STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

RALEIGH, April, 15, 1901.

I. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify the foregoing and attached (ten (10) sheets) to be a true copy from the records of this office.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal.

Secretary of State.

In Limbo Again.

A few weeks ago William Hanrahan, colored, was before Mayor Moye and fined $10 and costs. Not having the wherewithal to pay, he was put at work on the streets. He worked awhile when he gave the officers the slip and run away. Chief of Police J. T. Smith, located him in Williamston and went there for him Tuesday, returning to Greenville with his prisoner on the evening train.

Up in Maine the liquor men in a town nominated a preacher for constable. They intended it for a joke, but he accepted, was elected and now the joke is on them, for he is watching them like a lynx and enforcing the law to the letter. —Wilmington Star.

Protect the Children.

FARMVILLE, N. C., May 7, 1901

EDITOR REFLECTOR:

I observe in the parallel columns of a recent issue the relative price of school books in North Carolina as compared with Tennessee under State adoption. According to the figures the book trust has been robbing the school children of this State for many years, and it is now high time to check this robbery. Go to the school room and you will find out what publishers compose this book trust which has robbed your children slowly but surely of that which others seek to remedy. North Carolina adopted books by counties in 1896 (June). The Legislature of 1899 continued this adoption at the same prices from June 1899 to June 1901. In that Legislature of 1899 a change was not made because of the all important question of suffrage. In June 1899 Tennessee adopted books outside of the trust and university publishing company at a cost of nearly one half those sold in North Carolina. Now shall North Carolina continue this highway robbery? Time can only prove, and if the people of North Carolina the masses, the working people will sustain the publishers who are holding out against the trust they will get the best books needed in the schools and at fair prices, but if they yield to the promises and blandishments of the shrewd agents of the trust, they will continue to be in its power with no hope of relief. Let us see to it that the children of the State shall not continue to pay such outrageous prices for school books, when education is so dear and so necessary.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1901.

Suffering humanity has a claim upon every one. Greenville cannot send thousands, but might donate something for the Jacksonville suffers.

Today THE REFLECTOR completes the publication of the graded school bill. Those who have followed the reading of it no doubt noticed that in section 3, relative to levying the tax to maintain the school, the bill says the tax "shall not be less than 10 cents nor more than 50 cents on the $1.00 valuation."

The State Librarian, who has on file the original bill as introduced, and who was also consulted in reference to it certifies that it reads "nor more than 50 cents on the $100."

There is sometimes much ado about nothing, and Greenville sometimes gets considerably wrought up over matters of not much movement. There was an instance of this kind Tuesday. The last Legislature passed a law prescribing that all towns in the State (not otherwise provided for or excepted) should hold their municipal elections on Tuesday after the first Monday in May.

books and hold the election all the the same day. There were all sorts of rumors for awhile. Senator F. G. James was consulted and said he was positive that Greenville was excepted in the law as he offered the amendment to that effect himself.

J. S. Mann, of Hyde county, has been elected Superintendent of the State penitentiary.

End of The Century Club.

The End of the Century Club met with Mrs. R. W. King at her residence on Dickinson avenue May 7th. Owing to the inclemency of the weather it was thought we would not have a quorum and no business meeting, but as time slowly moved onward and the clouds rapidly dispersed, one by one they came, and we soon had a full attendance. The President being absent, the Vice-President being on "Literary Programme," requested Mrs. Jarvis to take the chair.

Business brought before the house was the discussion and voting on amendments to articles in by-laws and constitution, the house being ready for the question they were voted upon and carried.

Mrs. Laughinghouse read an interesting and instructive paper on "Progress of Woman in the Nineteenth Century."

Visitors present were Mesdames Ragsdale and Long, and Miss Nannie Moye.

The business meeting over and the Club declared at ease, Mrs. King had a guessing contest on "Famous Women," Mrs. Fodie Harding being the successful contestant. Delicious dainties were then served and after a social repartee the Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. E. A. Moye, Jr., May, 21st.

W. W. Kelly has been dismissed from the Soldiers' Home at Raleigh, of which he was an inmate, he having confessed of being a deserter during the war between the States.

1,000,000 WOMEN RELIEVED

Reports received show that Wine of Cardui has brought permanent relief to 1,000,000 suffering women in the last few years. Because of Wine of Cardui, thousands of sufferers, seemingly on the way to premature graves, are now healthy women taking an active interest in the duties of life. Mrs. Mitchell was declining in health when Wine of Cardui "performed a miraculous cure" in her case. She suffered terribly with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was little better than a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way under the terrible pain and aggravation. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence. The Wine is within the reach of all. Woman who try it are relieved. You can get as much benefit as Mrs. Mitchell received. Ask your druggist for Wine of Cardui. Send to the laboratory for the medicine if he tenders you a substitute.

WINE OF CARDUI

South Gaston, N. C., May 22, 1892.
Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I have been a great sufferer from falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and became very painful. I was in a bad condition. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught, and now I have no pain. The leucorrhoea has disappeared and now I am in perfect health. Mrs. WILLIE MITCHELL.

The temple will be three stories, the ground floor containing suites of conveniently arranged offices, the second floor a modern opera house and auditorium, the third floor lodge rooms. Work on the building will be started as soon as arrangements can be completed. The lodge will sell its property on the corner of Pitt and Second streets.
