation could be dispensed with to the very great advantage of the public. And it may be predicted with a good deal of assurance that not one-half, probably not one-fourth, of the new laws will stand the test of the courts. Many of them were hastily drawn and railroaded through the assemblies without anything like a careful digestion by persons competent to judge of their constitutionality. They belong to the class of legislative acts often termed "halfbaked."

But there is one class of persons who are pleased with the multitude of new laws—the lawyers. It is their function to discover how, by letter or spirit, or both, the new laws are opposed to the constitution, and take them into the courts and have them killed. Every new law of any moment makes new litigation, which means more fees for the lawyers. Fifteen thousand new laws in two years therefore, presents quite a pleasing prospect to the profession.

It should not be lost sight of however, that the lawyers perform a good public service in this slaughtering of new laws for fat fees. If it were not for these professional fool-killers our statute books would soon become insufferably burdened with asinine statutes.—Savannah News.

The secret of the success of the propagandists of Christian Science is not hard to find. There is money in it for the professors and pleasure for the dupes. Nothing is more delightful than to be cheated, nor more unpleasant than to have the cheating exposed.—Philadelphia Record.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., April 17.
A SUGGESTION TO FARMERS.

Owing to the extreme scarcity of labor we would advise all farmers to arrange their tobacco rows so every eighth row will be five feet wide, and by so doing you can use a tobacco truck and thus house your tobacco with much less labor and cost. There were some trucks used in certain sections last season for housing tobacco, and we find in every section where the truck was used there will be a great demand for them this season, and orders for several hundred trucks have already been placed and many more will doubtless come in yet. If you will lay out your rows as stated above it will take no extra manure and but little more land, and if you do not use the truck you can tote your tobacco along the wide row much better, and if you are scarce of help you can use a truck. We are going to be headquarters for tobacco trucks of best style. A. G. Cox Mfg Co.

Mrs. W. B. Wingate, an account of whose death was in Saturday's issue of the REFLECTOR, was buried last Sunday afternoon at the family burial ground, about one mile from here. There was a very large crowd in attendance upon her funeral. Mrs. Wingate was a most excellent lady and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Rev. J. W. Nobles and family, of Kenly, arrived Saturday evening, but were too late to see Mrs. Wingate, sister of Mr. Nobles, before she died. They left for their home yesterday.

Rev. J. K. Faulkner filled his regular appointment at Ayden Sunday. He is still in Ayden visiting among his friends.

R. H. Hunsucker left Monday evening for Southern Pines, Carthage and other points around his old home. He will be gone about a week or ten days.

Miss Rosa Cox returned from Kinston last Monday morning and reports having spent a most delightful Saturday and Sunday in our sister town. We are not surprised, for it is always pleasant where Miss Rosa goes.

Rudolph Croom came back Monday from Kinston where he had been visiting friends and relatives.

Editor Henry T. King, of Greenville, spent a short while here Saturday.

G. R. Dixon has the finest Holstein-Jersey calf we have ever seen. At the age of four months and twenty-five days she tips the scales at 350 pounds.

Mrs. Nancy James, of near Ayden, is visiting her nephew, W. S. Highsmith.

Claud Summerell and family left Monday to spend several days with relatives in Kinston.

Will Dancy wants his name in the paper, but we don't know how he is going to get it there, unless some pretty girl takes pity on him.

Bob Little keeps good pickles and the best soda crackers to be sure, we know, for we've tried 'em. This ain't no bid puff. But we wouldn't mind a bit.

A. G. Cox still pays the highest cash price for cotton seed.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1901.

The various colleges are receiving more mention now for the games of base ball played by the college teams than for the work done in recitation rooms. And the people pay for being able to get this kind of information.

The people of Pitt county ought to raise their voices in condemnation of such farces being enacted in court, at their expense, as we had here the recent term. Day after day was wasted in wrangling, and the county foots the bill. If the lawyers are to be allowed to run the courts as they please the idea of justice had as well be abandoned. Not only at the recent court, but at several preceding terms, Pitt county has seen some big farces of trials.

There are probably good reasons for most of the pardons, but the people do not look with favor on many of them. The investigation of applications for pardon takes up a good portion of the Governor's time and attention, and puts a responsibility upon him that the Legislature might relieve by creating a Board of Parole. Governor Aycock has granted no pardons except for good and sufficient reasons, but any number of them will subject the best Governor to criticism from parties who do not know the circumstances under which the pardons were granted.—Raleigh Times.

A correspondent of the New York Sun asks that paper: "I wish you would express your opinion on whether it is gambling to play progressive euchre for any but money prizes." And the Sun replies: "An element of gambling is that one player shall lose as the other gains. Money prizes, or others." Which reminds us of the contention of a Greensboro prohibitionist who says that when a man takes one drink of liquor he is partly drunk—that is to say, if twenty drinks will floor him in a given time, he is one-twentieth drunk when he gets one under his shirt. Isn't this true?—Greensboro Record.

Taking time by the forelock, the lawyers of Indianapolis have petitioned the judges of the courts to permit them to practice in shirt-waists during the heated term. In order that the style may not appear odd it has been suggested that the judges also shirtwaist it. They agreed and decided upon pink waists, all but one who insists upon wearing sky-blue.—Wilmington Star.

Freak School Teaching.

Chicago people are not satisfied with the long, rough and wearisome road to knowledge which has the approval of time and experience. They seek a shortcut—a flowery path along which the happy youth shall skip and dance into wisdom. In their passion for something new and easy certain Chicago teachers deny that study should ever seem forbidding to the young, but affirm that it should be joyous and alluring. They have built up a system on the basis of the kindergarten principle. As explained by Superintendent Speer, of the Third School district, it is a "combination of visualization, auralization and action"—or, in the words of common speech of seeing, hearing and doing. It is in the doing especially that the system is entertaining. Thus the child is shown such words as "hop," or "jump;" then the words are pronounced distinctly and then the teacher hops, skips and jumps and each pupil is required to follow her example calling out the word as he does each act.

The exercises are described in a textbook of "language lessons," and the children are seriously warned against learning to read during the lessons, as the object is to teach them to speak and think. From simple words like "hop" and "skip" the system proceeds to difficult sentences such as "wash your face," "comb your hair" and "brush your clothes," the teacher repeating the words and going through the operation which they describe while the children follow her example. As a variation, the pupils are taught to mew like the cat, bark like the dog, crow like the cock and imitate the cries of other animals. The lessons cover a period of four months, and after the child has been taught to hop, shake hands, wash his face, dance, laugh, beat the drum and the like he is supposed to have the foundation of an education, having mastered the art of thinking.

Probably few experienced teachers would contend that the general system of school instruction is perfect, or that the course of subjects corresponds to the natural development of the intellect. Outside of Chicago, however, the people who control the schools do not believe that the introduction of such freak methods will aid in solving the problems of education. While it does not follow that because a method of study is forbidding and hard it is necessarily the best, neither is it obvious that ease and joyousness lead to substantial results. There may be too much of discipline and severity of application in the common schools, but instruction in language through playground athletics comes near to folly.—Philadelphia Record.

Because they didn't like their pastor, the Rev. Mr. Fitts, and he declined to resign, the members of the African Baptist church, of Independence, Mo., waylaid him after prayer-meeting the other night, dragged him into a vacant lot and "regulated" him with barrel staves and black snake whips.

One of the most perplexing positions in which a criminal jury ever finds itself is when the jurymen really believe that the prisoner is guilty, but are not sure of it. In a recent case in Georgia the jury solved the difficulty by bringing in this verdict: "We, the jury, find the prisoner almost guilty."

The rabbit may have his faults, but he isn't much of a tail-bearer.

As they have reached the practicable and profitable elevation of skyscraping buildings in New York—about twenty stories, they now propose to build the other way and go down fifteen or twenty stories. In that way they will economize on ground and get a thirty or forty story house.—Wilmington Star.

The State Auditor is sending out letters to the various county boards of pensions, directing them to investigate thoroughly all pension claims, in order to ascertain which are fraudulent. The Auditor says he is sure many are fraudulent. An ex-Auditor says he really believes 20 per cent are undeserving.

We notice that there is a woman in Salisbury on the hunt for a husband who left her bed and board of his own free will and accord. While this woman is receiving much sympathy, she would deserve much more if she would give up the search, return home and thank providence for such a happy deliverance. She is evidently weeping for a thing that is not worth her tears.—Durham Herald.

Woman's Horror

Modest women dread to consult a doctor about diseases peculiar to their sex. They have a horror of private examinations and surgical operations. For this reason treatment of dangerous derangements is neglected. But the Wine of Cardui treatment, which can be adopted at home without the knowledge of any one but the patient herself, is now coming into general use. Women who take Wine of Cardui do not have to submit to a physician's local examination nor to a surgical operation. Wine of Cardui cures in the privacy of the home. No publicity, no cutting and torturing and no physician or examination, while Wine of Cardui is quietly building up and strengthening the female organs. Menstruation is regulated, the drains of leucorrhoea stopped and the fallen womb restored to its place. The terrible pains which rack the body are but results of the ailment, which yield so readily to the soothing properties of Wine of Cardui. The medicine that cured Miss Garlen will certainly help you.

Wine of Cardui

Rockford, Tenn., Aug. 18, 1899.
I have suffered from womb trouble for five years. Last spring a year ago I was bedfast for six months. I paid $20 to one doctor, and he said he had done all he could for me. I had about given up, but called another doctor, who said I would have to have surgical treatment. I decided I might as well die a natural death as that. I happened to get hold of a Ladies' Birthday Almanac, and decided to try your treatment. In nine days after I commenced taking Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught I could walk across my room, and in three weeks I made myself a dress. This was after my neighbors, and even my brothers and sisters, said I would never be any better. I am now in good health.
Miss S. E. GARLEN.

Grog in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., April 15.—The State Senate to-day passed a bill making it unlawful for any person to drink any intoxicating liquor as a beverage unless he or she shall have first obtained a license as a dram-drinker. The license is fixed at $5 per annum.

Competitive Drill.

There will be a competitive military drill in Raleigh on the 10th of May, and all companies of the State Guard have been invited to send two members to participate. Any members of the Greenville Light Infantry who would like to enter the contest are requested to report at the armory at 8 o'clock tonight.

A Bad Negro.

The negro Cutler, who broke jail Tuesday morning, and thus escaped the two years in the penitentiary to which he had just been sentenced, added two more crimes to his record before the sun went down, and for one of them his neck will be in danger if he is caught. About two miles from town he broke in another negro's house and stole his clothes. Then on down near Ayden he attempted an outrage against a white woman and was fired at with a gun by her husband. A hunt was made for the negro all night but he was not captured.

The Kings Daughters

The annual convention of The Kings Daughters and Sons will meet in Greenville April 30th, including May 1st and 2nd. We most cordially invite the public to attend all the meetings. We have no secrets. Our work is for the development of the Christ life in our own hearts and lives and to manifest the Christ Love to our fellow man.

We most earnestly ask the ministers of the different churches to attend the meetings and conduct our devotional exercises, and since we are but the hand maids to the church of God doing her work gladly in His name, we feel that we have the divine right to ask their hearty co-operation.
