Eastern Carolina Newspaper Prosperity.

"We are again unable to find room for all the advertisements offered us, and editorial matter crowded out."

The above from the Journal's esteemed weekly contemporary, the Roanoke-Chowan Times, published at Rich Square, Northampton county, is one of the most prominent and significant signs that Eastern Carolina is being aroused, and that actual advancement and prosperity is at hand.

It can be said that the local newspaper is the barometer of its community, and that its columns will indicate the degree of lassitude or activity, social and commercial, that is to be found among its people and business interests.

And judging from this the people of Rich Square and Northampton county are marching ahead, and are in the progressive column.

Another Eastern Carolina newspaper, to reflect this local progress, is the Journal's nearby contemporary, the Evening Free Press.

The Free Press has entered upon its fifth year, and this when at its beginning it seemed a question of its being continued one year. But each year the Free Press has become more needed and its support certain, and its service for its community more effective.

At Scotland Neck The Commonwealth is another weekly which indicates advancement in Halifax county, while Elizabeth City follows in the same line for its neighborhood.

Pitt county, with the DAILY REFLECTOR and King's Semi-Weekly, are showing full columns of advertisements, which would prove progress.

These are a few places and newspapers, which show that the newspaper business of Eastern Carolina is on the advance, and naturally indicates progress of the people, and improved conditions of every kind.

For itself, the Journal would say that its columns bear eloquent testimony of how business is going on.

And with all this improvement in the Eastern Carolina newspaper field, it is an agreeable circumstance, that politics are found pretty nearly eliminated from the columns of these newspapers, and that the leading thought is, local building up.

This is good sign for continued advancement and prosperity, for communities and newspapers.—New Berne Journal.

121 Generations Since Adam's Time.

Alfred Judson Fisher, the Chicago historian, has woven the highly interesting results of a genealogical investigation into "A Daughter of Adam," a short story which he has written for The Ladies' Home Journal. He traces the heroine of his romance (in real life a well-known Philadelphia woman) directly back to Adam, establishing with corroborative detail every link in the long genealogical chain. He brings to light the fact that there have been one hundred and twenty-one generations of the human family, beginning with Adam.

BLACK JACK ITEMS

BLACK JACK, N. C., April 24.

Rev. J. W. Alford, of Ayden, preached here last Sunday.

Grant Tyson, of Greenville, was here Sunday.

Calvin Mills, of Winterville, came in Friday and returned Sunday to his school.

U. O. White is experimenting with the Giant tobacco plant setter. Ollus says it is a good thing but it needs a fiddler to use it to perfection.

Miss Lula Smith, who has been quite sick of late, is able to be out again.

J. W. Alford, of Ayden Seminary, was the happy guest of Miss Lucy Linton Sunday. Charley Waters was also with Mr. Alford. They returned to Ayden Sunday evening.

Misses Lucy Linton and Jodie Dixon went to Greenville Saturday.

Mrs. Sue Clark, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Tyson, has returned to her home on Clay Root.

We were glad to have Josh Mills, of Greenville, with us a while last Sunday.

George Cooper, of Logan county, Oklahoma, who was recently made the defendant in a land suit brought by the Guthrie and Western Railroad Company, asked that the case be tried by seven members of the Masonic order instead of by the usual jury. The railroad company's attorney, himself a Mason, agreed to the proposition, and the case was so tried, both parties further agreeing that no appeal should be taken from the verdict. Cooper won.

Giving Attention to Small Grain

Is the acreage in cotton being decreased? Some of the farmers assert that it is and give two reasons why it should be. Low prices are staring them in the face and as cotton mills increase and other inducements are being offered to the country people and especially the tenant class to forsake the farm and go to the towns labor is becoming more scarce and farm labor is being left to the negroes. Under these conditions farmers are turning their attention more to small grain because that can be cultivated to better advantage when labor is scarce and labor saving machinery can be called into service.—Gastonia News.

Must Keep It Up.

The time can never come when a business establishment having on sale a commodity which has a permanent value will have no further need of advertising. A new public is always in process of being formed, and the enterprise of competitors is continually reaching out for the people's custom. To increase his patronage, or even to hold his own, the business man must keep himself before the public, and must use at least as much newspaper space as do his rivals.—Philadelphia Record.

A subscriber to a neighboring paper in settling up his subscription account is reported to have remarked to the editor that it was the last bill on earth that he owed. Just why a printer's bill should be the last bill on earth that a man thinks of paying is a puzzler.—Durham Sun.

THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1901.

Two Charlotte boys were fooling with a pistol and, as is usually the case, one of them was shot.

In times when business gets dull people could help make the situation better by paying their debts promptly.

And now the plow manufacturers have formed a trust with a capital stock of $50,000,000. No doubt they propose to turn up the earth.

The lower house of the Illinois Legislature has passed a bill prohibiting the sale, giving away or bringing into the State cigarettes, cigarette paper or any substitute therefor. It looks like the "coffin tacks" must go after awhile.

Mr. J. W. Lynch, president of the Great Eastern Railway company, which is laying a road bed from Fremont to Snow Hill, says every arrangement has now been perfected for the final completion of the road from Englehard to Raleigh.—Goldsboro Argus.

Dr. Gatling, the famous North Carolinian, who invented the deadly Gatling gun, says the Asheville Gazette, is 83 years old but still inventing. His latest production in an automobile plow, which he has recently perfected. This may aid a revolution—in farming as effectually as a Gatling gun acts in revolutions of a sanguinary nature, and do as much for peace as the gun has done in war.

Country Editor's Duty.

If for every shiftless boy that hangs around the village store; if for every vagabond negro that skulks across the field; if for every man and woman with the inclination and the will there were opportunity to labor, so the energy and talent with which nature has endowed them could best be utilized for producing results of value to man—if these conditions prevailed in our State today its development in the next decade would be unparalleled. This is the work for the country editor; this is the work for the lawmaker; this is the work for every active, thinking, progressive man in the State. If the country editors would study their respective towns and counties with the earnestness they study politics, and if they would apply the same attention in discovering in what these towns and counties excel, and tell the world of it week in and week out, year in and year out, they would raise a monument to themselves as statesmen and benefactors of the race.—Ex.

The New Pension Law.

In answer to many inquiries made to the editor of the Record for information concerning the pension act passed by the Legislature at its recent session, we write the following:

In the first place all persons desiring a pension must make application to their county board on the first Monday in next July. This includes not only those who have not heretofore received a pension, but also all those who have been receiving pensions. This is required because it is alleged that there are some persons drawing pensions who are not entitled to them. Blank applications can be obtained from the clerks of the Superior Court and should be filled up before July. If the applicant is unable to appear before the county board on the first Monday in July he or she must send a certificate from a practicing physician stating that the applicant cannot personally appear, as no doubt may be the case with many.

Heretofore no soldier could receive a pension in the fourth class unless his disability was caused by a wound received while in the Confederate service. The new law changes this and gives a pension of the fourth class ($30 a year) to soldiers who are now disabled from any cause to perform manual labor. In the fourth-class pensioners are included the widows of Confederate soldiers who were married before April 1st, 1861, and have not married again. According to the old law the only widows entitled to a pension were the widows of soldiers who had died during the war or after the war, from wounds or disease contracted in the service. The new law gives a pension to the widow of a soldier who has died at any time or from any cause. But no soldier or widow can get a pension who owns over $500 worth of property. The old law has not been changed in this respect.

The new law will place on the pension roll many needy and deserving veterans and widows, who were excluded by the old law. And the new examination, required by the new law, may take from the pension roll the names of some persons who are not entitled to a pension. Every county board ought to be very careful and scrutinize closely every application, remembering that every unworthy pensioner will diminish the small pittance that is given to the needy and deserving.

According to the last report of the State auditor there were last year 6,129 Confederate pensioners in this State, of whom 2,558 were widows. The total amount paid these pensioners last year were $119,070. The amount appropriated by the new pension law is $200,000 a year. But while this amount is so much larger than heretofore, each pensioner will not get much more than heretofore because there will be so many more persons entitled to pensions. The fourth-class pensioners (of whom there were 4,784) received last year only $14.50 apiece. The new law allows them $30 apiece, but it is not probable that they will get over $20. We so much wish that our State was able to pay every poor old pensioner as large an amount as he needs and deserves.—Chat-ham Record.

A $50,000,000 Plow Combination Formed.

Chicago, April 23.—After a conference lasting several days the plow manufacturers of the United States practically have completed the formation of a $50,000,000 combination. The combination has for one of its purposes the elimination of the long credits which have been given country merchants.

Preparing for Work.

The Board of Aldermen will have a special meeting Friday night to formulate plans for beginning improvements of the town authorized by the bond election. Mr. J. L. Ludlow, civil engineer of Winston, will be here to confer with the Aldermen relative to making the survey of the town and preparing the plans and estimates for the plants to be put in.

Wharf Improvements.

The Old Dominion Steamship Co. is having lumber placed on the wharf here preparatory to building a large cotton platform. The platform will be 48x136 feet and will afford room for 800 bales of cotton at one time. This would be a good place for the cotton yard to be located. We understand the O. D. Company has tendered the use of the platform for that purpose.

The Exodus of Negroes.

It is known that several hundred negroes have left Winston the past two years. While this is true, a number (those who were able to do so) have returned. This exodus extends beyond this county. About seventy-five negroes left Greensboro yesterday for Sconege Va., to work on a new railroad. A Greensboro correspondent says that within the past twelve months several hundred negroes have gone from that place to work on railroads in Virginia and in coal mines in West Virginia. Many of them were disappointed and returned at the first opportunity. On account of the emigration of large numbers of negroes, and the removal of many others from the country districts to the towns, farm labor is scarce. But it is not only farm labor that is scarce. A great many domestic servants have gone North and many housekeepers in Greensboro find it difficult to secure cooks and other help.—Winston Sentinel.
