BLACK JACK ITEMS

BLACK JACK, N. C., May 9. Rev. W. H. Letchworth filled his appointment here Sunday night.

Abram and Linier Dixon went on a courting expedition down in Beaufort county Saturday and returned Sunday.

Some of our young ladies had the pleasure of entertaining two of the Ayden boys last Sunday. Rev. J. W. Alford and C. S. Waters. After spending quite a pleasant day returned to Ayden Sunday evening.

Jodie and Heber Dixon went to Greenville Monday.

We were glad to have Mr. "Pig" Forbes with us awhile last Thursday.

C. W. Reuss, of Washington, passed through this morning.

Marcellus Tyson is on the mend. He is able to be out again.

We can't help expressing the sympathy we have for our young friend, C. U. Reuss, when we see him pass through on his return to Washington after visiting some very intimate friends near Ayden.

G. C. Vause will preach near here next Sunday.

How The Editor Raved.

The N. Y. Press says a poetess of the sunny southland called on an editor there recently. She said: "I have some charming verses I should like to have you publish. Do you like poetry?" "Like poetry, ma'am! I rave over it! Got any with you; le' me have it quick! Yes, yes! I rave over it." As soon as his fingers clasped the manuscript she began to jump over the chairs, kick over the desk stand on his hands, yank his beard tear his hair, throw fire in his eyes roll on the floor, butt his head against the wall, and do other crazy things world without end. She withdrew to a safe corner, and when the circus was over meekly inquired: "What have you been doing?" "Why, ma'am," he gasped, "that's the way we rave over poetry. However, come in next month some time, and we'll see if any o' this stuff's worth printin'. Mornin'."

A Little Breeze in Lenoir

Mr. Ben May informs us that Mr. Will Sutton reported to him that the recent storm in his neighborhood did some wonderful things. For instance, a tobacco bed on one side of Mr. Sutton's farm was taken up and carried several hundred yards, landing safely—not much the worse for its windy ride! This equals the blackbird story not long since gotten off by one of Kinston's young merchants. Since the above was written we had an interview with Mr. Sutton. He informed us that Mr. May was a witness to the removal of the tobacco bed. But seriously, he inform us that the storm did great damage in his section—that about 150 trees were blown down and for a distance of a mile and a half crops were ruined. The wind blew the chimney off the home of Mr. Jesse Wood, in Falling Creek township.—Kinston Free Press.

Would Be Devil's Idea of Hard Work.

"The idea of people being unable to secure employment! Bah! It's all nonsense," remarked a well known Philadelphia printer. "The other day I was in need of a boy to run errands, sort 'spi.' and otherwise play the 'devil,' so I put out the sign 'boy wanted.' In about fifteen minutes a rather bright sort of a lad applied for the position, after explaining to him what his duties would be, and telling him his salary would be $2.50 to start with, I thought everything was satisfactory and asked him if he wanted to start in immediately or wait until the next day. 'Well,' drawled out, 'I'd like the job, but I don't think me father would want me to do such hard work. 'Hard work?' I exclaimed in surprise, 'Why, my boy your duties will be very light.' Yes, sir,' he replied, 'but I mean it will be hard work carrying all that money home with me on pay day.' And with that he darted out the door. Didn't that jar me?'—Press and Ink.

The Mistake Of a Fireman's Hen.

Fireman Muse, of the Church street station, is a great fancier of game chicken and employs his spare time in raising chickens. He missed one of his hens a few days ago, but her absence was accounted for last night, when the fire engine was sent out to do some pumping. After the fire had been started, it was discovered that an odd sort of fuel was in the fire box and an investigation revealed a baked hen and 14 eggs. The hen had made her nest in the fire box of the engine and had gone to setting.—Charlotte Observer.

Bicycle, Man and Dog.

Mr. T. L. Leavy was up town yesterday with his left arm in splints, as the result of a bicycle accident while he was on his way home the previous evening. As he was speeding down South Tryon street a dog ran out in front of him. It was just opposite the Butler property. The dog was after a cat and had neither eye nor ear for the wheelman. As a result he struck the bicycle between wheels. The dog's neck was caught in the chain and carried to the sprocket wheel, where it was cut off as neatly as a guillotine could have done it. That ended the incident for the dog, of course. The wheel was badly wrecked and Mr. Leavy was given a terrific fall, the result being that his arm was broken in three places—two fractures being between the wrist and elbow and one between the elbow and shoulder. The cat escaped.—Charlotte Observer.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1901.

Halifax county bonds to the amount of $8,000 were sold Monday for $8,235. This is equal to about $103 dollars on the hundred.

Greenville is not and does not desire to be on a "boom," but the prospects are that there is some rapid growing just ahead for the town.

The suggestion made by The King's Daughters for the establishment of a reading room ought to meet the approval of every citizen of Greenville.

Wall street was wild with a panic Thursday. There was more excitement in the stock market than has been seen in many a day.

There are more prospectors looking around Greenville in a quiet way than most people are aware of. It means that there are many who want to invest here.

The End is Not Yet.

The recent excellent series of sermons at the Methodist church by Rev. J. D. Bundy, on the "Second Coming of Christ," have put a good many people to thinking and carefully studying the signs of the times.

It is no crime to be poor; neither is it a virtue.

Is The Revenue Law Invalid.

A Wilmington dispatch to the News & Observer says it is learned upon what is considered good authority that able counsel in Wilmington have been employed to resist the enforcement of the present revenue law on the ground that its manner of passage by the last general assembly was in conflict with section 14, article 1 of the Constitution.

If this information is correct, leading lawyers say the whole revenue act is invalid as the Supreme court of North Carolina has several times decided that unless a bill of this character passed three readings on separate days and the nays were recorded in the second reading, the bill is void.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer interviewed Lieutenant Governor Turner, President of the Senate, about the revenue act, and Mr. Turner said: "The bill passed the House and came over to us. It passed the second reading in the Senate by an aye and no vote and then 43 amendments were put on. It passed its third reading also on roll call.

That body refused to concur in the Senate amendments and asked for a committee of conference. This was appointed. It made its report, recommending that the House concur in 36 of the Senate amendments and that the Senate recede from seven of them.

The report was adopted. It was my belief that the amendments were so material that they should have passed their three readings on roll-call on separate days. I called the attention of some Senator to this matter, but the term was up, it being the day before adjournment, and members anxious to get away, so nothing was done.

It may be that the courts will be called on to settle the question, if a formal point is raised. There will be two questions. First, did the bill pass its readings properly, that is, were the amendments not of sufficient moment, material alterations, to make their passage, on roll-call, on three several days necessary under the terms of the constitution?

Second, in case this is true, does the bill stand as it passed the House? One side will of course contend that there were no such material alterations as to require the aye and no vote. The courts may hold that it stands as it passed the House, leaving the taxes much higher, as the Senate's amendments were all conservative.

So what can the public gain now by an opening of the question? It does not seem to me as if it is to the interest of the public to make a point. I don't believe the failure to pass by roll-call the amendments will destroy the whole bill.

When a politician announces that he is out of politics for good people begin to wonder for whose good.

Not on His Place. Mr. W. J. Manning, who owns the Buck place two miles from town, says the "moonshine" still reported found last week by revenue officers was not found on his place as stated. He has a licensed still.

Benefit of Schools. The Washington Messenger says it can be proven that over one hundred and sixty persons have moved to Washington to enjoy the benefits of the graded schools of that town. This is good argument that Greenville ought to have a graded school. Our people will have the opportunity of voting for such a school on the 21st. How will you vote?

Success Open to All. The father of the late C. J. Van Houten began the manufacture and sale of cocoa in Holland in 1817. There was only a local demand for the product until the son took charge of the establishment and began advertising. Before his death Mr. Van Houten said that his enormous success was due mainly to advertising, especially in the newspapers. He expended as much as $1,000,000 a year for newspaper space. By the same method any other business can achieve success in proportion to its advertising expenditure.—Philadelphia Record.

THE SUNNY SOUTH

Fifty Cents a Year Less Than a Penny a Number

THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY

Published at Atlanta, Ga.

After a career of more or less activity in the Southern field for over a quarter of a century The Sunny South has again become a weekly, better and more readable than at any time in its history. It contains serial stories from the best known authors the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is their own story paper. Short stories, sketches, incidents of war and of peace, anecdotes at home and afield, poems, ideas, fashions, hints for home keepers, everything of interest to old and young will appear in its excellent weekly make up.

The two great serials, "TRISTRAM OF BLENT," by ANTHONY HOPE (now in progress with full synopsis to cover former installments), and "Rosalynde's Lovers," by Maurice Thompson, to begin April 27th, will be read with absorbing interest throughout the whole South. This is your opportunity, and only 50 cents for a full year of it. Think of it! 50 cents.

Subscription price is only fifty cents a year. No agents' commission. The paper is its own best offer and argument to the subscriber. One sample copy free to you and to your six neighbors whose names and addresses you send on a postal card, provided you send at once. A club of five at 50 cents each, accompanied by the full amount $2.50 net to us, entitles the sender to The Sunny South a whole year free.

The Sunny South is your old friend in a new form, always improving, every issue to excel the last one. The South's literary paper is here at last. Order it to-day.

The Sunny South in combination with the greatest of all Southern Weekly NEWSPAPERS—The Atlanta Weekly Constitution—both for only $1.25 a year. Remit that amount to the Sunny South, and get these two great papers—One Literary; the other News.

Mr. J. P. Nichols, of Pitt county, and Miss Ethel Nantz, of this county, were married yesterday evening at 7-30 o'clock by Dr. H. D. Harper. The couple spent last night at Mr. Holleman's, near here and went to the home of the groom today. We extend best wishes.—Kinston Free Press 9th.

An Egg in an Egg.

We have heard of this kind of a curiosity before, but never until this morning did we see an egg in an egg. Mrs. R. L. Smith sent it to THE REFLECTOR. It was a large duck egg that was accidentally broken in handling. But it was the breaking of the outer shell that disclosed the curiosity. Inside of it and surrounded by only the white was another perfectly formed egg.

Arm in Arm.

Having bought up many railroad lines, J. Pierpont Morgan is now buying steamship lines preparatory to his transportation trust. If it goes through, you will have to walk or swim to keep from paying tribute to Pierpont. After he perfects his transportation trust, and pours copious showers of water into its stock, he will then join hands with the Socialists and favor Government ownership of railroads, selling all his watered stock to the Government at a high price. Thus, the socialist and the plutocrat will march arm in arm.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Women's Suffrage.

Woman suffrage in Illinois is not quite ready for launching yet. A woman of Chicago has dared to get right up in a meeting to say: "If women would use as much intelligence and energy as participation in legislation would require in teaching their children, boys and girls alike, in a broad, liberal way, the great principles of temperance and chastity, they would do more in a generation towards eradicating the evil of intemperance and impurity than they could do by a century of voting." Now, there! you've got it.—Exchange.

Going!
Going!
Gone!!

Going!

to advertise sometime in the future will not bring business to you today.

Going!!

to wait until times get better means the missing of many dollars that would come to you now for the asking.

Gone!!!

will be your opportunities if you neglect this important matter and let your more enterprising competitor get ahead of you and stay ahead. Don't wait.

The easiest, quickest and best way to sell anything is to advertise it in THE REFLECTOR. Such an advertisement goes straight to the people, they learn what you have to sell and you reap the benefit.

We have just purchased a large supply of bright and attractive cuts to illustrate REFLECTOR advertisements, and you are at liberty to use them. If you don't know just what you want to say, we will help you get up your advertisement. That is our business, to help you talk to the people.

The cost of an advertisement in THE REFLECTOR is the easiest part.
