WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., April 27
If you do not live near enough to purchase a buggy from the Hunsucker Carriage Co., you had better see some of their agents and purchase of them. Their buggies are taking the lead, and by purchasing them you can make no mistake.

Miss Mollie Bryan, whom we stated in our last items had gone to Bethel, only went to Greenville on a business trip and returned that evening. She, however, left yesterday on the train for Bethel and will be gone several days. The best looking of us make mistakes. The smile is on me.

The A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. are winding up the cotton planter making for this season. Near 2,500 planters were made and sold during the season. The demand for them was very great.

W. K. Whitfield, of Kinston, the contractor who has charge of building the large dormitory for our school, arrived Wednesday morning with a force of hands and they are now at work.

Every buggy sold by the Hunsucker Carriage Co. is guaranteed against defects. Call and see.

Marvin Nash, son of Rev. Dr. L. L. Nash, of Washington, spent two days here this week working insurance. Marvin is an old Greenville boy, that being the place of his birth.

The A. G. Mfg. Co., have just received a car load of lightwood blocks to make hubs for their carts.

Miss Hattie Nichols has temporarily accepted a clerkship in the millinery emporium of Mrs. C. A. Fair.

H. C. Edwards, of Greenville, and W. L. Cooper, of Alamance county, were here Thursday on business.

Miss Olivia Cox, of Seven Springs, came Wednesday morning and will spend some time here visiting relatives.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. Ludlow Engaged to Take Charge of The Work.

The Board of Aldermen had a special meeting Friday night to confer with Mr. J. L. Ludlow, a civil engineer of Winston, relative to the improvements the town is preparing to put in. The full Board was present, and after going over the matter thoroughly the Board entered into a contract with Mr. Ludlow to take charge of the work. He is to make all necessary surveys, prepare maps with plans, specifications and estimates, look after placing the contracts for machinery and material, and superintend the entire construction to completion of the water works, sewerage and electric light plants. His compensation for the entire service is to be $4,500. Mr. Ludlow will have his force of engineers to begin on the survey Monday and says it will take about a year to get all the plants installed and in operation.

A Bride is Never Nervous at the Altar.

The humorous, and unusual experiences in the life of a metropolitan clergyman are told by the Rev. David M. Steele, of New York City, who has just written about "some People I Have Married," for The Ladies' Home Journal. Mr. Steele declares that the prospective bride is always nervous until the time for the marriage ceremony, when she is calm and collected. The groom is exactly the reverse: always cool until he comes to face the clergyman, when his nerves invariably give way.

AYDEN ODD FELLOWS.

Celebrate Their Anniversary.

The Greenville Odd Fellows who went to Ayden to participate in the celebration there Friday night, returned this morning and report a most delighted occasion. The fraternity met in their hall and after a brief social session marched in a body to Carolina Christian College where the regular anniversary programme was carried out. Excellent addresses were delivered by Prof. A. C. Manning, of Ayden, and Dr. D. L. James, of Greenville. Both were much enjoyed and highly complimented by the large audience. The exercises closed with singing the anniversary hymn. The Odd Fellows and their families then repaired to Hart's store where refreshments were served in abundance.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.

Senator Cockrell stated the case in a nutshell when he said, the other day that the Cubans misunderstood their status. This has become plain since the committee from the Cuban Constitutional Convention reached Washington. Although they represent no government and are paid salaries by the United States they came to Washington with the idea that their one government to negotiate with another, and they have been greatly surprised to discover that they were in Washington to be jollied and entertained at White House State dinners and such functions, but not to negotiate. A negotiator must necessarily have credentials, and where, pray, would these Cubans get credentials? The convention which elected them has no government behind it, except the military government of the United States, and a government cannot negotiate with itself. The subject upon which these self-deluded Cubans were most anxious to negotiate was the tariff—they wish this government to lower or entirely remove the duty on Cuban sugar and tobacco, and having ascertained that Congress alone could act, they have been trying to see what chance there was of securing Mr. McKinley's promise to recommend such legislation to Congress. They have not received any encouragement in that line, nor in the hope that Congress would modify the conditions said down by the Platt amendment.

The charge of the Light Brigade was not in it with the onslaught made upon Mr. McKinley this week by republican Senators and Representatives to secure some of the army commission pie before it was all gone—the names of nearly 500 appointments to be lieutenants were made public this week. They made things so warm for Mr. McKinley that he had to do something to stave them off, and as about all the places had been promised, some of them to the constituents of the very men who were clamoring for more he told them that many of those appointed would probably fail to pass the examination necessary to get a commission and that then they would have another chance. Most of them had to be content with that, but it is understood that Senator Quay and Penrose, who held up Mr. McKinley together, succeeded in landing another bunch of commissions, in addition to those they had previously secured.

The British Ambassador called on Secretary Hay this week in order to find out whether this government had any suggestions to make, previous to its taking the road for six weeks, about renewing negotiations for a treaty dealing with the Isthmian Canal question. Mr. Hay had no suggestion to make, because he has not been able to get sufficient Senatorial support to justify his trying to negotiate another treaty.

When it comes to so working out a problem so that the public is bamboozled and no patronage lost, the average republican politician can easily beat the world. An example has just been made public. It is officially announced that Mr. McKinley and Secretary Root have decided that the number of enlisted men in the regular army shall be limited to 76,000, unless there is a fresh outbreak in the Philippines. That was to bamboozle the public, and will make small difference for a long time as the slowness in recruiting made it certain that it would take many months to enlist all the men authorized by the new army law. Accompanying the announcement was the statement that all the officers provided for by law would be appointed. That was to save the patronage over which there has been so much scrambling. If there are more officers than there is work for there are always nice little details, in Washington and elsewhere, to which those with pull enough can be assigned, the principle duties of which are social.

Attorney General Gilmer having been asked his opinion as to when the terms of the justices of the peace elected by the Legislature of 1895 will expire, holds that the intention of the Legislature was for justices appointed to fill vacancies to hold until August, this year, and three additional justices for every township went out April, 1, this year. This decision invalidates the papers and instruments these justices have issued this month.

A Birthday Party.

One of the most delightful occasions that it has been our pleasure to witness, was the birthday party of little Miss Mamie Ruth Tunstall on Friday from 5 to 7 P. M.

There were some thirty five or forty little girls present; ranging from six to twelve years old, and a more beautiful sight is seldom seen. There was no sign of partiality manifested, and we could think what a pity that grown up people cannot have that same purity of heart and sweetness of disposition which was so prominent among the children.

Tables were spread in the grove out in front of Mr. Tunstall's residence and about 6:30 the children were all invited to a feast of ice cream, cake, and sherbet which they evidently enjoyed, if constant frolic and merry laughter is any sign.

Little Mamie Ruth and her sister, Katie, were the recipients of quite a number of nice presents presented by the invited guests.

The writer has not attended a more delightful occasion in many a day, and feels himself especially honored by being invited. We are sure that all who were present will join us in wishing Miss Mamie Ruth many happy returns of such as her seventh birth day.

Health and Beauty

For generations women have been taught that "beauty is only skin deep," but, like many proverbs, that will not stand. Beauty is blood deep. There can be no beauty without health. Our grandmothers lived closer to nature than we do, and they were so sheltered by their home life that health and beauty were theirs naturally. Skin foods, freckle lotions and face bleaches were unknown commodities. But there has been a great change in the life of women since then. With broader education and larger opportunities, she has developed mentally at the expense of her health. From the quiet duties of home she has gone forth until now we find her in many avocations of life, which prove too great a tax on her vitality. How sad it is to see the cheek robbed of its color and the eye of its fire. These symptoms nearly always show derangements in the delicate feminine organism. They don't call for bleaches or paints or powders, but for a remedy that will make the afflicted organs strong and well. Wine of Cardui is just such a remedy. Women broken in health and spirit have been made healthy and happy by this Wine. No one should give up to the "blues" until this reliable remedy has been tried. It has proven a blessing to other women and will not disappoint you. It brings that buoyancy of spirit, elasticity of step and lightness of heart which is the corner stone of beauty. A healthy woman is always beautiful.

Westville, February 4, 1899.
I feel that I must say a few words in praise of the Ladies' greatest friend, Wine of Cardui. It is the most wonderful remedy that I ever tried. I have been a sufferer for years, at times being confined to my bed two or three days each month. A friend recommended Wine of Cardui, and since I have taken it I have been greatly relieved. I intend to continue to take it, for I know it is as recommended. I will use every effort to get others to use it. Mrs. MARY E. COOLEY.

BETHEL Odd FELLOWS.

Splendid Anniversary Celebration.

Fine weather, a large crowd, a masterly speech and a bounteous dinner helped to make the anniversary celebration by the Odd Fellows of Bethel, on Friday, a splendid success. The lodges at Greenville, Parmele and Robersonville were largely represented and these with the Bethel lodge made nearly one hundred and fifty members of the fraternity in attendance.

At 10:30 o'clock the Odd Fellows met in their hall for a social session, and at 11:30 they marched in a body to the Methodist church where the exercises were held. A large congregation had already assembled. After appropriate singing and a most fervent prayer by Rev. A. D. Betts, Col. N. M. Hammond introduced Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, the speaker of the occasion. Prof. Ragsdale spoke for just an hour on the subject "Our order—what is it? Its objects. Our obligations to it." His speech was a masterly one, each division of his subject being handled in a manner that both instructed and delighted his hearers. Many declared it the best speech of its character they had ever heard.

At the conclusion of the exercises dinner was served in the grove near the church to the Odd Fellows and their families and invited friends. About four hundred gathered around the table and they had a sumptuous feast of barbecue, chicken, ham, pickles, bread, biscuit and cake. There was an abundance of all and it was elegantly prepared and well served. Two or three pigs and much other food left from the dinner was sent to widows and sick people in the community.

Bethel Odd Fellows may justly feel proud of the success of their celebration. Everything was splendidly managed and they entertained their guests in a manner creditable to the fraternity and to the town.

jovial crowd. They entered into the day for one of pleasure and they got it. The one who came out without a joke on him was lucky.

One brother wanting to display his benevolent qualities, asked another at the depot if he had a ticket, at the same time exhibiting a dollar. Quicker than it takes to tell it his dollar was gone and he looked badly sold.

A certain tax gatherer (but not a 'Publican) was one of the first to reach the dinner table, and following his force of habit immediately set about to "collect something." The joke was on him when "Uncle" Betts called out "just wait there until we can say Grace" He stopped chewing for about a minute.

Get a certain 'Squire to tell you how long it will take a gum board to roll out of town.

Some who had good horses drove through the country to Bethel. One being asked where they were going and for what, replied "To Bethel. They are going to give us a lay out and we are going to give them a blow out." Some of the brethren were afraid
